17 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Art thou he of whom I spake in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, that prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring thee against them? 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah, that my wrath shall come up into my nostrils. 19 For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; 20 so that the

I have spoken. 9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall "go forth, and shall make "fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years; 10 so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons; and they shall "plunder those that plundered them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord Jehovah.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto "Gog a place for burial in Israel, the "valley of them that pass through "on the "east of the sea; and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude; and they shall call it The valley of "Hamon-gog. 12 And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying them, that they may "cleanse the land. 13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a "renewal in the day that I shall be "glorified, saith the Lord Jehovah. 14 And they shall set apart men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land, and, with them that pass through, those that "bury them that remain upon the face of the land, to "cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search. 15 And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he "set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of "Hamon-gog. 16 And "Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they "cleanse the land.

17 And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Speak unto the "birds of every sort, and to every "beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my "sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. 18 Ye shall eat the "flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of ^arams, of lambs, and of goats, of ^bbullocks, all of them fatlings of ^cBashan. 19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my ^dsacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20 And ye shall be filled at my table with ^ehorses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord Jehovah.

21 And I will set my ^fglory among the nations; and all the nations shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them. 22 So the house of Israel shall ^gknow that I am Jehovah their God, from that day and forward. 23 And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their ^hiniquity; because they ⁱtrespassed against me, and I ^khid my face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. 24 According to their ^luncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and I ^mhid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Now will I ⁿbring back the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole ^ohouse of Israel; and I will be ^pjealous for my holy name. 26 And they shall ^qbear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they shall ^rdwell securely in their land, and ^snone shall make them afraid; 27 when I have ^tbrought them back from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am ^usanctified in them in the sight of many nations. 28 And they shall know that I am Jehovah their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have ^vgathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; 29 neither will I ^whide my face any more from them; for I have ^xpoured out my Spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovah.

'porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. 49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; ^a even by the ^b steps whereby they went up to it: and there were ^c pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

41 And he ^d brought me to the ^e temple, and measured the ^f posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the ^g tabernacle. 2 And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the ^h sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, ⁱ forty cubits, and the breadth, ^j twenty cubits. 3 Then went he ^k inward, and measured each ^l post of the entrance, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. 4 And he measured the length thereof, ^m twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the ⁿ temple: and he said unto me, This is the ^o most holy place.

5 Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every ^p side-chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side. 6 And the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and thirty in order; and they ^q entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, and not have hold in the wall of the house. 7 And ^r the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the ^s encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward: and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. 8 I saw also ^t that the house had ^u a raised basement round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed ¹ of six great cubits. 9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: and that which was ² left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. 10 And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house on every side. 11 And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was ³ left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was ⁴ left was five cubits round about.

12 And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. 13 So he measured the house, a hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, a hundred cubits long; 14 also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, a hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; 16 the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the threshold, ⁵ ceiled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows (now the windows were covered), 17 to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, ⁶ by measure. 18 And it was made with cherubim and palm-trees; and a palm-tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; 19 so that there was the face of a man toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side. Thus was it made through all the house round about: 20 from the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm-trees made; ⁷ thus was the wall of the temple.

21 As for the temple, the door-posts were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was ⁸ as the appearance of the temple. 22 The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before Jehovah. 23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors. 24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves: two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. 25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there was a threshold of wood upon the face of the porch without. 26 And there were closed windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side-chambers of the house, and the thresholds.

42 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the building toward the north. 2 Before the length of a hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits. 3 Over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was gallery against gallery in the third story. 4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits' breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors were toward the north. 5 Now the upper chambers were shorter; for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. 6 For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts; therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground. 7 And the ^{1a} wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits. 8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were a ^b hundred cubits. 9 And from under these chambers was the ^c entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

10 In the thickness of the ^{1d} wall of the court toward the east, before the ^e separate place, and before the building, there were ^f chambers. 11 And the ^g way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; ² according to their length so was their breadth: and all their egresses were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors. 12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door at the head of the way, even the way directly before the ^{1h} wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the ⁱ separate place, they are the ^k holy chambers, where the priests that are ^j near unto Jehovah shall eat the ^m most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; for the place is holy. 14 When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall ⁿ lay their ^o garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the ^p gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. 16 He measured on the east ³ side with the measuring reed five hundred ^q reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 17 He measured on the north ³ side five hundred reeds with the meas-

43 Afterward he brought me to the ⁸ gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east. 2 And, behold, the ⁹ glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the ¹⁰ east: and his ¹¹ voice was like the sound of many waters; and the earth ¹² shined with his glory. 3 And it was according to the appearance of the ¹³ vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to ¹⁴ destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the ¹⁵ river Chebar; and I ¹⁶ fell upon my face. 4 And the glory of Jehovah came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the ¹⁷ east. 5 And the ¹⁸ Spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and, behold, the ¹⁹ glory of Jehovah filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a ²⁰ man stood by me. 7 And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my ²¹ throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will ²² dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever. And the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the ²³ dead bodies of their kings ²⁴ in their ²⁵ high places; 8 in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door-post beside my door-post, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have ²⁶ defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. 9 Now let them ²⁷ put away their whoredom, and the dead bodies of their kings, far from me; and I will ²⁸ dwell in the midst of them for ever.

house to the house of Israel, that they may be ^aashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure the ¹pattern. 11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the ^begresses thereof, and the entrances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof; and write it ^cin their sight; that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and ^ddo them. 12 This is the law of the house: upon the top of the ^emountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the ^faltar by cubits (the ^gcubit is a cubit and a handbreadth): the ^hbottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span; and this shall be the ⁱbase of the altar. 14 And from the bottom ^jupon the ground to the lower ^kledge shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser ledge to the greater ledge shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. 15 And the ^lupper altar shall be four cubits; and from the ^maltar hearth and upward there shall be four ⁿhorns. 16 And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, ^osquare in the four sides thereof. 17 And the ledge shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit round about; and the ^psteps thereof shall ^qlook toward the east.

18 And he said unto me, ^rSon of man, thus saith the Lord Jehovah: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer ^sburnt-offerings thereon, and to ^tsprinkle blood thereon. 19 Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that are of the seed of ^uZadok, who are ^vnear unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord Jehovah, a ^wyoung bullock for a ^xsin-offering. 20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four ^yhorns of it, and on the four corners of the ^zledge, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou ^{aa}cleanse it and make atonement for it. 21 Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin-offering, and it shall be ^{ab}burnt in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a ^{ac}he-goat without blemish for a sin-offering; and they shall ^{ad}cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock. 23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young ^{ae}bullock without blemish, and a ^{af}ram out of the flock without blemish. 24 And thou shalt bring them near before Jehovah, and the priests shall cast ^{ag}salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto Jehovah. 25 ^{ah}Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin-offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. 26 Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they ^{ai}consecrate it. 27 And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the ^{aj}eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your ^{ak}peace-offerings; and I will ^{al}accept you, saith the Lord Jehovah.

44 Then he brought me back by the way of the ^{am}outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. 2 And Jehovah said unto me, This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it; for ^{an}Jehovah, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. 3 As for the ^{ao}prince, he shall sit therein as prince to ^{ap}eat bread before Jehovah; he shall ^{aq}enter by the way of the ^{ar}porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 Then he brought me by the way of the ^{as}north gate before the house; and I looked, and, behold, the ^{at}glory of Jehovah filled the house of Jehovah: and I ^{au}fell upon my face. 5 And Jehovah said unto me, ^{av}Son of man, ^{aw}mark well,

The Sanctuary not to be profaned. Duties of the Levites that went astray. Ordinances for the Priests, the Sons of Zadok and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of Jehovah, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entrance of the house, with every egress of the sanctuary. 6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, 7 in that ye have brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant, ²to add unto all your abominations. 8 And ye have not kept the charge of my holy things; but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.

9 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah, No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any foreigners that are among the children of Israel. 10 But the Levites that went far from me, when Israel went astray, that went astray from me after their idols, they shall bear their iniquity. 11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt-offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them. 12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up my hand against them, saith the Lord Jehovah, and they shall bear their iniquity. 13 And they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. 14 Yet will I make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord Jehovah: 16 they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge. 17 And it shall be that, when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within. 18 They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything that causeth sweat. 19 And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers; and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments. 20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only cut off the hair of their heads. 21 Neither shall any of the priests drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. 22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away; but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. 23 And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. 24 And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to mine ordinances shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and they shall hallow my sabbaths. 25 And they shall go in to no dead person to defile themselves; but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. 26 And after he is ^ccleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. 27 And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the ^cinner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his ^csin-offering, saith the Lord Jehovah.

28 And they shall have an inheritance: ^aI am their inheritance; and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. 29 They shall ^ceat the meal-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; and every ^cdevoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. 30 And the first of all the ^cfirst-fruits of every thing, and every ^coblation of every thing, of all your oblations, shall be for the priest: ye shall also give unto the priests the ^bfirst of your ^cdough, to cause a ^cblessing to rest on thy house. 31 The priests shall not eat of anything that ^bdieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be bird or beast.

45 Moreover, when ye shall ^bdivide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an ^moblation unto Jehovah, ^aa ^mholy portion of the land; the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand ^creeds, and the breadth shall be ^aten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. 2 Of this there shall be for the holy place ^afive hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the ^bsuburbs thereof round about. 3 And of this measure shalt thou measure a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and ^ain it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. 4 It is a ^mholy portion of the land; it shall be for the ^cpriests, the ministers of the sanctuary, that ^ccome near to minister unto Jehovah; and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary. 5 And five and twenty thousand in length and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the ^mLevites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for ^atwenty chambers. 6 And ye shall appoint the possession of the ^ccity five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, moons, and on the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meal-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the ^apeace-offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

9 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: ^aLet it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove ^aviolence and spoil, and ^aexecute justice and righteousness; take away your ^aexactions from my people, saith the Lord Jehovah. 10 Ye shall have ^ajust balances, and a just ^aephah, and a just ^abath. 11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a ^ahomer, and the ephah the tenth part of a ^ahomer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer. 12 And the ^ashekel shall be twenty ^agerahs; twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh.

18 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: In the ^bfirst month, in the ^cfirst day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock ^dwithout blemish; and thou shalt ^ecleanse the sanctuary. 19 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the door-posts of the house, and upon the ^ffour corners of the ^gledge of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court. 20 And so thou shalt do on the ^henth day of the month for every one that ⁱereth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye make ^jatonement for the house.

21 In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the ^kpassover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. 22 And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a ^lbullock for a sin-offering. 23 And the ^mseven days of the feast he shall prepare a ⁿburnt-offering to Jehovah, ^oseven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a he-goat daily for a sin-offering. 24 And he shall prepare a ^pmeal-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ^qephah for a ram, and a hin of oil to an ephah. 25 In the ^rseventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meal-offering, and according to the oil.

46 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: The ^sgate of the ^tinner court that looketh toward the east shall be ^ushut the six ^vworking days; but on the ^wsabbath day it shall be opened, and on the day of the ^xnew moon it shall be opened. 2 And the ^yprince shall enter by the way of the ^zporch of the gate without, and shall stand by the ^{aa}post of the gate; and the priests shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: then he shall go forth; but the gate shall not be ^{ab}shut until

6 And on the day of the ^hnew moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish; 7 and he shall prepare a ⁱmeal-offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as ^jhe is ^kable, and a hin of oil to an ephah. 8 And when the ^lprince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the ^mporch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come ⁿbefore Jehovah in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. 10 And the prince, when they go in, shall go in ^oin the midst of them; and when they go forth, they shall go forth ^ptogether. 11 And in the ^qfeasts and in the ^rsolemnities the ^smeal-offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is ^table to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

12 And when the prince shall prepare a ^ufreewill-offering, a burnt-offering or peace-offerings as a freewill-offering unto Jehovah, one shall ^vopen for him the gate that looketh toward the east; and he shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, as he doth on the ^wsabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

13 And thou shalt prepare a ^xlamb a year old without blemish for a burnt-offering unto Jehovah daily: ^a morning by morning shalt thou prepare it. 14 And thou shalt prepare a meal-offering with it morning by morning, the ^b sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of a hin of oil, to ^c moisten the fine flour; a meal-offering unto Jehovah continually by a perpetual ordinance. 15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal-offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a ^d continual burnt-offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: If the prince give a ^e gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. 17 But if he give of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to the ^f year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. 18 Moreover the prince shall ^g not take of the people's inheritance, to ^h thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession, that my people be not ⁱ scattered every man from his possession.

19 Then he brought me through the ^j entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the ^k holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and, behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. 20 And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the ^l trespass-offering and the sin-offering, and where they shall ^m bake the meal-offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, to ⁿ sanctify the people. 21 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and, behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. 22 In the four corners of the court there were courts ^o inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad; these four in the corners were of one measure. 23 And there was a ^p wall round about in them, round about the four, and boiling-places were made under the ^q walls round about. 24 Then said he unto me, These are the boiling-houses, where the ^r ministers of the house shall ^s boil the sacrifice of the people.

3 When the ^g man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4 Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. 5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a ^h river that could not be passed through.

6 And he said unto me, ⁱ Son of man, hast thou ^j seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. 7 Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many ^k trees on the one side and on the other. 8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the ^l Arabah; and they shall go toward the sea; into the ^m sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. 9 And it shall come to pass, that every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the ⁿ rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters are come thither, ^o and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and ^p everything shall live whithersoever the river cometh. 10 And it shall come to pass, that ^q fishers shall stand by it: from ^r En-gedi even unto En-eglaim shall be a place for the ^s spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the ^agreat sea, ^bexceeding many. 11 But the miry places thereof, and the marshes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be ¹given up to ^csalt. 12 And ^aby the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every ^atree for food, whose ¹leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: it shall bring forth ^anew fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for food, and the ¹leaf thereof for healing.

13 Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: This shall be the ^aborder, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two ¹portions. 14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; for I ^aswear to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land: On the ¹north side, from the ^agreat sea, by the way of ^aHethlon, unto the entrance of ^aZedad; 16 ^aHamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of ^aDamascus and the border of Hamath; ^aHazer-hatticon, which is by the border of ^aHauran. 17 And the border from the sea, shall be ^aHazar-enon at the border of ^aDamascus; and on the north northward is the border of ^aHamath. This is the north side. 18 And the ¹east side, between ^aHauran and ^aDamascus and ^aGilead and the land of Israel, shall be the ^aJordan; from the ^anorth border, unto the east sea shall ye measure. This is the east side. 19 And the ^asouth side southward shall be from ^aTamar as far as the waters of ^aMeriboth-kadesh, to the ^abrook of Egypt, unto the ^agreat sea. This is the south side southward. 20 And the ¹west side shall be the ^agreat sea, from the ^asouth border as far as over against the ^aentrance of ^aHamath. This is the west side.

21 So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. 22 And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by ^alot for an inheritance unto you and to the ¹strangers that sojourn among you, who shall beget children among you; and they shall be unto you as the home-born among the children of Israel; they shall have ^ainheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord Jehovah.

48 Now ^athese are the names of the tribes: From the north end, beside the way of ^aHethlon to the ^aentrance of ^aHamath, ^aHazar-enan at the border of ^aDamascus, northward beside Hamath (and they shall have their sides east and west), ^aDan, one ^aportion. 2 And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side, ^aAsher, one ^aportion. 3 And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side, ^aNaphthali, one ^aportion. 4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side, ^aManasseh, one ^aportion. 5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the west side, ^aEphraim, one ^aportion. 6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side, ^aReuben, one ^aportion. 7 And by the border of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side, ^aJudah, one ^aportion.

8 And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the ^aoblation which ye shall offer, five and twenty thousand ^areeds in breadth, and in length as one of the portions, from the east side unto the west side: and the ^asanctuary shall be in the midst of it. 9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto Jehovah shall be five and twenty thousand ^areeds in length, and ten thousand in breadth. 10 And for these, even for the ^apriests, shall be the holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand ^ain length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length; and the ^asanctuary of Jehovah shall be in the midst thereof. 11 ^aIt shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the ^asons of Zadok, that have kept my charge, that went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the ^aLevites went astray. 12 And it shall be unto them an oblation from the oblation of the land, a thing most ^bholy, by the border of the Levites.

13 And answerable unto the ^cborder of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand. 14 And they shall ^dsell none of it, nor exchange it, nor shall the ^efirst-fruits of the land be alienated; for it is holy unto Jehovah.

15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the five and twenty thousand, shall be for ^fcommon use, for the city, for dwelling and for ^gsuburbs; and the city shall be in the midst thereof. 16 And these shall be the measures thereof: the north side ^hfour thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred. 17 And the city shall have ⁱsuburbs: toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty. 18 And the residue in the length, answerable unto the holy ^koblation, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward; and it shall be answerable unto the holy oblation; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that labor in the city. 19 And they that labor in the city, out of ^lall the tribes of Israel, shall till it. 20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation ^mfour-square, with the possession of the city.

21 And the ⁿresidue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city; in front of the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the east border, and westward in front of the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, answerable unto the portions, it shall be for the prince: and the holy ^ooblation and the ^psanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof. 22 Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, it shall be for the prince.

23 And as for the ^rrest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side, ^sBenjamin, one portion. 24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side, ^tSimeon, one portion. 25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side, ^uIssachar, one portion. 26 And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side, ^vZebulun, one portion. 27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side, ^wGad, one portion. 28 And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from ^xTamar unto the waters of ^yMeribath-kadesh, to the ^zbrook of Egypt, unto the ^{aa}great sea. 29 This is the ^{ab}land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their several portions, saith the Lord Jehovah.

30 And these are the ^{ac}egresses of the city: On the ^{ad}north side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; 31 and the gates of the city shall be after the ^{ae}names of the tribes of Israel, three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one. 32 And at the east side four thousand and five hundred reeds, and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one. 33 And at the south side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one. 34 At the west side four thousand and five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. 35 It shall be eighteen thousand reeds round about: and the ^{af}name of the city from that day shall be, ^{ag}Jehovah is there.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL

Daniel and his Three Friends refuse to take the King's Food. They excel in Body and in Spirit

1 In the third year of the reign of ^aJehoiakim king of Judah came ^bNebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. 2 And the ^cLord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the ^dvessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of ^eShinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his ^fgod. 3 And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the ^gmaster of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the ^hseed royal and of the nobles; 4 youths in whom was ⁱno blemish, but well-favored, and ^jskilful in all wisdom, and endued with knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ^kability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the ^llearning and the ^mtongue of the ⁿChaldeans. 5 And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the ^oking's dainties, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished ^pthree years; that at the end thereof they should ^qstand before the king. 6 Now among these were, of the children of Judah, ^rDaniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. 7 And the ^sprince of the eunuchs gave names unto them: unto Daniel he gave the name of ^tBelteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of ^uShadrach; and to Mishael, of ^vMeshach; and to Azariah, of ^wAbed-nego.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not ^xdefile himself with the ^yking's dainties, nor with the ^zwine which he drank; therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. 9 Now God made Daniel to find ^{aa}kindness and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the ^aprince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your food and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths that are of your own age? so would ye endanger my head with the king. 11 Then said Daniel to ^bthe steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us ^cpulse to eat, and water to drink. 13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's dainties; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days. 15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared ^dfairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths that did eat of the king's dainties. 16 So ^ethe steward took away their dainties, and the wine that they should drink, and ^fgave them pulse.

17 Now as for these four youths, ^gGod gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all ^hvisions and dreams. 18 And at the end of the ⁱdays which the king had ^jappointed for bringing them in, the ^kprince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. 19 And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like ^lDaniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore ^mstood they before the king. 20 And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ^bten times ^cbetter than all the ^dmagicians and enchanters that were in all his realm. 21 And Daniel continued even unto the ^efirst year of king Cyrus.

2 And in the ^fsecond year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar ^gdreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his ^hsleep went from him. 2 Then the king commanded to call the ⁱmagicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. 3 And the king said unto them, I have ^jdreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream. 4 Then spake the Chaldeans to the king ^kin the ^lSyrian language, ^m"O king, live for ever: ⁿtell thy servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. 5 The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, ^oThe thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be ^pcut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. 6 But if ye show the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me ^qgifts and rewards and great honor: therefore show me the dream and the interpretation thereof. 7 They answered the second time and said, Let the king ^rtell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. 8 The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would ^sgain time, because ye see ^tthe thing is gone from me. 9 But if ye make not known unto me the dream, there is but ^uone law for you; for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall ^vknow that ye can show me the interpretation thereof. 10 The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is ^wnot a man upon the earth that can show the king's matter, forasmuch as no king, ^xlord, or ruler, hath asked such a thing of any ^cmagician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. 11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is no other that can show it before the king, except the ^dgods, whose ^edwelling is not with flesh. 12 For this cause the king was ^fangry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. 13 So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought ^gDaniel and his companions to be slain.

14 Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to ^hArioch the ⁱcaptain of the king's guard, who was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; 15 he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree so ^jurgent from the king? Then Arioch made the ^kthing known to Daniel. 16 And ^lDaniel went in, and desired of the king that he would ^mappoint him a time, ⁿand he would show the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to ^oHananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: 18 that they would ^pdesire ^qmercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should ^rnot perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19 Then was the ^ssecret revealed unto Daniel in a ^tvision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. 20 Daniel answered and said, ^uBlessed be the name of God for ever and ever; for ^vwisdom and might are his. 21 And he ^wchangeth the times and the seasons; he ^xremoveth kings, and setteth up kings; he giveth ^ywisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that have understanding; 22 he ^zrevealeth the deep and secret things; ^{aa}he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the ^{ab}light dwelleth with him. 23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou ^{ac}God of my fathers, who hast given me ^{ad}wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what we ^{ae}desired of thee; for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. 24 Therefore

Daniel makes known the King's Dream. He interprets the Dream

Daniel went in unto ^aArioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said thus unto him: ^bDestroy not the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will show unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch ^cbrought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the ^dchildren of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. 26 The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was ^eBelteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the ^fdream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? 27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither ^gwise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, show unto the king; 28 but there is a ^hGod in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the ⁱlatter days. Thy dream, and the ^jvisions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: 29 as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came ^kinto thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter; and he that ^lrevealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. 30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any ^mwisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be ⁿmade known to the king, and that thou mayest know the ^othoughts of thy heart.

31 Thou, O king, sawest, and, behold, a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was ^pterrible. 32 As for this image, its ^qhead was of fine gold, its ^rbreast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of brass, 33 its ^slegs of iron, its ^tfeet part of iron, and part of clay. 34 Thou sawest till that a ^ustone was cut out ^vwithout hands, which smote the image upon its feet that were of iron and clay, and ^wbrake them in pieces. 35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became ^xlike the chaff of the summer threshing-floors: and the wind carried them away, so that ^yno place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great ^zmountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dream; and we will tell the ^{aa}interpretation thereof before the king. 37 Thou, O king, art ^{ab}king of kings, unto whom the ^{ac}God of heaven hath given the kingdom, the ^{ad}power, and the strength, and the glory; 38 and wheresoever the children of men dwell, the ^{ae}beasts of the field and the birds of the heavens hath he given into thy hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art the ^{af}head of gold. 39 And after thee shall arise ^{ag}another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth. 40 And the ^{ah}fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron, forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things; and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. 41 And whereas thou sawest the ^{ai}feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with ^{aj}miry clay. 42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly ^{ak}broken. 43 And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with ^{al}miry clay, they shall mingle themselves ^{am}with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not mingle with clay. 44 And in the days of those kings shall the ^{an}God of heaven ^{ao}set up a ^{ap}kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but it shall ^{aq}break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. 45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that a ^{ar}stone was cut out of the mountain ^{as}without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the ^{at}great God hath made known to the king what ^{au}shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar ^afell upon his face, and ^bworshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and ^csweet odors unto him. 47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth ^dyour God is the ^eGod of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a ^frevealer of secrets, whereof thou hast been able to reveal this secret. 48 Then the king ^gmade Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole ^hprovince of Babylon, and to be ⁱchief governor over all the ^kwise men of Babylon. 49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he ^lappointed ^mShadrach, ⁿMeshach, and ^oAbed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was ^pin the ^qgate of the king.

3 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an ^rimage of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the ^sprovince of Babylon. 2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the ^tsatrap, the deputies, and the governors, the ^ujudges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the ^vsheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3 Then the satrap, the deputies, and the governors, the ^wjudges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the ^xsheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4 Then the herald cried ^yaloud, To you it is commanded, ^zO peoples, nations, and languages, 5 that at what time ye ^{aa}hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, ^{ab}dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye ^{ac}fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up; 6 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be ^{ad}cast into the midst of a burning ^{ae}fiery furnace. 7 Therefore at that time, when all the peoples ^{af}heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the ^{ag}peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 Wherefore at that time certain ^{ah}Chaldeans came near, and ^{ai}brought accusation against the Jews. 9 They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, ^{aj}O king, live for ever. 10 Thou, O king, hast ^{ak}made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall ^{al}fall down and worship the golden image; 11 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast ^{am}appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon: ^{an}Shadrach, ^{ao}Meshach, and ^{ap}Abed-nego; these men, O king, have ^{aq}not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in his ^{ar}rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king. 14 Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not ^{as}my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? 15 Now if ye be ready that at what time ye ^{at}hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, ^{au}well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning ^{av}fiery furnace; and ^{aw}who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? 16 ^{ax}Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, ^{ay}we have no need to answer thee in this matter. 17 ^{az}If it be so, our ^{ba}God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thy hand, O king. 18 ^{bb}But if not, be it known unto thee, O

king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of ^afury, and the form of his ^bvisage was changed against ^cShadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace ^dseven times more than it was wont to be heated. 20 And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to ^ebind ^fShadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to ^gcast them into the burning fiery furnace. 21 Then these men were bound in their ^hhosen, their ⁱtunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 22 Therefore because the king's commandment was ^jurgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up ^kShadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. 23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down ^lbound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was ^mastonished, and rose up in haste: he spake and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. 25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, ⁿwalking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the ^ogods. 26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the ^pmouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the ^qMost High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego ^rcame forth out of the midst of the fire. 27 And the ^ssatraps, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the ^tfire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their ^uhosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them.

28 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the ^vGod of Nebuchadnezzar's Dream of the Tree. Daniel interprets it. It is fulfilled

I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. 10 Thus were the "visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and, behold, a "tree in the midst of the earth; and the height thereof was great. 11 The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof "reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. 12 The leaves thereof were "fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was food for all: the "beasts of the field had "shadow under it, and the "birds of the heavens dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed from it. 13 I saw in the "visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a "watcher and a "holy one came down from heaven. 14 He cried "aloud, and said thus, "Hew down the tree, and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit: let the "beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from its branches. 15 Nevertheless "leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven: and let his portion be with the "beasts in the grass of the earth: 16 let his heart be "changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let "seven times "pass over him. 17 The sentence is by the decree of the "watchers, and the "demand by the word of the holy ones; to the intent that the living may "know that the "Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and "giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the "lowest of men. 18 This dream I, king Nebuchadnezzar, have seen; and thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as all the "wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able; for the "spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was stricken dumb for a while, and his "thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, "let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, "My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to

34 And at the ^gend of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine ^hunderstanding returned unto me, and I blessed the ⁱMost High, and I praised and honored him that ^jliveth for ever; for his dominion is an ^keverlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation: 35 and ^lall the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and ^mhe doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and ⁿnone can ^ostay his hand, or say unto him, ^pWhat dost thou? 36 At the same time mine ^qunderstanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my ^rmajesty and ^sbrightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was ^testablished in my kingdom, and excellent ^ugreatness was added unto me. 37 Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, ^vpraise and extol and honor the King of ^wheaven; for ^xall his works are truth, and his ways justice; and those that ^ywalk in pride he is able to abase.

5 In the ^dsame hour came forth the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the ^epart of the hand that wrote. 6 Then the king's ^fcountenance was changed in him, and his ^gthoughts troubled him; and the joints of his ^hloins were loosed, and his ⁱknees smote one against another. 7 The king cried aloud to bring in the ^jenchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. The king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and show me the ^kinterpretation thereof, shall be ^lclothed with purple, and have a ^mchain of gold about his neck, and shall be the ⁿthird ruler in the kingdom. 8 Then came in all the king's wise men; but they ^ocould not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. 9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly ^ptroubled, and his ^qcountenance was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed.

10 Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, ^aO king, live for ever; let not thy ^bthoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed. 11 There is a ^cman in thy kingdom, in whom is the ^dspirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and ^eunderstanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him; and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, ^fthe king, I say, thy father, made him ^gmaster of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; 12 forasmuch as an ^hexcellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and showing of dark sentences, and ^adissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named ^bBelteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, who art of the ^cchildren of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father ^dbrought out of Judah? 14 I have heard of thee, that the ^espirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in thee. 15 And now the ^fwise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof; but they ^gcould not show the interpretation of the thing. 16 But I have ^hheard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the ⁱinterpretation thereof, thou shalt be ^jclothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck; and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy ^kgifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. 18 O thou king, the ^mMost High God ⁿgave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and ^ogreatness, and glory, and majesty: 19 and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: ^pwhom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. 20 But when his heart was ^qlifted up, and his spirit was ^rhardened so that he dealt proudly, he was ^sdeposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: 21 and he was ^tdriven from the sons of men, and his ^uheart was made like the beasts', and his dwelling was with the ^vwild asses; he was ^wfed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the ^xdew of heaven; until he knew that the ^yMost High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. 22 And ^zthou his son, O Belshazzar, hast ^{aa}not humbled thy heart, though thou knewest all this, 23 but hast ^{ab}lifted up thyself against the ^{ac}Lord of heaven; and they have brought the ^{ad}ves-sels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine from them; and thou hast ^{ae}praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which ^{af}see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God ^{ag}in whose hand thy breath is, and ^{ah}whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified. 24 Then was the ^{ai}part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed.

25 And this is the writing that was inscribed: ^{aj}MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. 26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and ^{ak}brought it to an end. 27 TEKEL; thou art ^{al}weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28 ^{am}PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to the ^{an}Medes and Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with ^{ao}purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 In that night ^{ap}Belshazzar the Chaldean king was ^{aq}slain. ^{ar}31 And ^{as}Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

6 It pleased ^{at}Darius to set over the kingdom a ^{au}hundred and twenty ^{av}satraps, who should be throughout the whole kingdom; 2 and over them three presidents, of whom ^{aw}Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have ^{ax}no damage. 3 Then this Daniel was ^{ay}distinguished above the presidents and the satraps, because an ^{az}excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the ^{ba}whole realm.

The Presidents and Satraps plot against Daniel. He is cast into the Den of Lions, but is taken out unharmed against Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find ^ano occasion nor fault, forasmuch as he was ^bfaithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. 5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the ^claw of his God. 6 Then these presidents and satraps ^dassembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, ^elive for ever. 7 All the ^fpresidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counsellors and the governors, have ^gconsulted together ^hto establish a royal statute, and to make a strong interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be ⁱcast into the den of lions. 8 Now, O king, ^jestablish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the ^klaw of the Medes and Persians, which ^laltereth not. 9 Wherefore king Darius ^msigned the writing and the interdict.

10 And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his chamber ⁿtoward Jerusalem); and he ^okneeled upon his knees three times a day, and ^pprayed, and ^qgave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. 11 Then these men ^rassembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12 Then they came near, and ^sspake before the king concerning the king's interdict: Hast thou not signed an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the ^tlaw of the Medes and Persians, which ^ualtereth not. 13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, who is of the ^vchildren of the captivity of Judah, ^wregardeth not thee, O king, nor the ^xinterdict that thou hast signed, but ^ymaketh his petition three times a day. 14 Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore ^zdispleased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he labored till the going down of the sun to rescue him. 15 Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a ^alaw of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and ^bcast him into the den of lions.

Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, ^cThy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. 17 And a ^dstone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; ^ethat nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. 18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night ^ffasting; neither were ^ginstruments of music brought before him; and his ^hsleep fled from him.

19 Then the king ⁱarose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. 20 And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice; the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the ^jliving God, is ^kthy God, whom thou servest continually, ^lable to deliver thee from the lions? 21 Then said Daniel unto the king, ^mO king, live for ever. 22 My God hath ⁿsent his angel, and hath ^oshut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me; forasmuch as before him ^pinnocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I ^qdone no hurt. 23 Then was the king ^rexceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and ^sno manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had ^ttrusted in his God.

24 And the king commanded, and they brought those men that had accused Daniel, and they ^ucast them into the den of lions, them, their ^vchildren, and their wives; and the lions ^whad the mastery of them, and ^xbrake all their bones

25 Then king Darius wrote unto all the ^a peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: ^bPeace be multiplied unto you.

26 I ^cmake a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men ^dtremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the ^eliving God, and ^fstedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall ^gnot be destroyed; and his dominion shall be even ^hunto the end. 27 He ⁱdelivereth and rescueth, and he worketh ^ksigns and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

7 In the ^mfirst year of ⁿBelshazzar king of Babylon Daniel ¹had a ^odream and ^pvisions of his head upon his bed: then he ^qwrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. 2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my ^rvision by night, and, behold, the ^sfour winds of heaven brake forth upon the great sea. 3 And ^tfour great ^ubeasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. 4 The ^vfirst was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man; and a man's heart was given to it. 5 And, behold, ^wanother beast, a second, like to a bear; and ^xit was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. 6 After this I beheld, and, lo, ^yanother, like a leopard, which had upon its back four wings of a bird; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. 7 After this I saw in the ^znight-visions, and, behold, a ^{aa}fourth beast, terrible and ^{ab}powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth; it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ^{ac}ten horns. 8 I considered the horns, and, behold, there came

23 Thus he said, The ¹fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall ²tread it down, and break it in pieces. 24 And as for the ²ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. 25 And he shall ^aspeak words against the ¹Most High, and shall ²wear out the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to ¹change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a ²time and times and half a time. 26 But the ²judgment shall be set, and they shall ^atake away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. 27 And the ²kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the ²saints of the Most High: his kingdom is an ²everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall ^aserve and obey him. 28 ³Here is the end of the matter. vision appeared unto me, even unto ^ame, Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. 2 And I ^asaw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in ^aShushan the ^bpalace, which is in the province of ^bElam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river ^aUlai. 3 Then I ^alifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ^aram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. 4 I saw the ram ^apushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that ^acould deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself.

5 And as I was considering, behold, a ^ahe-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and ^atouched not the ground: and the goat had a ^anotable horn between his eyes. 6 And he came to the ^aram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. 7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was ^amoved with anger against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him; but he ^acast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. 8 And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly; and ^awhen he was strong, the ^agreat horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the ^afour winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a ^alittle horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the ^aglorious land. 10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the ^astars it cast down to the ground, and ^atrampled upon them. 11 Yea, it ^amagnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and ^ait took away from him the ^acontinual burnt-offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down: 12 And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt-offering through transgression; and it was cast down truth to the ground, and it did its pleasure and prospered. 13 Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one who spake, "How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt-offering, and the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?" 14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. 16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of the Ulai, which called, and said, "Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision." 17 So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was affrighted, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for the vision belongeth to the time of the end. 18 Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground; but he touched me, and set me upright. 19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation; for it belongeth to the appointed time of the end. 20 The ram which thou sawest, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. 21 And the rough he-goat is the king of Greece: and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. 22 And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power. 23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. 24 And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper and do his pleasure; and he shall destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. 25 And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in their security shall he destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. 26 And the vision of the evenings and mornings which hath been told is true: but shut thou up the vision; for it belongeth to many days to come. 27 And I, Daniel, fainting, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business; and I wondered at the vision, but none understood it.

9 In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans, 2 in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by the books the number of the years whereof the word of Jehovah came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years.

3 And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes. 4 And I prayed unto Jehovah my God, and made confession, and said, Oh, Lord, the great and dreadful God, who keepeth covenant and loving-kindness with them that love him and keep his commandments, 5 we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thine ordinances; 6 neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, that spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. 7 O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. 8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. 9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness; ¹for we have rebelled against him; 10 neither have we obeyed the voice of Jehovah our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. 11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, that they should not obey thy voice: therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against him. 12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil; for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. 13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us; yet have we not entreated the favor of Jehovah our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and have discernment in thy truth. 14 Therefore hath Jehovah watched over the evil, and brought it upon us; for Jehovah our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and we have not obeyed his voice. 15 And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. 16 O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, let thine anger and thy wrath, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are round about us. 17 Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. 18 O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name:

11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, thou man ¹greatly beloved, ²understand the words that I speak unto thee, and ³stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood ⁴trembling. 12 Then said he unto me, ⁵Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst ⁶set thy heart to understand, and to ⁷humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and I am come ⁸for thy words' sake. 13 But the ⁹prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, ¹⁰Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I ¹¹remained there with the kings of Persia. 14 Now I am come to make thee ¹²understand what shall befall thy people in the ¹³latter days; for the vision is yet for ¹⁴many days. 15 And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was ¹⁵dumb. 16 And, behold, one in the ¹⁶likeness of the sons of men ¹⁷touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my ¹⁸sorrows are turned upon me, and I retain no strength. 17 For ¹⁹how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained ²⁰no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me.

18 Then there touched me again one like the ¹appearance of a man, and he ²strengthened me. 19 And he said, O man ³greatly beloved, ⁴fear not: peace be unto thee, be ⁵strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast ⁶strengthened me. 20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the ⁷prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the ⁸prince of ⁹Greece shall come. 21 But I will ¹⁰tell thee that which is inscribed in the ¹¹writing of ¹²truth: and there is none that ¹³holdeth with me ¹⁴against these,

^e2 And now will I show thee the ^ftruth. ^p5 And the ^qking of the south shall be strong, and ^rone of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. ^s6 And at the ^tend of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the ^uking of the north to make ^van agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great substance; and his heart shall be¹⁴ against the holy covenant; and he shall do his¹⁵ pleasure, and return to his own land. 29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the¹⁶ former. 30 For ships of "Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and have indignation¹⁷ against the holy covenant, and shall¹⁸ do his¹⁹ pleasure: he shall even return, and have regard unto them that forsake the holy covenant. 31 And forces shall stand on his part, and they shall²⁰ profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt-offering, and they shall set up the²¹ abomination that maketh desolate. 32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he²² pervert by²³ flatteries; but the people that know their God shall be²⁴ strong, and do exploits. 33 And²⁵ they that are wise among the people shall instruct many; yet they shall²⁶ fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. 34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be helped with a little help; but many shall²⁷ join themselves unto them with²⁸ flatteries. 35 And some of²⁹ them that are wise shall fall, to³⁰ refine them, and to³¹ purify, and to make them³² white, even to the³³ time of the end; because it is yet for the time appointed.

36 And the king shall³⁴ do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and³⁵ magnify himself above every god, and shall³⁶ speak marvellous things against the³⁷ God of gods; and he shall³⁸ prosper till the³⁹ indignation be accomplished; for that which is⁴⁰ determined shall be done. 37 Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god; for he shall⁴¹ magnify himself above all. 38 But in his⁴² place shall he honor the god of fortresses; and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honor with gold, and silver, and with precious stones and pleasant things. 39 And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a foreign god; ⁴³who-soever acknowledgeth him⁴⁴ he will increase with glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price.

40 And at the⁴⁵ time of the end shall the⁴⁶ king of the south⁴⁷ contend with him; and the⁴⁸ king of the north shall come against him⁴⁹ like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall⁵⁰ overflow and pass through. 41 He shall enter also into the⁵¹ glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall be delivered out of his hand: Edom, and⁵² Moab, and the chief of the

THE BOOK OF HOSEA

Hosea's Wife and Children of Whoredom. Restoration of Israel and Judah. Their Unfaithfulness condemned

1 The word of Jehovah that came unto ^aHosea the son of Beeri, in the days of ^bUzziah, ^cJotham, ^dAhaz, and ^eHezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of ^fJeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2 When Jehovah spake at the first ¹by Hosea, Jehovah said unto Hosea, ²Go, take unto thee a ³wife of whoredom and children of whoredom; for the land doth ⁴commit great whoredom, departing from Jehovah. 3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and ⁵bare him a son. 4 And Jehovah said unto him, Call his name ⁶Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will ⁷avenge the ⁸blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. 5 And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will ⁹break the bow of Israel in the ¹⁰valley of Jezreel.

6 And she conceived again, and ¹¹bare a daughter. And Jehovah said unto him, Call her name ¹²Lo-ruhamah; for I will ¹³no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them. 7 But I will have ¹⁴mercy upon the house of Judah, and will ¹⁵save them by Jehovah their God, and will not save them by ¹⁶bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen. 8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and ¹⁷bare a son. 9 And Jehovah said, Call his name ¹⁸Lo-ammi; for ye are not my people, and I will not be ¹⁹your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the ²⁰sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and ²¹it shall come to pass that, ²²in the place where it was said unto them,

6 Therefore, behold, I will ¹⁵hedge up thy way with ¹⁶thorns, and I will build a wall against her, that she shall not find her ¹⁷paths. 7 And she shall ¹⁸follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my ¹⁹first husband; for then was it ²⁰better with me than now.

⁶ My people are destroyed for ^llack of knowledge: because thou hast ^mrejected knowledge, ¹ I will also ⁿreject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast ^oforgotten the ^plaw of thy God, I also will forget thy children. ⁷ As they were ^qmultiplied, so they sinned against me: I will ^rchange their glory into ^sshame. ⁸ They ^tfeed on the sin of my people, and ^uset their heart on their iniquity. ⁹ And it shall be, like people, ^vlike priest; and I will ^wpunish them for their ways, and will requite them their doings. ¹⁰ And they shall ^xeat, and not have enough; they shall ^yplay the harlot, and shall not increase; because they have ^zleft off taking heed to Jehovah.

^qvessel wherein none delighteth. 9 For they are gone up to ¹Assyria, like a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath ²hired ³lovers. 10 Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I ⁴gather them; and they ⁵begin to be ⁶diminished by reason of the burden of the ⁷king of princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath ⁸multiplied altars for sinning, altars have been unto him for sinning. 12 I wrote for him the ten thousand things of my ⁹law; but they are counted as a strange thing. 13 As for the ¹⁰sacrifices of mine offerings, they ¹¹sacrifice flesh and eat it; but Jehovah accepteth them not: now will he ¹²remember their iniquity, and ¹³visit their sins; they shall return to ¹⁴Egypt. 14 For Israel hath ¹⁵forgotten his Maker, and ¹⁶builded ¹⁷palaces; and Judah hath multiplied fortified cities: but I will send a ¹⁸fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the ¹⁹castles thereof.

9 ²⁰Rejoice not, O Israel, ²¹for joy, like the peoples; ²²for thou hast ²³played the harlot, departing from thy God; thou hast ²⁴loved hire upon every grain-floor. 2 The threshing-floor and the winepress shall ²⁵not feed them, and the new wine shall fail her. 3 They shall not dwell in Jehovah's land; but Ephraim shall return to ²⁶Egypt, and they shall eat ²⁷unclean food in ²⁸Assyria. 4 They shall not pour out ²⁹wine-offerings to Jehovah, ³⁰neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their ³¹sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be ³²polluted; for their bread shall be for their appetite; it shall not come into the house of Jehovah. 5 ³³What will ye do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the ³⁴feast of Jehovah? 6 For, lo, they are gone away from destruction; ³⁵yet ³⁶Egypt shall gather them up, ³⁷Memphis shall bury them; their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them; ³⁸thorns shall be in their tents. 7 The days of ^avisitation are come, the days of ^brecompense are come; Israel shall know it: the prophet is a ^cfool, the man that hath the spirit is ^dmad, for the abundance of thine ^einiquity, and because the enmity is great. 8 Ephraim ^fwas a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, a ^gfowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity in the house of his God. 9 They have ^hdeeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of ⁱGibeah: he will ^jremember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like ^kgrapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the ^lfirst-ripe in the fig-tree at its first season: but they came to ^mBaal-peor, and ⁿconsecrated themselves unto the ^oshameful thing, and became ^pabominable like that which they loved. 11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall ^qfly away like a bird: there shall be ^rno birth, and none with child, and no conception. 12 Though they ^sbring up their children, yet will I bereave them, so that not a man shall be left: yea, ^twoe also to them when I depart from them! 13 Ephraim, ^ulike as I have seen ^vTyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer. 14 Give them, O Jehovah — what wilt thou give? give them a ^wmiscarrying womb and dry breasts. 15 All their wickedness is in ^xGilgal; for there I hated them: because of the ^ywickedness of their doings I will drive them out of my house; I will love them no more; all their princes are ^zrevolvers. 16 ^{aa}Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear ^{ab}no fruit: yea, though they ^{ac}bring forth, yet will I slay the ^{ad}beloved fruit of their womb. 17 My God will cast them away, because they did ^{ae}not hearken unto him; and they shall be ^{af}wanderers among the nations.

10 Israel is a luxuriant ^{ag}vine, that putteth forth his fruit: according to the abundance of his fruit he hath ^{ah}multiplied his altars; according to the ^{ai}goodness of their land they have made goodly ^{aj}pillars. 2 ^{ak}Their heart is ^{al}divided;

11 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and ^acalled my son ^eout of Egypt. 2 The more ^{the} ^kprophets called them, the more they went from them: they ⁱsacrificed unto the Baalim, and ^mburned incense to graven images. 3 Yet I ⁿtaught Ephraim to walk; ⁱI ^otook them on my arms; but they knew not that I ^ohealed them. 4 I ^odrew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that lift up the yoke on their jaws; and I ^olaid food before them.

12 I Ephraim feedeth on ⁿwind, and followeth after the ^eeast wind: he continually ^pmultiplieth lies and desolation; and they make a covenant with ^qAssyria, and oil is carried into ^rEgypt. 2 Jehovah hath also a ^scontroversy with Judah, and will ¹⁰punish Jacob ^taccording to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him. 3 In the womb he ^utook his brother by the heel; and in his ¹¹manhood he ¹²had ^vpower with God: 4 yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed; he wept, and ^zmade supplication unto him: he found him at ^yBeth-el, and there he spake with us, 5 ¹³even Jehovah, the God of hosts; Jehovah is his ^amemorial name. 6 Therefore ^aturn thou to thy God: keep ^bkindness and justice, and ^cwait for thy God continually.

for a wife he kept sheep. 13 And by a prophet Jehovah brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved. 14 Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall his blood be left upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

13 When Ephraim spake, there was trembling; he exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal, he died. 2 And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves. 3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that passeth early away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt; and thou shalt know no god but me, and besides me there is no saviour. 5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. 6 According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me. 7 Therefore am I unto them as a lion; as a leopard will I watch by the way; 8 I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart; and there will I devour them like a lioness; the wild beast shall tear them.

9 It is thy destruction, O Israel, that thou art against me, against thy help. 10 Where now is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? 11 I have given thee a king in mine anger, and have taken him away in my wrath. 12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is laid up in store. 13 The sorrows of a travelling woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; for

THE BOOK OF

JOEL

A Devastation of the Land by Locusts. Terribleness of the Visitation

1 The ^aword of Jehovah that came to ^bJoel the son of Pethuel.

⁸ Lament like a virgin ^agirded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth. ⁹ The ^ameal-offering and the drink-offering are cut off from the house of Jehovah; the ^apriests, Jehovah's ministers, mourn. ¹⁰ The field is ^alaid waste, the land mourneth; for the grain is destroyed, the ^anew wine is ^adried up, the oil languisheth. ¹¹ ^aBe ^aconfounded, O ye husbandmen, wail, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; for the ^aharvest of the field is perished. ¹² The ^avine is ^awithered, and the fig-tree languisheth; the ^apomegranate-tree, the ^apalm-tree also, and the ^aapple-tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: for ^ajoy is ^awithered away from the sons of men.

2 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the ^aday of Jehovah cometh, for it is nigh at hand; ² a day of ^adarkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; a ^agreat people and a strong; there hath ^bnot been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations. 3 A ^cfire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is ^das the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a ^edesolate wilderness; yea, and none hath escaped them.

4 The ^fappearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as ^ghorsemen, so do they run. 5 Like the ^hnoise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of a ⁱflame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array. 6 At their presence the peoples are in ^janguish; all ^kfaces are waxed pale. 7 They run like ^lmighty men; they ^mclimb the wall like men of war; and they ⁿmarch every one on his ways, and they break not their ranks. 8 Neither doth one thrust another; they march every one in his path; and ^othey burst through the weapons, and ^pbreak not off their course. 9 They ^qleap upon the city; they run upon the wall; they climb up into the ^rhouses; they ^senter in at the windows like a thief. 10 The earth ^tquaketh before them; the heavens tremble; the ^usun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. 11 And Jehovah ^vuttereth his voice before ^whis army; for his camp is very great; for he is ^xstrong that executeth his word; for the ^yday of Jehovah is great and very terrible; and ^zwho can abide it?

12 Yet even now, saith Jehovah, ^aturn ye unto me with all your heart, and with ^bfasting, and with weeping, and with mourning: 13 and rend your ^cheart, and ^dnot your garments, and turn unto Jehovah your God; for he is ^egracious and merciful, slow to anger, and ^frepenteth him of the evil. 14 Who knoweth ^gwhether he will not turn and repent, and leave a ^hblessing behind him, even a ⁱmeal-offering and a drink-offering unto Jehovah your God?

18 Then was Jehovah ^ljealous for his land, and had ^mpity on his people. 19 And Jehovah answered and said unto his people, Behold, I will send you ⁿgrain, and new wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith; and I will ^ono more make you a reproach among the nations; 20 but I will remove far off from you the ^pnorthern army, and will drive it into a land barren and desolate, ^qits forefront ^rinto the ^seastern sea, and its hinder part ^tinto the ^uwestern sea; and its ^vstench shall come up, and its ill savor shall come up, because it hath done great things.

21 ^aFear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for Jehovah hath ^bdone great things. 22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; for the ^cpastures of the ^dwilderness do spring, for the tree beareth its fruit, the fig-tree and the vine do yield their strength. 23 Be glad then, ye ^echildren of Zion, and ^frejoice in Jehovah your God; for he ^ggiveth you the former rain ^hin just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, the former rain and the ⁱlatter rain, ^jin the first month. 24 And the ^kfloors shall be full of wheat, and the vats shall overflow with new wine and oil. 25 And I will restore to you the years that the ^llocust hath eaten, the canker-worm, and the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, my great army

4 Thus saith Jehovah: For three transgressions of ^bJudah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have ^crejected the law of Jehovah, and have not kept his statutes, and their ^dlies have caused them to err, after which their ^efathers did walk. 5 But I will ^fsend a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith Jehovah: ^gFor three transgressions of ^hIsrael, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have ⁱsold the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes — 7 they that pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the ^kpoor, and ^lturn aside the way of the meek: and a ^mman and his father go unto the ⁿsame maiden, to profane my holy name: 8 and they lay themselves down beside every ^oaltar upon clothes ^ptaken in pledge; and in the house of their God they ^qdrink the wine of such as have been fined.

9 Yet destroyed I the ^rAmorite before them, whose ^sheight was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I destroyed his ^tfruit from above, and his roots from beneath. 10 Also I brought you up out of the land of ^uEgypt, and led you ^vforty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the ^wAmorite. 11 And I ^xraised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for ^yNazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith Jehovah. 12 But ye gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, ^zProphecy not.

in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him. I will also visit the altars of Beth-el; and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground. 15 And I will smite the winter-house with the summer-house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall have an end, saith Jehovan.

4 Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, that oppress the poor, that crush the needy, that say unto their lords, Bring, and let us drink. 2 The Lord Jehovan hath sworn by his holiness, that lo, the days shall come upon you, that they shall take you away with hooks, and your residue with fish-hooks. 3 And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one straight before her; and ye shall cast yourselves into Harmon, saith Jehovan.

4 Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to Gilgal, and multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days; 5 and offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill-offerings and publish them: for this pleaseth you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord Jehovan.

6 And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places; yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovan. 7 And I also have withheld the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest; and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered. 8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovan. 9 I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig-trees and your olive-trees hath the palmer-worm devoured: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovan. 10 I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have carried away your horses; and I have made the stretch of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovan. 11 I have overthrown cities among you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith Jehovan.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel; and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. 13 For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought; that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth — Jehovan, the God of hosts, is his name.

5 Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. 2 The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up. 3 For thus saith the Lord Jehovan: The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth a hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith Jehovan unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live; 5 but seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth-el shall come to nought. 6 Seek Jehovan, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el. 7 Ye who turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth, 8 seek him that maketh

the ^aPleiades and Orion, and ^bturneth ^cthe shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day ^ddark with night; that ^ecalleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth (^fJehovah is his name); 9 that ^gbringeth ^hsudden destruction upon the strong, so that ⁱdestruction cometh upon the fortress.

10 They hate him that ^jreproveth in the gate, and they ^kabhor him that speaketh uprightly. 11 Forasmuch therefore as ye ^ltrample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat; ye have built ^mhouses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall ⁿnot drink the wine thereof. 12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions, and how mighty are your sins—ye that ^oafflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the ^pneedy in the gate from their right. 13 Therefore he that is prudent shall ^qkeep silence in such a time; for it is an evil time.

14 ^rSeek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be with you, ^sas ye say. 15 ^tHate the evil, and love the good, and establish justice in the gate: it ^umay be that Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the ^vremnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore thus saith Jehovah, the God of hosts, the Lord: ^wWailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the ^xhusbandman to mourning, ^yand such as are ^zskilful in lamentation to wailing. 17 And in all ^{aa}vineyards shall be wailing; for I will pass through the midst of thee, saith Jehovah.

18 Woe unto you that desire the ^{ab}day of Jehovah! Wherefore would ye have the day of Jehovah? It is ^{ac}darkness, and not light. 19 As if a man did ^{ad}flee from a lion, and a bear met him; ^{ae}or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. 20 Shall not the day of Jehovah be ^{af}darkness, and not light? even very dark, and not brightness in it?

pass away. 8 The Lord Jehovah hath ^asworn by himself, saith Jehovah, the God of hosts: ^bI abhor the ^cexcellency of Jacob, and hate his ^dpalaces; therefore will I ^edeliver up the city with all that is therein. 9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ^ften men in one house, that they shall die. 10 And when a man's ^guncle shall take him up, even he that ^hburneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, ⁱHold thy peace; for we may ^jnot make mention of the name of Jehovah. 11 For, behold, Jehovah commandeth, and ^kthe ^lgreat house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow ^mthere with oxen? that ye have turned ⁿjustice into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood; 13 ye that rejoice in a ^othing of nought, that say, Have we not ^ptaken to us horns by our own strength? 14 For, behold, I will ^qraise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith Jehovah, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the ^rentrance of Hamath unto the ^sbrook of the Arabah.

7 Thus the Lord Jehovah ^tshowed me: and, behold, he formed ^ulocusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. 2 And it came to pass that, when they ^vmade an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, ^wO Lord Jehovah, forgive, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob stand? for he is ^xsmall. 3 Jehovah ^yrepented concerning this: It shall not be, saith Jehovah.

4 Thus the Lord Jehovah showed me: and, behold, the Lord Jehovah called to contend by ^zfire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the ^{aa}land. 5 Then said I, ^{ab}O Lord Jehovah, cease, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. 6 Jehovah ^{ac}repented concerning this:

This also shall not be, saith the Lord Jehovah.

7 Thus he showed me: and, behold, the Lord stood ^{ad}beside a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand. 8 And Jehovah said unto me, ^{ae}Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a ^{af}plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel; I will ^{ag}not again pass by them any more; 9 and the ^{ah}high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the ^{ai}sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will ^{aj}rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the ^{ak}priest of ^{al}Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath ^{am}conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words. 11 For thus Amos saith, ^{an}Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and ^{ao}Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land. 12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, ^{ap}go, flee thou away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there: 13 but ^{aq}prophesy not again any more at Beth-el; for it is the king's ^{ar}sanctuary, and it is a royal house.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I ^{as}was no prophet, neither ^{at}was I ^{au}a ^{av}prophet's son; but I ^{aw}was a ^{ax}herdsman, and a dresser of ^{ay}sycomore-trees: 15 and ^{az}Jehovah took me from following the flock, and ^{ba}Jehovah said unto me, Go, ^{bb}prophesy unto my people Israel. 16 Now therefore hear thou the word of Jehovah: Thou sayest, ^{bc}Prophesy not against Israel, and ^{bd}drop not ^{be}thy word against the house of Isaac; 17 therefore thus saith Jehovah: Thy ^{bf}wife shall be a harlot in the city, and thy ^{bg}sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by ^{bh}line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is ^{bi}unclean, and Israel shall surely be ^{bj}led away captive out of his land.

8 Thus the Lord Jehovah showed me: and, behold, a basket of summer fruit. 2 And he said, "Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said Jehovah unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more. 3 And the songs of the temple shall be wailings in that day, saith the Lord Jehovah: the dead bodies shall be many; in every place shall they cast them forth with silence.

4 Hear this, O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, 5 saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit; 6 that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat? 7 Jehovah hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works. 8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled and sink again, like the River of Egypt. 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord Jehovah, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. 10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord Jehovah, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of Jehovah. 12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of Jehovah, and shall not find it. 13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst. 14 They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy god, O

The Pride of Edom shall be humbled. Her Wicked Joy in Israel's Distress. Israel shall be exalted

1 The vision of Obadiah.

Thus saith the Lord Jehovah concerning ^aEdom: ^bWe have heard tidings from Jehovah, and an ^cambassador is sent among the nations, saying, ^dArise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. 2 Behold, I have made thee ^esmall among the nations: thou art greatly despised. 3 The ^f'pride of thy heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of ^gthe ^h'rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, ⁱ'Who shall bring me down to the ground? 4 Though thou ^j'mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the ^k'stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith Jehovah.

5 If ^l'thieves came to thee, if robbers by night (how art thou ^m'cut off!), would they not steal ⁿonly till they had enough? if grape-gatherers came to thee, would they not leave some ^o'gleaning grapes? 6 How are ^pthe ^qthings of Esau ^r'searched! how are his hidden treasures sought out! 7 All the ^s'men of thy confederacy have ^tbrought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at ^upeace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; ^v'they that eat thy ^w'bread lay a ^x'snare under thee: there is ^y'no understanding ^z'in him. 8 Shall I not in that day, saith Jehovah, ^{aa}'destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau? 9 And thy ^{ab}'mighty men, O ^{ac}'Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be ^{ad}'cut off from the mount of Esau by slaughter.

10 For the ^{ae}'violence done to thy brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever. 11 In the day that thou ^{af}'stoddest ^{ag}'on the other side, in the

THE BOOK OF JONAH

Jonah, sent by God to Nineveh, flees to Tarshish. In a Tempest he is cast overboard, and is swallowed by a Fish. His Prayer

1 Now the word of Jehovah came unto ^aJonah the son of Amittai, saying, 2 Arise, go to ^bNineveh, that ^cgreat city, and ^dcry against it; for their ^ewickedness is come up before me. 3 But Jonah rose up to flee unto ^fTarshish ^gfrom the presence of Jehovah; and he went down to ^hJoppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of Jehovah.

4 But ⁱJehovah ^jsent out a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto ^khis god; and they ^lcast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, ^mcall upon thy God, if so be that ⁿGod will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us ^ocast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the ^plot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is ^qthine ^roccupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? 9 And he said unto them, I am a ^sHebrew; and I ^tfear Jehovah, the ^uGod of heaven, who hath ^vmade the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that he was ^wfleeing from the presence of Jehovah, because he had told them.

11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. 12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that ^zfor my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they ^{aa}could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 14 Wherefore they cried unto ^{ab}Jehovah, and said, We beseech thee, O Jehovah, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood; for ^{ac}thou, O Jehovah, hast done as it pleased thee. 15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea; and the sea ^{ad}ceased from its raging.

The ^edeep was round about me;
The weeds were wrapped about

6 I ^fwent down to the bottoms of the mountains;
The earth with its ^gbars closed
upon me for ever:
Yet hast thou ^hbrought up my life from ⁱthe pit, O Jehovah my God.
7 When my soul ^j'fainted within me, I ^kremembered Jehovah;
And my ^l'prayer came in unto thee, into thy ^mholy temple.
8 They that ⁿ'regard lying vani-

Forsake their own mercy.
9 But I will ^o'sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving;
I will ^p'pay that which I have vowed.
^qSalvation is of Jehovah.
10 And Jehovah spake unto the 'fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.
3 And the word of Jehovah came unto Jonah, the ^r'second time, saying, 2 Arise, go unto 'Nineveh, that great city, and ^s'preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. 3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh,
according to the word of Jehovah.
Now Nineveh was ^t'an ^u'exceeding great city, of three days' journey.
4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he ^v'cried, and said, ^w'Yet forty days,
and Nineveh shall be overthrown.
5 And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed ^x'fast, and put on ^y'sackcloth, ^z'from the greatest of them even to the least of them. 6 ^{aa}'And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and ^{ab}'covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. 7 And he made

^{ac}'proclamation and ^{ad}'published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything;
let them not feed, nor drink water; 8 but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them ^{ae}'cry mightily unto God: yea, let them ^{af}'turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in his hands. 9 ^{ag}'Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? 10 And God saw their works, that they ^{ah}'turned from their evil way; and ^{ai}'God repent of the evil which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not.

4 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was ^{aj}'angry.
2 And he ^{ak}'prayed unto Jehovah, and said, I pray thee, O Jehovah, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I ^{al}'hasted to ^{am}'flee unto Tarshish;
for I knew that thou art a ^{an}'gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving-kindness, and repentest thee of the evil. 3 Therefore now, O Jehovah, ^{ao}'take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is ^{ap}'better for me to die than to live. 4 And Jehovah said, ^{aq}'Dost thou well to be angry? 5 Then Jonah went out of the city, and ^{ar}'sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shade, till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And ^{as}'Jehovah God prepared a ^{at}'gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was ^{au}'exceeding glad because of the gourd. 7 But God prepared a worm which the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it ^{av}'withered. 8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry ^{aw}'east wind;
and the ^{ax}'sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might

* Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of Jehovah, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and ^b he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths. For ^c out of Zion shall go forth ¹ the law, and the word of Jehovah from Jerusalem; ³ and he will ^d judge ² between ³ many peoples, and will decide concerning strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. ⁴ But they shall ^e sit every man under his vine and under his fig-tree; and ^f none shall make them afraid: for the ^g mouth of Jehovah of hosts hath spoken it. ⁵ For all the peoples walk every one in the ^h name of his god; and we will walk in the name of ⁱ Jehovah our God for ever and ever.

⁶ In that day, saith Jehovah, will I ^k assemble that which is ^l lame, and I will gather that which is driven away, and that which I have afflicted; ⁷ and I will make that which was lame a ^m remnant, and that which was cast far off a ⁿ strong nation: and ^o Jehovah will reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. ⁸ And thou, O ^p tower of ^q the ^r flock, ^s the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, yea, the ^t former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 The voice of Jehovah crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will ^jsee thy name: hear ye the ^krod, and who hath appointed it. 10 Are there yet treasures of ^lwickedness in the house of the wicked, and a ^mscant ⁿmeasure that is abominable? 11 Shall I be pure with wicked ^obalances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 For the rich men thereof are full of ^pviolence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken ^qlies, and their ^rtongue is deceitful in their mouth. 13 Therefore I also have smitten thee with a ^sgrievous wound; I have made thee ^tdesolate because of thy sins. 14 Thou shalt eat, but ^unot be satisfied; and thy ^vhumiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt put away, but shalt ^wnot save; and that which thou savest will I give up to the sword. 15 Thou shalt sow, but shalt ^xnot reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt ^ynot drink the wine. 16 For the statutes of ^zOmri are kept, and all the works of the house of ^{aa}Ahab, and ye ^{ab}walk in their counsels; that I may make thee ^{ac}a ^{ad}desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a ^{ae}hissing; and ye shall bear the ^{af}reproach of my people.

7 Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the ^{ag}grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; ^{ah}my soul desireth the ^{ai}first-ripe fig. 2 The godly man is ^{aj}perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for ^{ak}blood; they hunt every man his brother with a ^{al}net. 3 ^{am}Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it ^{an}diligently; the prince asketh, and the judge ^{ao}is ready for a ^{ap}reward; and the great man, he uttereth the evil

Goodness and Severity of Jehovah. The Overthrow of Nineveh decreed

1 The ¹burden of ^bNineveh.
The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

² Jehovah is a jealous God and avengeth; Jehovah ^aavengeth and is full of wrath; Jehovah taketh ^cvengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

³ Jehovah is ¹slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty: Jehovah hath his way in the ^gwhirlwind and in the storm, and the ^hclouds are the dust of his feet. ⁴ He ⁱrebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: ^kBashan languisheth, and Carmel; and the flower of Lebanon languisheth.

⁵ The mountains ^lquake at him, and the hills ^mmelt; and the earth is ⁿupheaved at his presence, yea, the ^oworld, and all that dwell therein. ⁶ Who can stand before his ^pindignation? and who can abide in the ^qfierceness of his anger? his ^rwrath is poured out like fire, and the ^srocks are broken asunder by him. ⁷ Jehovah is ^tgood, a ^ustronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that take refuge in him. ⁸ But with an ^vover-running flood he will make a full end of her place, and will pursue his enemies into ^wdarkness.

⁹ What do ye ^xdevise against Jehovah? he will make a ^yfull end; affliction shall not rise up the second time. ¹⁰ For entangled like ^zthorns, and ^{aa}drunken as with their drink, they are ^{ab}consumed ^{ac}utterly as dry stubble.
¹¹ There is one gone forth out of thee, that ^{ad}deviseth evil against Jehovah, ^{ae}that ^{af}counselleth ^{ag}wickedness. ¹² Thus saith Jehovah:
Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so shall they be ^{ah}cut down, and he shall pass away. ¹³ Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee ^{ai}no more. ¹⁴ And now will I ^{aj}break

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK

The Chaldeans raised up to punish Judah's Sins. Habakkuk's Remonstrance. Jehovah's Reply

1 The ^{1a}burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 O Jehovah, ^bhow long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt ^cnot save. 3 Why dost thou show me ^ainiquity, and ²look upon perverseness? for ^cdestruction and violence are before me; and there is ^dstrife, and contention riseth up. 4 Therefore the ^elaw is slacked, and justice ³doth never go forth; for the wicked doth ^acompass about the righteous; therefore justice goeth forth ^dperverted.

5 ^kBehold ye ¹among the nations, and look, and ^mwonder marvelously; for ⁴I am working a ⁿwork in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. 6 For, lo, I ^oraise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, that march through the breadth of the earth, to ^ppossess dwelling-places that are not theirs. 7 ⁵They are ^qterrible and dreadful; their ^rjudgment and their dignity proceed from themselves. 8 Their ^shorses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the ^tevening wolves; and their horsemen ⁶press proudly on: yea, their horsemen come from far; they fly as an ^ueagle that hasteth to devour. 9 They come all of them for violence; ⁷the ^vset of their faces is ⁸forwards; and they ^xgather captives as the sand. 10 ⁹Yea, he ^yscoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him; he ^zderideth every stronghold; for he ^aheapeth up dust, and taketh it. 11 ¹⁰Then shall he sweep by as a ^bwind, and shall ¹¹pass over, and be ^cguilty, even he whose ^dmight is his god.

“keepeth not at home; who ^benlargeth his desire ^cas Sheol, and he is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but ^agathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples. 6 Shall not all these ^ctake up a parable against him, and a taunting ¹proverb against him, and say, ⁷Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that ladeth himself with ²pledges! 7 Shall they not ^arise up suddenly that shall ²bite thee, and awake that shall ³vex thee, and thou shalt be for booty unto them? 8 Because thou hast ^aplundered many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall plunder thee, ^kbecause of men's blood, and for the ¹violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

9 Woe to him that getteth an ^aevil gain for his house, that he may ^aset his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! 10 Thou hast devised ^ashame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast ^asinned against thy soul. 11 For the ^astone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Woe to him that ^abuildeth a town with blood, and establisheth a city by iniquity! 13 Behold, is it not of Jehovah of hosts that the peoples ^alabor for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for ^avanity? 14 For the earth shall be ^afilled with the knowledge of the glory of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea.

15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor ^adrink, to thee that ^aaddest thy ^bvenom, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness! 16 Thou art filled with ^ashame, and not glory: ^adrink thou also, and ^bbe as one uncircumcised; the ^acup of Jehovah's right hand shall come round unto thee, and ^afoul shame shall be upon thy glory. 17 For the ^aviolence done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, which made them afraid; ^bbecause of men's blood, and for the ^aviolence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

7 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: ²Consider your ways. 8 Go up to the ³ⁱmountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will ^mtake pleasure in it, and I will be ⁿglorified, saith Jehovah. 9 Ye ^olooked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did ^pblow upon it. Why? saith Jehovah of hosts. Because of my house that ^qlieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. 10 Therefore ⁵for your sake the ^rheavens withhold the dew, and the earth withholdeth its fruit. 11 And I called for a ^sdrought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the grain, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon ^tmen, and upon cattle, and upon ^uall the labor of the hands.

The Coming Peace and Prosperity of Zion. Truth and Righteousness enjoined. Other Nations shall seek Jehovah

the nations which they have not known. Thus the land was ^adesolate after them, so that ^bno man passed through nor returned: for they ^claid the ¹pleasant land desolate.

8 And the word of Jehovah of hosts came to me, saying, 2 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: I am ^ajealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath. 3 Thus saith Jehovah: I am ^ereturned unto Zion, and will ^ddwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called The city of ^gtruth; and the mountain of Jehovah of hosts, The ^hholy mountain. 4 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: There shall yet ⁱold men and old women ²dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand ³for very age. 5 And the streets of the city shall be full of ^kboys and girls playing in the streets thereof. 6 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: If it be ^lmarvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvellous in ^mmine eyes? saith Jehovah of hosts. 7 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the ⁿeast country, and from the west country: 8 and I will ^obring them, and they shall ²dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be ^qmy people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith Jehovah of hosts: Let your hands be ^rstrong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of the ^sprophets that were in the day that the foundation of the house of Jehovah of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. 10 For before those days there was ^tno hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there ^uany peace to him that went out or came in, because of the adversary: for ^vI set all men every one against his neighbor. 11 But now I will ²not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith Jehovah of hosts. 12 For ^wthere shall be the ^yseed of peace; the vine shall give its fruit, and the ground shall give its increase, and the heavens shall give their ^zdew; and I will cause the remnant of this people

14 For thus saith Jehovah of hosts: As I ^fthought to do evil unto you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith Jehovah of hosts, and I ^grepented not; 15 so again have I thought in these days to ^hdo good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: ⁱfear ye not. 16 These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the ^jtruth with his neighbor; ^kexecute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates: 17 and let none of you ^ldevise evil in your hearts against his neighbor; and love no ^mfalse oath: for all these are things that I ⁿhate, saith Jehovah.

12 The ¹burden of the word of Jehovah concerning Israel.

Thus saith Jehovah, who ^astretcheth forth the heavens, and ^blayeth the foundation of the earth, and ^cformeth the spirit of man within him: 2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a ^dcup of reeling unto all the peoples round about, and ^eupon ^fJudah also ^gshall it be in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome ^hstone for all the peoples; all that burden themselves with it shall be ⁱsore wounded; and all the ^jnations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. 4 In that day, saith Jehovah, I will smite every ^khorse with terror, and his rider with madness; and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness. 5 And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my ^lstrength in Jehovah of hosts their God. 6 In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of ^mfire among wood, and like a flaming torch among sheaves; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left; and they of ⁿJerusalem shall yet again dwell in ^otheir own place, even in Jerusalem. 7 Jehovah also shall ^psave the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of ^qDavid and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8 In that day shall Jehovah ^rdefend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he ^sthat is ^tfeeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as ^uGod, as the ^vangel of Jehovah before them. 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will ^wseek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will ^xpour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of ^ygrace and of supplication; and they shall look unto ^zme whom they have ^{aa}pierced; and they shall mourn for him, as one ^{ab} mourneth

13 In that day there shall be ^aa fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for ^bsin and for ^cuncleanness. 2 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith Jehovah of hosts, that I will ^dcut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will cause the ^eprophets and the ^funclean spirit to pass out of the land. 3 And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet ^gprophecy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt ^hnot live; for thou speakest ⁱlies in the name of Jehovah; and his ^jfather and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. 4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ^kashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a ^lhairy mantle to deceive: 5 but he shall say, I am ^mno prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth. 6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds ⁿbetween thine ^oarms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my ^pfriends.

Jehovah's Love of Jacob. Impious Priests rebuked

2 I have ^bloved you, saith Jehovah. Yet ye say, ^cWherein hast thou loved us? ³Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith Jehovah: yet I ^aloved Jacob; ³ but Esau I hated, and ^cmade his mountains a desolation, and ^cgave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. 4 ⁴Whereas Edom saith, We are ⁵beaten down, but we will ^oreturn and build the waste places; thus saith Jehovah of hosts, They shall ^hbuild, but I will throw down; and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom Jehovah hath indignation ⁱfor ever. 5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, Jehovah ⁶be ^kmagnified ⁷beyond the border of Israel.

6 A son ¹honoreth his father, and a servant his master: if then I am a ^mfather, where is mine honor? and if I am a master, where is my ⁿfear? saith Jehovah of hosts unto you, O ^opriests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? 7 Ye offer ^ppolluted ^qbread upon mine altar. And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The ^rtable of Jehovah is contemptible. 8 And when ye offer the ^sblind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith Jehovah of hosts. 9 And now, I pray you, ^tentreat the favor of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been ^uby your means: will he ^uaccept any of your persons? saith Jeho-

^a covenant may be with Levi, saith Jehovah of hosts. 5 My covenant was with him of life and ^b peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear; and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. 6 The ^d law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked ^e with me in peace and uprightness, and ^f turned many away from iniquity. 7 For the priest's lips should keep ^g knowledge, and they should ^h seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of Jehovah of hosts. 8 But ye are ⁱ turned aside out of the way; ye have caused many to ^j stumble in the law; ye have ^k corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith Jehovah of hosts. 9 Therefore have I also made you ^m contemptible and ⁿ base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have had ^o respect of persons in the law.

10 Have we not all ^p one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal ^q treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the ^r covenant of our fathers? 11 Judah hath dealt ^s treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath ^t profaned the ^u holiness of Jehovah which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a foreign god. 12 "Jehovah will cut off, to the man that doeth this, him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that ^v offereth an offering unto Jehovah of hosts. 13 And this ^w again ye do: ye cover the altar of Jehovah with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he ^x regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. 14 Yet ye say, Wherefore? for ye rob me, even this whole nation. 10 Bring ye the whole tithe into the store-house, that there may be food in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith Jehovah of hosts, if I will not ^aopen you the windows of heaven, and ^bpour you out a blessing, that there shall ^cnot be room enough to receive it. 11 And I will rebuke the ^ddevourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before the time in the field, saith Jehovah of hosts. 12 And ^eall nations shall call you happy; for ye shall be a ^fdelight-some land, saith Jehovah of hosts.

PREFACE.

THE Version of the Apocrypha which is here presented to the Reader forms the last portion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of 1611.

The present work, owing to various circumstances, has been somewhat long delayed. It will be found, however, to have been executed carefully and faithfully, though it was of necessity intrusted to small Committees formed out of the two Companies of Revisers.

The Revision of the Authorised Version of the Apocrypha was included in the arrangement between the Companies and the Representatives of the Presses of Oxford and Cambridge, and was to be proceeded with as soon as the other and greater portions of the work were concluded. No division of labour in regard to the Apocrypha was formally made between the two Companies, but as it appeared clearly desirable that there should be no unnecessary delay in the revision, there was an understanding between the Companies that the New Testament Company should commence the work as soon as the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament was completed and published. For this, preparation was made by the New Testament Company as their work was drawing to its close, and in the following manner.

It was resolved (March 21, 1879) that, after the conclusion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament, the Company should be divided into three Committees, to be called the London, Westminster, and Cambridge Committees, for the purpose of beginning the Revision of the Apocrypha.

The London Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol (Dr. Ellicott), the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Moberly), the Bishop of St. Andrews (Dr. Wordsworth), the Dean of Rochester (Dr. Scott), the Dean of Lichfield (Dr. Bickersteth), the Master of the Temple (Dr. Vaughan), Rev. Principal Angus, and Rev. Prebendary Humphry. This Committee was to take the Book of Ecclesiasticus.

The Westminster Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Trench), the Dean of Westminster (Dr. Stanley), the Archdeacon of Dublin (Dr. Lee), the Archdeacon of Oxford (Dr. Palmer), Rev. Dr. Scrivener, Rev. Principal Brown, Rev. Principal Newth, and Rev. Dr. Vance Smith. This Committee was to take the First Book of Maccabees. The Books of Tobit and Judith were afterwards, by special arrangement with the Old Testament Company, undertaken by this Committee.

The Cambridge Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), Rev. Professor Hort, Rev. Professor Kennedy, Rev. Professor Westcott, Rev. Dr. Milligan, Rev. Dr. Moulton, and Rev. Dr. Roberts. This Committee was to take the Book of Wisdom and the Second Book of Maccabees.

In connexion with the foregoing resolution it was resolved at the final meeting of the Company, on Thursday, November 11, 1880:—(1) that the decisions be arrived at by simple majorities; (2) that the successive portions of the work when printed be forwarded to the members of the other two Committees. A third resolution was passed constituting the Rev. Dr. Troutbeck the General Secretary of the three Committees, and, as such, responsible for the printing of the portions of the work as they were finished; but the latter part of this resolution was modified, and the whole of the printing was carried on at the University Press, Oxford.

The London Committee, to which the Revision of the Authorised Version of the Book of Ecclesiasticus was intrusted, commenced their labours on May 11, 1881, and completed their first revision of the Version on July 20, 1882, and their second and final revision on May 25, 1883. The breaking up of the text of the Version into parallelisms was undertaken at a later period. Of the members of the Committee, two, the Bishops of Salisbury and St. Andrews, found themselves unable through age and distance from London to attend the meetings. The attendance of the remainder was such that there were rarely less than four present. Whenever the number fell below this, all debateable points were reserved for fuller meetings. Considerable attention was paid to the text; but the materials available for correcting it were but scanty. In regard to the revision of the Version, especial care was taken to preserve the general tone of the Authorised Version, and to maintain the somewhat greater freedom of rendering which characterizes the translation of the Apocrypha when compared with the translation of the Old or of the New Testament.

The Westminster Committee completed their first revision of the First Book of Maccabees on July 5, their second revision on November 3, 1881. Their first revision of the Books of Judith and Tobit was completed on July 6, their second revision on October 11, 1882. With regard to the Greek text they derived great assistance from Dr. Scrivener, but the number of places in which it was thought right to abandon readings that seemed to be represented in the Authorised Version was not large. The English Version was found to require much care. In the First Book of Maccabees, for example, a well-known peculiarity of the writer had been obliterated by the repeated introduction, with or without the use of italics, of the words 'God' and 'the Lord,' which never occur in the best Greek text. Archbishop Trench worked with the Committee until they were close to the end of the First Book of Maccabees. Dean Stanley also attended up to about the same time: Principal Brown did not take any part in the work.

Of the members of the Cambridge Committee the Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), and Professor Kennedy were compelled for various reasons to withdraw from the work of revision. Dr. Roberts supplied notes on various parts of the two books. Dr. Hort, Dr. Moulton and Dr. Westcott conducted the revision with this assistance at weekly meetings during term time from March 3, 1881 to the spring of 1890, when Dr. Westcott was removed to Durham. In the remainder of the work Dr. Westcott took part by correspondence. The first revision of 2 Maccabees was completed on May 20, 1885, and the final revision December 7, 1889. The first revision of Wisdom was completed between May 20, 1885 and June 20, 1888; and the second revision between November 23, 1889 and November 21, 1891. The singular difficulty and importance of the Book of Wisdom led the revisers to review the version a third time. The whole revision of the two books was substantially completed before the summer of 1892. A few questions were reserved for later decision. These were considered by Dr. Hort in the summer of that year, and, with the help of his notes, finally determined by Dr. Westcott and Dr. Moulton.

After the revision of the Old Testament had been completed the Old Testament Company (July 9, 1884) passed the following resolution:—

'That the Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), Professor Lumby, Professor Robertson Smith, Mr. Bensly, Mr. Cheyne, and the Secretary (Mr. Aldis Wright) be a Committee to translate the remaining books of the Apocrypha, and

That Dr. Field be invited to assist in the formation of the text.'

The Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), now Bishop of Worcester, and Mr. (now Professor) Cheyne, found themselves unable to take part in the work, and the Committee were deprived of the assistance of Dr. Field by his death in April, 1885.

The Books of the Apocrypha which were left for them to revise were 1 and 2 Esdras, the additions to Esther, Baruch, the Song of the Three Holy Children, the History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, and the Prayer of Manasses.

For the text of these portions, with the exception of 2 Esdras, they were entirely dependent upon the inadequate materials already existing, and did not therefore attempt any complete revision. But as the late Professor Bensly had reconstructed the text of the Latin version of 2 Esdras from a full collation of all the independent MSS. at present known, the Committee fully availed themselves of the results which he generously placed at their disposal. They were thus able to incorporate the missing fragment, vii. 36-105, which was edited by Professor Bensly with elaborate care, and published by the Cambridge University Press (1875), and to make use of many improved readings which he proposed to adopt in his critical edition. It is satisfactory to know that this work has been left in a sufficiently forward state to admit of its being easily completed.

In regard to the language of the Revised Version the Committee followed the general principles which were observed by the Old Testament Revision Company.

In the case of Proper Names it has not been found possible to secure uniformity of plan in the work of the four Committees. In some Books these names appear in their familiar Old Testament forms, after the Hebrew; whilst in others, the forms of the Authorised Version are usually retained, or are but slightly altered, in accordance with the Greek. Lists of the Greek readings—or, in 2 Esdras, the Latin readings—adopted by the Committees will shortly be published.

Such is a brief account of the circumstances under which the present work was executed. The Revisers conclude with the hope and the belief that it will be found helpful to the student, and acceptable to the general reader of the Apocrypha.

1 AND ¹ Josias held the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the 2 first month: having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the 3 temple of the Lord. And he spake unto the Levites, ² the temple-servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had 4 built: and said, Ye shall no more have need to bear it upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your 5 fathers' houses and kindreds, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the holy place according to the several divisions of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children 6 of Israel, offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Mo- 7 ses. And unto the people which were present Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's substance, according as he promised, to the people, and to the 8 priests and Levites. And Helkias, and Zacharias, and ³ Eyselus, the rulers of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves. 9 And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochielus, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, and 10 seven hundred calves. And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in comely order accord- 11 ing to the kindreds, and according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the 12 morning. And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth: and the sacrifices they sod in the brasen vessels and caldrons with a good sa- 13 vour, and set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their

14 brethren, the sons of Aaron. For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Eddinus, who ⁴ was 16 of the king's retinue. Moreover the porters were at every gate: none had need to depart from his daily course: for their brethren the Levites pre- 17 pared for them. Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord, accomplished in that day, in 18 holding the passover, and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of 19 king Josias. So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. And such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. 21 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. 22 In the eighteenth year of the reign of 23 Josias was this passover held. And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of 24 godliness. Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him ⁵ exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel. 25 ⁶ Now after all these acts of Josias it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Careh-mish upon Euphrates: and Josias 26 went out against him. But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Ju- 27 dæa? I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee; for my war is upon Euphrates: and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hasting me forward: depart from me, 28 and be not against the Lord. Howbeit Josias did not turn back ⁷ unto his chariot, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy spoken by the 29 mouth of the Lord: but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came down against king

30 Josias. Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him 31 away out of the host. Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of 32 his fathers. And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; and Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of 33 Israel. These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judæa, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

34 ¹ And the people took ² Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was 35 twenty and three years old. And he reigned in ³ Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in 36 Jerusalem. And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver 37 and one talent of gold. The king of Egypt also made king Joakim his brother king of Judæa and Jerusalem.

38 And Joakim bound the nobles: but Zarakes his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt.

39 Five and twenty years old was ⁴ Joakim when he began to reign in Judæa and Jerusalem; and he did that which 40 was evil in the sight of the Lord. And against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him
 41 unto Babylon. Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them 42 up in his own temple at Babylon. But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

43 And Joakim his son reigned in his stead: for when he was made king
 44 he was ⁵ eighteen years old; and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

45 So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought unto Babylon with the holy vessels of the 46 Lord; and made Sedekias king of Judæa and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned
 47 eleven years: and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the mouth of the Lord.

48 And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of 49 the Lord, the God of Israel. Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, ⁶ and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in 50 Jerusalem. And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place.

51 But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spake
 52 unto them, they scoffed at his prophets: so far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against 53 them; who slew their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but 54 he delivered all into their hands. And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with ⁷ the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them 55 away unto Babylon. And they burnt the house of the Lord, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the 56 towers thereof with fire: and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried
 57 unto Babylon: and they were servants unto him and to his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of 58 Jeremy: Until the land hath enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

2 In the ⁸ first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy might be accomplished, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing,
 3 saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians; The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, hath made me king
 4 of the whole world, and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem
 5 that is in Judæa. If therefore there be any of you that are of his people,
 6 let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judæa, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord 6 that dwelleth in Jerusalem. Of such therefore as dwell in divers places, let them that are in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

8 Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in

9 Jerusalem. And they that dwelt round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose

10 minds were stirred up thereto. King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of 11 idols. Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithradates his

12 treasurer, and by him they were delivered to ¹ Sanabassar the governor

13 of Judæa. And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, a thousand cups of silver, censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver two thousand four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand.

14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver were brought up, even five thousand

15 four hundred threescore and nine, and were carried back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 ² But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabellius, and ³ Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and ⁴ Samellius the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judæa and Jerusalem the letter following:

17 To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants, Rathumus the ⁵ storywriter, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that

18 are in Cœlesyria and Phœnicia. Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come unto Jerusalem, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the

19 foundation of a temple. Now if this city be builded and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up

20 against kings. And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to

21 neglect such a matter, but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers:

22 and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both 23 kings and cities: and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for the which cause even this city was laid 24 waste. Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Cœle-

25 syria and Phœnicia. Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the storywriter, and Beeltethmus, and Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phœnicia,

26 after this manner: I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that that city of old time hath made insurrection

27 against kings; and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in Cœlesyria and Phœnicia.

28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to

29 this order; and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the an-

30 noyance of kings. Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

3 Now king Darius made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all that were born in his house, and unto all the princes of Media and of Persia,

2 and to all the satraps and captains and governors that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, in the hundred

3 twenty and seven provinces. And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bed-chamber, and slept, and awaked out of his sleep.

4 Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's per-

5 son, spake one to another: Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentences shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory:

6 as, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a headtire of finelinen, and a chain about

7 his neck: and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and

8 shall be called Darius his cousin. And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. The second wrote, The king is strongest. The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

13 Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, and the satraps, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; and sat him down in the royal seat of judgement; and the writing was read before them. And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, and said thus, O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! it causeth all men to err that drink it: it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt: and it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor satrap; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw their swords: but when they awake from their wine, they remember not what they have done. O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

4 Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say, O sirs, do not men excel in strength, that bear rule over the sea and land, and all things in them? But yet is the king stronger: and he is their lord, and hath dominion over them; and in whatsoever he commandeth them they obey him. If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king. And he is ¹ but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; if he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest: and these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey them him in anything. O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

13 Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak. O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh.

17 These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be. Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and every other goodly thing, ² and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, they let all those things go, and gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever.

20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; and looketh upon a lion, and walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.

25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become bondmen for their sakes. Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for

28 women. And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to 29 touch him? Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bartacus, sitting at the right hand of the king, 30 and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yea, she struck the king with 31 her left hand: and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to 32 him again. O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?
 33 Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to 34 speak concerning truth. O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one 35 day. Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is truth, 36 and stronger than all things. All the earth calleth upon truth, and the heaven blesseth her: all works shake and tremble, but with ¹her is no un-37 righteous thing. Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, all the children of men are unrighteous, and unrighteous are all such their works; and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteous-
 38 ness also they shall perish. But truth abideth, and is strong for ever; she liveth and conquereth for evermore.
 39 With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her
 40 works. Neither in her judgement is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages.
 41 Blessed be the God of truth. And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.
 42 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in writing, and we will give it thee, inasmuch as thou art found wisest; and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt 43 be called my cousin. Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to 44 thy kingdom, and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again thither.
 45 Thou didst also vow to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned when Judæa was made desolate by the Chaldeans. And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality that shall proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

 47 Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those that should go up
 48 with him to build Jerusalem. He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him.
 49 Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into 50 their doors; and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they 51 held: and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it
 52 were built; and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer
 53 seventeen: and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all 54 the priests that came. He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded 56 up. And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages.
 57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.
 58 Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the 59 King of heaven, and said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and 60 I am thy servant. Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom: and to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our 61 fathers. And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon,

62 and told it all his brethren. And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and 63 liberty to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

5 After this were the chiefs of fathers' houses chosen to go up according to their tribes, with their wives and sons and daughters, with their menservants and maidservants, and their
2 cattle. And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Jerusalem
1 safely, and with musical instruments,
3 tabrets and flutes. And all their brethren played, and he made them go up together with them.

4 And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families amongst their tribes, after their 5 several divisions. The priests, the sons of Phinees, the sons of Aaron: Jesus the son of Josedek, the son of Saraias, and Joakim the son of Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel, of the house of David, of the lineage of 6 Phares, of the tribe of Judah; who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia in the second year of his reign, in the month Nisan, which 7 is the first month. ² And these are they of Jewry that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away unto

mei, the sons of ¹ Nasi, the sons of 33 Atipha. The sons of the servants of Solomon: the sons of ² Assaphioth, the sons of ³ Pharida, the sons of ⁴ Jeeli, the sons of ⁵ Lozon, the sons of ⁶ Isdael, the sons of ⁷ Saphuthi, 34 the sons of ⁸ Agia, the sons of ⁹ Phareth, the sons of Sable, the sons of Sarethie, the sons of ¹⁰ Masias, the sons of Gas, the sons of Addus, the sons of Subas, the sons of Apherra, the sons of Barodis, the sons of Saphat, the sons of Allon. All the temple-servants, and the sons of the servants of Solomon, were three hundred 36 seventy and two. These came up from ¹¹ Thermeleth, and ¹² Thelersas, ¹³ Charaathalan leading them, and 37 Allar; and they could not shew their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel: the sons of ¹⁴ Dalan the son of ¹⁵ Ban, the sons of ¹⁶ Neko-
 38 dan, six hundred fifty and two. And of the priests, they that usurped the office of the priesthood and were not found: the sons of ¹⁷ Obdia, the sons of ¹⁸ Akkos, the sons of Jaddus, who married Augia one of the daughters of ¹⁹ Zorzelleus, and was called after 39 his name. And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from ex-
 40 cuting the office of the priesthood: for unto them said Nehemias and Atharias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up a high priest wearing ²⁰ Urim and 41 Thummim. So all they of Israel, from twelve years old and upward, beside menservants and womenservants, were in number forty and two thousand three hundred and sixty.
 42 Their menservants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: the minstrels and singers, two hundred forty and five:
 43 four hundred thirty and five camels, seven ²¹ thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden.
 44 And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability,
 45 and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred 46 priestly vestments. And the priests and the Levites and they that were of the people dwelt in Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.
 47 But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the broad place before the first 48 porch which is toward the east. Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of 49 the God of Israel, to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of 50 Moses the man of God. And certain were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning 51 and evening. Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, 52 as was meet: and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts.

 53 And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of the ²² seventh month, although the temple of 54 God was not yet built. And they gave money unto the masons and car-
 55 penters; and meat and drink, and cars unto them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, and convey them in floats to the haven of Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the 56 Persians. And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and their brethren, and the priests the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity:
 57 and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and 58 Jerusalem. ²³ And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders builded the temple of the 59 Lord. And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their 60 cymbals, singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the 61 order of David king of Israel. And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are for ever in 62 all Israel. And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of 63 the house of the Lord. ¹Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation

64 and great weeping. But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud 65 voice, insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

66 ²Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of 67 trumpets should mean. And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto 68 the Lord, the God of Israel. So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said unto them, We will build together 69 with you. For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of ³Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought 70 us hither. Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not ⁴for you to build the house unto the Lord
71 our God. We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians 72 hath commanded us. But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judæa, and ⁵holding them strait, hindered their building;
73 and ⁶by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

6 Now ⁷in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggæus and Zacharias the son of ⁸Addo, the prophets, prophesied unto the Jews in Jewry and Jerusalem; in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel, prophesied they
2 unto them. Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with 3 them, and helping them. ⁹At the same time came unto them ¹⁰Sisnnes the governor of Syria and Phœnicia, with ¹¹Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things?

5 Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord
6 had visited the captivity; and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.

7 The copy of the letter which Sisnnes, governor of Syria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phœnicia, wrote and sent unto Darius; To 8 king Darius, greeting: Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judæa, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were 9 of the captivity building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the 10 walls. And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it ac-
11 complished. Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the founda-
12 tions of these works? Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names
13 in writing of their principal men. So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made 14 heaven and earth. And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong,
15 and was finished. But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, king of the Chal-
16 deans; and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the 17 people captives unto Babylon. But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house.
18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylon, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to ¹²Sanabassar the 19 governor, with commandment that he should carry away ¹³all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place.
20 Then Sanabassar, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.
21 Now therefore, if it seem good, O king,

let search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are 22 in Babylon: and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good unto our lord the king, let him signify unto us thereof.

23 ¹ Then commanded king Darius to seek among the archives that were laid up at Babylon: and so at Ecbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a ² roll wherein

24 these things were recorded. In the first year of the reign of Cyrus king Cyrus commanded to build up the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem, where they do sacrifice with con-

25 tinual fire: whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expenses thereof to be given

26 out of the house of king Cyrus: and that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and carried away to Babylon, should be restored to the house

27 at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before. And also he commanded that Sisinnus the governor of Syria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phœnicia, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judæa, and the elders of the Jews, to build that house of the

28 Lord in its place. And I also do command to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judæa, till the house of the Lord be finished:

29 and that out of the tribute of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and

30 lambs; and also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall

31 signify to be daily spent: that drink offerings may be made to the Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for

32 their lives. And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yea, or neglect anything ³ herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the 33 king. The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or en-

34 damage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

7 Then ⁴ Sisinnus the governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius,

2 did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the elders of the Jews 3 and rulers of the temple. And so the holy works prospered, while Aggæus and Zacharias the prophets proph-

4 sied. And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord, the God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings

5 of the Persians. And thus was ⁵ the house finished by the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the 6 sixth year of king Darius. And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the other that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things

7 written in the book of Moses. And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs;

8 and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve ⁶ princes of the tribes of Israel.

9 The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, for the services of the Lord, the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

10 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were

11 sanctified together, ⁷ and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all

12 sanctified together, and they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the

13 priests, and for themselves. And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the

14 abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. And they kept the feast of unleavened bread

15 seven days, making merry before the Lord, for that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, the God of Israel.

8 ⁸ And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Esdras the son of Azaraias, the son of Zechrias, the son of Helkias,

2 the son of Salem, the son of Sadduk, the son of Ahitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ozias, ⁹ the son of Memeroth, the son of Zariaas, the son of Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisue, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, 3 the son of Aaron the chief priest. This Esdras went up from Babylon, as being a ready scribe in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel.

4 And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests. There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and Levites, and holy singers, and porters, and ¹ temple-servants, unto Jerusalem, in the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babylon on the new moon of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them ² for his sake. For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgements.

8 Now the commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, whereof this ³ that followeth is a copy; King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, greeting: Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, ⁴ and of those within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto

11 Jerusalem. As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors; that they may look unto the affairs of Judæa and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law ⁵ of the Lord, and carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia ⁶ for the Lord in Jerusalem, with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining; to the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which ⁷ is in Jerusalem. And whatsoever thou and thy brethren are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of thy God. ⁸ And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem: and whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it ⁹ out of the king's treasury. And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phœnicia, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, ¹⁰ to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred ¹¹ measures, and a hundred firkins of wine, and ¹² salt in abundance. Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the Most High God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and ¹³ his sons. I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid on any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or temple-servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything ¹⁴ upon them. And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phœnicia all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt ¹⁵ teach. And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by ¹⁶ imprisonment.

25 Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify ¹⁷ his house that is in Jerusalem: and hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of ¹⁸ Israel men to go up with me. And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, ¹⁹ Attus ²⁰ the son of Sechenias: of the sons of Phoros, Zacharias; and with him were counted a ²¹ hundred and fifty men: of the sons of Phaath Moab, Eliaonias the son of ²² Zaralas, and with him two hundred ²³ men: ²⁴ of the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him ²⁵ three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty ²⁶ men: of the sons of Elam, Jesias son of ²⁷ Gotholias, and with him seventy ²⁸ men: of the sons of Saphatias, ²⁹ Zaraias son of Michael, and with him ³⁰ threescore and ten men: of the sons of Joab, ³¹ Abadias son of ³² Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve ³³ men: ³⁴ of the sons of Banias, Salimoth son of Josaphias, and with him a ³⁵ hundred and threescore men: of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: ³⁶ of the sons of ³⁷ Astath, Joannes son of them, Eliphakat, Jeuel, and ² Sama-40 ias, and with them seventy men: of the sons of ³ Bago, Uthi the son of Isaleurus, and with him seventy men.

41 And I gathered them together to the river called Theras; and there we pitched our tents three days, and 42 I surveyed them. But when I had found there none of the priests and 43 Levites, then sent I unto Eleazar, and 44 ⁴ Iduel, and ⁵ Maasmas, and Elnathan, and Samaias, and ⁶ Joribus, Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharias, and Mosollamus, principal men and men of under-45 standing. And I bade them that they should go unto ⁶ Loddeus the captain, who was in the place of ⁷ the trea-46 sury: and commanded them that they should speak unto Loddeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in 47 the house of our Lord. And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us ⁸ men of understanding of the sons of ⁹ Mooi the son of Levi, the son of Israel, ¹⁰ Asebebias, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen, 48 and ¹¹ Asebias, and Annuus, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Chanuneus, and their sons were twenty 49 men; and of the temple-servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple-servants, the catalogue of all their names 50 was shewed. And there I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us:
51 for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversa-52 ries. For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support 53 them in all ways. And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable 54 unto us. Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, ¹² Ese-rebias, and Assamias, and ten men 55 of their brethren with them: and I weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsellors, and the nobles, and all 56 Israel, had given. And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, 57 and a hundred talents of gold, and twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, 58 glittering like gold. And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord,

¹³ and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers.

59 Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our 60 Lord. So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

61 And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we 62 came to Jerusalem. And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto ¹⁴ Marmoth the priest the 63 son of ¹⁵ Urias. And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabduus the son of Jesus and ¹⁶ Moeth the son of Sabannus, the Levites: all was delivered them by 64 number and weight. And all the weight of them was written up the 65 same hour. Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams, 66 threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of 67 them a sacrifice to the Lord. And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of Colesyria and Phœnicia; and they honoured the people and the temple of the Lord.

68 Now when these things were done, the principal men came unto me, and 69 said, The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them
the strange people of the land, ¹⁷ nor

70 Egyptians, and Edomites. For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have 71 been partakers of this iniquity. And as soon as I had heard these things,
I rent my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down 72 sad and full of heaviness. So all they that were moved at the word of the Lord, the God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heavi-

73 ness until the evening sacrifice. Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my 74 hands unto the Lord, I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before 75 thy face; for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have 76 reached up unto heaven, ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in 77 great sin, even unto this day. And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, unto this 78 day. And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of thy 79 sanctuary; and to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our 80 servitude. Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave 81 us food, and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, to give us a sure abiding in Jewry and 82 Jerusalem. And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying,
83 That the land which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled
84 it with their uncleanness. Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take 85 their daughters unto your sons. Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children for evermore.
86 And all that is befallen is done unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins
87 light, and didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of 88 the heathen of the land. ¹Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, 89 nor name. O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day.
90 Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer before thee by reason of these things.
91 ²And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude.

92 Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the 93 land, and now is all Israel ³aloft, Let us make an oath unto the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the strangers,
94 with their children, like as seemeth good unto thee, and to as many as do
95 obey the law of the Lord. Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with 96 thee to do valiantly. So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they swore.
9 ⁴Then Esdras rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of 2 Jonas the son of Eliasib, and lodged there, and did eat no bread nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. And there was made proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be
4 gathered together at Jerusalem: and that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.
5 And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of 6 the month. And all the multitude sat together trembling in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law and married strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of 8 Israel. And now make confession and give glory unto the Lord, the God of 9 our fathers, and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.
10 Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou 11 hast spoken, so will we do. But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in 12 these things is spread far: therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the 13 time appointed, and with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord 14 from us for this matter. Then Jonathan the son of Azael and ⁵Ezekias the son of Thocanus accordingly took the matter upon them: and Mosollamus and Levis and Sabbateus were 15 assessors to them. And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the priest chose unto him principal men of their families, all by name: and on the new moon of the tenth month they were shut in 17 together to examine the matter. So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end by the new 18 moon of the first month. And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found;

19 of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren; ¹ Mathelas, and Eleazar, and ² Joribus, and ³ Jo-

20 adanus. And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer 21 rams to make reconciliation for their

36 ²⁵ Zardeus. Of the sons of Bebai; Jo- 37 annes, and Ananias, and ²⁶ Jozabbus, 38 and ²⁷ Emaatheis. Of the sons of 39 ²⁸ Mani; ²⁹ Olamus, ³⁰ Mamuchus, ³¹ Je- 40 deus, Jasubus, and ³² Jasaelus, and 41 Hieremoth. And of the sons of Addi;

42 Naathus, and Moossias, Lacumus, and Naidus, and Matthianias, and Ses-

43 thel, Balnuus, and Manasseas. And of the sons of Annas; Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, 44 and Simon Chosameus. And of the sons of Asom; ³³ Maltanneus, and ³⁴ Mattathias, and ²⁴ Sabameus, Eli-

45 phalat, and Manasses, and Semei. 46 And of the sons of Baani; Jeremias, Momidis, Ismaerus, Juel, Mamdai, and Pedias, and Anos, Carabasion, and Enasibus, and Mannitanemus, Elias-

47 sis, Bannus, Eliali, Semeis, Selemias, Nathanas; and of the sons of Ezora; Sesis, Ezril, Azaelus, Samatus, Zam-

48 bri, Josephus. And of the sons of Nooma; Mazitias, Zabadeas, Edos, 49 Juel, Banaias. All these had taken strange wives, and they put them 50 away with their children. And the priests and Levites, and they that were of Israel, dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, on the new moon of the seventh month, and the children of Israel in their habitations.

38 ³⁵ And the whole multitude were gathered together with one accord into the broad place before the porch of 39 the temple toward the east: and they said unto Esdras the priest and reader, Bring the law of Moses, that was given of the Lord, the God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the chief priest brought the law unto the whole multitude both of men and women, and to all the priests, to hear the law on the new moon of

41 the seventh month. And he read in the broad place before the porch of the temple from morning unto mid-day, before both men and women; and ³⁶ all the multitude gave heed unto

42 the law. And Esdras the priest and reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for

43 that purpose. And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, ³⁷ Ezekias, ¹ Baals-

45 rias. Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before

46 all. And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God Most High, the 47 God of hosts, Almighty. And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground,

48 and worshipped the Lord. Also Jesus, Annus, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacubus, Sabateus, ⁴⁰ Auteas, Malannas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Jozabbus, and Ananias, Phalias, the Levites, 49 taught the law of the Lord, ⁴¹ and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, making them withal to understand it.

50 Then said Aththarates unto Esdras the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude,

51 even to all, This day is holy unto the Lord; (now they all wept when they 52 heard the law:) go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to them that have nothing;

53 for the day is holy unto the Lord: and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour. So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy; be not sor-

54 rowful. Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give portions to them that had nothing, and to make great

55 cheer; because they ⁴² understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

34 Mattattah.

II. ESDRAS.

1 THE second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Saraïas, the son of Azaraias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salemas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, the son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziei, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abissei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

4 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Go thy way, and shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children: because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have done sacrifice unto strange gods. Did not I bring them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Shake thou then the hair of thy head, and cast all evils upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, 9 but it is a rebellious people. How long shall I forbear them, unto whom 10 I have done so much good? Many kings have I overthrown for their sakes; Pharaoh with his servants and 11 all his host have I smitten down. All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyre and Sidon, and have slain all 12 their adversaries. Speak thou therefore unto them, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord, Of a truth I brought you through the sea, and where there was no path I made for you highways; I gave you Moses for a 14 leader, and Aaron for a priest. I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, The quails were for a token to you; I gave you a camp for your safeguard, nevertheless ye murmured there: and ye 16 triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever 17 to this day do ye yet murmur. Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when ye were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did ye not cry unto 18 me, saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this 19 wilderness. I had pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna for 20 food; ye did eat angels' bread. When ye were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you with 21 the leaves of the trees. I divided among you fruitful lands; I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

22 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, When ye were in the wilderness, at the bitter river, being athirst, and blaspheming 23 my name, I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

24 What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? thou, Judah, wouldest not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto them will I give my name, that 25 they may keep my statutes. Seeing ye have forsaken me, I also will forsake you; when ye ask me to be merciful unto you, I will have no mercy 26 upon you. Whosoever ye shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit 27 manslaughter. Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse 29 her young babes, that ye would be my people, and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should 30 be your father? I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you 31 out from my presence. When ye offer oblations unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast days, your new moons, and your circumcisions of the flesh, have I rejected. I sent unto you my servants the 32 prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out 34 as the wind doth stubble. And your children shall not be fruitful; for they have neglected my commandment¹ unto you, and done that which is evil before me. Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; which not having heard of me yet believe me; they to whom I have shewed no signs shall do that which I have commanded. They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their former estate to remembrance. I take to witness the grace of the people that shall come, whose little ones rejoice with gladness: and though they see me not with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they shall believe the thing that I say.

And now, O father, behold with glory; and see the people that come from the east: unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zachary, and Malachy, which is called also the angel of the Lord.

Thus saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; whom they would not hear, but set my counsels at nought. The mother that bare them saith unto them, Go your way, O my children; for I am a widow and forsaken. I brought you up with gladness, and with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord God, and done that which is evil before me. But what shall I now do unto you? for I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord. As for me, O father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, because they would not keep my covenant, that thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no offspring of them. Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be blotted out of the earth: for they have despised my covenant.

Woe unto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the unrighteous with thee! O thou wicked nation, remember what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrah; whose land lieth in clods of pitch and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that have not hearkened unto me, saith the Lord Almighty.

Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel. Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them. They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour, nor be weary. Ask, and ye shall receive: pray for few days unto you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you: watch. Take heaven and earth to witness, take them to witness; for I have given up the evil, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

Mother, embrace thy children; I will bring them out with gladness like a dove; stablish their feet; for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the tombs: for I have known my name in them. Fear not, thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. For thy help will I send my servants Esaias and Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee twelve trees laden with divers fruits, and as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy. Do right to the widow, judge the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come unto the sight of my glory. Keep the old and young within thy walls. Whosoever thou findest the dead, set a sign upon them and commit them to the grave, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection. Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come. Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse, and stablish their feet. As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number. Be not careful overmuch: for when the day of tribulation and anguish cometh, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry and have abundance. The nations shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord. My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children see not hell. Be joyful, O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord. Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the secret places of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty. Embrace thy children until I come, and proclaim mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

I Esdras received a charge from the Lord upon the mount Horeb, that I should go unto Israel; but when I came unto them, they would none of me, and rejected the commandment of the Lord. And therefore I say unto you, O ye nations, that hear and understand, look for your shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest; for he is nigh at hand, that shall come in the end of the world. the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you 36 for evermore. Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of your glory: I call to witness my 37 saviour openly. O receive that which is given you of the Lord, and be joyful, giving thanks unto him that hath called you to heavenly kingdoms.
 38 Arise up and stand, and behold the number of those that be sealed in the 39 feast of the Lord; they that withdrew them from the shadow of the world have received glorious garments of 40 the Lord. ¹ Look upon thy number, O Sion, and make up the reckoning of those of thine that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of 41 the Lord. The number of thy children, whom thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.
 42 I Esdras saw upon the mount Sion a great multitude, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord 43 with songs. And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted; where-44 at I marvelled greatly. So I asked the angel, and said, What are these,
 45 my Lord? He answered and said unto me, These be they that have put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of God: now are they crowned,
 46 and receive palms. Then said I unto the angel, What young man is he that setteth crowns upon them, and giveth 47 them palms in their hands? So he answered and said unto me, It is the Son of God, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so 48 stiffly for the name of the Lord. Then the angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seen.

3 In the thirtieth year after the ruin of the city, I Salathiel (the same is Esdras) was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came
 2 up over my heart: for I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them
 3 that dwelt at Babylon. And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the Most 4 High, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, didst thou not speak at the beginning, when thou didst fashion the earth, and that thyself alone, and 5 commandedst the ² dust, and it ³ gave thee Adam, a body without a soul? yet it was the workmanship of thine hands, and thou didst breathe into him

the breath of life, and he was made 6 living before thee. And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand did plant, before ever the earth
 7 came forward. And unto him thou gavest thy one commandment: which he transgressed, and immediately thou appointedst death for him and in his generations; and there were born of him nations and tribes, peoples and
 8 kindreds, out of number. And every nation walked after their own will, and did ungodly things before thee, and despised thy commandments, and 9 thou didst not forbid them. Nevertheless again in process of time thou broughtest the flood upon those that dwell in the world, and destroyedst 10 them. And it came to pass that the same hap befell them; like as death was to Adam, so was the flood to 11 these. Nevertheless one of them thou leftest, Noah with his household, even all the righteous men that came of 12 him. And it came to pass, that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, they multiplied also children, and peoples, and many nations, and began again to be more ungodly 13 than the first. And it came to pass, when they did wickedly before thee, thou didst choose thee one from among them, whose name was Abraham; and him thou lovedst, and unto him only thou shewedst the end of 15 the times secretly by night: and madest an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest 16 never forsake his seed. And unto him thou gavest Isaac, and unto Isaac thou gavest Jacob and Esau. And thou didst set apart Jacob for thyself, but didst put by Esau: and Jacob be-17 came a great multitude. And it came to pass, that when thou leddest his seed out of Egypt, thou broughtest 18 them up to the mount Sinai. Thou bowedst the heavens also, and didst
 4 shake the earth, and movedst the whole world, and madest the depths to tremble, and troubledst the course
 19 of that age. And thy glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that thou mightest give the law unto the seed of Jacob, and the commandment unto the generation of Israel.
 20 And yet tookest thou not away from them their ⁵ wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruit in them.
 21 For the first Adam bearing a ⁶ wicked heart transgressed, and was overcome; and not he only, but all they 22 also that are born of him. Thus disease was made permanent; and the law was in the heart of the people along with the ⁶ wickedness of the root; so the good departed away, and that which was ⁵ wicked abode still.
 23 So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: then didst thou raise thee up a servant, 24 called David, whom thou commandedst to build a city unto thy name, and to offer oblations unto thee there- 25 in of thine own. When this was done many years, then they that inhabited 26 the city did evil, in all things doing even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also bare a ¹ wicked heart: and so thou gavest thy city over into the hands of thine enemies. 28 And I said then in mine heart, Are their deeds any better that inhabit Babylon? and hath she therefore do- 29 minion over Sion? For it came to pass when I came hither, that I saw also impieties without number, and my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me. 30 For I have seen how thou sufferest them sinning, and hast spared the ungodly doers, and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine ene-

31 mies; and thou hast not signified unto any ² how thy way may be comprehended. Are the deeds of Babylon 32 better than those of Sion? Or is there any other nation that knoweth thee beside Israel? or what tribes have so believed thy covenants as these tribes

33 of Jacob? And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone hither and thither through the nations, and I see that they abound in wealth, and think

34 not upon thy commandments. Weigh thou therefore our iniquities now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world; and so shall it be found

35 which way the scale inclineth. Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what nation hath so kept

36 thy commandments? Thou shalt find that men who may be reckoned by name have kept thy precepts; but nations thou shalt not find.

4 And the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Uriel, gave me 2 an answer, and said to me, Thy heart hath utterly failed thee in regarding this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High?

3 Then said I, Yea, my Lord.

And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth three similitudes before

4 thee: whereof if thou canst declare me one, I also will shew thee the way that thou desirest to see, and I will teach thee wherefore the heart is ¹ wicked.

5 And I said, Say on, my Lord.

Then said he unto me, Go to, weigh me a weight of fire, or measure me a ² measure of wind, or call me again the day that is past.

6 Then answered I and said, Who of the sons of men is able to do this,

that thou shouldest ask me of such things?

7 And he said unto me, If I had asked thee, saying, How many dwellings are there in the heart of the sea? or how many springs are there at the fountain head of the deep? or how many

³ ways are above the firmament? or which are the outgoings ⁴ of hell? or

8 which are the paths of paradise? peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever

9 climb up into heaven. Nevertheless now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and of the day, things wherethrough thou hast passed, and

⁵ without which thou canst not be, and yet hast thou given me no answer of them.

10 He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, that are grown up with 11 thee, canst thou not know; how then can thy vessel comprehend the way of the Most High? and how can he that is already worn out with the corrupted world understand ⁶ incorruption?

12 ⁷ And when I heard these things I fell upon my face, and said unto him, It were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come hither and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

13 He answered me, and said, ⁸ The woods of the trees of the field went

14 forth, and took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may 15 make us more woods. The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us

16 another country. The counsel of the wood was in vain, for the fire came

17 and consumed it: likewise also the counsel of the waves of the sea, for the sand stood up and stopped them.

18 If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou justify, or whom condemn?

19 I answered and said, It is a foolish counsel that they both have taken, for the ground is given unto the wood, and the place of the sea is given to bear his waves.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgement, and why judgest thou not in thine own

21 case? For like as the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his waves, even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he only that dwelleth above the heavens may understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

22 Then answered I and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, ⁹ wherefore is the power

23 of understanding given unto me? For it was not my mind to be curious of the ways above, but of such things as pass by us daily; because Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and the people whom thou hast loved is given over unto ungodly nations, and the law of our forefathers is made of none effect, and the written cove-

24 nants are nowhere regarded, and we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is as a vapour, neither are we worthy to obtain mer-

25 cy. What will he then do for his name whereby we are called? Of these things have I asked.

26 Then answered he me, and said, If thou be alive, thou shalt see, and if thou livest ² long, thou shalt marvel; for the world hasteth fast to pass

27 away. For it is not able to bear the things that are promised to the righteous in the times to come: for this world is full of sadness and infirmi-

28 ties. For the evil ³ whereof thou askest me is sown, but the gathering

29 thereof is not yet come. If therefore that which is sown be not reaped, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, there cannot come the 30 field where the good is sown. For a grain of evil seed was sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much wickedness hath it brought forth unto this time! and how much shall it yet bring forth until the ⁴ time of threshing come!

31 Ponder now by thyself, how great fruit of wickedness a grain of evil

32 seed hath brought forth. When the ears which are without number shall be sown, how great a floor shall they fill!

33 Then I answered and said, ⁵ How long? and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?

34 And he answered me, and said, Thou dost not hasten more than the Most High: for thy haste is ⁶ for thine own self, but he that is above hasteneth

35 on behalf of many. Did not the souls of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long ⁷ are we here? when cometh the fruit of the ⁴ threshing time of our re-

36 ward? And unto them Jeremiel the archangel gave answer, and said, Even when the number is fulfilled of them that are like unto you. For he hath weighed the world in the balance;

37 and by measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbered the seasons; and he shall not ⁸ move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, yet even we all are

39 full of impiety: and for our sakes peradventure it is that the ⁴ threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, that can it not.

And he said unto me, In the grave the chambers of souls are like the 42 womb: for like as a woman that travaileth maketh haste to escape the anguish of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them

43 from the beginning. Then shall it be shewed thee concerning those things which thou desirest to see.

44 Then answered I and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore,

45 shew me this also, whether there be more to come than is past, or whether 46 the more part is gone over us. For what is gone I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

48 So I stood, and saw, and, behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, be-

49 hold, the smoke remained still. After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke, so the quantity which is past did more exceed; but the drops and the smoke remained still.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or who shall be in those days?

52 He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee;

5 for I do not know it. Nevertheless as concerning the tokens, behold, the days shall come, that they which dwell upon earth shall be taken ² with great amazement, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith. But iniquity shall be increased above that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago.

3 And the land, that thou seest now to have rule, shall be waste and ² untrod.

4 den, and men shall see it desolate. But if the Most High grant thee to live, thou shalt see that which is after the third kingdom to be troubled; and the sun shall suddenly shine forth in the night,

¹ According to some Oriental versions, the air.

5 and the moon in the day : and blood shall drop out of wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the peoples shall be troubled : and ¹ their goings shall be changed : and he shall rule, whom they that dwell upon the earth look not for, and the fowls shall take their flight away together : and the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known : but all shall hear the voice thereof. There shall be chaos also in many places, and the fire shall be oft sent out, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and women shall bring forth monsters : and salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another ; then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into its chamber ; and it shall be sought of many, and shall not be found : and unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth. One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness, is a man that doeth righteousness, gone through thee ? And it shall say, No. And it shall come to pass at that time that men shall hope, but shall not obtain : they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper. To shew thee such tokens I have leave ; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things than these. Then I awaked, and an extreme trembling went through my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted. So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet. And in the second night it came to pass, that ² Phaltiel the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been ? and why is thy countenance sad ? or knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity ? Up then, and eat some bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves. Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me for seven days, and then shalt thou come unto me. And he heard what I said, and went from me. And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me. And after seven days so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again, and my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to speak words before the Most High again, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, of all the woods of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one vine : and of all the lands of the world thou hast chosen thee one ³ country : and of all the flowers of the world thou hast chosen thee one lily : and of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river : and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thyself : and of all the fowls that are created thou hast named thee one dove : and of all the cattle that are made thou hast provided thee one sheep : and among all the multitudes of peoples thou hast gotten thee one people : and unto this people, whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all. And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many, and ⁴ hast dishonoured the one root above others, and hast scattered thine only one among many ? And they which did gainsay thy promises have trodden them down that believed thy covenants. If thou dost so much hate thy people, they should be punished with thine own hands. Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, and said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee ; hearken unto me, and I shall tell thee more. And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake : lovest thou that people better than he that made them ? And I said, No, Lord : but of very grief have I spoken : for my reins torment me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgement. And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born ? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel ? And he said unto me, Number me them that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, open me the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or shew me the image of a voice : and then I will declare to thee the travail that thou askest to see. And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men ? As for me, I am unwise : how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me ? Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgement, or the end of the love that I have promised unto my people. And I said, But, lo, O Lord, thou hast made the promise unto them that be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us?

42 And he said unto me, I will liken my judgement unto a ring: like as there is no slackness of them that be last, even so there is no swiftness of them that be first.

43 So I answered and said, Couldst thou not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; that thou mightest shew thy judgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, How hast thou said unto thy servant, that ¹thou wilt surely make alive at once the creature that thou hast created? ²If therefore they shall be alive at once, and the creature shall sustain them: even so it might now also support them to be present at once.

46 And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth ten children, why doest thou it at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time.

48 Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several

49 times. For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither she that is grown old bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

50 And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will speak before thee: Is our mother, of whom thou hast told me, still young? or doth she now draw nigh unto age?

51 He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee. Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth like those that were be-

52 fore, but less of stature? And she also shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth,

54 are otherwise. Consider therefore thou also, how that ye are less of stature than those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you less than ye, as born of the creature which now beginneth to be old, and is past the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom thou visitest thy creature.

6 And he said unto me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the outgoings of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds
2 blew, before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid, before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, before the innumerable hosts
4 of angels were gathered together, or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the footstool of Sion ¹was established, and ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the imaginations of them that now sin were estranged, before they were sealed that have gathered
6 faith for a treasure: then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: as by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said unto me, From ³Abraham unto ⁴Abraham, inasmuch as Jacob and Esau were born of him, for Jacob's hand held the heel of Esau 9 from the beginning. For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the 10 beginning of it that followeth. ⁵The beginning of a man is his hand, and the end of a man is his heel; between the heel and the hand seek thou nought else, Esdras.

11 I answered then and said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found 12 favour in thy sight, I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and thou shalt 14 hear a mighty sounding voice; and if the place whereon thou standest be 15 greatly moved, when it speaketh be not thou afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundations of the earth
16 shall understand, that the speech is of them: they shall tremble and be moved: for they know that their end must be changed.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and, behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.

18 And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw nigh to visit them that dwell upon the 19 earth, and when I shall make inquisition of them that have done hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be

20 fulfilled, and when the seal shall be set upon the world that is to pass away, then will I shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: 21 and the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children at three or four months, and 22 they shall live, and dance. And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall 23 suddenly be found empty: and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall 24 be suddenly afraid. At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall 25 not run. And it shall be that whosoever remaineth after all these things that I have told thee of, he shall be saved, and shall see my salvation, and 26 the end of my world. And they shall see the men that have been taken up, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; 28 and faith shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, and the truth, which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared. 29 And when he talked with me, behold, by little and little the place whereon I 30 stood ¹rocked to and fro. And he said unto me, These things came I to 31 shew thee ²this night. If therefore thou wilt pray yet again, and fast seven days more, I shall yet ³tell thee greater things than these. For thy voice hath surely been heard before the Most High: for the Mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen aforetime also thy chastity, which thou 33 hast had ever since thy youth. And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not. 34 And be not hasty in regard of the former times, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten in the latter times. 35 And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me. 36 And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began 37 to speak before the Most High. For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress. And I said, O Lord, of a truth thou spakest at the beginning of the creation, upon the first day, and saidst thus; Let heaven and earth be made; and thy 39 word perfected the work. And then was the spirit hovering, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet ⁴. 40 Then commandedst thou a ray of light to be brought forth of thy treasures, that then thy works might appear. 41 Upon the second day again thou madest the spirit of the firmament and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, 42 and the other remain beneath. Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered together in the seventh part of the earth: six parts didst thou dry up, and keep them, to the intent that of these some being both planted and tilled might 43 serve before thee. For as soon as thy word went forth the work was 44 done. For immediately there came forth great and innumerable fruit, and manifold pleasures for the taste, and flowers of inimitable colour, and odours of most exquisite smell: and this was 45 done the third day. Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in their 46 order: and gavest them a charge to do service unto man, that was to 47 be made. Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto the seventh part, where the water was gathered together, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to 48 pass, that the dumb water and without life brought forth living things as it was bidden, that the peoples might therefore praise thy wondrous works. 49 Then didst thou preserve two living creatures, the one thou calledst ⁵Behemoth, and the other thou calledst 50 ⁶Leviathan: and thou didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them 51 both. Unto ⁶Behemoth thou gavest one part, which was dried up on the third day, that he should dwell in the same, ⁷wherein are a thousand hills: 52 but unto ⁶Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely, the moist; and thou hast kept them, to be devoured 53 of whom thou wilt, and when. But upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that it should bring forth before thee cattle, 54 beasts, and creeping things: and over these Adam, whom thou ordainedst lord over all the works that thou hast made: of him come we all, the people 55 whom thou hast chosen. All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast said that for our sakes thou 56 madest ⁷this world. As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, and are like unto spittle: and thou hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

 57 And now, O Lord, behold, these nations, which are reputed as nothing, 58 be lords over us, and devour us. But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy firstborn, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their 59 hands. If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? how long shall this endure?

7 And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been
 2 sent unto me the nights afore: and he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be ¹ broad

4 and vast. But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to 5 be like a river; whoso then should desire to go into the sea to look upon it, or to rule it, if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into

6 the broad? Another thing also: There is a city builded and set in a plain country, and full of all good things;

7 but the entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, having a fire on the right hand, and on

8 the left a deep water: and there is one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small

9 that there could but one man go there at once. If this city now be given unto a man for an inheritance, if the heir pass not the danger set before him, how shall he receive his inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's 11 portion. Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was 12 decreed that now is done. Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, and sorrowful and toilsome: they are but few and evil, full of per-

13 ils, and charged with great toils. For the entrances of the greater world are wide and sure, and bring forth

14 fruit of immortality. If then they that live enter not these strait and vain things, they can never receive

15 those that are laid up for them. Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, where-

16 as thou art but mortal? and why hast thou not considered in thy mind that which is to come, rather than

17 that which is present? Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, lo, thou hast ordained in thy law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly

18 should perish. The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: but they that have done wickedly ² have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.

19 And he said unto me, ³ Thou art not a judge above God, neither hast thou understanding above the Most High.

20 Yea, rather let many that now be perish, than that the law of God which

21 is set before them be despised. For God straitly commanded such as came, even as they came, what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.

22 Nevertheless they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined for themselves vain things;

23 and framed cunning devices of wickedness; and said moreover of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not

24 his ways: but they despised his law, and denied his covenants; they have not been faithful to his statutes, and

25 have not performed his works. Therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full

26 things. For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, when these tokens, of which I told thee before, shall come to pass, that the bride shall appear, even the city coming forth, and she shall be seen, that now is 27 withdrawn from the earth. And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils, the same shall see my wonders.

28 For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice them that remain four hundred

29 years. After these years shall my son Christ die, and all that have the breath

30 of ⁴ life. And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning: so that no man

31 shall remain. And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that

32 is corruptible. And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the ⁵ secret places shall deliver those souls that

33 were committed unto them. And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement ⁶, and compassion shall pass away, and longsuffering

34 shall be withdrawn: but judgement only shall remain, truth shall stand,

35 and faith shall wax strong: and the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not [36] sleep. ⁷ And the ⁸ pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: and the furnace of ⁹ hell shall be shewed, and over against it the paradise of delight.

[37] And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See ye and understand whom ye have denied, or whom ye have not served, or whose command-

[38] ments ye have despised. Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments.

Thus ¹ shall he speak unto them in [39] the day of judgement: This is a

[40] day that hath neither sun, nor moon, nor stars, neither cloud, nor thunder, nor lightning, neither wind, nor water, nor air, neither darkness,

[41] nor evening, nor morning, neither summer, nor spring, nor heat, nor

² winter, neither frost, nor cold, nor

[42] hail, nor rain, nor dew, neither noon, nor night, nor dawn, neither shining, nor brightness, nor light, save only the splendour of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the

[43] things that are set before them: for it shall endure as it were a week of [44] years. This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof; but to thee only have I shewed these things.

[45] And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are they that be now alive and keep the

[46] statutes ordained of thee. But as touching them for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? for who is there of them that be alive that hath not sinned, and who of the sons of men that hath not transgressed

[47] thy covenant? And now I see, that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments unto many.

[48] For an evil heart hath grown up in us, which hath led us astray from these statutes, and hath brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, hath shewed us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life; and that, not a few only, but well nigh all that have been created.

[49] And he answered me, and said, Harken unto me, and I will instruct thee; and I will admonish thee yet

[50] again: for this cause the Most High hath not made one world, but two.

[51] For whereas thou hast said that the just are not many, but few, and the ungodly abound, hear the answer

[52] thereunto. If thou have choice stones exceeding few, ³ wilt thou set for thee over against them according to their number things of lead and clay?

[53] And I said, Lord, how shall this be?

[54] And he said unto me, Not only this, but ask the earth, and she shall tell thee; intreat her, and she shall

[55] declare unto thee. For thou shalt say unto her, Thou bringest forth gold and silver and brass, and iron

[56] also and lead and clay: but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead

[57] than iron, and clay than lead. Judge thou therefore which things are precious and to be desired, whatso is abundant or what is rare.

[58] And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, that which is plentiful is of less worth, for that which is more rare is more precious.

[59] And he answered me, and said,

³ Weigh within thyself the things that thou hast thought, for he that hath what is hard to get rejoiceth over

[60] him that hath what is plentiful. So also is the ³ judgement which I have promised: for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as these are they that have made my glory now to prevail, and of whom [61] my name is now named. And I will not grieve over the multitude of them that perish; for these are they that are now like unto vapour, and are become as flame and smoke; they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are quenched.

[62] And I answered and said, O thou earth, wherefore hast thou brought forth, if the mind is made out of dust,

[63] like as all other created things? For it were better that the dust itself had been unborn, so that the mind might [64] not have been made therefrom. But now the mind groweth with us, and by reason of this we are tormented,

[65] because we perish and know it. Let the race of men lament and the beasts of the field be glad; let all that are born lament, but let the fourfooted

[66] beasts and the cattle rejoice. For it is far better with them than with us; for they look not for judgement, neither do they know of torments or of salvation promised unto them after

[67] death. For what doth it profit us, that we shall be preserved alive, but

[68] yet be afflicted with torment? For all that are born are ³ defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with

[69] offences: and if after death we were not to come into judgement, peradventure it had been better for us.

[70] And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all them that came of him, he first prepared the judgement and the things that pertain unto the [71] judgement. And now understand from thine own words, for thou hast said that the mind groweth with us.

[72] They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, that having understanding they have wrought iniquity, and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they re-

[73] ceived. What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will

[74] they answer in the last times? For how great a time hath the Most High been long suffering with them that inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he hath foreordained!

[75] And I answered and said, If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, shew this also unto thy servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us giveth up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, in which thou shalt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

- [76] And he answered me, and said, I will shew thee this also; but join not thyself with them that are scorn-ers, nor number thyself with them [77] that are tormented. For thou hast a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [78] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the spirit leaveth the body to return again to him who gave it, it adareth the glory [79] of the Most High first of all. And if it be one of those that have been scorners and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have de-spised his law, and that hate them that [80] fear ¹ God, these spirits shall not enter into habitations, but shall wander and be in torments forthwith, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. [81] The first way, because they have despised the law of the Most High. [82] The second way, because they cannot now make a good returning that [83] they may live. The third way, they shall see the reward laid up for them that have believed the covenants of [84] the Most High. The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. [85] The fifth way, they shall see the dwelling places of the others guarded [86] by angels, with great quietness. The sixth way, they shall see ² how forth-with some of them shall pass into [87] torment. The seventh way, which is ³ more grievous than all the afore-said ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with ⁴ shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they have sinned whilst living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. [88] Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the [89] corruptible vessel. In the time ⁴ that they dwell therein they painfully served the Most High, and were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of the lawgiver perfectly. [90] Wherefore this is the teaching con-cerning them: First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who taketh them up, for they shall [92] have rest in seven orders. The first order, because they have striven with great labour to overcome the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death.

- [93] The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and the punish- [94] ment that awaiteth them. The third order, they see the witness which he that fashioned them beareth concern- ing them, that while they lived they kept the law which was given [95] them in trust. The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaiteth [96] them in the last days. The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from that which is cor-ruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover the straitness and the ⁴ pain-fulness from which they have been de-livered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immor- [97] tality. The sixth order, when it is shewed unto them how their face shall shine as the sun, and how they shall be made like unto the light of the stars, being henceforth incorruptible. [98] The seventh order, which is greater than all the aforesaid orders, because they shall rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten to behold the face of him whom in their lifetime they served, and from whom they shall receive their reward in glory. [99] This is the order of the souls of the just, as from henceforth ⁴ is announ-ced unto them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which they that would not give heed shall suffer from hence- [100] forth. And I answered and said, Shall time therefore be given unto the souls after they are separated from the bodies, that they may see that whereof thou hast spoken unto me? [101] And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days they may see the things whereof thou hast been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together in their [102] habitations. And I answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, shew further unto me thy ser-vant whether in the day of judgement the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to treat the Most [103] High for them, whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or brethren for brethren, or kinsfolk for their next of kin, or ⁵ friends for them [104] that are most dear. And he an-swered me, and said, Since thou hast found favour in my sight, I will shew thee this also: The day of judgement is ⁶ a day of decision, and displayeth unto all the seal of truth; even as now a father sendeth not his son, or a son his father, or a master his slave, or a friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may² be sick, or sleep, or [105] eat, or be healed: so never shall any one pray for another³ in that day, neither shall one lay a burden on another, for then shall all bear every one his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

36 And I answered and said, How do we now find that first Abraham prayed for the people of Sodom, and Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness: and Joshua after him for [106] 37 Israel in the days of Achar: and Samuel⁴ in the days of Saul; and David for the plague: and Solomon for them that should worship in the [107] 38 sanctuary: and Elijah for those that received rain; and for the dead, that [108] 39 he might live: and Hezekiah for the people in the days of Sennacherib: and many for many? If therefore [109] 40 now, when corruption is grown up, and unrighteousness increased, the righteous have prayed for the ungodly, wherefore shall it not be so then also?

42 He answered me, and said, This present world is not the end; the full glory abideth⁵ not therein: therefore have they who were able prayed for [110] 43 the weak. But the day of judgement shall be the end of this time,⁶ and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is passed [111] 44 away, intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, but righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up.

45 Then shall no man be able to have mercy on him that is cast in judgement, nor to thrust down him that hath gotten the victory.

46 I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had been better that the earth had not⁷ given thee Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for [115] 47 punishment? O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was thou that sinned, the evil is not fallen on thee alone, but upon all of us that [116] 48 come of thee. For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done [117] 49 the works that bring death? And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most [118] 50 miserably are become vain? And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have [119] 51 lived wickedly? And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked [120] 52 ways of all? And that there shall be shewed a paradise, whose fruit endureth without decay, wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not [121] 53 enter into it, for we have walked in unpleasant places? And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker [122] 54 than darkness? For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

57 Then he answered and said, This is the⁸ condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall [123] 58 fight; that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing [124] 59 that I say. For this is the way whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, ⁹Choose thee life, that thou mayest live. Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which [125] 60 have spoken unto them; so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as there shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the Most High is now called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come [126] 63 into the world; and compassionate, in that he hath compassion upon [127] 64 those that turn to his law; and long-suffering, for that he long suffereth those that have sinned, as his creatures; and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; [128] 65 and of great mercy, for that he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to [129] 66 come; (for if he multiplied not his mercies, the world would not continue [130] 67 with them that dwell therein;) and one that forgiveth, for if he did not forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain [131] 68 living; and a judge, for if he did not pardon them that were created by his word, and blot out the multitude [132] 69 of¹⁰ offences, there would peradventure be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

8 And he answered me, and said, The Most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few. [133] 21 I will tell thee now a similitude, Esdras: As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth very much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold cometh of: even so is the course [134] 3 of the present world. There be many created, but few shall be saved.

eth without decay, wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not [124] 54 enter into it, for we have walked in unpleasant places? And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker [125] 55 than darkness? For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

57 Then he answered and said, This is the⁸ condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall [126] 58 fight; that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing [127] 59 that I say. For this is the way whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, ⁹Choose thee life, that thou mayest live. Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which [128] 60 have spoken unto them; so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as there shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

tures; and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; [131] 65 and of great mercy, for that he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to [132] 66 come; (for if he multiplied not his mercies, the world would not continue [133] 67 with them that dwell therein;) and one that forgiveth, for if he did not forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain [134] 68 living; and a judge, for if he did not pardon them that were created by his word, and blot out the multitude [135] 69 of¹⁰ offences, there would peradventure be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

⁵ According to the chief Oriental versions. The Latin has, even they whose service taketh the form of cnc.

5 and let my heart devour wisdom. For thou ¹art come hither without thy will, and departest when thou wouldst not: for there is given thee no longer space than only to live a short time. O Lord, that art over us, suffer thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby every one shall live that is corrupt, who beareth the ²likeness of a man.

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thine hands, like as thou hast said. Forasmuch as thou quickenest the body that is fashioned now in the womb, and givest it members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her. But that which keepeth and that which is kept shall both be kept ³by thy keeping: and when the womb giveth up again that which hath grown in it, thou hast commanded that out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, be given milk, which is the fruit of the breasts, that the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, and afterwards thou shalt order it in thy mercy. Yea, thou hast brought it up in thy righteousness, and nurtured it in thy law, and corrected it with thy judgement. And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and quicken it as thy work. If therefore thou shalt ¹lightly and suddenly destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned by thy commandment, to what purpose was he made?

15 Now therefore I will speak; touching man in general, thou knowest best; but touching thy people will I speak, 16 for whose sake I am sorry; and for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for the seed of Jacob, 17 for whose sake I am troubled; therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; 18 but I have heard the swiftness of the judgement which is to come. Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before thee.

The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up. And he said,

20 O Lord, thou that ⁴abidest for ever, whose eyes are exalted, and whose chambers are in the air; whose throne is inestimable; whose glory may not be comprehended; before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling, 22 ⁵at whose bidding they are changed to wind and fire; whose word is sure, and sayings constant; whose ordinance is strong, and commandment

23 fearful; whose look drieth up the depths, and whose indignation maketh the mountains to melt away, and 24 whose truth beareth witness: hear, O Lord, the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy handy- 25 work; attend unto my words, for so long as I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer. 26 O look not upon the sins of thy people; but on them that have served thee in 27 truth. Regard not the doings of them that deal wickedly, but of them that have kept thy covenants in affliction. 28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee; but remember them which have willingly known 29 thy fear. Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have lived like cattle; but look upon them that have 30 ⁶clearly taught thy law. Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that have always put their trust 31 in thy glory. For we and our fathers have ⁷passed our lives in ⁸ways that bring death: but thou because of us 32 sinners ⁹art called merciful. For if thou hast a desire to have mercy upon us, then shalt thou be called merciful, to us, namely, that have no works of 33 righteousness. For the just, which have many good works laid up with thee, shall for their own deeds receive 34 reward. For what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible race, that thou 35 shouldst be so bitter toward it? For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among them ¹⁰that have lived there is none which hath not 36 done amiss. For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have no store of good works.

37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words so shall 38 it come to pass. For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them which have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction: 39 but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous, their pilgrimage also, and the salvation, and the reward, that 40 they shall have. Like therefore as I 41 have spoken, so shall it be. For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall ¹¹come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so they that are sown in the world shall not all be saved.

42 I answered then and said, If I have found favour, let me speak before 43 thee. Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing

 44 eth; likewise man, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because he is made like unto thee, for whose sake thou hast formed all things, even him hast thou made like unto the husbandman's
 45 seed. Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine inheritance; for thou hast mercy upon thine own creation.
 46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for them that now be, and things to come for such as 47 shall be hereafter. For thou comest far short that thou shouldest be able to love my creature more than I. But thou hast brought thyself full nigh unto the unrighteous. Let this never 48 be. Yet in this shalt thou be admira-
 49 ble before the Most High; in that thou hast humbled thyself, as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be among the righteous, 50 so as to be much glorified. For many grievous miseries shall befall them that in the last times dwell in the world, because they have walked in 51 great pride. But understand thou for thyself, and of such as be like thee
 52 seek out the glory. For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is ²allowed, goodness is perfected, wisdom being perfect 53 aforehand. The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness is done away from you, and ³[death] is hidden; hell and corruption are fled into forgetful-54 ness: sorrows are passed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of 55 immortality. Therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multi-56 tude of them that perish. For when they had received liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.
 57 Moreover they have trodden down his righteous, and said in their heart, that there is no God; yea, and that know-
 58 ing they must die. For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain which are prepared shall receive them: for the Most High willed not that men should come to nought:
 60 but they which be created have themselves defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankful unto 61 him which prepared life for them. And therefore is my judgement now at 62 hand, which I have not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee.
 63 Then answered I and said, Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders, which thou wilt do in the last times: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

9 And he answered me, and said, Measure thou diligently within thyself: and when thou seest that a certain part of the signs are past, which have
 2 been told thee beforehand, then shalt thou understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High will visit the world which was made by him.
 3 And when there shall be seen in the world earthquakes, disquietude of peoples, devices of nations, wavering
 4 of leaders, disquietude of princes, then shalt thou understand, that the Most High spake of these things from the days that were aforetime from the 5 beginning. For like as of all that is made in the world, the beginning ⁴is
 6 evident, and the end manifest; so also are the times of the Most High: the beginnings are manifest in wonders and mighty works, and the end in 7 effects and signs. And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, or by faith,
 8 whereby he hath believed, shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders, which I have sanc-9 tified for me from the beginning. Then shall they be amazed, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitefully shall 10 dwell in torments. For as many as in their life have received benefits, and 11 yet have not known me; and as many as have scorned my law, while they had yet liberty, and when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, 12 understood not, but despised ⁵*it*; the same must know ⁶*it* after death by 13 torment. And therefore be thou no longer curious how the ungodly shall be punished; but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, ⁷they whose the world is, and for whom the world 14 was created.
 15 And I answered and said, I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that there be more of them which perish, than 16 of them which shall be saved: like as a wave is greater than a drop.
 17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; and as the flowers be, such are the colours also; and such as the work is, such also is the ⁸judgement thereon; and as is the husbandman, so is his threshing-floor also. For there was a time in 18 the world, even then when I was preparing for them that now live, before the world was made for them to dwell in; and then no man spake against
 19 me, for ⁹there was not any: but now they which are created in this world that is prepared, both ¹⁰with a table that faileth not, and a law which is unsearchable, are corrupted in their

 21 devices that were come into it. And I saw, and spared them, but not greatly, and saved me a grape out of a cluster, and a plant out of ¹a great forest.
 22 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be saved, and my plant; for with great labour have I made them perfect.
 23 Nevertheless if thou wilt cease yet seven days more, (howbeit thou shalt not fast in them, but shalt go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only of the flowers of the field; and thou shalt taste no flesh, and shalt drink no wine, but 24 shalt eat flowers only;) and pray unto the Most High continually, then will I come and talk with thee.
 26 So I went my way, like as he commanded me, into the field which is called ²Ardat; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same
 27 satisfied me. And it came to pass after seven days that I lay upon the grass, and my heart was vexed again, like as before: and my mouth was opened, and I began to speak before
 28 the Most High, and said, O Lord, thou didst shew thyself among us, unto our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, where no man treadeth and that beareth
 29 no fruit; and thou didst say, Hear me, thou Israel; and mark my words, 30 O seed of Jacob. For, behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and ye shall be glorified 31 in it for ever. But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes: and the fruit of the law did not perish, neither could 32 it, for it was thine; yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.
 34 And, lo, it is a custom, that when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it cometh to pass that that 35 which is sown, or that which is launched, or the things which have been received, should come to an end, these come to an end, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it hath not happened so. For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our 36 heart also which received it. Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in its honour.
 38 And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked about me with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes

39 upon her head. Then let I my thoughts go wherein I was occupied, 40 and turned me unto her, and said unto her, Wherefore weepest thou? and why art thou grieved in thy mind?
 41 And she said unto me, Let me alone, my lord, that I may bewail myself, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.
 42 And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me. She said unto me, I thy servant was barren, and had no child, though I had a husband thirty years.
 44 And every hour and every day these thirty years did I make my prayer to 45 the Most High day and night. And it came to pass after thirty years that God heard me thine handmaid, and looked upon my low estate, and considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I rejoiced in him greatly, I and my husband, and all my ³neighbours: and we gave great honour
 46 unto the Mighty. And I nourished
 47 him with great travail. So when he grew up, and I came to take him a 10 wife, I made a feast day. And it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he
 2 fell down, and died. Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my ³neighbours rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet unto the second
 3 day at night. And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet; then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest.
 4 And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.
 5 Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and answered her in anger,
 6 and said, Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our mourning, and what hath happened unto us?
 7 how that Sion the mother of us all is full of sorrow, and much humbled.
 8 ⁴It is right now to mourn very sore, seeing we all mourn, and to be sorrowful, seeing we are all in sorrow, but 9 thou sorrowest for one son. For ask the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought to mourn for so many that grow upon her. For out of her all had their beginnings, and others shall come; and, behold, they walk almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them is utterly rooted
 11 out. Who then should make more mourning, ⁵she, that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou, which art 12 grieved but for one? But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came:

 14 then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow: even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning 15 unto him that made her. Now therefore keep thy sorrow to thyself, and bear with a good courage the adversities which have befallen thee. For if thou shalt acknowledge the decree of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be 17 praised among women. Go thy way then into the city to thine husband.
 18 And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.
 19 So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said, Do not so, but suffer thyself to be prevailed on by reason of the adversities of Sion; and be comforted by reason of the sorrow of 21 Jerusalem. For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed;
 22 our psaltery is brought low, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end; the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is profaned; our freemen are despitefully treated, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones betrayed, our young men are brought into bondage, and our strong men are become weak;
 23 and, what is more than all, the seal of Sion—for she hath now lost the seal of her honour, and is delivered into 24 the hands of them that hate us. Thou therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away from thee the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Most High may give thee rest, even ease from thy travails.
 25 And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistened like lightning, so that I was sore afraid
 26 of her, and mused what this might be; and, behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful; so that the 27 earth shook at the noise. And I looked, and, behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a place shewed itself from large foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud 28 voice, and said, Where is Uriel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into this great trance, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. And as I was speaking these words, behold, the angel who had come unto me at the first came unto 30 me, and he looked upon me: and, lo, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me

 31 upon my feet, and said unto me, What aileth thee? and why art thou so disquieted? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts 32 of thine heart? And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me: yet I did according to thy words, and went into the field, and, lo, I have seen, and yet see, that which I am not able to express. And he said unto me, Stand up like a man, and I will advise thee.
 34 Then said I, Speak on, my Lord; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate 35 of my hope. For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not 36 know. Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream? Now therefore I beseech thee to shew thy servant concerning this trance.
 38 And he answered me, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform thee, and tell thee concerning the things whereof thou art afraid: for the Most High hath revealed many secret things unto 39 thee. He hath seen that thy way is right: for that thou sorrowest continually for thy people, and makest 40 great lamentation for Sion. This therefore is the meaning of the vision.
 41 The woman which appeared unto thee a little while ago, whom thou sawest mourning, and beganest to 42 comfort her: but now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city in 43 building: and whereas she told thee of the death of her son, this is the solution: This woman, whom thou sawest, is ² Sion, ² whom thou now seest 45 as a city builded; and whereas she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren, it is, because there were three ² thousand years in the world wherein there was no offering as yet offered in her. And it came to pass after three ² thousand years that Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings: then it was that the 47 barren bare a son. And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with travail: that was the dwelling 48 in Jerusalem. And whereas she said unto thee, My son coming into his marriage chamber died, and that misfortune befell her: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem.
 49 And, behold, thou sawest her likeness, how she mourned for her son, and thou beganest to comfort her for what hath befallen her; ³ these were the things to be opened unto 50 thee. For now the Most High, seeing that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, hath shewed thee the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness

 51 of her beauty: and therefore I bade thee remain in the field where no 52 house was builded: for I knew that the Most High would shew this unto 53 thee. Therefore I commanded thee to come into the field, where no foun-
 54 dation of any building was. For in the place wherein the city of the Most High was to be shewed, the work of 55 no man's building could stand. Therefore fear thou not, nor let thine heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be 56 able to see: and then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may compre-57 hend. For thou art blessed above many, and with the Most High art 58 called by name, like as but few. But to-morrow at night thou shalt remain 59 here; and so shall the Most High shew thee those visions in dreams, of what the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

11 And it came to pass the second night that I saw a dream, and, behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three
 2 heads. And I saw, and, behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of heaven blew on her, ¹and the clouds were gathered 3 together against her. And I beheld, and out of her wings there grew other
 4 wings over against them; and they became little wings and small. But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other
 5 heads, yet rested it with them. Moreover I beheld, and, lo, the eagle flew with her wings, to reign over the earth, and over them that dwell therein.
 6 And I beheld how that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not 7 one creature upon earth. And I beheld, and, lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and uttered her voice to her 8 wings, saying, Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and 9 watch by course: but let the heads be 10 preserved for the last. And I beheld, and, lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body.
 11 And I numbered ²her wings that were over against the other, and, behold, 12 there were eight of them. And I beheld, and, lo, on the right side there arose one wing, and reigned over all 13 the earth; and so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and it appeared not, so that the place thereof appeared no more: and the next following rose up, and reigned, and it 14 bare rule a great time; and it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, so that it appeared no 15 more, like as the first. And, lo, there 16 came a voice unto it, and said, Hear thou that hast borne rule over the earth all this time: this I proclaim unto thee, before thou shalt appear 17 no more, There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the 18 half thereof. Then arose the third, and had the rule as the others before, 19 and it also appeared no more. So went it with all the wings one after another, as that every one bare rule, 20 and then appeared no more. And I beheld, and, lo, in process of time the 21 wings that followed were set up upon the ³right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more:

 22 some also of them were set up, but ruled not. After this I beheld, and, lo, the twelve wings appeared no more,
 23 nor two of the little wings: and there was no more left upon the eagle's body, but the three heads that rested,
 24 and six little wings. And I beheld, and, lo, two little wings divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: but four remained in their place.
 25 And I beheld, and, lo, these ³under wings thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule. And I beheld, and, lo, there was one set up, but within a while it appeared no more.
 26 A second also, and it was sooner away than the first. And I beheld, and, lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign: and while they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads.
 27 And I beheld how that it joined the 28 two other heads with it. And, behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two 29 ³under wings that thought to have reigned. But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwell therein with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all 30 the wings that had been. And after this I beheld, and, lo, the head also that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.
 31 But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell
 32 therein. And I beheld, and, lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.
 33 Then I heard a voice, which said unto me, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest. And I beheld, and, lo, as it were a lion roused out of the wood roaring: and I heard how that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and spake, saying, Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Most High shall say unto thee, Art not thou it that remainest of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of my times might come through them?

40 And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and held the world in governance with great trembling, and the whole compass of the earth with grievous oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit. And thou hast judged the earth, but not with truth.

42 For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast hated them that speak truth, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm. Therefore is thy insolent dealing come up unto the Most High, and thy pride unto the Mighty. The Most High also hath looked upon his times, and, behold, they are ended, and his ages are fulfilled. And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor thy horrible wings, nor thy evil little wings, nor thy cruel heads, nor thy hurtful talons, nor all thy vain body: that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her.

12 And it came to pass, whiles the lion spake these words unto the eagle, I beheld, and, lo, the head that remained appeared no more, and the two wings which went over unto it arose and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. And I beheld, and, lo, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I by reason of great ecstasy of mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit, Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou searchest out the ways of the Most High. Lo, I am yet weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; nor is there the least strength in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night.

6 Therefore will I now beseech the Most High, that he will strengthen me unto the end. And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, and if I am justified with thee above many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before thy face; strengthen me then, and shew me thy servant the interpretation and plain meaning of this fearful vision, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soul. For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the end of time and the last times.

10 And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of this vision which thou sawest: The eagle, whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is the fourth kingdom which appeared in vision to thy brother Daniel. But it was not expounded unto him, as I now expound it unto thee or have expounded it.

13 Behold, the days come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it. In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another: whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have a longer time than any of the twelve. This is the interpretation of the twelve wings, which thou sawest. And whereas thou heardest a voice which spake, not going out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation: That after the time of that kingdom there shall arise no small contentions, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to its first estate. And whereas thou sawest the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. And two of them shall perish, when the middle time approacheth: four shall be kept for a while until the time of the ending thereof shall approach: but two shall be kept unto the end. And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation: In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, and over those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. For these are they that shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end.

27 But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. And whereas thou sawest two under wings passing over unto the head that is on the right side, this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High hath kept unto his end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest. And the lion, whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, and all her words

32 which thou hast heard; this is the anointed one, whom the Most High hath kept unto the end ¹[of days, who shall spring up out of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak] unto them and reprove them for their wickedness and their unrighteousness, and shall ²heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he hath reprov'd them, he shall destroy them. For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved throughout my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the end, even the day of judgement, whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dream that thou sawest, and this is the interpretation thereof:

36 and thou only hast been meet to know

37 this secret of the Most High. Therefore write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and put them in 38 a secret place: and thou shalt teach them to the wise of thy people, whose hearts thou knowest are able to comprehend and keep these secrets. But wait thou here thyself yet seven days more, that there may be shewed unto thee whatsoever it pleaseth the Most High to shew thee. And he departed from me.

40 And it came to pass, when all the people ³saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and spake to me, saying, What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou hast utterly forsaken us,

42 and sittest in this place? For of all the prophets thou only art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a lamp in a dark place, and as a haven for a

43 ship saved from the tempest. Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been consumed in the burning of Sion! For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. And I answered them, and said, Be of good comfort, O Israel; and be not sorrowful, thou house of Jacob: for the Most High hath you in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you

48⁴ for ever. As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the low estate of your sanctuary.

49 And now go your way every man to his own house, and after these days

50 will I come unto you. So the people went their way into the city, like as I

51 said unto them: but I sat in the field seven days, as the angel commanded me; and in those days I did eat only of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

13 And it came to pass after seven days,

2 I dreamed a dream by night: and, lo, there arose a wind from the sea, that

3 it moved all the waves thereof. And I beheld, and, lo, ¹[this wind caused to come up from the midst of the sea as it were the likeness of a man, and I beheld, and, lo,] that man ⁵flew with the clouds of heaven: and when he turned his countenance to look, all things trembled that were seen under

4 him. And whosoever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, like as the ⁶wax melted

5^{eth} when it feelth the fire. And after this I beheld, and, lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from the four winds of heaven, to make war against the man

6 that came out of the sea. And I beheld, and, lo, he graved himself a great mountain, and flew up upon it.

7 But I sought to see the region or place whereout the mountain was graven,

8 and I could not. And after this I beheld, and, lo, all they which were gathered together to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight.

9 And, lo, as he saw the assault of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held spear, nor any

10 instrument of war: but only I saw how that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a flood of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast forth sparks ⁷of

11 the storm. And these were all mingled together; the flood of fire, the flaming breath, and the great storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust of ashes and smell of smoke: when I saw this I

12 was amazed. Afterward I beheld the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him another multitude which was peaceable. And there came ⁸much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then through great fear I awaked, and prayed unto the Most High, and said, Thou hast shewed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldest receive 15 my prayer: and now shew me more over the interpretation of this dream.

16 For as I conceive in mine understanding, woe unto them that shall be left in those days! and much more

⁶ So the Syriac and other Oriental versions.

⁷ So the Syriac and Arabic.

⁸ Lat. the faces of many people.

17 woe unto them that are not left! for they that were not left shall be in 18 heaviness, understanding the things that are laid up in the latter days, but 19 not attaining unto them. But woe unto them also that are left, for this cause; for they shall see great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams 20 declare. Yet is it ¹ better for one to be in peril and to come into ² these things, than to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that ² shall happen in the last days.

And he answered unto me, and said,
21 The interpretation of the vision shall I tell thee, and I will also open unto thee the things whereof thou hast 22 made mention. Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, 23 this is the interpretation: He that shall ² endure the peril in that time shall keep them that be fallen into danger, even such as have works, and 24 faith toward the Almighty. Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that 25 be dead. These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst
26 of the sea, the same is he whom the Most High hath kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them
27 that are left behind. And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came wind, and fire, and storm;
28 and whereas he held neither spear, nor any instrument of war, but destroyed the assault of that multitude which came to fight against him; this 29 is the interpretation: Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the 30 earth. And there shall come astonishment of mind upon them that dwell on 31 the earth. And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom.
32 And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, then shall my Son be revealed, whom 33 thou sawest as a man ascending. And it shall be, when all the nations hear his voice, every man shall leave his own land and the battle they have one 34 against another. And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest, desiring to come, and 35 to fight against him. But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion.
36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the 37 mountain graven without hands. And this my Son shall rebuke the nations which are come for their wickedness, with plagues that are like unto a tempest; and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, which are likened unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law, which is likened unto fire. And whereas thou sawest that he gathered unto him another 40 multitude that was peaceable; these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmanasar the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into 41 another land. But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, 42 that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in 43 their own land. And they entered by the narrow passages of the river 44 Euphrates. For the Most High then wrought signs for them, and stayed the springs of the River, till they were 45 passed over. For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same 46 region is called ³ Arzareth. Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they begin to come

47 again, the Most High stayeth the springs of the River again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude gathered together 48 with peace. But those that be left behind of thy people are they that are 49 found within my holy border. It shall be therefore when he shall destroy the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the 50 people that remain. And then shall he shew them very many wonders.
51 Then said I, O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: wherefore I have seen the man coming up from the midst of 52 the sea. And he said unto me, Like as one can neither seek out nor know what is in the deep of the sea, even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the 53 time of ⁴ his day. This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and for this thou only art enlightened herein. For thou hast forsaken thine own ways, and applied thy diligence unto mine, and hast sought
54 unto my law. Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called understanding thy mother. And therefore have I shewed thee this: for there is a reward laid up with the Most High: and it shall be, after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee 57 mighty and wondrous things. Then went I forth and passed into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders, 58 which he did from time to time; and because he governeth the time, and such things as fall in their seasons.

And there I sat three days.

14 And it came to pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and, behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras.
2 And I said, Here am I, Lord. And I 3 stood up upon my feet. Then said he unto me, In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself, and talked with Moses, when my people were in bondage in 4 Egypt: and I sent him, and ¹ he led my people out of Egypt; and I brought him up to the mount of Sinai, where 5 I held him by me for many days; and told him many wondrous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end of the seasons; and com-6 manded him, saying, These words shalt thou publish openly, and these 7 shalt thou hide. And now I say unto 8 thee, Lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpre-9 tations which thou hast heard: for thou shalt be taken away from men, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with my Son, and with such as be like thee, until the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost its youth, and 11 the times begin to wax old. ² For the world is divided into twelve parts, and ten parts of it are gone already, ³ even 12 the half of the tenth part: and there remain of it two parts after the middle 13 of the tenth part. Now therefore set thine house in order, and reprove thy people, comfort the lowly among them, ⁴ and instruct such of them as be wise, and now renounce the life 14 that is corruptible, and let go from thee mortal thoughts, cast away from thee the burdens of man, put off now 15 thy weak nature, and lay aside the thoughts that are most grievous unto thee, and haste thee to remove from 16 these times. For yet worse evils than those which thou hast seen happen 17 shall be done hereafter. For look, how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell

18 therein. For the truth shall withdraw itself further off, and leasing be hard at hand: for now hasteth ⁵ the eagle to come, which thou sawest in vision.
19 Then answered I and said, ⁶ I will 20 speak before thee, O Lord. Behold, I will go, as thou hast commanded me,
and reprove the people that now be:
but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that 21 dwell therein are without light. For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done.

22 But if I have found favour before thee, send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live 23 in the latter days may live. And he answered me and said, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, that they seek thee not 24 for forty days. But look thou prepare three many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethanus, and Asiel, these five, which are ready to 25 write swiftly; and come hither, and I shall light a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou 26 shalt write. And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.
27 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people to-28 gether, and said, Hear these words, 29 O Israel. Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and 30 they were delivered from thence, and received the law of life, which they kept not, which ye also have trans-31 gressed after them. Then was ⁷ the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded 32 you. And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you.
33 And now ye are here, and your bre-
34 thren are among you. Therefore if so be that ye will rule over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts,
ye shall be kept alive, and after death 35 ye shall obtain mercy. For after death shall the judgement come, when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be 36 declared. Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these 37 forty days. So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there.
38 And it came to pass on the morrow that, lo, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, open thy mouth, and drink that I 39 give thee to drink. Then opened I my mouth, and, behold, there was reached unto me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour 40 of it was like fire. And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for 41 my spirit retained its memory: and my mouth was opened, and shut no 42 more. The Most High gave understanding unto the five men, and they wrote by course the things that were told them, in ¹ characters which they knew not, and they sat forty days: now they wrote in the day-time, and 43 at night they ate bread. As for me, I spake in the day, and by night I 44 held not my tongue. So in forty days were written ² fourscore and fourteen 45 books. And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Most High spake unto me, saying, The first that thou hast written publish openly, and let the worthy and un-46 worthy read it: but keep the seventy last, that thou mayest deliver them to such as be wise among thy people:

47 for in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and 48 the stream of knowledge. And I did so.

15 Behold, speak thou in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the 2 Lord: and cause thou them to be written in paper: for they are faithful
3 and true. Fear not their imaginations against thee, let not the unbelief of them that speak against thee trouble
4 thee. For all the unbelievers shall die in their unbelief.
5 Behold, saith the Lord, I bring evils upon the whole earth; sword and famine, and death and destruction.
6 For wickedness hath prevailed over every land, and their hurtful works
7 are come to the full. Therefore saith
8 the Lord, I will hold my peace no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in these things, which they wickedly practise: behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the right-
9 eous cry out continually. I will surely avenge them, saith the Lord, and will receive unto me all the innocent blood 10 from among them. Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in 11 the land of Egypt: but I will bring them out with a mighty hand and with a high arm, and will smite Egypt with plagues, as aforetime, and will 12 destroy all the land thereof. Let Egypt mourn, and the foundations thereof, for the plague of the chastisement and the punishment that God 13 shall bring upon it. Let the husbandmen that till the ground mourn: for their seeds shall fail and their trees shall be laid waste through the blast-
14 ing and hail, and a terrible star. Woe to the world and them that dwell
15 therein! for the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and nation shall rise up against nation to battle 16 with weapons in their hands. For there shall be sedition among men; and waxing strong one against another, they shall not regard their king nor the chief of their great ones, in 17 their might. For a man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid.
19 A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall make an assault on their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.
20 Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up them that are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things
21 that they have done to them. Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord
22 God: My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent
23 blood upon the earth. And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw 24 that is kindled. Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments!
25 saith the Lord. I will not spare them: go your way, ye rebellious children, 26 defile not my sanctuary. For the Lord knoweth all them that trespass against him, therefore hath he delivered them unto death and destruction.
27 For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.
28 Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east!
29 And the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and 30 tremble. Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their 31 teeth. And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their ³ nature: and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in 32 great power to persecute them, then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall 33 turn and flee. And from the land of the Assyrians shall the lion lie in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their host shall be fear and trembling, and sedition against their 34 kings. Behold, clouds from the east and from the north unto ⁴ the south, and they are very horrible to look 35 upon, full of wrath and storm. They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful ¹ storm upon the earth, even their own star;

and there shall be blood from the 36 sword unto the horse's belly, and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's 37 hough. And there shall be fearful-ness and great trembling upon earth:
and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold 38 upon them. And after this shall there be stirred up great storms from the south, and from the north, and an-39 other part from the west. And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall shut it up, even the cloud which he raised in wrath; and the star that was to cause destruction by the east wind shall be violently driven toward 40 the south and west. And great clouds and mighty and full of wrath shall be lifted up, and the star, that they may destroy all the earth, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent one 41 a terrible star, fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all plains may be full, and all rivers,
with the abundance of those waters.
42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the mea-43 dows, and their corn. And they shall go on stedfastly unto Babylon, and 44 destroy her. They shall come unto her, and compass her about; the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, and all they that be about her shall bewail 45 her. And they that remain shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.
46 And thou, Asia, that art partaker in the beauty of Babylon, and in the 47 glory of her person: woe unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; thou hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have alway desired thee to commit whoredom withal!
48 Thou hast followed her that is hateful in all her works and inventions:
49 therefore saith God, I will send evils upon thee: widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses unto destruction and 50 death. And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over 51 thee. Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that thy mighty ones and thy lovers thou shalt 52 not be able to receive. Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against 53 thee, saith the Lord, if thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and saying over their ² dead, when thou wast 54 drunken, Set forth the beauty of thy 55 countenance? The reward of a harlot shall be in thy bosom, therefore 56 shalt thou receive recompense. Like as thou shalt do unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into 57 mischief. And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword: and thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish by 58 the sword in the field. And they that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Thou unhappy above all shalt come 60 and shalt again receive evils. And in the passage they shall rush on the ³ idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and mar part of thy glory, and shall return again to Baby-61 lon that was destroyed. And thou shalt be cast down by them as stubble,
and they shall be unto thee as fire;
62 and shall devour thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall 63 they burr up with fire. They shall carry thy children away captive, and shall spoil thy wealth, and mar the glory of thy face.
16 Woe unto thee, Babylon, and Asia!
woe unto thee, Egypt, and Syria!
2 Gird up yourselves with sackcloth and garments of hair, and bewail your children, and lament; for your de-3 struction is at hand. A sword is sent upon you, and who is he that may turn 4 it back? A fire is sent upon you, and 5 who is he that may quench it? Evils are sent upon you, and who is he that 6 may drive them away? May one drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or may one quench the fire in stubble,
when it hath once begun to burn?
7 May one turn again the arrow that is 8 shot of a strong archer? The Lord God sendeth the evils, and who shall 9 drive them away? A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that 10 may quench it? He shall cast lightning, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not tremble?
11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly broken in pieces 12 at his presence? The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep,
and the waves of it shall be troubled,
and the fishes thereof also, at the presence of the Lord, and before the 13 glory of his power: for strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

14 Behold, the evils are sent forth, and shall not return again, until they come 15 upon the earth. The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.
 16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward, even so the evils that are sent forth upon earth shall not return
 17 again. Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?
 18 The beginning of sorrows, and there shall be great mournings; the beginning of famine, and many shall perish; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils, and all shall tremble! what shall they do in all this when the evils shall 19 come? Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish! they are sent 20 as scourges for amendment. But for all these things they shall not turn them from their wickedness, nor be 21 alway mindful of the scourges. Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion.
 22 For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall 23 the sword destroy. And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof shall be cast down.
 24 There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and to sow it. The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather 26 them? The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for in all places there shall be a great forsaking: for one man shall desire to see 28 another, or to hear his voice. For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which have hidden themselves in the thick groves, and in the 29 clefts of the rocks. As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there be 30 left three or four olives, or as when a vineyard is gathered there be some clusters left by them that diligently
 31 seek through the vineyard; even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their 32 houses with the sword. And the earth shall be left desolate, and the fields thereof shall be for ¹ briers, and her ways and all her paths shall bring forth thorns, because no sheep shall 33 pass therethrough. The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, 34 having no helpers. In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.
 35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord.

36 Behold, the word of the Lord, receive it: disbelieve not the things whereof 37 the Lord speaketh. Behold, the evils
 38 draw nigh, and are not slack. Like as a woman with child in the ninth month, when the hour of her delivery draweth near, within two or three hours doleful pains compass her womb, and when the child cometh forth from the womb, there shall be no tarrying for 39 a moment: even so shall not the evils be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall groan, and sorrows
 40 shall take hold of it on every side. O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth.
 41 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as 42 one that will lose: he that occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he 43 that shall not dwell therein: he that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that pruneth the vines, as he 44 that shall not gather the grapes: they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as 45 the widowed. Inasmuch as they that 46 labour labour in vain; for strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captive, for in captivity and famine shall they beget 47 their children: and they that traffick traffick to become a spoil: the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own per-
 48 sons, the more will I hate them for their sins, saith the Lord. Like as a right honest and virtuous woman 50 hateth a harlot, so shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.
 51 Therefore be ye not like thereunto,
 52 nor to the works thereof. For yet a little while, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign over us. Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for he shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which saith, I have not sinned
 54 before God and his glory. Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, 55 and their hearts. Who said, Let the earth be made; and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was made.
 56 And at his word were the stars established, and he knoweth the number of 57 the stars. Who searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth. Who hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth upon

 60 hath he founded it. Who hath made in the desert springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, to send forth rivers from the height to 61 water the earth. Who framed man, and put a heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and 62 understanding, yea, the spirit of God Almighty. He who made all things, and searcheth out hidden things in 63 hidden places, surely he knoweth your imagination, and what ye think in your hearts. Woe to them that sin, and would fain hide their sin!
 64 Forasmuch as the Lord will exactly search out all your works, and he will 65 put you all to shame. And when your sins are brought forth before men, ye shall be ashamed, and your own iniquities shall stand as your 66 accusers in that day. What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sins be-67 fore God and his angels? Behold, God is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your in-iquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all tribulation.
 68 For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you with that which is 69 slain unto idols. And they that consent unto them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and be trodden 70 under foot of them. For there shall be ¹ in divers places, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those 71 that fear the Lord. They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but spoiling and destroying them that still fear the 72 Lord. For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out 73 of their houses. Then shall be manifest the trial of mine elect; even as the gold that is tried in the fire.

 74 Hear, O ye mine elect, saith the Lord:
 behold, the days of tribulation are at hand, and I will deliver you from 75 them. Be ye not afraid, neither doubt; 76 for God is your guide: and ye who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your 77 iniquities lift up themselves. Woe unto them that are fast bound with their sins, and covered with their in-iquities, like as a field is fast bound with bushes, and the path thereof

TOBIT.

¹ THE book of the words of Tobit, the son of Tobiel, the son of Ananias, the son of Adiel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Aziel, of the tribe of Naphtali;
 2 who in the days of ¹ Enemessar king of the Assyrians was carried away captive out of Thisbe, which is on the right hand of Kedesh Naphtali in Galilee above Asher.
 3 I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyri-4 ans, to Nineveh. And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages.
 5 And all the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal,
 and so did the house of Naphtali my 6 father. And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests

 7 the sons of Aaron. The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem:
 and the second tenth part I sold away,
 and went, and spent it each year at 8 Jerusalem: and the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by 9 my father. And when I became a man, I took to wife Anna of the seed of our own family, and of her I 10 begat Tobias. And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the 11 Gentiles: but I kept myself from eat-12 ing, because I remembered God with 13 all my soul. And the Most High gave me grace and ² favour in the sight of Enemessar, and I was his purveyor.
 14 And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

15 And when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; and ¹ in his time the highways were troubled, and I could no more

16 go into Media. And in the days of Enemessar I did many almsdeeds to 17 my brethren: I gave my bread to the hungry, and my garments to the naked; and if I saw any of my race dead, and cast forth ² on the wall of 18 Nineveh, I buried him. And if Sennacherib the king slew any, when he came fleeing from Judæa, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he slew many; and the bodies were sought for by the king, and were not found.

19 But one of the Ninevites went and shewed to the king concerning me, how that I buried them, and hid myself; and when I knew that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left unto me, save my wife Anna and my son Tobias.

21 And there passed not five and fifty days, before two of his sons slew him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararat. And ³ Sarchedon his son reigned in his stead; and he appointed over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus 22 my brother Anael's son. And Achiacharus made request for me, and I came to Nineveh. Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedon appointed him next unto himself: but he was my brother's son.

2 Now when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down 2 to eat. And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and, lo, I tarry for thee.

3 And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out 4 in the marketplace. And before I had tasted aught, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun 5 was set. And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

⁴ Your feasts shall be turned into mourning.

And all your mirth into lamentation.

7 And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, and buried him. And my neighbours mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet he fled away: and, lo, he buried the dead again. And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted; and my face was un- 10 covered: and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but Achiacharus did nourish me, ⁵ until I went into Elymais.

11 And my wife Anna did spin in the 12 women's chambers, and did send the work back to the owners. And they on their part paid her wages, and gave 13 her also besides a kid. But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat 14 anything that is stolen. But she said, It hath been given me for a gift more than the wages. And I did not believe her, and I bade her render it to the owners; and I was abashed at her. But she answered and said unto me, Where are thine alms and thy righteous deeds? behold, ⁶ thou and all thy works are known.

3 And I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

2 O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy works and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and

3 righteous judgement for ever. Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before thee:

4 for they disobeyed thy commandments; and thou gavest us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

5 And now many are thy judgements, true are they; that thou shouldst deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep thy commandments, for we walked not in truth before

6 thee. And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in thy sight, command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

7 The same day it happened unto Sarah the daughter of Raguel in Ecbatana of Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maidser-

And they said unto her, Dost thou not know that thou stranglest thy husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, and thou hast had no profit of any one of them. Wherefore dost thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself: and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to ² the grave. And she prayed by the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honourable name for ever: let all thy works praise thee for ever. And now, Lord, I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee: command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he hath no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife unto him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleaseth thee not to slay me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

16 And the prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God.

17 Raphael also was sent to heal them both, to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodæus the evil ¹ spirit; because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. The selfsame time did Tobit return and enter into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

4 In that day Tobit remembered concerning the money which he had left in trust with Gabael in Rages of Media, and he said in himself, I have asked for death; why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may shew to him ³ of the money before I die? And he called him, and said,

My child, ³ when I die, bury me: and despise not thy mother; honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which is pleasing unto her, and grieve her not. Remember, my child, that she hath seen many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.

5 My child, be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of thy life, and follow not the 6 ways of unrighteousness. For if thou doest the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all 7 them that do righteousness. Give alms of thy substance; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious: turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall 8 not be turned away from thee. As thy substance is, give alms of it according to thine abundance: if thou have little, be not afraid to give alms according to 9 that little: for thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day 10 of necessity: because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come 11 into darkness. Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that 12 give it. Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit 13 land. And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want: for naughtiness is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him out of hand: and if thou serve God, recompense shall be made unto thee. Take heed to thyself, my child, in all thy works, and be discreet in all thy behaviour.

15 And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man. Drink not wine unto drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go 16 with thee on thy way. Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: of all thine abundance give alms; and let not thine eye be envious when thou 17 givest alms. Pour out thy bread on the ⁴ burial of the just, and give no 18 thing to sinners. Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any 19 counsel that is profitable. And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that thy ways may be made straight, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be 20 blotted out of thy mind. And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages of Media.

 21 And fear not, my child, because we are made poor: thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.
 5 And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, what-2 soever thou hast commanded me: but how shall I be able to receive the 3 money, seeing I know him not? And he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go 4 and receive the money. And he went to seek a man, and found Raphael 5 which was an angel; and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to Rages of Media? and 6 knowest thou the places well? And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael.
 7 And Tobias said unto him, Wait for 8 me, and I will tell my father. And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not.
 And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.
 9 And he called him, and he came in,
 10 and they saluted one another. And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou?
 11 Shew me. And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and 12 thy name. And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy 13 brethren. And he said unto him, Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art 14 of a great stock. But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? a drachma
 a day, and those things that be neces-15 sary for thee, as unto my son? And moreover, if ye return safe and sound,
 I will add something to thy wages.
 16 And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's dog with them.

 17 But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us?
 18 Be not greedy to add money to money:
 but let it be as refuse in respect of 19 our child. For as the Lord hath given 20 us to live, so doth it suffice us. And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, 21 and thine eyes shall see him. For a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he 22 shall return safe and sound. And she made an end of weeping.
 6 Now as they went on their journey,
 they came at eventide to the river 2 Tigris, and they lodged there. But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up 3 the young man. But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, 4 and cast it up on the land. And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and 5 the gall, and put them up safely. And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to 6 Ecbatana. And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the 7 gall of the fish? And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a 1 devil or an evil spirit trouble any,
 we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party 8 shall be no more vexed. But as for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.
 9 But when they drew nigh unto Rages,
 10 the angel said to the young man,
 Brother, to-day we shall lodge with Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she 11 should be given thee for a wife. For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her 12 kindred: and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel may in no wise marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else
 he shall be liable to death, because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other.

13 Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, and that they all perished
14 in the bride-chamber. And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a ¹ devil loveth her, which hurteth no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have 15 no other son to bury them. But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, that thou shouldst take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. And ² when 16 thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and 17 shalt make a smoke therewith: and the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.
7 And they came to Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she saluted them, and they her; and she brought
2 them into the house. And he said to Edna his wife, How like is the young
3 man to Tobit my cousin. And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? And they said unto him, We are of the sons of Naphtali, which 4 are captives in Nineveh. And he said unto them, Know ye Tobit our brother? But they said, We know him. And he said unto them, Is he in good
5 health? But they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias
6 said, He is my father. And Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, and wept, 7 and blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was 8 grieved, and wept; and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the 9 matter be finished. And he communicated the thing to Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink,

10 and make merry: for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit
11 I will shew thee the truth. I have given my child to seven men, and whensoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into cove-
12 nant with me. And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good suc-
13 cess to you. And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father. And he blessed 14 them; and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instru-
15 ment, and sealed it. And they began to eat.
16 And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in 17 thither. And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of 18 her daughter, and said unto her, Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee ³ favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.
8 And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto
2 her. But as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon,
3 and made a smoke therewith. But when the ⁴ devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt,
4 and the angel bound him. But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the 5 Lord may have mercy on us. And Tobias began to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy 6 creatures. Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: thou didst say, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him.
7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old
8 with her. And she said with him, Amen. And they slept both that night.
And Raguel arose, and went and 10 digged a grave, saying, Lest he also 11 should die. And Raguel came into

12 his house, and said to Edna his wife, Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he be alive: but if not, that we may bury him, and no man know it. So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, and came forth, and told them that he was alive.

15 And Raguel blessed God, saying, Blessed art thou, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and let thy saints bless thee, and all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect bless thee for ever. Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad; and it hath not befallen me as I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy. Blessed art thou, because thou hast had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: shew them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

18 But he commanded his servants to fill the grave. And he kept the wedding feast for them fourteen days. And before the days of the wedding feast were finished, Raguel sware unto him, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the wedding feast were fulfilled; and that then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, when I and my wife shall die.

9 And Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him, Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive the money for me, and bring him to the wedding feast: because Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart; and my father counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be sorely grieved. And Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting: but he brought forth the bags with their seals, and gave them to him. And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

10 And Tobit his father made his count every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, he said, ¹Is he perchance detained? or is Gabael perchance dead, and there is no man to give him the money? And he was sorely grieved. But his wife said unto him, The child hath perished, seeing he tarrieth long; and she began to bewail him, and said, ²I care for nothing, my child, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes. And Tobit saith unto her, Hold thy peace, take no care; he is in good health. And she said unto him, Hold thy peace, deceive me not; my child hath perished. And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the daytime, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and cattle and money; and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

11 After these things Tobias also went his way, blessing God because he had prospered his journey; and he blessed Raguel and Edna his wife. And he went on his way till they drew near unto Nineveh. And Raphael said to Tobias, Knowest thou not, brother, how thou didst leave thy father? Let us run forward before thy wife, and prepare the house. But take in thy hand the gill of the fish. And they went their way, and the dog went after them. And Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him. And Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

9 And Anna ran unto him, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, and took hold of his father: and he strake the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. But when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell up on his neck. And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are 15 all thy holy angels; for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

16 And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight. And 17 Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which were at Nineveh.

18 And Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: and Tobias' wedding feast was kept seven days with great gladness.

12 And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have his wages, and thou must give him more.

2 And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of those things which I have brought:

3 for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee.

4 And the old man said, It is due unto him. And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all

6 that ye have brought. Then he called them both privily, and said unto them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him

7 thanks. It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. Do good,

8 and evil shall not find you. Good is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give

9 alms than to lay up gold: alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life;

10 but they that sin are enemies to their own life. Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the 12 works of God. And now, when thou didst pray, and Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead,

13 I was with thee likewise. And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with 14 thee. And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter in 15 law. I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

16 And they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they were afraid.

17 And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God

18 for ever. For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him for ever.

19 All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but

20 ye saw a vision. And now give God thanks: because I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the 21 things which have been done. And they rose up, and saw him no more.

22 And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

13 And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,

Blessed is God that liveth for ever, And blessed is his kingdom.

2 For he scourgeth, and sheweth mercy:

He leadeth down to ¹ the grave, and bringeth up again:

And there is none that shall escape his hand.

3 Give thanks unto him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel:

For he hath scattered us among them.

4 There declare his greatness, And extol him before all the living:

Because he is our Lord, And God is our Father for ever.

5 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again shew mercy,

And will gather us out of all the nations among whom ye are scattered.

6 If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,

To do truth before him, Then will he turn unto you,

And will not hide his face from you.

And see what he will do with you, And give him thanks with your whole mouth,

And bless the Lord of righteousness,

And exalt the everlasting King.

I in the land of my captivity give him thanks,

And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:

14 And Tobit made an end of giving 2 thanks. And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again:
and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.

3 Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son,
and said unto him,
My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart 4 out of this life. Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall 5 be desolate for a time; and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, and they shall build the house, but not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets 6 spake concerning it. And all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God 7 truly, and shall bury their idols. And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our 8 brethren. And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which the prophet Jonah spake shall 9 surely come to pass. But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous, that 10 it may be well with thee. And bury me decently, and thy mother with me;

and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh.
See, my child, what Aman did to Achi-acharus that nourished him, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the 11 snare, and perished. And now, my children, consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.
And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and he buried him 12 magnificently. And when Anna died, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to Ecbatana unto Raguel his fa-13 ther in law, and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's.

14 And he died at Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty 15 years old. And before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

JUDITH.

1 In the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, who reigned over the Assyrians in Nineveh, the great city; in the days of Arphaxad, who reigned over the Medes in Ecbatana, 2 and built at Ecbatana and round about it walls of hewn stones three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits; 3 and set the towers thereof at the gates thereof, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation 4 threescore cubits; and made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty hosts, and the setting in array of his footmen: 5 even in those days king Nebuchadnezzar made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain: this plain is in the 6 borders of Ragau. And there came to meet him all that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and in the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymæans; and many nations of the sons of Chelod assembled themselves to the battle.

7 And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, to those that dwelt in Cilicia and Damascus and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt over against the 8 sea coast, and to those among the nations that were of Carmel and Gilead, and to the higher Galilee and the great 9 plain of Esdraelon, and to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Kadesh, and the river of Egypt, and Tahpanhes, and Rameses, and all the land of 10 Goshen, until thou comest above Tanis and Memphis, and to all that dwelt in Egypt, until thou comest to the bor- 11 ders of Ethiopia. And all they that dwelt in all the land made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and went not with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man; and they turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace.

12 And Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding wroth with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judæa, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of the two seas. And he set the battle in array with his host against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to fight all the host of Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all 14 his chariots; and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned 15 the beauty thereof into shame. And he took Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, 16 unto this day. And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

2 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the 2 land, even as he spake. And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the land out of his 3 own mouth. And they decreed to destroy all flesh which followed not the 4 word of his mouth. And it came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his host, which was next after himself, and said unto him,

5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of all the earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their strength, unto a hundred and twenty thousand footmen; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand: 6 and thou shalt go forth against all the west country, because they disobeyed 7 the commandment of my mouth. And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare earth and water; because I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my host, and I will give them for a spoil unto them: 8 and their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled 9 with their dead, till it overflow: and I will lead them captives to the ut-10 most parts of all the earth. But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts; and ¹if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the 11 day of their reproof. But as for them that are disobedient, thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy 12 land. For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I 13 will do this with my hand. And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

14 And Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and the captains and offi-15 cers of the host of Asshur; and he numbered chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horse-16 back; and he ranged them, as a great 17 multitude is ordered for the war. And he took camels and asses and mules for their baggage, an exceeding great multitude; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their pro-18 vision; and great store of victual for every man, and exceeding much gold and silver out of the king's house.

19 And he went forth, he and all his host,
on their journey, to go before king Nebuchadnezzar, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots and horsemen and chosen 20 footmen. And a great company of sundry nations went forth with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for they could not be numbered by reason of their multitude.

21 And they departed out of Nineveh three days' journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and encamped from Bec-tileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia.

22 And he took all his host, his footmen and horsemen and chariots, and went away from thence into the hill coun-23 try, and destroyed Put and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Ishmael, which were over against the wilderness to the south of the land of the Chellians.

24 And he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and brake down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until 25 thou comest to the sea. And he took possession of the borders of Cilicia, and slew all that resisted him,
and came unto the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over 26 against Arabia. And he compassed about all the children of Midian, and set on fire their tents, and spoiled 27 their sheepcotes. And he went down into the plain of Damascus in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire

all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwelt on the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

3 And they sent unto him messengers
2 with words of peace, saying, Behold, we the servants of Nebuchadnezzar
the great king lie before thee: use us 3 as it is pleasing in thy sight. Behold, our dwellings, and all our country, and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks and herds, and all the sheep-cotes of our tents, lie before thy face:
4 use them as it may please thee. Behold, even our cities and they that dwell in them are thy servants: come and deal with them as it is good in 5 thine eyes. And the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him
according to these words.

6 And he came down toward the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out 7 of them chosen men for allies. And they received him, they and all the country round about them, with gar-8 lands and dances and timbrels. And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given unto him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes 9 should call upon him as god. And he came towards Esdraelon nigh unto Dotæa, which is over against the 10 great ridge of Judæa. And he encamped between Geba and Scythopo-lis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his host.

4 And the children of Israel that dwelt in Judæa heard all that Holofernes
the chief captain of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and 2 destroyed them utterly. And they were exceedingly afraid before him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God:
3 because they were newly come up from the captivity, and all the people of Judæa were lately gathered together; and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

4 And they sent into every coast of Samaria, and to Konaë, and to Beth-horon, and Belmair, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the 5 valley of Salem; and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: for their fields were newly reaped. 6 And Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomesthaim, which is over against Esdraelon toward the plain 7 that is nigh unto Dothaim, charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judæa, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the 8 most. And the children of Israel did as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their 10 souls. They, and their wives, and their babes, and their cattle, and every sojourner and hireling and servant bought with their money, put 11 sackcloth upon their loins. And every man and woman of Israel, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord; and they put sackcloth about 12 the altar: and they cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations 13 to rejoice at. And the Lord heard their voice, and looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judæa and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of 14 the Lord Almighty. And Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt about with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the 15 people; and they had ashes on their mitres: and they cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

5 And it was told Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid 2 impediments in the plains: and he was exceeding wroth, and he called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors 3 of the sea coast, and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the 4 leader of their army; and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant.

6 This people are descended of the Chaldeans: and they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of the 8 Chaldeans. And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and so 9 journeyed there many days. And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and were increased with gold and silver, and with exceed-

10 ing much cattle. And they went down into Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number 11 their nation. And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low, making them to labour in brick, 12 and made them slaves. And they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: and the Egyptians cast them 13 out of their sight. And God dried up 14 the Red sea before them, and brought them into the way of Sinai, and Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all 15 that dwelt in the wilderness. And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the 16 hill country. And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Gergashites, and they dwelt in that country many days.

 17 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with 18 them. But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken
 19 by their adversaries. And now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill
 20 country: for it was desolate. And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome
 21 them. But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.
 22 And it came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.
 23 For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might 24 to make the battle strong. Wherefore now we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

6 And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the host of Asshur said unto Achior and to all the children of ¹ Moab before all the people of the aliens,

2 And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of ¹ Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel, because their God will defend them? And
 3 who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall smite them as one man; and they shall not
 4 sustain the might of our horses. For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, saith king Nebuchadnezzar, lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that
 2 I have spoken shall not be in vain.

5 But thou, Achior, hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those 6 that came out of Egypt. And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I shall return.
 7 And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the ascents:
 8 and thou shalt not perish, till thou
 9 be destroyed with them. And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words shall fall to the ground.

10 And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him back to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands
 11 of the children of Israel. And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came unto the fountains that 12 were under Bethulia. And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against 13 them. And they gat them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away unto 14 their lord. But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city;
 15 which were in those days Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniell, and 16 Charmis the son of Melchiel. And they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Ozias asked him of that which had hap-
 17 pened: and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel.
 18 And the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried, saying, O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this 20 day. And they comforted Achior, and 21 praised him exceedingly. And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

- 7 But the next day Holofernes gave command to all his army, and to all his people which were come to be his allies, that they should remove their camp toward Bethulia, and take beforehand the ascents of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. And every mighty man of them removed that day, and the host of their men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and the men that were afoot among them, an exceeding great multitude. And they encamped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against Esdraelon.
- 4 But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were troubled exceedingly, and said every one to his neighbour, Now shall these men lick up the face of all the earth; and neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, shall be able to bear their weight. And every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.
- 6 But on the second day Holofernes led out all his horse in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia, and viewed the ascents to their city, and searched out the fountains of the waters, and seized upon them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and himself departed to his people.
- 8 And there came unto him all the rulers of the children of Esau, and all the leaders of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said,
- 9 Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thy host.
- 10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.
- 11 And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man
- 12 of thy people perish. Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain: because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will

- encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.
- 16 And their words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and in the sight of all his servants; and he appointed to do as they had spoken. And the army of the children of Ammon removed, and with them five thousand of the children of Asshur, and they encamped in the valley, and seized upon the waters and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel. And the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and encamped in the hill country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians encamped in the plain, and covered all the face of the land; and their tents and baggage were pitched upon it in a great crowd, and they were an exceeding great multitude.
- 19 And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them. And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia. And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: for they gave them drink by measure. And their young children were out of heart, and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. And all the people were gathered together against Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,
- 24 God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur.
- 25 And now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his 27 host. For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death.

28 We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the 30 Lord God with a loud voice. And Ozias said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God shall turn his mercy toward us;

31 for he will not forsake us utterly. But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to 32 your words. And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

8 And in those days Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Eliah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadal, the son of Israel.

2 And her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family, and he died in the days of barley harvest.

3 For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Dothaim and

4 Balamon. And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four

5 months. And she made her a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins; and the garments of her widowhood were

6 upon her. And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel.

7 And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them.

8 And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

9 And she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, because they fainted for lack of water; and Judith heard all the words that Ozias spake unto them, how he sware to them that he would deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days.

10 And she sent her maid, that was over all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, the elders

11 of her city. And they came unto her, and she said unto them,

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the 12 Lord turn to help you. And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among

13 the children of men? And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never

14 know anything. For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God

15 to anger. For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face

16 of our enemies. But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by in-

17 treaty. Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will

18 hear our voice, if it please him. For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was

19 in the former days; for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with

20 a great fall before our enemies. But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not

21 despise us, nor any of our race. For if we be taken so, all Judæa shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he require the profanation there-

22 of. And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us

23 for a possession. For our bondage shall not be ordered to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour. And now, brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers also. Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he tried Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

28 And Ozias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break.

31 And now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. And Judith said unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. But ye shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do. And Ozias and the rulers said unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies. And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

9 But Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and the incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried unto the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father Simeon, into whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her reproach; for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and they did so: wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, and their bed,¹ which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and smotest the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones; and gavest their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with zeal for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that I am a widow. For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgement is with foreknowledge. For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the strength of their footmen; they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name. Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword the horn of thine altar.

9 Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman. For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope. Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, Creator of the waters, King of every creature, hear thou my prayer: and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of thy children. And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

10 And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these 2 words, that she rose up where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, 3 and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with rich ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was wont to be clad in the days of the life of Ma- 4 nasses her husband. And she took sandals for her feet, and put her chains about her, and her bracelets, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to beguile the eyes of all men that 5 should see her. And she gave her maid a leathern bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn and lumps of figs and 1 fine bread; and she packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her.

6 And they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing thereby Ozias, and the elders of 7 the city, Chabris and Charmis. But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very exceedingly, and said unto 8 her, The God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thy purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. 9 And she worshipped God, and said unto them, Command that they open unto me the gate of the city, and I will go forth to accomplish the things whereof ye spake with me. And they commanded the young men to open 10 unto her, as she had spoken: and they did so.

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could 11 see her no more. And they went straight onward in the valley: and the 12 watch of the Assyrians met her; and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; because they are about to 13 be given you to be consumed: and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will shew before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his 14 men one person, nor one life. Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, the beauty thereof was exceeding marvellous in their eyes, and they said unto her, 15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into 16 his hands. But 2 when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall entreat 17 thee well. And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

18 And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and compassed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, 19 until they told him of her. And they marvelled at her beauty, and marvelled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbour, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to 20 deceive the whole earth. And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth and brought her 21 into the tent. And Holofernes was resting upon his bed under the canopy, which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious 22 stones. And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going 23 before him. But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

11 And Holofernes said unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, 2 the king of all the earth. And now, if thy people that dwelleth in the hill country had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done 3 these things to themselves. And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and 4 hereafter: for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall entreat thee well, as is done unto the servants of 5 king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord this night. And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. As Nebuchadnezzar king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. And now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken before thee. Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against thy God. And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do wickedness. Since their virtuels failed them, and all their water was scant, they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: and they are resolved to spend the firstfruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from the senate. And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, wherewith all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: and I will come and shew it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. And I will lead thee through the midst of Judæa, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee. And her words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and of all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, for beauty of face, and wisdom of words. And Holofernes said unto her, God did well to send thee before the people, that might should be in our hands, and destruction among them that lightly regarded my lord. And now thou art beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: for if thou shalt do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth. And he commanded to bring her in where his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the things that are come with me. And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. And Judith said unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend those things that be with me, until the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined. And the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up toward the morning watch, and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer thy servant to go forth unto prayer. And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself at the fountain of water in the camp. And when she came up, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children

9 of his people. And she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.

10 And it came to pass on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of 11 the officers to the banquet. And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us.

12 For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to

13 scorn. And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait

14 in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death.

15 And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.

16 And Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.

17 And Holofernes said unto her, Drink

18 now, and be merry with us. And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was 19 born. And she took and ate and drank before him what her servant had prepared. And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

13 But when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary,

2 because the feast had been long. But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed:

3 for he was overflown with wine. And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words.

4 And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands for 5 the exaltation of Jerusalem. For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to do the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us.

6 And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his semitar from thence;

7 and she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of

8 Israel, this day. And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and

9 took away his head from him, and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head

10 to her maid; and she put it in her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath

12 done even this day. And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together the elders of the city.

13 And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and com-

14 passed them round about. And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our 15 enemies by my hand this night. And she took forth the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him by the hand of a woman.

16 And as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me,

17 to defile and shame me. And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of 18 thy people. And Ozias said unto her, Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the 19 prince of our enemies. For thy hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of 20 God for ever. And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

14 And Judith said unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement
2 of your wall. And it shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, ye shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and ye shall set a captain over them, as though ye would go down to the plain toward the watch of the children of Asshur; and
3 ye shall not go down. And these shall take up their panoplies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: and fear shall fall upon them, and 4 they shall flee before your face. And ye, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and over-
5 throw them as they go. But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to death.

6 And they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; but when he came, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit
7 failed. But when¹ they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and did reverence unto her, and said, Blessed art thou in every tent of Judah, and in every nation, which hearing thy name
8 shall be troubled. And now tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. And Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time
9 that she spake unto them. But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joy-10 ful noise in their city. But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel, unto this day.

11 But as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the ascents of the moun-
12 tain. But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent hither and thither to their leaders; but they went to their captains and tribunes, 13 and to every one of their rulers. And they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may 14 be utterly destroyed. And Bagoas went in, and knocked at the outer door of the tent; for he supposed that he was sleeping with Judith.

15 But when none hearkened to him, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been 16 taken from him. And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and rent his gar-
17 ments. And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the peo-
18 ple, and cried aloud, The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground, and his head is not 19 on him. But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.

15 And when they that were in the tents heard, they were amazed at the
2 thing that was come to pass. And trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man durst abide any more in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country.

3 And they that had encamped in the hill country round about Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among 4 them, rushed out upon them. And Ozias sent to Betomasthaim, and Bebai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to every coast of Israel, such as should tell concerning the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy 5 them. But when the children of Israel heard, they all fell upon them with one accord, and smote them unto Chobai: yea, and in like manner also they of Jerusalem and of all the hill country came (for men had told them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in Gilead and in Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and the 6 borders thereof. But the residue, that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and spoiled them, 7 and were enriched exceedingly. But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and gat possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

8 And Joakim the high priest, and the senate of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things which the Lord had shewed to Israel, and to see Judith, 9 and to salute her. But when they came unto her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our 10 race: thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou with the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, 11 So be it. And the people spoiled the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon. 12 And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her; and she took ¹ branches in her hand, and gave to the women 13 that were with her. And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs 16 in their mouths. And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud 2 voices this song of praise. And Judith said,

Begin unto my God with timbrels,
Sing unto my Lord with cymbals:
Tune unto him psalm and praise:
Exalt him, and call upon his name.

3 For the Lord is the God that breaketh the battles:

For in his armies in the midst of the people

He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

4 Asshur came out of the mountains from the north,

He came with ten thousands of his host,

The multitude whereof stopped the torrents,
And their horsemen covered the hills.

5 He said that he would burn up my borders,

And kill my young men with the sword,

And throw my sucking children to the ground,

And give mine infants for a prey,
And make my virgins a spoil.

6 The Almighty Lord brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

7 For their mighty one did not fall by young men,

Neither did sons of the Titans smite him,

Nor did high giants set upon him:
But Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For she put off the apparel of her widowhood

For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,

She anointed her face with ointment,

And bound her hair in a tire,
And took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandal ravished his eye,
And her beauty took his soul prisoner:

The scimitar passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her daring,
And the Medes were daunted at her boldness.

11 Then my lowly ones shouted aloud,
And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear:

They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

12 The sons of damsels pierced them through,
And wounded them as runagates' children;

They perished by the battle of my Lord.

13 I will sing unto my God a new song:
O Lord, thou art great and glorious,

Marvellous in strength, invincible.
Let all thy creation serve thee:

14 For thou spakest, and they were made,
Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it builded them,

And there is none that shall resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters,

And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence:

But thou art yet merciful to them that fear thee.

16 For all sacrifice is little for a sweet savour,

- And all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to thee:
But he that feareth the Lord is great continually.
- 17 Woe to the nations that rise up against my race:
The Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement,
To put fire and worms in their flesh;
And they shall weep and feel their pain for ever.
- 18 Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their freewill offerings, and their gifts.
- 19 And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord.
- 20 And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith
- 21 remained with them. But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honourable in
- 22 her time in all the land. And many desired her, and no man knew her all the days of her life, from the day that Manasses her husband died and was
- 23 gathered to his people. And she increased in greatness exceedingly; and she waxed old in her husband's house, unto a hundred and five years, and let her maid go free: and she died in Bethulia; and they buried her in the cave
- 24 of her husband Manasses. And the house of Israel mourned for her seven days: and she distributed her goods before she died to all them that were nearest of kin to Manasses her husband, and to them that were nearest
- 25 of her own kindred. And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

PART OF THE TENTH CHAPTER AFTER THE GREEK.

- 10 Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. For I remember the dream¹ which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: and the two dragons are I and Aman: and the nations are those that were assembled
- 9 to destroy the name of the Jews: and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done
- 10 among the nations. Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations.
- 11 And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before God among all the nations. So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance. Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations for ever among his people Israel.

- 11 In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought the epistle of Phurai here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.
- 2² In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semeias, the son of Kiseus, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream; who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the
- 4 king's court; and he was of the captivity, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jechonias king of Judæa; and
- 5 this was his dream: Behold, ³ noise and tumult, thunders and earthquake, and uproar upon the earth:
- 6 and, behold, two great dragons came forth, both of them ready to fight,
- 7 and their cry was great. And at their cry all nations were ready to battle, that they might fight against the 8 righteous nation. And, lo, a day of darkness and gloominess, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great up- 9 roar upon the earth. And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing 1 the evils that should befall them, 10 and were ready to perish. Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a great river, even much water. 11 The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured 12 the glorious. Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare it in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it. 12 And Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, that were 2 keepers of the court. And he heard their communings, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; and he certified the 3 king of them. Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led 4 to execution. And the king wrote these things for a memorial; Mardocheus also wrote concerning these 5 things. So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and 6 for this he gave him gifts. Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus, a Bugean, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

13 ² Now this is the copy of the letter: The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and to the governors that are set under them. 2 After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself alway with equity and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, which is desired of 3 all men. Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and stedfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second 4 place in the kingdom, declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malignant people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually set aside the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot 5 go forward. Seeing then we understand that this nation is alone continually in opposition unto all men, following perversely a life which is strange to our laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not 6 be firmly established: therefore have we commanded, that they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, and is a second father unto us, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year: 7 that they, who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go down to ³ the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble. 8 ⁴ Then Mardocheus made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance 9 all the works of the Lord, and said, O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: 10 for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are 11 beneath the heaven; and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord. 12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to 13 proud Aman. For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his 14 feet. But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, which art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride. 15 And now, O Lord, thou God and King, the God of Abraham, spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy the heritage, that hath 16 been thine from the beginning. Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for 17 thine own self. Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O Lord, and sing praises to thy name: and destroy not the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 And all Israel cried out mightily, because their death was before their 14 eyes. Queen Esther also, being seized as it were with the agony of death, 2 resorted unto the Lord: and laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of the most excellent ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of the ornaments of her joy she covered with 3 her tangled hair. And she prayed unto the Lord, the God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me that am desolate and have no other 4 helper but thee: for my danger is in mine hand. From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all the nations, and our fathers from all their progenitors, for a perpetual inheritance, and didst perform for them whatsoever thou didst promise. And now we have sinned before thee, and thou hast given us into the 7 hands of our enemies, because we glorified their gods: O Lord, thou art

 8 righteous. Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with 9 their idols, that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of 10 thy house, and thine altar, and open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the virtues of ¹ idols, and that a fleshly
 11 king shall be magnified for ever. O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us.
 12 Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the gods, 13 and holder of all dominion. Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that 14 are likeminded with him: but deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other helper
 15 but thee, O Lord. Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon mine head in the days wherein I shew myself. I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. And thine handmaid hath not eaten at Aman's table, neither have I honoured the king's feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink offering. Neither hath thine handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O
 19 Lord, thou God of Abraham. O God, that art mighty above all, hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

15 And upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer, she laid away her garments of service, and put on
 2 her glorious apparel. And being majestically adorned, after she had called upon the all-seeing God and saviour, 3 she took her two maids with her: and upon the one she leaned, as carrying
 4 herself delicately; and the other followed, bearing up her train. And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and right amiable: but her
 6 heart was in anguish for fear. Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones;
 7 and he was very dreadful. Then lifting up his countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the 8 maid that went before. Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, 9 and said unto her, Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good 10 cheer: thou shalt not die, for ² our commandment is for our subjects:

 12 sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, and embraced her, and said, Speak unto 13 me. Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy 14 glory. For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of 15 grace. And as she was speaking, she 16 fell down for faintness. Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.³

6 them in remediless calamities: beguiling with the false deceit of their lewd disposition the innocent good will of 7 princes. Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by more ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in
8 authority. And we must take care for the time to come, to render our kingdom quiet and peaceable for all men,
9 both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that come before our eyes with more equal proceeding. For Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadathus, an alien in truth from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, being as a guest received 11 of us, had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the royal throne.
12 But he, not bearing his high estate, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and our life; having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of Esther the blameless partaker of our kingdom, 14 together with their whole nation. For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the Kingdom of the Persians to the 15 Macedonians. But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live

16 by most just laws: and that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadathus.
18 For he, that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.
19 Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, 20 and ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their 21 affliction. For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the 22 chosen people. And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting:
23 that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with ¹ fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

1 LOVE righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth.

Think ye of the Lord ¹ with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek ye him;

2 Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
And is manifested to them that do not distrust him.

3 For crooked thoughts separate from God;

And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, ² putteth to confusion the foolish:

4 Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.

5 For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit,

And will start away from thoughts that are without understanding,
And will be ³ put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.

6 For ⁴ wisdom is a spirit that loveth man,

And she will not hold a ⁵ blasphemer guiltless for his lips;

Because God beareth witness of his reins,

And is a true overseer of his heart,
And a hearer of his tongue:

7 Because the spirit of the Lord hath filled ⁶ the world.

And that which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.

³ Gr. convicted.

⁴ Some authorities read the spirit of wisdom is loving to man.

⁵ Or, reviler

⁶ Gr. the inhabited earth.

² Gr. convicted.

8 Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen;
¹ Neither shall Justice, when it convicteth, pass him by.

9 For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
 And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
 To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:

10 Because there is an ear of jealousy that listeneth to all things,
 And the noise of murmurings is not hid.

11 Beware then of unprofitable murmuring,
 And refrain your tongue from backbiting;
 Because no secret utterance shall go on its way void,
 And a mouth that beliieth destroyeth a soul.

12 Court not death in the error of your life;
 Neither draw upon yourselves destruction by the works of your hands:

13 Because God made not death;
 Neither delighteth he when the living perish:

14 For he created all things that they might have being:

And ² the generative powers of the world are healthsome,
 And there is no poison of destruction in them:

Nor hath Hades ³ royal dominion upon earth,

15 For righteousness is immortal:

16 But ungodly men by their hands and their words called ⁴ death unto them:

Deeming him a friend they ⁵ consumed away,
 And they made a covenant with him,
 Because they are worthy to be of his portion.

2 For they said ⁶ within themselves, reasoning not aright,
 Short and sorrowful is our life;
 And there is no healing when a man cometh to his end,

And none was ever known that ⁷ gave release from Hades.

2 Because by mere chance were we born,
 And hereafter we shall be as though we had never been:
 Because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,

And ⁸ while our heart beateth reason is a spark,

3 Which being extinguished, the body shall be turned into ashes,
 And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;

4 And our name shall be forgotten in time,
 And no man shall remember our works;

And our life shall pass away as the traces of a cloud,
 And shall be scattered as is a mist,
 When it is chased by the beams of the sun,

And ⁹ overcome by the heat thereof.
 5 For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow,

And ¹⁰ our end retreateth not;
 Because it is fast sealed, and none ¹¹ turneth it back.

6 Come therefore and let us enjoy the good things ¹² that now are;
 And let us use the creation ¹³ with all our soul ¹⁴ as youth's possession.

7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes;
 And let no flower of ¹⁵ spring pass us by:

8 Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds, before they be withered:

9 Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry:
 Everywhere let us leave tokens of our mirth:

Because this is our portion, and our lot is this.

10 Let us oppress the righteous poor;
 Let us not spare the widow,
 Nor reverence the hairs of the old man gray for length of years.

11 But let our strength be to us a law of righteousness;
 For that which is weak is ¹⁶ found to be of no service.

12 But let us lie in wait for the righteous man,

Because he is of disservice to us,
 And is contrary to our works,
 And upbraideth us with sins against ¹⁷ the law,
 And layeth to our charge sins against our discipline.

13 He professeth to have knowledge of God,
 And nameth himself ¹⁸ servant of the Lord.

14 He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.

15 He is grievous unto us even to behold,
 Because his life is unlike other men's,
 And his paths are of strange fashion.

16 We were accounted of him as base metal,
 And he abstaineth from our ways as from uncleannesses.

The latter end of the righteous he calleth happy;
 And he vaunteth that God is his father.

17 Let us see if his words be true,
 And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.

18 For if the righteous man is God's son, he will uphold him,
 And he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.

19 With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,
 That we may learn his gentleness,

For ¹ he shall be visited according to his words.

21 Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;

For their ² wickedness blinded them,

22 And they knew not the mysteries of God,

Neither hoped they for wages of holiness,

Nor did they judge that there is a prize for blameless souls.

23 Because God created man for incorruption,

And made him an image of his own ³ proper being;

24 But by the envy of the devil death entered into the world,

And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

3 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,

And no torment shall touch them.

2 In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;

And their departure was accounted to be their hurt,

3 And their journeying away from us to be their ruin;

But they are in peace.

4 For even if in the sight of men they be punished,

Their hope is full of immortality;

5 And having borne a little chastening, they shall receive great good;

Because God made trial of them, and found them worthy of himself.

6 As gold in the furnace he proved them,

And as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.

7 And in the time of their visitation they shall shine forth,

And as sparks among stubble they shall run to and fro.

8 They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples;

And the Lord shall reign over them for evermore.

9 They that trust on him shall understand truth,

And ⁴ the faithful shall abide with him in love;

Because grace and mercy are to his chosen.

10 But the ungodly shall be requited even as they reasoned,

They which lightly regarded ⁵ the righteous man, and revolted from the Lord;

11 (For he that setteth at nought wisdom and discipline is miserable;)

And void is their hope and their toils unprofitable,

And useless are their works:

12 Their wives are foolish, and wicked are their children;

13 Accursed is their begetting.

Because happy is the barren that is undefiled,

She who hath not conceived in transgression;

She shall have fruit when God visiteth souls.

14 And happy is the eunuch which hath wrought no lawless deed with his hands,

Nor imagined wicked things against the Lord;

For there shall be given him for his faithfulness ⁶ a peculiar favour,

And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord more delightful than wife or children.

15 For good labours have fruit of great renown;

And the root of understanding cannot fail.

16 But children of adulterers shall not come to maturity,

And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.

17 For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,

And at the last their old age shall be without honour.

18 And if they die quickly, they ⁷ shall have no hope,

Nor in the day of decision shall they have consolation.

19 For ⁸ the end of an unrighteous generation is alway grievous.

4 Better than this is childlessness with virtue;

For in the memory ⁹ of virtue is immortality;

Because it is recognised both before God and before men.

2 When it is present, men imitate it;

And they long after it when it is departed;

And ¹⁰ throughout all time it marcheth crowned in triumph,

Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.

3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall be of no profit,

And ¹¹ with bastard ¹² slips they shall not strike deep root,

Nor shall they establish a sure hold.

4 For even if these ¹³ put forth boughs and flourish for a season,

Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,

And by the violence of winds they shall be rooted out.

5 Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity,

And their fruit shall be useless,

Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.

7 But a righteous man, though he die before his time, shall be at rest.

8 (For honourable old age is not that which standeth in length of time, Nor is its measure given by number of years :

9 But understanding is gray hairs unto men,

And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)

10 Being found well-pleasing unto God he was beloved of him,

And while living among sinners he was translated :

11 He was caught away, lest ¹ wickedness should change his understanding,

Or guile deceive his soul.

12 (For the bewitching of naughtiness bedimmeth the things which are good,

And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)

13 Being made perfect in a little while, He fulfilled long ² years ;

14 For his soul was pleasing unto the Lord :

Therefore ³ hastened he out of the midst of wickedness.

15 But as for the peoples, seeing and understanding not,

Neither laying ⁴ this to heart,

That grace and mercy are with his chosen,

And that ⁵ he visiteth his holy ones : —

16 But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living,

And youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age ;

17 For the ungodly shall see a wise man's end,

And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him,

And for what he safely kept him : —

18 They shall see, and they shall despise ;

But them the Lord shall laugh to scorn.

And after this they shall become a dishonoured carcase,

And ⁶ a reproach among the dead for ever :

19 Because he shall dash them speechless to the ground,

And shall shake them from the foundations,

And they shall ⁷ lie utterly waste, and they shall be in anguish,

And their memory shall perish.

20 They shall come, ⁸ when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear ;

And their lawless deeds shall convict them to their face.

5 Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness

Before the face of them that afflicted him,

And them that make his labours of no account.

2 When they see ⁹ it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear,

And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation.

3 They shall say ¹⁰ within themselves repenting,

And for distress of spirit shall they groan,

This was he whom aforetime we had in derision,

And made a parable of ¹¹ reproach :

4 We fools accounted his life madness, And his end without honour :

5 How was he numbered among sons of God ?

And how is his lot among saints ?

6 Verily we went astray from the way of truth,

And the light of righteousness shined not for us,

And the sun rose not for us.

7 We ¹² took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction,

And we journeyed through trackless deserts,

But the way of the Lord we knew not.

8 What did our arrogance profit us ?

And what good have riches ¹³ and vaunting brought us ?

9 Those things all passed away as a shadow,

And as a message that runneth by :

10 As a ship passing through the billowy water,

Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no trace to be found,

Neither pathway of its keel in the billows :

11 Or as when a bird flieth through the air,

No token of her passage is found,

But the light wind, lashed with the stroke of her pinions,

And rent asunder ¹⁴ with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through,

And afterwards no sign of her coming is found therein :

12 Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark,

The air parted closeth up again immediately,

So that men know not where it passed through :

13 So we also, as soon as we were born, ¹⁵ ceased to be ;

And of virtue we had no sign to shew, But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.

14 Because the hope of the ungodly man is as chaff carried by the wind,

And ¹⁶ as ¹⁷ foam vanishing before a tempest ;

And is scattered as smoke is scattered by the wind,

And passeth by as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

16 Therefore shall they receive the crown of royal dignity
And the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand;
Because with his right hand shall he cover them,
And with his arm shall he shield them.

17 He shall take his jealousy as complete armour,
And shall make the whole creation his weapons ¹ for vengeance on his enemies:

18 He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate,
And shall array himself with judgement unfeigned as with a helmet;

19 He shall take holiness as an invincible shield,

20 And he shall sharpen stern wrath for a sword:

And the world shall go forth with him to fight against his insensate foes.

21 Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim,
And from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they leap to the mark.

22 And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath;
The water of the sea shall be angered against them,
And rivers shall sternly overwhelm them;

23 A mighty blast shall encounter them,
And as a tempest shall it winnow them away:

And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate,
And their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6 Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand;

Learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth:

2 Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people,
And make your boast ² in multitudes of nations.

3 Because your dominion was given you from the Lord,
And your sovereignty from the Most High;

Who shall search out your works,
And shall make inquisition of your counsels:

4 Because being officers of his kingdom ye did not judge aright,
Neither kept ye ³ law, nor walked after the counsel of God.

5 Awfully and swiftly shall he come upon you;

Because a stern judgement befalleth them that be in high place:

6 For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
But mighty men shall be ⁴ searched out mightily.

7 For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself for any man's person,
Neither will he reverence greatness;
Because it is he that made both small and great,
And alike he taketh thought for all;

8 But ⁵ strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.

9 Unto you therefore, O princes, are my words,
That ye may learn wisdom and ⁶ fall not from the right way.

10 For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall themselves be ⁷ hallowed;
And they that have been taught them shall find what to answer;

11 Set your desire therefore on my words;
Long for them, and ye shall be ⁸ trained by their discipline.

12 Wisdom is radiant and fadeth not away;
And easily is she beheld of them that love her,
And found of them that seek her.

13 She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.

14 He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil,
For he shall find her sitting at his gates.

15 For to think upon her is perfectness of understanding,
And he that watcheth for her sake shall quickly be free from care.

16 Because she goeth about, herself seeking them that are worthy of her,
And in their paths she appeareth unto them graciously,
And in every purpose she meeteth them.

17 For ⁹ her ¹⁰ true beginning is desire of discipline;
And the care for discipline is love of her;

18 And love of her is observance of her laws;
And to give heed to her laws confirmeth incorruption;

19 And incorruption ¹¹ bringeth near unto God;

20 So then desire of wisdom promoteth to a Kingdom.

21 If therefore ye delight in thrones and sceptres, ye princes of peoples, Honour wisdom, that ye may reign for ever.

But I will trace her out ¹ from the beginning of creation,
And bring the knowledge of her into clear light,

Because ³ envy shall have no fellowship with wisdom.
²⁴ But a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,
And an understanding king is tranquillity to his people.
²⁵ Wherefore be disciplined by my words, and thereby shall ye profit.

⁷ I myself also am ⁴ mortal, like to all,
And am sprung from one born of the earth, the man first formed,
² And in the womb of a mother was I moulded into flesh in the time of ten months,
Being compacted in blood of the seed of man and pleasure that came with sleep.
³ And I also, when I was born, drew in the common air,
And fell upon the ⁵ kindred earth,
Uttering, like all, for my first voice, the selfsame wail:
⁴ In swaddling clothes was I nursed, and ⁶ with watchful cares.
⁵ For no king had any other first beginning;
⁶ But all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.
⁷ For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given me:
I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.
⁸ I preferred her before sceptres and thrones,
And riches I esteemed nothing in comparison of her.
⁹ Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem,
Because all the gold of the earth in her presence is a little sand,
And silver shall be accounted as clay before her.
¹⁰ Above health and comeliness I loved her,
And I chose to have her rather than light,
Because her bright shining is never laid to sleep.
¹¹ But with her there came to me all good things together,
And in her hands innumerable riches:
¹² And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leadeth them;
Though I knew not that she was the ⁷ mother of them.
¹³ As I learned without guile, I impart without grudging;
I do not hide her riches.
¹⁴ For she is unto men a treasure that faileth not,
And they that use it ⁸ obtain friendship with God,

Commended to him ⁹ by the gifts which they through discipline present to him.

¹⁵ But to me may God give to speak ¹⁰ with judgement,
And to conceive thoughts worthy of what ¹¹ hath been given me;
Because himself is one that guideth even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.
¹⁶ For in his hand are both we and our words;
All understanding, and all acquaintance with divers crafts.
¹⁷ For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,
To know the constitution of the world, and the operation of the elements;
¹⁸ The beginning and end and middle of times,
The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,
¹⁹ The circuits of years and the ¹² positions of stars;
²⁰ The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,
The violences of ¹³ winds and the thoughts of men,
The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:
²¹ All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,
²² For she that is the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,

¹⁴ Alone in kind, manifold, Subtil, freely moving,
Clear in utterance, unpolluted,
Distinct, unharmed,
Loving what is good, keen, un hindered,

²³ Beneficent, loving toward man,
Stedfast, sure, free from care,
All-powerful, all-surveying,
And penetrating through all spirits
That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:
²⁴ For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;
Yea, she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.
²⁵ For she is a ¹⁵ breath of the power of God,
And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;
Therefore can nothing defiled find entrance into her.
²⁶ For she is an effulgence from everlasting light,
And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,
And an image of his goodness.
²⁷ And she, being one, hath power to do all things;
And remaining in herself, reneweth all things:

¹⁵ Gr. vapour

And from generation to generation passing into holy souls
She maketh men friends of God and prophets.

28 For nothing doth God love save him that dwelleth with wisdom.

29 For she is fairer than the sun,
And above ¹all the constellations of the stars:

Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;

30 For ²to the light of day succeedeth night,

But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

8 But she ³reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,

And ordereth all things ⁴graciously.

2 Her I loved and sought out from my youth,

And I sought to take her for my bride,

And I became enamoured of her beauty.

3 She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,
And the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.

4 For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,

And she ⁵chooseth out for him his works.

5 But if riches are a desired possession
in life,

What is richer than wisdom, which worketh all things?

6 ⁶And if understanding worketh,
Who more than ⁷wisdom is an arti-
ficer of the things that are?

7 And if a man loveth righteousness, ⁸The fruits of wisdom's labour are virtues,

For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;

And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.

8 And if a man longeth even for much experience,

She knoweth ⁹the things of old, and ¹⁰divineth the things to come:

She understandeth subtilties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings:

She foreseeth signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

9 I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me,

Knowing that she is one who would ¹¹give me good thoughts for counsel,

And ¹²encourage me in cares and grief.

10 Because of her I shall have glory
among multitudes,

And honour in the sight of elders,
though I be young.

11 I shall be found of a quick conceit
when I give judgement,

And in the presence of ¹³princes I shall be admired.

12 When I am silent, they shall wait for
me;

And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;

And if I continue speaking, they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.

13 Because of her I shall have immortality,

And leave behind an eternal memory
to them that come after me.

14 I shall govern peoples,

And nations shall be subjected to
me.

15 Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me:

Among my ¹⁴people I shall shew myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.

16 When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;

For converse with her hath no bitterness,

And to live with her hath no pain, but gladness and joy.

17 When I considered these things in myself,

And took thought in my heart how that in kinship unto wisdom is immortality,

18 And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labours of her hands is wealth that faileth not,

And in ¹⁵assiduous communing with her is understanding.

And great renown in having fellowship with her words,

I went about seeking how to take her unto myself.

19 Now I was ¹⁶a child of parts, and a good soul fell to my lot;

20 Nay rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.

21 But perceiving that I could not otherwise ¹⁷possess wisdom except God gave her me

(Yea and to know ¹⁸by whom the grace is given, this too came of understanding),

I pleaded with the Lord and besought
him,

And with my whole heart I said,

9 O God of the fathers, and ¹⁹Lord who keepest thy mercy,

Who madest all things ²⁰by thy word;

2 And by thy wisdom thou formedst
man,

That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,

3 And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,

And execute judgement in uprightness of soul;

4 Give me wisdom, her that sitteth by thee on thy ²¹throne;

And reject me not from among thy

5 Because I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,
A man weak and short-lived,
And of small power to understand judgement and laws.

6 For even if a man be perfect among the sons of men,
Yet if the wisdom that cometh from thee be not with him, he shall be held in no account.

7 Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
And to do judgement for thy sons and daughters.

8 Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
And ¹ an altar in the city of thy ² habitation,
A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst aforehand from the beginning.

9 And with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,
And was present when thou wast making the world,
And which understandeth what is pleasing in thine eyes,
And what is right ³ according to thy commandments.

10 Send her forth out of the holy heavens,
And from the throne of thy glory bid her come,
That being present with me she may toil with me,
And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.

11 For she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof,
And in my doings she shall guide me in ways of soberness,
And she shall guard me in her glory.

12 And so shall my works be acceptable,
And I shall judge thy people righteously,
And I shall be worthy of my father's ⁴ throne.

13 For what man shall know the counsel of God?
Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?

14 For the thoughts of mortals are ⁵ timorous,
And our devices are prone to fail.

15 For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,
And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that ⁶ is full of cares.

16 And hardly do we ⁷ divine the things that are on earth,
And the things that are close at hand we find with labour;
But the things that are in the heavens who ever yet traced out?

17 And who ever gained knowledge of thy counsel, except thou ⁸ gavest wisdom,
And sentest thy holy spirit ⁹ from on high?

18 And it was thus that the ways of them which are on earth were corrected,

And men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee;
And through wisdom were they saved.

10¹⁰ Wisdom guarded to the end the first formed father of the world, that was created alone,
And delivered him out of his own transgression,

2 And gave him strength to get dominion over all things.

3 But when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger,
He perished himself in the rage wherewith he slew his brother.

4 And when for his cause the earth was drowning with a flood,
Wisdom again saved it,
Guiding the righteous man's course by a poor piece of wood.

5 Moreover, when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded,

¹⁰ Wisdom knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless unto God,
And kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

6 While the ungodly were perishing, ¹⁰ wisdom delivered a righteous man,
When he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven on ¹¹ Pentapolis.

7 To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesseth,
And plants bearing fair fruit that cometh not to ripeness;
Yea and a ¹² disbelieving soul hath a memorial there, a pillar of salt still standing.

8 For having passed wisdom by,
Not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,

But they also left behind them ¹³ for human life a monument of their folly;

To the end that ¹⁴ where they ¹⁵ went astray they might fail even to be unseen:

9 But wisdom delivered out of troubles those that waited on her.

10 When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, ¹⁰ wisdom guided him in straight paths;
She shewed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things;
She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labour;

Ps. cxiv.
8.

11 When in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him,
She stood by him and made him rich;
12 She guarded him from enemies,
And from those that lay in wait she kept him safe,
And over his sore conflict she watched as judge,
That he might know that godliness is more powerful than ¹ all.

13 When a righteous man was sold, ² wisdom forsook him not,
But ³ from sin she delivered him;
She went down with him into a dungeon,

14 And in bonds she left him not,
Till she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom,
And authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him;
She shewed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him,
And gave him eternal glory.

15 ⁴ Wisdom delivered a holy people and a blameless seed from a nation of oppressors.

16 She entered into the soul of a servant of the Lord,
And withstood terrible kings in wonders and signs.

17 She rendered unto holy men a reward of their toils;
She guided them along a marvellous way,
And became unto them a covering in the day-time,
And a flame of stars through the night.

18 She brought them over the Red sea,
And led them through much water;

19 But their enemies she drowned,
And out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.

20 Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly;
And they sang praise to thy holy name, O Lord,
And extolled with one accord thy hand that fought for them;

21 Because wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb,
And made the tongues of babes to speak clearly.

11 She prospered their works in the hand of a holy prophet.

2 They journeyed through a desert without inhabitant,
And in trackless regions they pitched their tents.

3 They withstood enemies, and ⁵ repelled foes.

4 They thirsted, and they called upon thee,
And there was given them water out of ⁶ the ⁷ flinty rock,

And healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.

5 For by what things their foes were punished,

By these they in their need were benefited.

6 ⁸ When the enemy were troubled with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain,

7 To rebuke the decree for the slaying of babes,

Thou gavest them abundant water beyond all hope,

8 Having shewn them by ⁹ the thirst which they had suffered how thou didst punish the adversaries.

9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened,

They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath:

10 For these, as a father, admonishing them, thou didst prove;

But those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.

11 Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;

12 For a double grief took hold on them, And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.

13 For when they heard that through their own punishments the others ¹⁰ had been benefited,

They felt the presence of the Lord;

14 For him who long before was ¹¹ cast forth and exposed they left off mocking:

In the last issue of what came to pass ¹² they marvelled,

Having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.

15 But in requital of the senseless imaginings of their unrighteousness, Wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin,

Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;

16 That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.

17 For thine all-powerful hand,
That created the world out of formless matter,

Lacked not means to send upon them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions.

18 Or ¹³ new-created wild beasts, full of rage, of unknown kind,

Either breathing out a blast of fiery breath,

Or blowing forth from their nostrils noisome smoke,

Or flashing dreadful sparkles from their eyes;

19 Which had power not only to consume them by their ¹⁴ violence,

But to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.

20 Yea and without these might they have fallen by a single breath, Being pursued by Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of thy power.
But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.

21 For to be greatly strong is thine at all times;
And the might of thine arm who shall withstand?

22 Because the whole world before thee is as ¹ a grain ² in a balance, And as a drop of dew that at morning cometh down upon the earth.

23 But thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things,
And thou overlookest the sins of men to the end they may repent.

24 For thou lovest all things that are, And abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make;
For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.

25 And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it? Or that which was not called by thee, how would it have been preserved?

26 But thou sparest all things, because they are thine,
O Sovereign Lord, thou lover of men's ³ lives;

12 For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.

2 Wherefore thou convictest by little and little them that ⁴ fall from the right way,

And, putting them in remembrance by the very things wherein they sin, dost thou admonish them,
That escaping from their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

3 For verily the old inhabitants of thy holy land,

4 Hating them because they practised detestable works of enchantments and unholy rites

5 (⁶ Merciless slaughters of children, And sacrificial banquets of men's flesh and of blood),

6 Confederates in an impious fellowship, And murderers of their own helpless babes,

It was thy counsel to destroy by the hands of our fathers;

7 That the land which in thy sight is most precious of all lands Might receive a worthy colony of God's ⁶ servants.

8 Nevertheless even these thou didst spare as being men,
And thou sentest ⁷ hornets as fore-runners of thy host,

To cause them to perish by little and little;

9 Not that thou wast unable to subdue the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle,
Or by terrible beasts or by one stern word to make away with them at once;

10 But judging them by little and little thou gavest them a place of repentance,

Not being ignorant that their nature by birth was evil, and their wickedness inborn,
And that their manner of thought would in no wise ever be changed,

11 For they were a seed accursed from the beginning:

Neither was it through fear of any that thou didst leave them then unpunished for their sins.

12 For who shall say, What hast thou done?

Or who shall withstand thy judgement?

And who shall accuse thee for the perishing of nations which thou didst make?

Or who shall come and stand before thee as an avenger for unrighteous men?

13 For neither is there any God beside thee that careth for all,

That thou mightest shew unto him that thou didst not judge unrighteously:

14 Neither shall king or prince be able to look thee in the face to plead for those whom thou hast punished.

15 But being righteous thou rulest all things righteously, Deeming it a thing alien from thy power

To condemn one that doth not himself deserve to be punished.

16 For thy strength is the beginning of righteousness,

And thy sovereignty over all maketh thee to forbear all.

17 For when men believe not that thou art perfect in power, thou shewest thy strength,

⁸ And ⁹ in dealing with them that know it thou puttest their boldness to confusion.

18 But thou, being sovereign over thy strength, judgest in gentleness,
And with great forbearance dost thou govern us;

For the power is thine whensoever thou hast the will.

19 But thou didst teach thy people by such works as these,
How that the righteous must be a lover of men;

⁹ Or, in them

And thou didst make thy sons to be of good hope,
Because thou givest repentance when men have sinned.

20 For if on them that were enemies of thy ¹ servants and due to death Thou didst take vengeance with so great heedfulness and indulgence, Giving them times and place whereby they might escape from their wickedness :

21 With how great carefulness didst thou judge thy sons,
To whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants of good promises !

22 While therefore thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies ten thousand times more,
To the intent that we may ponder thy goodness when we judge,
And when we are judged may look for mercy.

23 Wherefore also the unrighteous that lived in folly of life
Thou didst torment through their own abominations.

24 For verily they went astray very far ² in the ways of error,
Taking as gods those ³ animals which even among their enemies were held in dishonour, Deceived like foolish babes.

25 Therefore, as unto unreasoning children, thou didst send thy judgement to mock them.

26 But they that would not be admonished ⁴ by a mocking correction as of children Shall have experience of a judgement worthy of God.

27 For through the sufferings whereat they were indignant,
Being punished in these creatures which they supposed to be gods,
They saw, and recognised as the true God him whom before they ⁵ refused to know :

Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon them.

13 For verily all men by nature ⁶ were but vain who had no perception of God,
And from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know him that is,

Neither by giving heed to the works did they recognise the artificer ;

2 But either fire, or wind, or swift air, Or ⁷ circling stars, or raging water, or ⁸ luminaries of heaven,
They thought to be gods that rule the world,

3 And if it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods,

Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign Lord ;

For the first author of beauty created them :

4 But if it was through astonishment at their power and ⁹ influence,
Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them ;

5 For from the ¹⁰ greatness of the beauty ¹¹ even of created things

¹² In like proportion ¹³ does man form the image of their first maker.

6 But yet for these ¹⁴ men there is but small blame,
For they too peradventure do but go astray

While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.

7 For ¹⁵ living among his works they make diligent search,
And they ¹⁶ yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

8 But again even they are not to be excused.

9 For if they had power to know so much,

That they should be able to explore ¹⁷ the course of things,

How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works ?

10 But miserable ¹⁸ were they, and ¹⁹ in dead things ²⁰ were their hopes,

Who called them gods which are works of men's hands,
Gold and silver, wrought with careful art, and likenesses of animals,
Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

11 Yea and if some ²¹ woodcutter, having sawn down a ²² tree that is easily moved,

Skilfully strippeth away all its bark, And fashioning it in comely form maketh a vessel useful for the service of life ;

12 And burning the refuse of his handy-work to dress his food, eateth his fill ;

13 And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use,

A crooked piece of wood and full of knots,
Carveth it with the diligence of his idleness,

And shapeth it by the skill of his ²³ indolence :

²⁴ Then he giveth it the semblance of the image of a man,

14 Or maketh it like some paltry animal, Smearing it with vermilion, and with ²⁵ paint colouring it red,
And smearing over every stain that is therein ;

15 And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,

He setteth it in a wall, making it fast with iron.

16 While then he taketh thought for it that it may not fall down,
Knowing that it is unable to help itself ;

And for life he beseecheth that which is dead,

And for aid he supplicateth that which hath least experience,

And an artificer, even wisdom, built it;

Because even in the sea thou gavest a way,

And in the waves a sure path,

That so even without art a man may put to sea;

- 5 And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be idle;

Therefore also do men intrust their lives to a little piece of wood,

And passing through the surge ² on a raft are brought safe to land.

- 6 For ³ in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,

The hope of the world, taking refuge on a raft,

- 8 But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that made it;

Because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was named a god:

- 9 For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;

- 10 For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.

- 11 Therefore also ⁶ among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,

And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,

And a snare to the feet of the foolish.

- 12 For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication, And the invention of them the corruption of life:

- 13 For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever;

- 14 For by the vaingloriousness of men they entered into the world,

And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.

- 15 For a father worn with untimely grief, Making an image of the child quickly taken away,

Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,

And delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.

- 16 Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,

And by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.

- 17 And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off,

Imagining the likeness from afar, They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,

That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

- 18 But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,

Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:

- 19 For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,

Used his art to force the likeness toward a greater beauty;

- 20 And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handywork,

Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honoured as a man.

- 21 And this became ⁷ a hidden danger unto life,

Because men, in bondage either to calamity or to tyranny,

Invested stones and stocks with the incommunicable Name.

- 22 Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;

But also, while they live ⁸ in ⁹ sore conflict through ignorance of him,

27 For the worship of ³ those ⁴ nameless idols

Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.

28 For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,

Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.

29 For putting their trust in lifeless idols,

When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.

30 But for both sins shall the just doom pursue them,

Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols,

And swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom men swear,

But it is ⁵ that Justice which hath regard to them that sin,

That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15 But thou, our God, art gracious and true,

Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

3 For to be acquainted with thee is ⁶ perfect righteousness,

And to know thy dominion is the root of immortality.

4 For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art,

Nor yet by painters' fruitless labour, A form stained with varied colours;

5 The sight whereof leadeth fools into ⁷ lust:

Their desire is for the breathless form of a dead image.

6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,

Are both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

7 For a potter, kneading soft earth, Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service:

Nay, out of the same clay doth he fashion

Both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort, All in like manner:

But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,

The ⁸ craftsman himself is the judge.

8 And also, labouring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,

He who, having but a little before been made of earth,

After a short space goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken,

When he is required to render back the ⁹ soul which was lent him.

9 Howbeit he hath anxious care, Not because his powers must fail,

Nor because his span of life is short; But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and ¹⁰ silversmiths, And he imitateth moulders in ¹¹ brass,

And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth counterfeit.

10 His heart is ashes, And his hope of less value than earth,

And his life of less honour than clay:

11 Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him,

And of him that inspired into him ¹² an active ⁹ soul,

And breathed into him a vital spirit.

12 But ¹³ he accounted our very life to be a ¹⁴ plaything,

And our ¹⁵ lifetime a gainful ¹⁶ fair;

For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.

13 For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth,

Out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and graven images.

14 But most foolish ¹⁷ were they all, and ¹⁸ of feebler soul than a babe,

The enemies of thy people, who oppressed them;

15 Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods;

Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,

Nor nostrils for drawing breath, Nor ears to hear,

Nor fingers for handling. And their feet are helpless for walking.

16 For a man made them, And one whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them;

For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,

17 But, being mortal, he maketh a dead thing by the work of lawless hands;

For he is better than the objects of his worship,

¹⁹ Forasmuch as he indeed had life, but they never.

18 Yea, and the creatures that are most hateful do they worship.

²⁰ For, being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others;

19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them,
But they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16 For this cause were these men worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship, And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

2 Instead of which punishment, thou, bestowest benefits on thy people, Preparedst quails for food,
Food of ¹ rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;

3 To the end that ² thine enemies, desiring food,
Might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them
Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, thy people, having for a short space suffered want,
Might even partake of food of ¹ rare taste.

4 For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing,
But that to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

5 For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon ³ thy people,
And they were perishing by the bites of crooked serpents,
Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;

6 But for admonition were they troubled for a short space,
Having a token of salvation,
To put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:

7 For he that turned toward it was not saved because of that which was beheld,
But because of thee, the Saviour of all.

8 Yea, and in this didst thou persuade our enemies,
That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.

9 For them verily the bites of locusts and flies did slay,
And there was not found a healing for their life,
Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

10 But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame,
For thy mercy passed by where they were, and healed them.

11 For they were ⁴ bitten, to put them in remembrance of thine oracles;
And were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness,
They should become ⁵ unable to be ⁶ roused by thy beneficence:

12 For of a truth it was neither herb nor mollifying plaster that cured them,
But thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things;

13 For thou hast authority over life and death,
And thou ledest down to the gates of Hades, and ledest up again.

14 But though a man may slay by his ⁷ wickedness,
Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again,
Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

15 But thy hand it is not possible to escape;

16 For ungodly men, ⁸ refusing to know thee, were scourged in the strength of thine arm,
Pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable,
And utterly consumed with fire;

17 For, what was most marvellous of all,
In the water which quencheth all things the fire wrought yet more mightily;
For the world fighteth for the righteous.

18 For at one time the flame lost its fierceness,
That it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,
But that these themselves as they looked might ⁹ see that they were chased through the judgement of God:

19 And at another time even in the midst of water it burneth above the power of fire,

That it may destroy the ¹⁰ fruits of an unrighteous land.

20 Instead whereof thou gavest thy people angels' food to eat,
And bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil,
Bread having the virtue of every pleasant savour,
And agreeing to every taste;

21 For ¹¹ thy ¹² nature manifested thy sweetness toward thy children;
While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater,
Tempered itself according to every man's choice.

22 But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,
That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,
Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;

23 And ¹³ that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished, Hath even forgotten its own power.

24 For the creation, ministering to thee its maker,
Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,
And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in thee, for beneficence.

25 Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms,

¹⁰ Gr. products.

¹¹ Some authorities read the substance thereof.
¹² Or, creation Gr. substance.

¹³ Some authorities omit that.

It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty,
According to the desire of them that

26 That thy sons, whom thou lovedst, O Lord, might learn

That it is not the ² growth of the earth's fruits that nourisheth a man,
But that thy word preserveth them that trust thee.

27 For that which was not marred by fire,

When it was simply warmed by a faint sunbeam melted away ;

28 That it might be known that we must rise before the sun to give thee thanks,
And must plead with thee at the dawning of the light :

29 For the hope of the unthankful shall melt as the winter's hoar frost,
And shall flow away as water that hath no use.

17 For great are thy judgements, and hard to ³ interpret ;

Therefore souls undisciplined went astray.

2 For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,

They themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,

Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.

3 For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,

They were ⁴ Sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness,

Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by spectral forms.

4 For neither did ⁵ the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,

But sounds ⁶ rushing down rang around them,
And phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.

5 And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,

Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night :

6 But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear ;

And in terror they deemed the things which they saw
To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

7 ⁷ And they lay helpless, made the sport of magic art,
And a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of understanding :

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,

These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness :

9 For even if no troublous thing affrighted them,

Yet, scared with the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents, they perished ⁸ for very trembling,
Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.

11 ⁹ For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward thing,
And, being pressed hard by conscience, always ¹⁰ forecasteth the worst lot :

12 For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the succours which reason offereth ;

13 And from within the heart the expectation of them being less

Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.

14 But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,

And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,
All sleeping the same sleep,

15 Now were haunted by monstrous apparitions,

And now were paralysed by their soul's surrendering ;
For fear sudden and unlooked for ¹¹ came upon them.

16 So then every man, whosoever it might be, sinking down ¹² in his place,

Was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred not with iron :

17 For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd,

Or a labourer whose toils were in the wilderness,

He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,

For with one chain of darkness were they all bound.

18 Whether there were a whistling wind, Or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches,

Or a measured fall of water running violently,

19 Or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled down,

Or the swift course of animals bounding along unseen,

Or the voice of wild beasts harshly roaring,

Or an echo rebounding from ¹³ the hollows of the mountains,

All these things paralysed them with terror.

20 For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,

And was occupied with unhindered works ;

21 While over them alone was spread a heavy night,

An image of the darkness that should afterward receive them ;

¹ Or, set had need

¹⁰ Most authorities read hath added.

¹¹ Some authorities read was poured upon them.
¹² Gr. there.

¹³ Or, hollow

But yet heavier than darkness were they unto themselves.

18 But for thy holy ones there was great light;

And the Egyptians, hearing their voice but seeing not their form, Counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered,

2 Yet for that they do not hurt them now, though wronged by them before, they are thankful;

And because they had been at variance with them, they made supplication to them.

3 Whereas thou didst provide for thy people a burning pillar of fire, To be a guide for their unknown journey,

And withal a ¹kindly sun for their ²proud exile.

4 For well did ³the Egyptians deserve to be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness,

They who had kept in close ward thy sons,

Through whom the incorruptible light of the law was to be given to ⁴the race of men.

5 After they had taken counsel to slay the babes of the holy ones,

And when a single child had been cast forth and saved ⁵to convict them of their sin,

Thou tookest away from them their multitude of children,

And destroyedst all their host together in a mighty flood.

6 Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,

That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted:

7 So by thy people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies;

8 For as thou didst take vengeance on the adversaries,

⁶By the same means, calling us unto thyself, thou didst glorify us.

9 For holy children ⁷of good men offered sacrifice in secret,

And with one consent they took upon themselves the covenant of the ⁸divine law,

That ⁹they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils;

The fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.

10 But there sounded back in discord the cry of the enemies,

¹⁰And a piteous voice of lamentation for children was borne abroad.

11 And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,

And commoner suffering the same as king,

12 Yea, all the people together, under one form of death,

Had with them corpses without number;

For the living were not sufficient even to bury them,

Since at a single ¹¹stroke their ¹²nobler offspring was consumed.

13 For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the enchantments,

Upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be God's son.

14 For while peaceful silence enwrapped all things,

And night in her own swiftiness was in mid course,

15 Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of ¹³the royal ¹⁴throne,

A stern warrior, into the midst of the ¹⁵doomed land,

16 Bearing as a sharp sword thine unfeigned commandment;

And standing it filled all things with death;

And while it touched the heaven it trode upon the earth.

17 Then forthwith apparitions in dreams terribly troubled them,

And fears came upon them unlooked for:

18 And each, one thrown here half dead, another there,

Made manifest wherefore he was dying:

19 For the dreams, perturbing them, did foreshew this,

That they might not perish without knowing why they were afflicted.

20 But it ¹⁶befell the righteous also to make trial of death,

And a multitude were stricken in the wilderness:

Howbeit the wrath endured not for long.

21 For a blameless man hastened to be their champion:

Bringing the weapon of his own ministry,

Even prayer and the propitiation of incense,

He withstood the indignation, and set an end to the calamity,

Shewing that he was thy servant.

22 And he overcame the ¹⁷anger, Not by strength of body, not by efficacy of weapons;

But ¹⁸by word did he subdue ¹⁹the minister of punishment,

By bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

23 For when the dead were already fallen in heaps one upon another,

Standing between he stopped the advancing wrath,

And ²⁰cut off the way to the living.

And thy majesty was upon the diadem

25 To these the destroyer gave place,
and these ² the people feared;
For it was enough only to make trial of the wrath.

19 But upon the ungodly there came unto the end indignation without mercy;

For their future also God foreknew,
2 How that, having changed their minds to let they people go,
And having speeded them eagerly on their way,
They would repent themselves and pursue them.

3 For while they were yet in the midst of their mourning,
And making lamentation at the graves of the dead,
They drew upon themselves another counsel of folly,

And pursued as fugitives those whom with intreaties they had cast out.

4 For ³ the doom which they deserved was drawing them ⁴ unto this end,
And it made them forget the things
that had befallen them,
That they might fill up the punishment which was yet wanting to their torments,

5 And that thy people might ⁵ journey
on by a marvellous road,
But they themselves might find a strange death.

6 For the whole creation, each part in its several kind, was fashioned again anew,

Ministering to thy several commandments,

That thy ⁶ servants might be guarded

7 Then was beheld the cloud that shadowed the camp,
And dry land rising up out of what before was water,

Out of the Red sea an unhindered highway,
And a grassy plain out of the violent surge;

8 ⁷ By which they passed over with all their hosts,
These that were covered with thy hand,
Having beheld strange marvels.

9 For like horses they roamed at large,
And they skipped about like lambs, Praising thee, O Lord, who wast their deliverer.

10 For they still remembered the things that came to pass in the time of their sojourning,

How that instead of ⁸ bearing ⁹ cattle
the land brought forth ¹⁰ lice,

And instead of ¹¹ fish the river cast up a multitude of frogs.

11 But afterwards they saw also a new ¹² race of birds,
When, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;

12 For, to solace them, there came up for them quails from the sea.

13 And upon the sinners came the punishments

Not without the tokens that were given ¹³ beforehand by the force of the thunders;

For justly did they suffer through their own wickednesses,

For ¹⁴ grievous indeed was the hatred which they practised toward guests.

14 ¹⁵ For whereas the men of Sodom received not ¹⁶ the strangers when they came among them;

¹⁷ The Egyptians made slaves of guests who were their benefactors.

15 And not only so, but God shall ¹⁸ visit ¹⁹ the men of Sodom after another sort,

Since they received as enemies them
that were aliens;

16 Whereas these first welcomed with feastings,

And then afflicted with dreadful toils,
Them that had already shared with them in the same rights.

17 And moreover they were stricken with loss of sight

(Even as were those others at the righteous man's doors),
When, being compassed about with yawning darkness,

They sought every one the passage through his own door.

18 For as the notes of a psaltery vary the character of the rhythm,

Even so did the elements, changing their order one with another,

Continuing always the same, each in its several sound;

As may clearly be ²⁰ divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.

19 For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters,

And creatures that swim trode now

20 Fire kept the mastery of its own

And water forgot its quenching na-

21 Contrariwise, flames wasted not the

Neither ²¹ melted they the ²² ice-like

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH,

OR

ECCLESIASTICUS.

*The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus
the Son of Sirach.*

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give Israel, the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are intreated therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Euergetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found ¹ a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

- 1 ALL wisdom cometh from the Lord,
And is with him for ever.
- 2 The sand of the seas, and the drops of rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall number?
- 3 The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,

And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

- 4 Wisdom hath been created before all
things,

And the understanding of prudence
from everlasting.²

- 6 To whom hath the root of wisdom
been revealed?

And who hath known her shrewd counsels?²

- 8 There is one wise, greatly to be feared,

The Lord sitting upon his throne :

- 9 He created her,

And saw, and numbered her,

And poured her out upon all his works.

- 10 She is with all flesh according to his gift;

And he gave her freely to them that love him.

- 11 The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,

And gladness, and a crown of rejoycing.

- 12 The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart,

And shall give gladness, and joy, and length of days.

- 13 Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last,

And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

- 14 To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom;

And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.

- 15 With men she ³ laid an eternal foundation;

And with their seed shall she be had in trust.

- 16 To fear the Lord is the fulness of
wisdom;

And she satiateth men with her fruits.

- 17 She shall fill all her house with desirable things,

And her garners with her produce.

- 18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of
wisdom,

Making peace and ⁴ perfect health to flourish.⁵

- 19 He both saw and numbered her;
He rained down skill and knowledge of understanding,

And exalted the honour of them that hold her fast.

For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.

23 A man that is longsuffering will ² bear ³ for a season,
And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;

24 He will hide his words ³ for a season,
And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.

25 A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

26 If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely;

27 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;
And in faith and meekness is his good pleasure.

28 Disobey not the fear of the Lord ⁴;
And come not unto him with a double heart.

29 Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;
And take good heed to thy lips.

30 Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,
And bring dishonour upon thy soul;
And so the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,
And shall cast thee down in the midst of the congregation;
Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,
And thy heart was full of deceit.

2 My son, if thou comest to serve the Lord,
Prepare thy soul for temptation.

2 Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure,
And make not haste in time of calamity.

3 Cleave unto him, and depart not,
That thou mayest be increased at thy latter end.

4 Accept whatsoever is brought upon thee,
And be longsuffering ⁵ when thou passest into humiliation.

5 For gold is tried in the fire,
And acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.

6 Put thy trust in him, and he will help thee:
Order thy ways aright, and set thy hope on him.

7 Ye that fear the Lord, wait for his mercy;
And turn not aside, lest ye fall.

8 Ye that fear the Lord, put your trust in him;
And your reward shall not fail.

9 Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good things,
And for eternal gladness and mercy.

10 Look at the generations of old, and see:
Who did ever put his trust in the Lord, and was ashamed?
Or who did abide in his fear, and was forsaken?
Or who did call upon him, and he despised him?

11 For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy;
And he forgiveth sins, and saveth in time of affliction.

12 Woe unto fearful hearts, and to faint hands,
And to the sinner that goeth two ways!

13 Woe unto the faint heart! for it believeth not;
Therefore shall it not be defended.

14 Woe unto you that have lost your patience!
And what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?

15 They that fear the Lord will not disobey his words;
And they that love him will keep his ways.

16 They that fear the Lord will seek his good pleasure;
And they that love him shall be filled with the law.

17 They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts,
And will humble their souls in his sight, saying,
We will fall into the hands of the Lord,
And not into the hands of men:
For as his majesty is,
So also is his mercy.

3 Hear me your father, O my children,
And do thereafter, that ye may be saved.

2 For the Lord hath given the father glory as touching the children,
And hath confirmed the judgement of the mother as touching the sons.

3 He that honoureth his father shall make atonement for sins:

4 And he that giveth glory to his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.

5 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his children;
And in the day of his prayer he shall be heard.

6 He that giveth glory to his father shall have length of days;
And he that hearkeneth unto the Lord shall bring rest unto his mother,

7 ⁶ And will do service unto his parents, as unto masters.

8 In deed and word honour thy father,
That a blessing may come upon thee from him.

⁶ The preceding words of this verse are omitted by the best authorities.

- 9 For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of children;
But the curse of the mother rooteth out the foundations.
- 10 Glorify not thyself in the dishonour of thy father;
For thy father's dishonour is no glory unto thee.
- 11 For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father;

- 12 My son, help thy father in his old age;
And grieve him not as long as he liveth.
- 13 And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;
And dishonour him not while thou art in thy full strength.
- 14 For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten:
And instead of sins it shall be added to build thee up.
- 15 In the day of thine affliction it shall remember thee:
As fair weather upon ice,
So shall thy sins also melt away.
- 16 He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemous;
And he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.
- 17 My son, go on with thy business in meekness;
So shalt thou be beloved of an acceptable man.
- 18 The greater thou art, humble thyself the more,
And thou shalt find favour before the Lord.¹
- 20 For great is the potency of the Lord,
And he is glorified of them that are lowly.
- 21 Seek not things that are too hard for thee,
And search not out things that are above thy strength.
- 22 The things that have been commanded thee, think thereupon;
For thou hast no need of the things that are secret.
- 23 Be not over busy in thy superfluous works:
For more things are shewed unto thee than men can understand.
- 24 For the conceit of many hath led them astray;
And evil surmising hath caused their judgement to slip.²
- 26 A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last;
And he that loveth danger shall perish therein.
- 27 A stubborn heart shall be laden with troubles;
And the sinner shall heap sin upon ³ sin.

- 28 The calamity of the proud is no healing;
For a plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.

And the ear of a listener is the desire of a wise man.

And in the time of his falling he shall find a support.
- 4 My son, deprive not the poor of his living,
And make not the needy eyes to wait long.
- 2 Make not a hungry soul sorrowful;
Neither provoke a man in his distress.
- 3 To a heart that is provoked add not more trouble;
And defer not to give to him that is in need.
- 4 Reject not a suppliant in his affliction;
And turn not away thy face from a poor man.
- 5 Turn not away thine eye from one that asketh of thee,
And give none occasion to a man to curse thee:
- 6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul,
He that made him will hear his supplication.
- 7 Get thyself the love of the congregation;
And to a great man bow thy head.
- 8 Incline thine ear to a poor man,
And answer him with peaceable words in meekness.
- 9 Deliver him that is wronged from the hand of him that wrongeth him;

So shalt thou be as a son of the Most High,
And he shall love thee more than thy mother doth.
- 11 Wisdom exalteth her sons,
And taketh hold of them that seek her.
- 12 He that loveth her loveth life;
And they that seek to her early shall be filled with gladness.
- 13 He that holdeth her fast shall inherit glory;
And where ⁴ he entereth, the Lord will bless.

Understand first, and then rebuke.

8 Answer not before thou hast heard;
And interrupt not in the midst of speech.

9 Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not;
And where sinners judge, sit not thou with them.

10 My son, be not busy about many matters:

For if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be unpunished;
And if thou pursue, thou shalt not overtake;

And thou shalt not escape by fleeing.

11 There is one that toileth, and labour-eth, and maketh haste,
And is so much the more behind.

12 There is one that is sluggish, and hath need of help,
Lacking in strength, and that aboundeth in poverty;

And the eyes of the Lord looked upon him for good,
And he set him up from his low estate,

13 And lifted up his head;
And many marvelled at him.

14 Good things and evil, life and death,
Poverty and riches, are from the Lord.¹

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly,
And his good pleasure shall prosper for ever.

18 There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching,
And this is the portion of his reward:

19 When he saith, I have found rest,
And now will I eat of my goods;
Yet he knoweth not what time shall pass,

20 Be stedfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein,

Keep back his bread, and give it not to him,
Lest he overmaster thee thereby:
For thou shalt receive twice as much evil
For all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

9 In a man's prosperity his enemies are

10 Never trust thine enemy:
For like as the brass rusteth, so is his

Yet take good heed, and beware of Lest he overthrow thee and stand in

Let him not sit on thy right hand,
Lest he seek to take thy seat,

And at the last thou acknowledge my

And be pricked with my sayings.

13 Who will pity a charmer that is bitten
with a serpent,

Or any that come nigh wild beasts?

14 Even so who will pity him that goeth to a sinner,

And is mingled with him in his sins?

15 For a while he will abide with thee,
And if thou give way, he will not hold out.

16 And the enemy will speak sweetly with his lips,

And in his heart take counsel how to overthrow thee into a pit:

The enemy will weep with his eyes,
And if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.

17 If adversity meet thee, thou shalt find him there before thee;

And as though he would help thee,
he will trip up thy heel.

18 He will shake his head, and clap his

And whisper much, and change his

And he that hath fellowship with a

And have no fellowship with one that

And smile upon thee, and give thee

He will speak thee fair, and say,
What needest thou?

7 And he will shame thee by his meats,
Until he have made thee bare twice

And believe not his many words:

And in a smiling manner will search thee out.

12 He that keepeth not to himself words spoken is unmerciful;

And he will not spare to hurt and to

And every man loveth his neighbour.

- 22 When a rich man is fallen, there are many helpers;
He speaketh ¹ things not to be spoken, and men justify him:
A man of low degree falleth, and men rebuke him withal;
He uttereth wisdom, and no place is allowed him.
- 23 A rich man speaketh, and all keep silence;
And what he saith they extol to the clouds:
A poor man speaketh, and they say, Who is this?
And if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.
- 24 Riches are good that have no sin;
And poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.
- 25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance,
Whether it be for good or for evil.²
- 26 A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity;
And the finding out of parables is a weariness of thinking.
- 14 Blessed is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth,
And is not pricked with sorrow for sins.
- 2 Blessed is he whose soul doth not condemn him,
And who is not fallen from his hope.
- 3 Riches are not comely for a niggard;
And what should an envious man do with money?
- 4 He that gathereth by taking from his own soul gathereth for others;
And others shall revel in his goods.
- 5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good?
And he shall not rejoice in his possessions.
- 6 There is none more evil than he that envieth himself;
And this is a recompense of his wickedness.
- 7 Even if he doeth good, he doeth it in forgetfulness;
And at the last he sheweth forth his wickedness.
- 8 Evil is he that envieth with his eye,
Turning away the face, and despising the souls of men.
- 9 A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion;
And wicked injustice drieth up his soul.
- 10 An evil eye is grudging of bread,
And he is miserly at his table.
- 11 My son, according as thou hast, do well unto thyself,
And bring offerings unto the Lord worthily.

26 In the judgement of the Lord are his works from the beginning;

27 He garnished his works for ever,
And the beginnings of them unto their generations:

They neither hunger, nor are weary,

What is his good, and what is his evil?
 9 The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years.
 10 As a drop of water from the sea, and a pebble from the sand;
 So are a few years in the day of eternity.
 11 For this cause the Lord was long-suffering over them,
 And poured out his mercy upon them.
 12 He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil;
 Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness.
 13 The mercy of a man is upon his neighbour;
 But the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh;
 Reproving, and chastening, and teaching,
 And bringing again, as a shepherd doth his flock.
 14 He hath mercy on them that accept chastening,
 And that diligently seek after his judgements.
 15 My son, to thy good deeds add no blemish;
 And no grief of words in any of thy giving.
 16 Shall not the dew assuage the scorching heat?
 So is a word better than a gift.
 17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift?
 And both are with a gracious man.
 18 A fool will upbraid ungraciously;
 And the gift of an envious man consumeth the eyes.
 19 Learn before thou speak;
 And have a care of thy health or ever thou be sick.
 20 Before judgement examine thyself;
 And in the hour of visitation thou shalt find forgiveness.
 21 Humble thyself before thou be sick;
 And in the time of sins shew repentance.
 22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time;
 And wait not until death to be justified.
 23 Before thou makest a vow, prepare thyself;
 And be not as a man that tempteth the Lord.
 24 Think upon the wrath that shall be in the days of the end,
 And the time of vengeance, when he turneth away his face.
 25 In the days of fulness remember the time of hunger,
 And poverty and want in the days of wealth.
 26 From morning until evening the time changeth;

16 The discourse of a fool is like a burden in the way;
But grace shall be found on the lips of the wise.

17 The mouth of the prudent man shall be sought for in the congregation;
And they will ponder his words in their heart.

18 As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool;
And the knowledge of an unwise man is as ³ talk without sense.

19 Instruction is as fetters on the feet of an unwise man,
And as manacles on the right hand.

20 A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter;
But a clever man will scarce smile quietly.

21 Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold,
And as a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 The foot of a fool is soon in another man's house;
But a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.

23 A foolish man peepeth in from the door of another man's house;
But a man that is instructed will stand without.

24 It is a want of instruction in a man to listen at the door;
But the prudent man will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things;
But the words of prudent men will be weighed in the balance.

him.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth;
But the mouth of wise men is their heart.

27 When the ungodly curseth Satan,
He curseth his own soul.

28 A whisperer defileth his own soul,
And shall be hated wheresoever he sojourneth.

22 A slothful man is compared to a stone that is defiled;
And every one will hiss him out in his disgrace.

2 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill:
Every man that taketh it up will shake out his hand.

3 A father hath shame in having begotten an uninstructed son;
And a foolish daughter is born to his loss.

4 A prudent daughter shall inherit a husband of her own;
And she that bringeth shame is the grief of him that begat her.

5 She that is bold bringeth shame upon father and husband;
And she shall be despised of them both.

6 Unseasonable discourse is as music in mourning;
But stripes and correction are wisdom at every season.

7 He that teacheth a fool is as one that glueth a potsherd together;
Even as one that waketh a sleeper out of a deep sleep.

8 He that discourseth to a fool is as one discoursing to a man that slumbereth;
And at the end he will say, What is it?¹

11 Weep for the dead, for light hath failed him;
And weep for a fool, for understanding hath failed him:
Weep more sweetly for the dead, because he hath found rest;
But the life of the fool is worse than death.

12 Seven days are the days of mourning for the dead;
But for a fool and an ungodly man, all the days of his life.

13 Talk not much with a foolish man,
And go not to one that hath no understanding:

Beware of him, lest thou have trouble;
And so thou shalt not be ²defiled in his onslaught:

Turn aside from him, and thou shalt find rest;
And so thou shalt not be wearied in his madness.

14 What shall be heavier than lead?

And what is the name thereof, but a fool?

15 Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear,
Than a man without understanding.

16 Timber girt and bound into a building shall not be loosed with shaking:
So a heart established in due season on well advised counsel shall not be afraid.

17 A heart settled upon a thoughtful understanding
Is as an ornament of plaister on a polished wall.

18 Pales set on a high place will not stand against the wind:
So a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool will not stand against any fear.

19 He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall;
And he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew feeling.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at birds frayeth them away;
And he that upbraideth a friend will dissolve friendship.

21 If thou hast drawn a sword against a friend, despair not;
For there may be a returning.

22 If thou hast opened thy mouth against a friend, fear not;
For there may be a reconciling;
Except it be for upbraiding, and arrogance, and disclosing of a secret, and a treacherous blow:
For these things every friend will flee.

23 Gain trust with thy neighbour in his poverty,
That in his prosperity thou mayest have gladness:
Abide stedfast unto him in the time of his affliction,
That thou mayest be heir with him in his inheritance.³

24 Before fire is the vapour and smoke of a furnace;
So revilings before bloodshed.

25 I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend;
And I will not hide myself from his face:

26 And if any evil happen unto me because of him,
Every one that heareth it will beware of him.

27 Who shall set a watch over my mouth,
And a seal of shrewdness upon my lips,
That I fall not from it, and that my tongue destroy me not?

23 O Lord, Father and Master of my life,
Abandon me not to their counsel:
Suffer me not to fall by them.

2 Who will set scourges over my thought,
And a discipline of wisdom over mine heart?
That they spare me not for mine ignorances,
And my heart pass not by their sins:

3 That mine ignorances be not multiplied,
And my sins abound not;
And I shall fall before mine adversaries,
And mine enemy rejoice over me.¹

4 O Lord, Father and God of my life,
Give me not a ² proud look,¹

5 And turn away concupiscence from me.¹

6 Let not ³ greediness and chambering overtake me;
And give me not over to a shameless mind.

7 Hear ye, my children, the discipline of the mouth;
And he that keepeth it shall not be taken.

8 The sinner shall be ⁴ overtaken in his lips;
And the reviler and the proud man shall stumble therein.

9 Accustom not thy mouth to an oath;
And be not accustomed to the naming of the Holy One.

10 For as a servant that is continually scourged shall not lack a bruise,
So he also that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be cleansed from sin.

11 A man of many oaths shall be filled with iniquity;
And the scourge shall not depart from his house:
If he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him;
And if he disregard it, he hath sinned doubly;
And if he hath sworn in vain, he shall not be justified;
For his house shall be filled with calamities.

12 There is a manner of speech that is clothed about with death:
Let it not be found in the heritage of Jacob;
For all these things shall be far from the godly,
And they shall not wallow in sins.

13 Accustom not thy mouth to gross rudeness,
For therein is the word of sin.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother,
For thou sittest in the midst of great men;
That thou be not forgetful before them,
And become a fool by thy custom;
So shalt thou wish that thou hadst not been born,
And curse the day of thy nativity.

15 A man that is accustomed to words of reproach
Will not be corrected all the days of his life.

16 Two sorts of men multiply sins,
And the third will bring wrath:
A hot mind, as a burning fire, will not be quenched till it be consumed:
A fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath ⁵ burned out the fire.

17 All bread is sweet to a fornicator:
He will not leave off till he die.

18 A man that goeth astray from his own bed,
Saying in his heart, Who seeth me?
Darkness is round about me, and the walls hide me,
And no man seeth me; of whom am I afraid?
The Most High will not remember my sins;

19 — And the eyes of men are his terror,
And he knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun,
Beholding all the ways of men,
And looking into secret places.

20 All things were known unto him or ever they were created;
And in like manner also after they were perfected.

21 This man shall be punished in the streets of the city;
And where he suspected not he shall be taken.

22 So also a wife that leaveth her husband,
And bringeth in an heir by a stranger.

23 For first, she was disobedient in the law of the Most High;
And secondly, she trespassed against her own husband;
And thirdly, she played the adulteress in whoredom,
And brought in children by a stranger.

24 She shall be brought out into the congregation;
And upon her children shall there be visitation.

25 Her children shall not spread into roots,
And her branches shall bear no fruit.

26 She shall leave her memory for a curse;
And her reproach shall not be blotted out.

27 And they that are left behind shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord,
And nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.⁶

And shall glory in the midst of her people.

- And glory in the presence of his power.
 3 I came forth from the mouth of the Most High,
 And covered the earth as a mist.
 4 I dwelt in high places,
 And my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.
 5 Alone I compassed the circuit of heaven,
 And walked in the depth of the abyss.
 6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth,
 And in every people and nation, I got a possession.
 7 With all these I sought rest;
 And in whose inheritance shall I lodge?
 8 Then the Creator of all things gave me a commandment;
 And he that created me made my tabernacle to rest,
 And said, Let thy tabernacle be in Jacob,
 And thine inheritance in Israel.
 9 He created me from the beginning before the world;
 And to the end I shall not fail.
 10 In the holy tabernacle I ministered before him;
 And so was I established in Sion.
 11 In the beloved city likewise he gave me rest;
 And in Jerusalem was my authority.
 12 And I took root in a people that was glorified,
 Even in the portion of the Lord's own inheritance.
 13 I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus,
 And as a cypress tree on the mountains of Hermon.
 14 I was exalted like a palm tree on the sea shore,
 And as rose plants in Jericho,
 And as a fair olive tree in the plain;
 And I was exalted as a plane tree.
 15 As cinnamon and aspalathus, I have given a scent of perfumes;
 And as choice myrrh, I spread abroad a pleasant odour;
 As ¹ galbanum, and onyx, and stacte,
 And as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.
 16 As the terebinth I stretched out my branches;
 And my branches are branches of glory and grace.
 17 As the vine I put forth grace;
 And my flowers are the fruit of glory and riches.²
 19 Come unto me, ye that are desirous of me,
 And be ye filled with my produce.
 20 For my memorial is sweeter than honey,
 And mine inheritance than the honey-comb.
 21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry;
 And they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.
- 22 He that obeyeth me shall not be ashamed;
 And they that work in me shall not do amiss.
- 23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God,
 Even the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob.³
 25 It is he that maketh wisdom abundant, as Pishon,
 And as Tigris in the days of new fruits;
 26 That maketh understanding full as Euphrates,
 And as Jordan in the days of harvest;
 27 That maketh instruction to shine forth as the light,
 As Gihon in the days of vintage.
 28 The first man knew her not perfectly;
 And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.
 29 For her thoughts are filled from the sea,

 And as a conduit into a garden.
 31 I said, I will water my garden,
 And will water abundantly my garden bed;
 And, lo, my stream became a river,
 And my river became a sea.

 But for all them that diligently seek her.
- 25 In three things I was beautified,
 And stood up beautiful before the Lord and men:
 The concord of brethren, and friendship of neighbours,
 And a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.
 2 But three sorts of men my soul hate,
 And I am greatly offended at their life:
 A poor man that is haughty, and a rich man that is a liar,
 And an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.

 And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?

5 How beautiful is the wisdom of old men,
And thought and counsel to men that are in honour!

6 Much experience is the crown of old men;
And their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

7 There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happy;
And the tenth I will utter with my tongue:

A man that hath joy of his children;
A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:

8 Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding:
And he that hath not slipped with his tongue;

And he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him:

9 Happy is he that hath found prudence;
And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.

10 How great is he that hath found wisdom!

Yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.

11 The fear of the Lord passeth all things:

He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?¹

13 Give me any plague but the plague of the heart;

And any wickedness but the wickedness of a woman;

14 Any calamity, but a calamity from them that hate me;

And any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent;

And there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

16 I will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon,

Than keep house with a wicked woman.

17 The wickedness of a woman changeth her look,

And darkeneth her countenance as a bear doth.

18 Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbours,

And when he heareth it he sigheth bitterly.

19 All malice is but little to the malice of a woman:

Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.

20 As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged,

So is a wife full of words to a quiet man.

21 Throw not thyself upon the beauty of a woman;

And desire not a woman for her beauty.

22 There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach,

If a woman maintain her husband.

23 A wicked woman is abasement of heart,

And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart:

A woman that will not make her husband happy

Is as hands that hang down, and palsied knees.

24 From a woman was the beginning of sin;

And because of her we all die.

25 Give not water an outlet;

Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.

26 If she go not² as thou wouldest have her,

Cut her off from thy flesh.³

26 Happy is the husband of a good wife;

And the number of his days shall be twofold.

2 A brave woman rejoiceth her husband:

And he shall fulfil his years in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion:

She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor,

A good heart maketh at all times a cheerful countenance.

5 Of three things my heart was afraid;

And concerning the fourth⁴ kind I made supplication:

The slander of a city, and the assembly of a multitude, and a false accusation:

All these are more grievous than death.

6 A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous of another woman,

And the scourge of a tongue communicating to all.

7 A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro:

He that taketh hold of her is as one that graspeth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman causeth great wrath;

And she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;

28 For two things my heart is grieved ;
And for the third anger cometh upon
me :

A man of war that suffereth for poverty ;

And men of understanding that are counted as refuse :

One that turneth back from righteousness to sin ;

The Lord shall prepare him for the sword.

29 A merchant shall hardly keep himself from wrong doing ;
And a huckster shall not be acquitted

ferent ;

bandry thereof ;

8 If thou followest righteousness, thou iquity.

11 The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom :

But the foolish man changeth as the moon.

12 Among men void of understanding observe the opportunity ;

But stay continually among the thoughtful.

13 The discourse of fools is an offence ;
And their laughter is in the wantonness of sin.

14 The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright ;

And their strife maketh one stop his 15 The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood ;

And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.

16 He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,

And shall not find a friend to his

17 Love a friend, and keep faith with
him :

But if thou reveal his secrets,
Thou shalt not pursue after him ;

18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,

So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbour.

19 And as a bird which thou hast loosed
out of thy hand,

So hast thou let thy neighbour go, and thou wilt not catch him again :

20 Pursue him not, for he is gone far away,

And hath escaped as a gazelle out of the snare.

21 For a wound may be bound up, and after reviling there may be a reconcilement ;

But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.

22 One that winketh with the eye con-triveth evil things ;

born;
And a son left at large becometh headstrong.

9 Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid:
Play with him, and he will grieve thee.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;
And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.

11 Give him no liberty in his youth,
¹ And wink not at his follies.

12 ¹ Bow down his neck in his youth,
And beat him on the sides while he is a child,
Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee;
¹ And there shall be sorrow to thy soul.

13 Chastise thy son, and take pains with
him, Lest his shameless behaviour be an offence unto thee.

14 Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,
Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.

15 Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;
And a strong body than wealth without measure.

16 There is no riches better than health
of body;
And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.

17 Death is better than a bitter life,
² And ³ eternal rest than a continual sickness.

18 Good things poured out upon a mouth
that is closed
Are as messes of meat laid upon a grave.

19 What doth an offering profit an idol?
For neither shall it eat nor smell:
So is he that is afflicted of the Lord,

20 Seeing with his eyes and groaning,
As an eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.

21 Give not over thy soul to sorrow;
And afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.

22 Gladness of heart is the life of a man;
And the joyfulness of a man is length of days.

23 Love thine own soul, and comfort thy
heart:
And remove sorrow far from thee;
For sorrow hath destroyed many,
And there is no profit therein.

24 Envy and wrath shorten a man's days;
And care bringeth old age before the time.

25 A cheerful and good heart
Will have a care of his meat and diet.

31 Wakefulness that cometh of riches
consumeth the flesh,
And the anxiety thereof putteth away sleep.

2 Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;
And ⁴ in a sore disease sleep will be broken.

3 A rich man toileth in gathering money together;
And when he resteth, he is filled with his good things.

4 A poor man toileth in lack of substance;
And when he resteth, he becometh needy.

5 He that loveth gold shall not be justified;
And he that followeth destruction
shall himself have his fill of it.

6 Many have been given over to ruin
for the sake of gold;
And their perdition ⁵ meeteth them face to face.

7 It is a stumblingblock unto them that sacrifice unto it;
And every fool shall be taken therewith.

8 Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish,
And that goeth not after gold.

9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed:
For wonderful things hath he done
among his people.

10 Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect?
Then let him glory.
Who hath had the power to trans-
gress, and hath not transgressed?
And to do evil, and hath not done it?

11 His goods shall be made sure,
And the congregation shall declare his alms.

12 Sittest thou at a great table? ⁶ be not greedy upon it,
And say not, Many are the things
upon it.

13 Remember that an evil eye is a wicked thing:
What hath been created more evil
than an eye?
Therefore it sheddeth tears from every face.

14 Stretch not thine hand whithersoever
it looketh,
And thrust not thyself with it into the dish.

15 Consider thy neighbour's liking by thine own;
And be discreet in every point.

16 Eat, as becometh a man, those things which are set before thee;
And eat not greedily, lest thou be hated.

17 Be first to leave off for manners'
sake;
And be not insatiable, lest thou offend.

- 18 And if thou sittest among many,
Reach not out thy hand before them.
- 19 How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,
And he doth not breathe hard upon his bed.
- 20 Healthy sleep cometh of moderate
eating;
He riseth early, and his wits are with
him:
The pain of wakefulness, and colic,
And griping, are with an insatiable
man.
- 21 And if thou hast been forced to eat,
Rise up in the midst thereof, and thou shalt have rest.
- 22 Hear me, my son, and despise me not,
And at the last thou shalt find my words true:
In all thy works be quick,
And no disease shall come unto thee.
- 23 Him that is liberal of his meat the lips shall bless;
And the testimony of his excellence shall be believed.
- 24 Him that is a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;
And the testimony of his niggardness shall be sure.
- 25 Shew not thyself valiant in wine;
For wine hath destroyed many.
- 26 The furnace proveth the temper of steel by dipping;
So doth wine prove hearts in the quar-
relling of the proud.
- 27 Wine is as good as life to men,
If thou drink it in its measure:
What life is there to a man that is without wine?
And it hath been created to make men glad.
- 28 Wine drunk in season and to satisfy
Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:
- 29 Wine drunk largely is bitterness of
soul,
With provocation and conflict.
- 30 Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool unto his hurt;
It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.
- 31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at a banquet of wine,
Neither set him at nought in his mirth:
Speak not unto him a word of reproach,
And press not upon him by asking back a debt.
- 32 Have they made thee ruler of a feast?
Be not lifted up,
Be thou among them as one of them;
Take thought for them, and so sit down.
- 2 And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place,
- That thou mayest be gladdened on their account,
And receive a crown for thy well ordering.
- 3 Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge;
And hinder not music.
- 4 Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music,
And display not thy wisdom out of season.
- 5 As a signet of carbuncle in a setting
of gold,
So is a concert of music in a banquet
of wine.
- 6 As a signet of emerald in a work of gold,
So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.
- 7 Speak, young man, if there be need of
thee;
Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.
- 8 Sum up thy speech, many things in few words;
Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.
- 9 If thou be among great men, behave
not as their equal;
And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.
- 10 Before thunder speedeth lightning;
And before a shamefast man favour shall go forth.
- 11 Rise up betimes, and be not the last;
Get thee home quickly and loiter
not:
- 12 There take thy pastime, and do what is in thy heart;
And sin not by proud speech:
- 13 And for these things bless him that made thee,
And giveth thee to drink freely of his good things.
- 14 He that feareth the Lord will receive his discipline;
And they that seek him early shall find favour.
- 15 He that seeketh the law shall be filled
therewith:
But the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.
- 16 They that fear the Lord shall find judgement,
And shall kindle righteous acts as a light.
- 17 A sinful man shunneth reproof,
And will find a judgement according to his will.
- 18 A man of counsel will not neglect a thought;
A strange and proud man will not
crouch in fear,
Even after he hath done a thing by himself without counsel.
- 19 Do nothing without counsel;

And when thou hast once done, repent not.

20 Go not in a way of conflict ;

And stumble not in stony places.

21 Be not confident in a ¹ smooth way.

22 And beware of thine own children.

23 In every work trust thine own soul ;

For this is the keeping of the commandments.

24 He that believeth the law giveth heed to the commandment ;

And he that trusteth in the Lord shall suffer no loss.

33 There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord ;

But in temptation once and again will he deliver him.

2 A wise man will not hate the law ;

But he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.

3 A man of understanding will put his trust in the law ;

And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh at the oracle.

4 Prepare thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard ;

Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.

5 The heart of a fool is as a cartwheel ;

And his thoughts like a rolling axle-tree.

6 A stallion horse is as a mocking friend ;

He neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

7 Why doth one day excel another, When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun ?

8 By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished ;

And he varied seasons and feasts :

9 Some of them he exalted and hal-
lowed,

And some of them hath he made ordinary days.

10 And all men are from the ground, And Adam was created of earth.

11 In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord distinguished them,

And made their ways various :

12 Some of them he blessed and exalted,

And some of them he hallowed and brought nigh to himself :

Some of them he cursed and brought low,

And overthrew them from their place.

13 As the clay of the potter in his hand, All his ways are according to his good pleasure ;

So men are in the hand of him that made them,

To render unto them according to his judgement.

14 Good is set over against evil, And life over against death :

So is ² the sinner over against the godly.

15 And thus look upon all the works of the Most High ;

Two and two, one against another.

16 And I awaked up last,

As one that gleaneth after the grape-gatherers :

By the blessing of the Lord I got before them,

And filled my winepress as one that gathereth grapes.

17 Consider that I laboured not for myself alone,

But for all them that seek instruction.

18 Hear me, ye great men of the people,

And hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.

19 To son and wife, to brother and friend,

Give not power over thee while thou livest ;

And give not thy goods to another, Lest thou repent and make supplication for them again.

20 Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,

Give not thyself over to anybody.

21 For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,

Than that thou shouldest look to the hand of thy sons.

22 In all thy works keep the upper hand ;

Bring not a stain on thine honour.

23 In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,

And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.

24 Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass ;

Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.

25 Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest :

Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.

26 Yoke and thong will bow the neck :

And for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.

27 Send him to labour, that he be not idle ;

For idleness teacheth much mischief.

28 Set him to work, as is fit for him ;

And if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.

29 And be not excessive toward any ;

And without judgement do nothing.

30 If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,

Because thou hast bought him with blood.

31 If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself ;

³ For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him :

³ The Greek text of this line is probably corrupt.

- If thou treat him ill, and he depart
and run away,
Which way wilt thou go to seek him?
- 34 Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
And dreams give wings to fools.
- 2 As one that catcheth at a shadow,
and followeth after the wind,
So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.
- 3 The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,
The likeness of a face over against a face.
- 4 Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?
And of that which is false what shall be true?
- 5 Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain;
And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.
- 6 If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation,
Give not thy heart unto them.
- 7 For dreams have led many astray:
And they have failed by putting their hope in them.
- 8 Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.
- 9 A well-instructed man knoweth many
things;
And he that hath much experience will declare understanding.
- 10 He that hath no experience knoweth few things:
But he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.
- 11 In my wandering I have seen many
things;
And more than my words is my understanding.
- 12 Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
And I was preserved because of these things.
- 13 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;
For their hope is upon him that saveth
them.
- 14 Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
For he is his hope.
- 15 Blessed is the soul of him that fear-
eth the Lord:
To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?
- 16 The eyes of the Lord are upon them
that love him,
A mighty protection and strong stay,
A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday,
A guard from stumbling, and a suc-
cour from falling.
- 17 He raiseth up the soul, and enlighten-eth the eyes:
- He giveth healing, life, and blessing.
- 18 He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;
And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.
- 19 The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly; Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.
- 20 As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes
Is he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.
- 21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:
He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.
- 22 As one that slayeth his neighbour is he that taketh away his living;
And as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.
- 23 One building, and another pulling
down,
What profit have they had but toil?
- 24 One praying, and another cursing, Whose voice will the Lord listen to?
- 25 He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and toucheth it again,
What profit hath he in his washing?
- 26 Even so a man fasting for his sins,
And going again, and doing the same;
Who will listen to his prayer?
And what profit hath he in his humiliation?
- 35 He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;
He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth a peace offering.
- 2 He that requiteth a good turn offer-
eth fine flour;
And he that giveth alms sacrificeth
a thank offering.
- 3 To depart from wickedness is a thing
pleasing to the Lord;
And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.
- 4 See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.
- 5 For all these things are to be done
because of the commandment.
- 6 The offering of the righteous maketh
the altar fat;
And the sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.
- 7 The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable;
And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.
- 8 Glorify the Lord with a good eye,
And stint not the firstfruits of thine hands.
- 9 In every gift shew a cheerful countenance,
And dedicate thy tithe with gladness.

10 Give unto the Most High according as he hath given;
And as thy hand hath found, give
with a good eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth,
And he will recompense thee seven-fold.

12 Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:
And set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;
For the Lord is judge,
And with him is no respect of persons.

13 He will not accept any person against a poor man;
And he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged.

14 He will in no wise despise the supplication of the fatherless;
Nor the widow, ¹when she poureth out her tale.

15 Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
And is not her cry against him that hath caused them to fall?

16 He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted,
And his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.

17 The prayer of the humble pierceth
the clouds;
And till it come nigh, he will not be comforted;
And he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;

And he shall judge ²righteously, and execute judgement.

18 And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be longsuffering toward
them,

Till he have crushed the loins of the unmerciful;
And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;
Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,
And broken in pieces the sceptres of
the unrighteous;

19 Till he have rendered to every man
according to his doings,
And to the works of men according to their devices;

Till he have judged the cause of his people;
And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.

20 Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them,
As clouds of rain in the time of drought.

36 Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold;

2 And send thy fear upon all the nations;³

3 Lift up thy hand against the strange nations;

And let them see thy mighty power.

4 As thou wast sanctified in us before
them,

So be thou magnified in them before us.

5 And let them know thee, as we also have known thee,
That there is no God but only thou,
O God.

6 Shew new signs, and work divers wonders;

Glorify thy hand and thy right arm.⁴

7 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath;

Take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

8 Hasten the time, and remember the oath;

And let them declare thy mighty
works.

9 Let him that escapeth be devoured
by the rage of fire;

And may they that harm thy people find destruction.

10 Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies,

That say, There is none but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together,

And ⁴take them for thine inheritance,
as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name,

And upon Israel, whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.

13 Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary,

Jerusalem, the place of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion; exalt thine oracles,

And fill thy people with thy glory.

15 Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning,

And raise up the prophecies that have been in thy name.

16 Give reward unto them that wait for
thee:

And men shall put their trust in thy prophets.

17 Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy suppliants,

According to the blessing of Aaron concerning thy people;

And all they that are on the earth shall know

That thou art the Lord, the ⁵eternal God.

18 The belly will eat any meat;
Yet is one meat better than another.

19 The ⁶mouth tasteth meats taken in hunting;

So doth an understanding heart false speeches.

20 A froward heart will cause heaviness:
And a man of experience will recompense him.

21 A woman will receive any man;
But one daughter is better than an-

22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance;

And a man desireth nothing so much.

- 23 If there is on her tongue mercy and meekness,
Her husband is not like the sons of men.
- 24 He that getteth a wife entereth upon a possession;
A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.
- 25 Where no hedge is, the possession will be laid waste :
And he that hath no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.
- 26 For who will trust a nimble robber, that skippeth from city to city?
Even so who shall trust a man that hath no nest, and lodgeth wheresoever he findeth himself at night-fall?
- 37 Every friend will say, I also am his friend :
But there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.
- 2 Is there not a grief in it even unto death,
When a companion and friend is turned to enmity ?
- 3 O wicked imagination, whence camest thou rolling in
To cover the dry land with deceitfulness ?
- 4 There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the gladness of a friend,
But in time of affliction will be against him.
- 5 There is a companion, which for the belly's sake laboureth with his friend,
In the face of battle will take up the buckler.
- 6 Forget not a friend in thy soul;
And be not unmindful of him in thy riches.
- 7 Every counsellor extolleth counsel;
But there is that counselleth for himself.
- 8 Let thy soul beware of a counsellor,
And know thou before what is his interest
(For he will take counsel for himself);
Lest he cast the lot upon thee,
- 9 And say unto thee, Thy way is good:
And he will stand over against thee, to see what shall befall thee.
- 10 Take not counsel with one that looketh askance at thee;
And hide thy counsel from such as are jealous of thee.
- 11 Take not counsel with a woman about her rival;
Neither with a coward about war;
Nor with a merchant about exchange;
Nor with a buyer about selling;
Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;
Nor with an unmerciful man about kindness;
Nor with a sluggard about any kind of work;
- Nor with a hireling in thy house about finishing his work;
Nor with an idle servant about much business :
Give not heed to these in any matter of counsel.
- 12 But rather be continually with a godly man,
Whom thou shalt have known to be a keeper of the commandments,
Who in his soul is as thine own soul,
And who will grieve with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.
- 13 And make the counsel of thy heart to stand;
For there is none more faithful unto thee than it.
- 14 For a man's soul is sometime wont to bring him tidings,
More than seven watchmen that sit on high on a watch-tower.
- 15 And above all this intreat the Most High,
That he may direct thy way in truth.
- 16 Let reason be the beginning of every work,
And let counsel go before every action.
- 17 As a token of the changing of the heart,
18 four manner of things do rise up,
Good and evil, life and death;
And that which ruleth over them continually is the tongue.
- 19 There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many,
And yet is unprofitable to his own soul.
- 20 There is one that is subtil in words,
and is hated;
He shall be destitute of all food:
- 21 For grace was not given him from the Lord;
Because he is deprived of all wisdom.
- 22 There is one that is wise to his own soul;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy in the mouth.
- 23 A wise man will instruct his own people;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.
- 24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing;
And all they that see him shall call him happy.
- 25 The life of man is numbered by days;
And the days of Israel are innumerable.
- 26 The wise man shall inherit confidence among his people,
And his name shall live for ever.
- 27 My son, prove thy soul in thy life,
And see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.
- 28 For all things are not profitable for all men,
Neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.
- 29 Be not insatiable in any luxury,

And be not greedy on the things that thou eatest.

30 For in multitude of meats there shall be disease,
And surfeiting shall come nigh unto colic.

31 Because of surfeiting have many perished;
But he that taketh heed shall prolong his life.

38 Honour a physician according to thy need of him with the honours due unto him:

For verily the Lord hath created him.

2 For from the Most High cometh healing;

And from the king he shall receive a gift.

3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head;

And in the sight of great men he shall be admired.

4 The Lord created medicines out of the earth;

And a prudent man will have no disgust at them.

5 Was not water made sweet with wood,
That the virtue thereof might be known?

6 And he gave men skill,
That ¹ they might be glorified in his marvellous works.

7 With them doth he heal a man,
And taketh away his pain.

8 With these will the apothecary make a confection;
And his works shall not be brought to an end;
And from him is peace upon the face of the earth.

9 My son, in thy sickness be not negligent;
But pray unto the Lord, and he shall heal thee.

10 Put away wrong doing, and order thine hands aright,
And cleanse thy heart from all manner of sin.

11 Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour;
And make fat thine offering, as one that is not.

12 Then give place to the physician, for verily the Lord hath created him;
And let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.

14 For they also shall beseech the Lord,
That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.

15 He that sinneth before his Maker,
Let him fall into the hands of the physician.

16 My son, let thy tears fall over the dead,

And as one that suffereth grievously begin lamentation;
And wind up his body according to his due,
And neglect not his burial.

17 Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing,
And let thy mourning be according to his desert.

For one day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of:
And so be comforted for thy sorrow.

18 For of sorrow cometh death,
And sorrow of heart will bow down the strength.

19 In calamity sorrow also remaineth:
And the poor man's life is ² grievous to the heart.

20 Give not thy heart unto sorrow:
Put it away, remembering the last end:

21 Forget it not, for there is no returning again:

Him thou shalt not profit, and thou wilt hurt thyself.

22 Remember the sentence upon him;
for so also shall thine be;
Yesterday for me, and to-day for thee.

23 When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest;
And be comforted for him, when his spirit departeth from him.

24 The wisdom of the scribe cometh by opportunity of leisure;
And ³ he that hath little business shall become wise.

25 How shall he become wise that holdeth the plough,
That glorieth in the shaft of the goad,
That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours,
And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?

26 He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;
And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.

27 So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;
They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;

He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,
And will be wakeful to finish his work.

28 So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
And considering the unwrought iron:
The vapour of the fire will waste his flesh;

And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:

The noise of the hammer will ⁴ be ever in his ear,

And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;
He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,

1 Or, he

And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.

- 29 So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,
Who is alway anxiously set at his work,
And all his handywork is by number ;
30 He will fashion the clay with his arm,
And will bend its strength in front of his feet ;
He will apply his heart to finish the glazing ;
And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.

- 31 All these put their trust in their hands ;
And each becometh wise in his own work.

- 32 Without these shall not a city be inhabited,
And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.

- 33¹ They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,
And in the assembly they shall not mount on high ;
They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,
And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement :
Neither shall they declare instruction and judgement ;
And where parables are they shall not be found.

- 34 But they will maintain the fabric of the ² world ;
And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.

- 39³ Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And meditateth in the law of the Most High ;
He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,
And will be occupied in prophecies.

- 2 He will keep the discourse of the men of renown,
And will enter in amidst the subtilties of parables.

- 3 He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,
And be conversant in the dark sayings of parables.

- 4 He will serve among great men,
And appear before him that ruleth :
He will travel through the land of strange nations ;
For he hath tried good things and evil among men.

- 5 He will apply his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him,
And will make supplication before the Most High,
And will open his mouth in prayer,
And will make supplication for his sins.

- 6 If the great Lord will,
He shall be filled with the spirit of understanding :
He shall pour forth the words of his wisdom,
And in prayer give thanks unto the Lord.

- 7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge,
And in his secrets shall he meditate.

- 8 He shall shew forth the instruction which he hath been taught,
And shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

- 9 Many shall commend his understanding ;
And so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out :
His memorial shall not depart,
And his name shall live from generation to generation.

- 10 Nations shall declare his wisdom,
And the congregation shall tell out his praise.

- 11 If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand :
And if he ⁴ die, he addeth thereto.

- 12 Yet more will I utter, which I have thought upon ;
And I am filled as the moon at the full.

- 13 Hearken unto me, ye holy children,
And bud forth as a rose growing by a brook of water :

- 14 And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense,
And put forth flowers as a lily,
Spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing a song of praise ;
Bless ye the Lord for all his works.

- 15 Magnify his name,
And give utterance to his praise
With the songs of your lips, and with harps ;
And thus shall ye say when ye utter his praise :

- 16 All the works of the Lord are exceeding good,
And every command shall be accomplished in his season.

- 17 None can say, What is this ? wherefore is that ?
For in his season they shall all be sought out.
At his word the waters stood as a heap,
And the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.

- 18 At his command is all his good pleasure done ;
And there is none that shall hinder his salvation.

- 19 The works of all flesh are before him ;
And it is not possible to be hid from his eyes.

- 20 He beholdeth from everlasting to everlasting ;

² Gr. age.

³ Gr. Except him that.

⁴ Gr. cease.

And there is nothing wonderful before him.
 21 None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
 For all things are created for their uses.
 22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river,
 And saturated it as a flood.
 23 As he hath turned the waters into saltness;
 So shall the heathen inherit his wrath.
 24 His ways are plain unto the holy;
 So are they stumblingblocks unto the wicked.
 25 Good things are created from the beginning for the good;
 So are evil things for sinners.
 26 The chief of all things necessary for the life of man
 Are water, and fire, and iron, and salt,
 And flour of wheat, and honey, and milk,
 The blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.
 27 All these things are for good to the godly;
 So to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.
 28 There be winds that are created for vengeance,
 And in their fury lay on their scourges heavily;
 In the time of consummation they pour out their strength,
 And shall appease the wrath of him that made them.
 29 Fire, and hail, and famine, and death,
 All these are created for vengeance;
 30 Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions and adders,
 And a sword punishing the ungodly unto destruction.
 31 They shall rejoice in his commandment,
 And shall be made ready upon earth, when need is;
 And in their seasons they shall not transgress his word.
 32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved,
 And I thought this, and left it in writing;
 33 All the works of the Lord are good:
 And he will supply every need in its season.
 34 And none can say, This is worse than that:
 For they shall all be well approved in their season.
 35 And now with all your heart and mouth sing ye praises,
 And bless the name of the Lord.
 40 Great travail is created for every man,

And a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
 From the day of their coming forth from their mother's womb,
 Until the day for their burial in the mother of all things.
 2 The expectation of things to come, and the day of death,
 1 Trouble their thoughts, and cause fear of heart;
 3 From him that sitteth on a throne of glory,
 Even unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;
 4 From him that weareth purple and a crown,
 Even unto him that is clothed with a hempen frock.
 5 There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble, and disquiet,
 And fear of death, and anger, and strife;
 And in the time of rest upon his bed
 His night sleep doth change his knowledge.
 6 A little or nothing is his resting,
 And afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,
 He is troubled in the vision of his heart,
 As one that hath escaped from the front of battle.
 7 In the very time of his deliverance he awaketh,
 And marvelleth that the fear is nought.
 8 It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast,
 And upon sinners sevenfold more.
 9 Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and sword,
 Calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;
 10 All these things were created for the wicked,
 And because of them came the flood.
 11 All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again:
 And all things that are of the waters return into the sea.
 12 All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out;
 And good faith shall stand for ever.
 13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river,
 And like a great thunder in rain shall go off in noise.
 14 In opening his hands a man shall be made glad:
 So shall transgressors utterly fail.
 15 The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches;
 And are as unclean roots upon a sheer rock.
 16 The sedge that groweth upon every water and bank of a river
 Shall be plucked up before all grass.

- 17 Bounty is as a garden ¹ of blessings,
And almsgiving endureth for ever.
- 18 The life of one that laboureth, and is contented, shall be made sweet;
And he that findeth a treasure is above both.
- 19 Children and the building of a city
establish a man's name;
And a blameless wife is counted above
both.
- 20 Wine and music rejoice the heart;
And the love of wisdom is above
both.
- 21 The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant melody;
And a pleasant tongue is above both.
- 22 Thine eye shall desire grace and

- 23 A friend and a companion never meet

And a wife with her husband is above

- 24 Brethren and succour are for a time

There is nothing wanting in the fear

- 27 The fear of the Lord is as a garden

Better it is to die than to beg.
- 29 A man that looketh unto the table of

He will pollute his soul with another man's meats:
But a man wise and well-instructed will beware thereof.

Unto the man that hath nothing to

This is the sentence from the Lord

- 6 The inheritance of sinners' children

Because they shall be reproached for

If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.

- 10 All things that are of the earth shall

So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.

- 11 The mourning of men is about their

But the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.

- 12 Have regard to thy name;
For it continueth with thee longer

And a good name continueth for ever.

- 14 My children, keep instruction in peace:

But wisdom that is hid, and a treasure
that is not seen,

What profit is in them both?

- 15 Better is a man that hideth his fool-

Than a man that hideth his wisdom.

- 16 Wherefore shew reverence to my

For it is not good to retain every kind of shame;

And not all things are approved by 17 The Lord hath not given power to the

Which the Almighty Lord firmly

That whatsoever is might be estab-

And he hath made nothing imperfect.
- 25 One thing establisheth the good things of another :
And who shall be filled with beholding his glory ?

43 The pride of the height is the firmament ¹ in its clearness,
The appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.

2 The sun when he appeareth, bringing tidings as he goeth forth,
Is a marvellous instrument, the work of the Most High :

3 At his noon he drieth up the country,
And who shall stand against his burning heat ?

4 A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat,
But the sun three times more, burning up the mountains :
Breathing out fiery vapours,
And sending forth bright beams, he dimmeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lord that made him ;
And at his word he hasteneth his course.

6 The moon also is in all things for her season,
For a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.

7 From the moon is the sign of the feast day ;
A light that waneth when she is come to the full.

8 The month is called after her name,
Increasing wonderfully in her changing ;
An instrument of the hosts on high,
Shining forth in the firmament of heaven ;

9 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars,
An ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.

10 At the word of the Holy One they will stand in ² due order,

12 It compasseth the heaven roundabout with a circle of glory ;

13 By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace,

And sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgement.

14 By reason thereof the treasure-houses are opened ;
And clouds fly forth as fowls.

15 By his mighty power he maketh strong the clouds,
And the hailstones are broken small :

16 And at his appearing the mountains will be shaken,
And at his will the south wind will blow.

17 The voice of his thunder maketh the earth to travail ;
So doth the northern storm and the whirlwind :

As birds flying down he sprinkleth the snow ;
And as the lighting of the locust is the falling down thereof :

18 The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness,
And the heart will be astonished at the raining of it.

19 The hoar frost also he poureth on the earth as salt ;
And when it is congealed, it is as points of thorns.

20 The cold north wind shall blow,
And the ice shall be congealed on the water :

It shall lodge upon every gathering together of water,
And the water shall put on as it were a breastplate.

21 It shall devour the mountains, and burn up the wilderness,
And consume the green herb as fire.

22 A mist coming speedily is the healing of all things ;
A dew coming after heat shall bring cheerfulness.

23 By his counsel he hath stilled the deep,

27 We may say many things, yet shall we not attain ;

30 When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can ;

² Gr. judgement.

³ The most ancient authorities read Jesus planted it.

⁴ Gr. creation. Several ancient authorities read possession of cattle.

44 Let us now praise famous men,
And our fathers that begat us.

2 The Lord ¹manifested in them great glory,
Even his mighty power from the beginning.

3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms,
And were men renowned for their power,

² Giving counsel by their understanding,
Such as have brought tidings in prophecies:

4 Leaders of the people by their counsels,
And by their understanding ³men of learning for the people;
Wise were their words in their instruction:

5 Such as sought out musical tunes,
And set forth verses in writing:

6 Rich men furnished with ability,
Living peaceably in their habitations:

7 All these were honoured in their generations,
And were a glory in their days.

8 There be of them, that have left a name behind them,
To declare their praises.

9 And some there be, which have no memorial;
Who are perished as though they had not been,

And are become as though they had not been born;
And their children after them.

10 But these were men of mercy,
Whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.

11 With their seed shall remain continually a good inheritance;
Their children are ⁴within the covenants.

12 Their seed standeth fast,
And their children for their sakes.

13 Their seed shall remain for ever,
And their glory shall not be blotted out.

14 Their bodies were buried in peace,
And their name liveth to all generations.

15 Peoples will declare their wisdom,
And the congregation telleth out their praise.

16 Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
Being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 Noah was found perfect and righteous;
In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
Therefore was there left a remnant unto the earth,
When the flood came.

18 Everlasting covenants were made with him,
That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.

19 Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in glory;

20 Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:
In his flesh he established the covenant;
And when he was proved, he was found faithful.

21 Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
That he would multiply him as the dust of the earth,
And exalt his seed as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
And from the River unto the utmost part of the earth.

22 In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the covenant:

23 And he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
Among twelve tribes did he part them.

45 And he brought out of him a man of mercy,
Which found favour in the sight of all flesh;
A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,
Whose memorial is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.

3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;
He gave him commandment for his people,
And shewed him part of his glory.

5 He made him to hear his voice,
And led him into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments face to face,
Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgements.

For a memorial to the children of his people;

10 With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,

With an oracle of judgement, even with the Urim and Thummim;

11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;

With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller,

13 Before him there never have been any such;

No stranger put them on, but his sons only, and his offspring perpetually.

14 His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed

15 Moses ⁴ consecrated him,
And anointed him with holy oil:

It was unto him for an everlasting covenant,
And to his seed, all the days of heaven,

To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office,
And bless his people in his name.

16 He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord,
Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial,
To make reconciliation for thy people.

17 He gave unto him in his commandments,

Yea, authority in the covenants of judgements,

To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.

18 Strangers gathered themselves together against him,

And envied him in the wilderness,
Even Dathan and Abiram with their company,
And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

19 The Lord saw it, and it displeased him;

And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:

He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.

20 And he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:

He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;

And first did he prepare bread in abundance:

21 For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,

Which he gave unto him and to his seed.

22 Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,

And he hath no portion among the people:

23 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,

And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away,

And he made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him,

That he should be leader of the ⁵ saints and of his people;

That he and his seed

Should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.

25 Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah;

The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son;

So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed.

against the cities!

3 Who before him so stood fast?

For the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

4 Did not the sun go back by his hand?

And did not one day become as two?

5 He called upon the Most High and Mighty One,

When his foes pressed him round about;

And the great Lord heard him.

6 With hailstones of mighty power

He caused war to break violently upon the nation,

And ³ in the going down he destroyed
them that resisted;

That the nations might know his ⁴ armour,

How that he fought in the sight of
the Lord;

For he followed after the Mighty
One.

7 Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,

He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,
In that they withstood the adversary,

Hindered the people from sin,
And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.

8 And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two alone were preserved

To bring them into the heritage,
Even into a land flowing with milk and honey.

9 Also the Lord gave strength unto Caleb,

And it remained with him unto his old age;

So that he entered upon the height of the land,

And his seed obtained it for a heritage:

10 That all the children of Israel might see

That it is good to walk after the Lord.

11 Also the judges, every one by his name,

All whose hearts went not a whoring,

And who turned not away from the Lord,

May their memorial be blessed.

12 May their bones flourish again out of their place,

And may the name of them that have been honoured be renewed upon their children.

13 Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord,

Established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation,

And the Lord visited Jacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,

And by his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 Also when his enemies pressed him round about

He called upon the Lord, the Mighty
One,

With the offering of the sucking lamb.

17 And the Lord thundered from heaven,
And with a mighty sound made his voice to be heard.

18 And he utterly destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians,

And all the princes of the Philistines.

19 Also before the time of his ⁵ long sleep

He made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed,

I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe:

And no man did accuse him.

20 And after he fell asleep he prophesied,
And shewed the king his end,

And lifted up his voice from the earth
in prophecy,

To blot out the wickedness of the people.

47 And after him rose up Nathan

To prophesy in the days of David.

2 As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,

So was David separated from the children of Israel.

3 He played with lions as with kids,
And with bears as with lambs of the flock.

4 In his youth did he not slay a giant,
And take away reproach from the
people,

When he lifted up his hand with a sling stone,

And beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the Most High
Lord;

And he gave him strength in his right
hand,

To slay a man mighty in war,
To exalt the horn of his people.

6 So they glorified him for his ten thousands,

And praised him for the blessings of
the Lord,

In that there was given him a diadem of glory.
 7 For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
 And brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries,
 Brake their horn in pieces unto this day.
 8 In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with words of glory;
 With his whole heart he sang praise, And loved him that made him.
 9 Also he set singers before the altar, And to make sweet melody by their music.¹
 10 He gave comeliness to the feasts, And set in order the seasons to perfection, While they praised his holy name, And the sanctuary sounded from early morning.
 11 The Lord took away his sins, And exalted his horn for ever;
 And gave him a covenant of kings, And a throne of glory in Israel.
 12 After him rose up a son, a man of understanding;
 And for his sake he dwelt at large.
 13 Solomon reigned in days of peace;
 And to him God gave rest round about, That he might set up a house for his name,
 And prepare a sanctuary for ever.
 14 How wise wast thou made in thy youth,
 And filled as a river with understanding!
 15 Thy soul covered the earth,
 And thou filledst it with ² dark parables.
 16 Thy name reached unto the isles afar off;
 And for thy peace thou wast beloved.
 17 For thy songs and proverbs and parables,
 And for thine interpretations, the countries marvelled at thee.
 18 By the name of the Lord God,
 Which is called the God of Israel,
 Thou didst gather gold as tin,
 And didst multiply silver as lead.
 19 Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
 And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
 20 Thou didst blemish thine honour,
 And profane thy seed,
 To bring wrath upon thy children;
 And I was grieved for thy folly:
 21 So that the sovereignty was divided,
 And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.
 22 But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
 And he will not destroy any of his works,
 Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
 And the seed of him that loved him he will not take away;

And he gave a remnant unto Jacob,
 And unto David a root out of him.
 23 And so rested Solomon with his fathers;
 And of his seed he left behind him Rehoboam,
 Even the foolishness of the people,
 And one that lacked understanding,
 Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.
 Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
 Who made Israel to sin,
 And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.
 24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
 To remove them from their land.
 25 For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
 Till vengeance should come upon them.
 48 Also there arose Elijah the prophet as fire,
 And his word burned like a torch:
 2 Who brought a famine upon them,
 And by his zeal made them few in number.
 3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:
 Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
 4 How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!
 And who shall glory like unto thee?
 5 Who did raise up a dead man from death,
 And from ³ the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:
 6 Who brought down kings to destruction,
 And honourable men from their bed:
 7 Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
 And judgements of vengeance in Horeb:
 8 Who anointed kings for retribution,
 And prophets to succeed after him:
 9 Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
 In a chariot of fiery horses:
 10 Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
 To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;
 To turn the heart of the father unto the son,
 And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
 11 Blessed are they that saw thee,
 And they that have been beautified with love;
 For we also shall surely live.
 12 Elijah it was, who was wrapped in a tempest:
 And Elisha was filled with his spirit;
 And in all his days he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,

15 For all this the people repented not,
And they departed not from their sins,
Till they were carried away as a spoil from their land,
And were scattered through all the earth;
And the people was left very few in number,
And a ruler was left in the house of David.

16 Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.

17 Hezekiah fortified his city,
And brought in ¹ water into the midst of them:
He digged the sheer rock with iron,
And builded up wells for waters.

18 In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
And he lifted up his hand against Sion,
And boasted great things in his arrogancy.

19 Then were their hearts and their hands-shaken,
And they were in pain, as women in travail;

20 And they called upon the Lord which is merciful,
Spreading forth their hands unto
him:
And the Holy One heard them speedily out of heaven,
And delivered them by the hand of Isalah.

21 He smote the camp of the Assyrians,
And his angel utterly destroyed them.

22 For Hezekiah did that which was
pleasing to the Lord,
And was strong in the ways of David
his father,
Which Isalah the prophet commanded,
Who was great and faithful in his vision.

23 In his days the sun went backward;
And he added life to the king.

24 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last;
And he comforted them that mourned in Sion.

25 He shewed the things that should be

And the hidden things or ever they 49 The memorial of Josiah is like the composition of incense Prepared by the work of the apothecary:

It shall be sweet as honey in every
mouth,
And as music at a banquet of wine.

2 He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people,

And took away the abominations of iniquity.

3 He set his heart right toward the Lord;
In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

4 Except David and Hezekiah and Josiah,
All committed trespass:
For they forsook the law of the Most High;
The kings of Judah failed.

5 For they gave their ² power unto others,
And their glory to a strange nation.

6 They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary,
And made her streets desolate, *as it

And yet he was sanctified in the womb

13 Also of Nehemiah the memorial is

Who raised up for us the walls that were fallen,
And set up the gates and bars,
And raised up our homes again.

14 No man was created upon the earth

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

- 51 I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord,
O King.
And will praise thee, God my Saviour:
I do give thanks unto thy name:
- 2 For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,
And out of the snare of a skanderous tongue,
From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by:
- 3 And didst deliver me, according to the abundance of thy mercy, and greatness of thy name,
From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had:
- 4 From the choking of a fire on every side,
And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;
- 5 Out of the depth of the belly of ¹the
grave,
And from an unclean tongue,
And from lying words,
- 6 The slander of an unrighteous tongue
unto the king.
My soul drew near even unto death,
And my life was near to ¹the grave beneath.
- 7 They compassed me on every side,
And there was none to help me.
I was looking for the succour of men,
And it was not.
- 8 And I remembered thy mercy, O
Lord,
And thy working which hath been
from everlasting,
How thou deliverest them that wait
for thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.
- 9 And I lifted up my supplication from the earth,
And prayed for deliverance from
death.
- 10 I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord,
That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
In the time when there was no help against the proud.
- 11 I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;
And my supplication was heard:
- 12 For thou savedst me from destruction,
And deliveredst me from the evil
time:

Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee,
And bless the name of the Lord.

- 13 When I was yet young,
Or ever I went abroad,
I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.
- 14 Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.
- 15 From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:
My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.
- 16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
And found for myself much instruction.
- 17 I profited in her:
Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.
- 18 For I purposed to practise her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;
And I shall never be put to shame.
- 19 My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:
I spread forth my hands to the heaven
above,
And bewailed my ignorances of her.
- 20 I set my soul aright unto her,
And in pureness I found her.
I gat me a heart joined with her from the beginning:
Therefore shall I not be forsaken.
- 21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her:
Therefore have I gotten a good possession.
- 22 The Lord gave me a tongue for my
reward;
And I will praise him therewith.
- 23 Draw near unto me, ye unlearned,
And lodge in the house of instruction.
- 24 Say, wherefore are ye lacking in these things,
And your souls are very thirsty?
- 25 I opened my mouth, and spake,
Get her for yourselves without money.
- 26 Put your neck under the yoke,
And let your soul receive instruction:
She is hard at hand to find.
- 27 Behold with your eyes,
How that I laboured but a little,
And found for myself much rest.
- 28 Get you instruction with a great sum of silver,
And gain much gold by her.
- 29 May your soul rejoice in his mercy,
And may ye not be put to shame in praising him.
- 30 Work your work before the time
cometh,
And in his time he will give you your reward.

BARUCH.

1 AND these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Asadias, the son of Helkias, wrote in Babylon, in the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire. And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jechonias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud. And they wept, and fasted, ¹ and prayed before the Lord; they made also a collection of money according to every man's power: and they sent it to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of Helkias, the son of Salum, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, at the same time when he took the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedekias the son of Josias king of Judah had made, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jechonias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon.

10 And they said, Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; and pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his son, that their days may be ² as the days of heaven above the earth: and the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight. Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

15 And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: for that we have sinned before the Lord, and disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us: since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. Wherefore the plagues clave unto us, and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day.

21 Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us: but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God. Therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Judah, to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, ³ as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses; that we should eat every man the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own daughter. Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be a reproach and a desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them. Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice.

6 To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers confusion of face, as at this day.

¹ Another reading is, and vowed vows.

³ Another reading is, even as he hath done.

7 For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us. Yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord, in turning every one from the thoughts of his wicked heart. Therefore hath the Lord kept watch over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them upon us; for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.

10 Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us.

11 And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thy ordinances. Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away captive: that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in ¹ the grave, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither glory nor righteousness: but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness.

19 O Lord. For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,

21 Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places.

25 And, lo, they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by ² pestilence. And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. For I know that they will not hear me, because it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, and shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and shall think upon my name, and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord. And I will bring them again into the land which I swear unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

3 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee. Hear, O Lord, and have mercy: for thou art a merciful God: yea, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before thee. For thou sittest as king for ever, and we perish evermore. O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayer of ³ the dead Israelites, and of the children of them which were sinners before thee, that hearkened not unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these 5 plagues came unto us. Remember not the iniquities of our fathers: but remember thy power and thy name now at this time. For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. For for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, ⁴ to the intent that we should call upon thy name: and we will praise thee in our captivity, for we have ⁵ called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee. if thou hadst walked in the way of dom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

15 Who hath found out her place? and who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts that are 17 upon the earth; they that had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust; and of whose get-

18 ting there is no end? For they that

³ wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are past finding

19 out, they are vanished and gone down to ¹ the grave, and others are come up

20 in their steads. Younger men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have

21 they not known, neither understood they the paths thereof: neither have their children laid hold of it: they are 22 far off from ⁴ their way. It hath not been heard of in Canaan, neither hath it

23 been seen in Teman. The sons also of Agar that seek understanding, which are in the land, the merchants of Mer-ran and Teman, and the authors of fables, and the searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remembered

24 her paths. O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the 25 place of his possession! great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasur-

26 able. There were the giants born that were famous of old, great of stature,

27 and expert in war. These did not God choose, neither gave he the way of 28 knowledge unto them: so they perished, because they had no ² wisdom,

they perished through their own fool-

29 ishness. Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought 30 her down from the clouds? Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and 31 will bring her for choice gold? There is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path.

32 But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with 33 fourfooted beasts: he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called

34 it, and it obeyed him with fear: and the stars shined in their watches, and were glad: when he called them, they said, Here we be; they shined with gladness unto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none

other be accounted of in comparison

36 of him. He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel

37 that is beloved of him. Afterward did she appear upon earth, and was conversant with men.

4 This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that en-

dueth for ever: all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such

2 as leave it shall die. Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk towards her shining in the presence of the light

3 thereof. Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee to a strange nation.

4 O Israel, happy are we: for the things that are pleasing to God are made

5 known unto us. Be of good cheer,

my people, the memorial of Israel.

6 Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved

God to wrath, ye were delivered unto

7 your adversaries. For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto

8 demons, and not to God. Ye forgot the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also Jerusalem, that 9 nursed you. For she saw the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Harken, ye women that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought 10 upon me great mourning; for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath 11 brought upon them. For with joy did

I nourish them; but sent them away

12 with weeping and mourning. Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and forsoaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; because they turned aside from the law of 13 God, and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteous-

14 ness. Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them.

15 For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation,

and of a strange language, ⁵ who neither revered old man, nor pitied

the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate

 21 as I live. Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand 22 of the enemies. For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you ¹ from 23 the Everlasting your Saviour. For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever.
 24 For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from ² our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness 25 of the Everlasting. My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and 26 shalt tread upon their necks. My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock 27 carried off by the enemies. Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought these

 29 For he that brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting

 31 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received

 34 And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning.
 35 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of ³ devils for a great time.
 36 O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

6 A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.
 2 Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.
 3 So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence.
 4 But now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the 5 nations to fear. Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and
 6 behind them, worshipping them. But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. For mine angel is with you, ⁵ and I myself do care
 8 for your ⁶ souls. For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are overlaid with gold and with silver: yet are they but false, and 9 cannot speak. And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads 10 of their gods: and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon them-11 selves; and will even give thereof to the common harlots: and they deck them as men with garments, even the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of 12 wood. Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple 13 raiment. They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, which 14 is thick upon them. And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country.

 15 He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver 16 himself from war and robbers. Whereby they are known not to be gods:
 17 therefore fear them not. For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of dust through the feet of them that 18 come in. And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest they be 19 carried off by robbers. They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see 20 one. They are as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel 21 it not when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out 22 of the temple: upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also.
 23 Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.
 24 Notwithstanding the gold wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they 25 were molten did they feel it. Things wherein there is no breath are bought 26 at any cost. Having no feet, they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing
 27 worth. They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead
 28 men. And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and to the impotent will 29 they give nothing thereof. The menstruous woman and the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: knowing therefore by these things that they

30 are no gods, fear them not. For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of 31 silver, gold, and wood. And in their temples the priests ¹ sit on seats, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing 32 upon their heads. They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the 33 feast when one is dead. The priests also take off garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal.
 34 Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set 35 up a king, nor put him down. In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they 36 will never exact it. They can save no man from death, neither deliver the 37 weak from the mighty. They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor 38 deliver any that is in distress. They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor 39 do good to the fatherless. They are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain, these gods of wood, and that are overlaid with gold and with silver: they that minister unto them
 40 shall be confounded. How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them? Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and intreat him to call upon Bel, as though he were able 42 to understand. Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, 44 nor her cord broken. Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they 45 are gods? They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen 46 will have them to be. And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them?
 47 For they have left lies and reproaches
 48 to them that come after. For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with 49 them. How then cannot men understand that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, 50 nor from plague? For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known 51 hereafter that they are false: and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there 52 is no work of God in them. Who then may not know that they are 53 no gods? For neither can they set up a king in a land, nor give rain 54 unto men. Neither can they judge their own cause, nor¹ redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows 55 between heaven and earth. For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall 56 be burnt asunder like beams. Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they be gods?

¹ Or, bear the litter

 57 Neither are those gods of wood, and overlaid with silver or with gold, able to escape either from thieves or rob-58 bers. Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away withal: neither shall they be able to help themselves.
 59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his manhood, or else a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods: or even a door
 in a house, to keep the things safe that be therein, than such false gods;

 should neither think nor say that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto 65 men. Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not. For they can neither curse nor bless kings:

 heavens among the nations, nor shine
 as the sun, nor give light as the moon.

 they can get under a covert, and help manifest unto us that they are gods: 70 therefore fear them not. For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold 71 and with silver. Likewise also their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place, — fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. — Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked — unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar — verse 24.

1 AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the 2 Lord. Then Azarias stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said, 3 Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers,¹ and worthy to be praised;
 and thy name is glorified for evermore:
 4 for thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done: yea, true are all thy works, and thy ways are right,

our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgements: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us be-6 cause of our sins. For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing 7 from thee. In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that 8 it might go well with us. Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done
 to us, thou hast done in true judge-

9ment. And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked
10 in all the world. And now we cannot open our mouth; shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them
11 that worship thee. Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither 12 disannul thou thy covenant: and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy 13 servant, and Israel thy holy one; to whom thou didst promise, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that
14 is upon the sea shore. For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world
15 because of our sins. Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy.
16 Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted;
17 like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee, for they shall not be ashamed that put 18 their trust in thee. And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear
19 thee, and seek thy face. Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants
21 hurt be confounded; and let them be ashamed of all their ¹power and might, and let their strength be broken; and let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.
23 And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and 24 small wood; so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and 25 nine cubits. And it spread, and burned those Chaldeans whom it 26 found about the furnace. But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with Azarias and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace;
27 and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.
28 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God
29 in the furnace, saying, Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above

30 all for ever. And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

1 THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, and 2 his name was Joakim: and he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.
3 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the 4 law of Moses. Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was 5 more honourable than all others. And the same year there were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were ac-6 counted to govern the people. These kept much at Joakim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto 7 them. Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her 8 husband's garden to walk. And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking: and they were in-9 flamed with love for her. And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just 10 judgements. And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief.
11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to 12 do with her. Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her.
13 And the one said to the other, Let us
14 now go home: for it is dinner time. So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they 15 might find her alone. And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in 16 the garden: for it was hot. And there was nobody there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched 17 her. Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, 19 because they were hid. Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders 20 rose up, and ran unto her, saying, Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee: therefore consent unto us, 21 and lie with us. If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids 22 from thee. Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side:
for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape 23 your hands. It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than 24 to sin in the sight of the Lord. With that Susanna cried with a loud voice:
and the two elders cried out against 25 her. Then ran the one, and opened the 26 garden doors. So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to 27 see what had befallen her. But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of 28 Susanna. And it came to pass on the morrow, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against 29 Susanna to put her to death; and said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's 30 wife. So they sent; and she came with her father and mother, her children, 31 and all her kindred. Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and 32 beauteous to behold. And these wicked men commanded her to be unveiled, (for she was veiled) that they 33 might be filled with her beauty. Therefore her friends and all that saw her 34 wept. Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their 35 hands upon her head. And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her 36 heart trusted in the Lord. And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two 37 maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. Then a young 38 man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. And we, being 39 in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran unto them. And 40 when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and 41 leaped out. But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these 42 things do we testify. Then the assembly believed them, as those that were elders of the people and judges:

 43 so they condemned her to death. Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, that knowest all
 44 things before they be: thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented
 45 against me. And the Lord heard her voice. Therefore when she was led away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, 46 whose name was Daniel: and he cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the 47 blood of this woman. Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that 48 thou hast spoken? So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of

49 Israel? Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false 50 witness against her. Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an 51 elder. Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. So
 52 when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins
 53 come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.
 54 Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them
 55 accompanying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. And Daniel 56 said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and shall cut thee in 57 two. So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thine 58 heart. Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear 59 accompanied with you: but the daughter of Judah would not abide your wickedness. Now therefore tell me, Under 60 what tree didst thou take them accompanying together? Who answered, 61 Under a holm tree. Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also 62 lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. With that all the assembly
 63 cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them that hope in him. And they arose against the two 64 elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own mouth: and according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. Therefore Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON.

1 AND king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus the Persian 2 received his kingdom. And Daniel lived with the king, and was honoured 3 above all his friends. Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six firkins of 4 wine. And the king did honour to it, and went daily to worship it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why 5 dost thou not worship Bel? And he said, Because I may not do honour to idols made with hands, but to the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sov- 6 ereignty over all flesh. Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh 7 every day? Then Daniel laughed, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink anything. 8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth 9 these expenses, ye shall die. But if ye can shew me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it 10 be according to thy word. Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the 11 temple of Bel. So Bel's priests said, Lo, we will get us out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and mingle the wine and set it forth, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own 12 signet; and when thou comest in the morning, if thou find not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely 13 against us. And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed 14 those things. And it came to pass, when they were gone forth, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they strewed all the temple 15 with them in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed. Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont

16 to do, and did eat and drink up all. In the morning betime the king arose, 17 and Daniel with him. And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be 18 whole. And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee 19 is no deceit at all. Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well 20 whose footsteps are these. And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the 21 king was angry, and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such 22 things as were upon the table. Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who over- threw him and his temple. 23 And in that same place there was a great ¹ dragon, which they of Babylon 24 worshipped. And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship 25 him. Then said Daniel, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is a 26 living God. But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king 27 said, I give thee leave. Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Lo, 28 these are the gods ye worship. When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, and 29 put the priests to the sword. So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee 30 and thine house. Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered Dan- 31 iel unto them: who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days. 32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcases, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel. 33 Now there was in Jewry the prophet

34 bring it to the reapers. But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den.
35 And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know 36 where the den is. Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set 37 him in Babylon over the den. And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God 38 hath sent thee. And Daniel said,

Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that 39 love thee. So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immedi-
40 ately. Upon the seventh day the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting.
41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou God of Daniel, and there is none other 42 beside thee. And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

O LORD Almighty, that art in heaven, thou God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ¹ornament thereof; who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all things fear, yea, tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable: thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; for thou art the Lord Most High, of great compassion, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and repentest ² of bringing evils upon men. ³ Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions are multiplied, ⁴ O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head ⁵ by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: ⁶ I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied ⁷ detestable things. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: but, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou, ⁸ O Lord, art the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. And I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for all the host of heaven doth sing thy praise, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

1 AND it came to pass, after that Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, 2 over ¹ Greece. And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, 3 and slew the kings of the earth, and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart 4 was lifted up, and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary unto him. And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he 6 should die. And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his 7 kingdom, while he was yet alive. And Alexander reigned twelve years, and 8 he died. And his servants bare rule, 9 each one in his place. And they did all put diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years : and they multiplied evils in the earth. 10 And there came forth out of them a sinful root, Antiochus Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in ² the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks. 11 In those days came there forth out of Israel transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the ³ Gentiles that are round about us ; for since we were parted from them many 12 evils have befallen us. And the saying 13 was good in their eyes. And certain of the people were forward herein and went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of 14 the ³ Gentiles. And ⁴ they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to 15 the laws of the ³ Gentiles ; and they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the ³ Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil. 16 And the kingdom was well ordered in the sight of Antiochus, and he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might reign over the two kingdoms.

17 And he entered into Egypt with a ⁵ great multitude, with chariots, and with elephants, and with horsemen, 18 and with a great ⁶ navy : and he made war against Ptolemy king of Egypt ; and Ptolemy was put to shame before him, and fled ; and many fell wounded 19 to death. And they got possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt ; and he took the spoils of Egypt. 20 And Antiochus, after that he had smitten Egypt, returned in ⁷ the hundred and forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem 21 with a ⁸ great multitude, and entered presumptuously into the sanctuary, and took the golden altar, and the candlestick of the light, and all that 22 pertained thereto, and the table of the shewbread, and the cups to pour withal, and the bowls, and the golden censers, and the veil, and the crowns, and the adorning of gold which was on the face of the temple, and he scaled 23 it all off. And he took the silver and the gold and the precious vessels ; and he took the hidden treasures 24 which he found. And when he had taken all, he went away into his own land, and he made a great slaughter, 25 and spake very presumptuously. And there came great mourning upon Israel, in every place where they were ; 26 and the rulers and elders groaned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women 27 was changed. Every bridegroom took up lamentation, she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness. 28 And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame. 29 And ⁸ after ⁹ two full years the king sent a chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judah, and he came unto Jerusalem with a ⁹ great multitude. 30 And he spake words of peace unto them in subtilty, and they gave him credence : and he fell upon the city suddenly, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel. 31 And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof 32 on every side. And they led captive the women and the children, and the 33 cattle they took in possession. And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them a 34 citadel. And they put there a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein.

 35 And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare: and it became a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel continually. And they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary.
 38 And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her.
 39 Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, ¹her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt.
 40 According to her glory, so was her dishonour multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.
 41 And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, and that each should forsake his own laws. And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king; and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the sabbath.
 44 And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws strange to the land, and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the sabbaths and feasts, and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city.
 52 And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; and they made Israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.
 54 And on the fifteenth day of Chisleu, in ²the hundred and forty and fifth year, they builded an abomination of desolation upon the ³altar, and in the cities of Judah on every side they builded idol ⁴altars. And at the doors of the houses and in the streets they burnt incense. And they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, and set them on fire. And wheresoever was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. Thus did they in their might unto Israel, to those that were found month by month in the cities. And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol ⁵altar, which was upon the ⁶altar of God. And ⁷the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. And they hanged their babes about their necks, and destroyed their houses, and them that had circumcised them.

 62 And many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean things. And ⁸they chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant:
 64 and they died. And there came exceeding great wrath upon Israel.
 2 In those days rose up Mattathias the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem; and he dwelt at Modin. And he had five sons, ⁹John, who was surnamed Gaddis; Simon, who was called Thassi; Judas, who was called Macabæus; Eleazar, who was called Avaran; Jonathan, who was called Apphus.
 6 And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, and he said,
 Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? Her temple is become as a man ¹⁰that was glorious: her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils?
 11 her adorning is all taken away; instead of a free woman she is become a bond woman: and, behold, our holy things and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned them. Wherefore should we live any longer?
 14 And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.
 15 And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city Modin to sacrifice. And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together.
 17 And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthenedst with sons and brethren: now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's ¹ Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honoured with silver and gold and many gifts. And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. ² Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, on the right hand, or on the left.

23 And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's ³ commandment. And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and his reins trembled, and he shewed forth his wrath according to judgement, and ran, and slew him upon the altar. And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and pulled down the altar. And he was zealous for the law, even as Phinehas did unto Zimri the son of Salu. And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him come forth after me. And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the wilderness, to dwell there, they, and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. And it was told the king's officers, and the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness; and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the sabbath day. And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live. And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, to profane the sabbath day. And they hasted to give them battle. And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places, saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial. And they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they died, they and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand ⁴ souls.

39 And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. And they took counsel on that day, saying, Whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in the secret places. Then were gathered together unto them a company of ⁵ Hasidæans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law. And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them.

44 And they mustered a host, and smote sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety. And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither ⁶ suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name. Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation obtained a heritage in the land. David for being merciful inherited the throne of a kingdom for ever and ever. Elijah,

And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none that put their trust in 62 him shall want for strength. And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and 63 worms. To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished. 64 And ye, my children, be strong, and shew yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall ye obtain glory. 65 And, behold, Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear unto him alway: he shall 66 be a father unto you. And Judas Maccabæus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and ¹ shall fight the 67 battle of the people. And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge 68 the wrong of your people. Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law. 69 And he blessed them, and was gathered 70 to his fathers. And he died in ² the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him. 3 And his son Judas, who was called 2 Maccabæus, rose up in his stead. And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of 3 Israel. And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. 4 And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp roaring for prey. 5 And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he burnt up those that 6 troubled his people. And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his 7 hand. And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and 8 his memorial is blessed for ever. And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly ³ out of the land, and turned away wrath 9 from Israel: and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish. 10 And Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from Samaria, to fight against Israel. And 11 Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death,

12 and the rest fled. And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days. 13 And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, 14 and of such as went out to war; and he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought 15 the word of the king. And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel. 16 And he came near unto the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to 17 meet him with a small company. But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food 18 this day. And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with ⁴ heaven it is all one, to save by many or by 19 few: for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but 20 strength is from heaven. They come unto us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil 21 us: but we fight for our lives and our 22 laws. And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them. 23 Now when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited 24 before him. And they pursued them in the going down of Bethhoron unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines. 25 And the fear of Judas and his brethren, and the dread of them, began to fall upon the nations round about 26 them: and his name came near even unto the king, and every nation told of the battles of Judas. 27 But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, and 28 exceeding strong army. And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them 29 to be ready for every need. And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which 30 had been from the first days; and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings that were before him.

- 31 And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much 32 money. And he left Lysias, an honourable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto 33 the borders of Egypt, and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came 34 again. And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwelt in Judæa and 35 in Jerusalem, that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from the place;
36 and that he should make strangers to dwell in all their coasts, and should 37 divide their land to them by lot. And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antioch, from his royal city, ¹ the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

- 38 And Lysias chose Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's ² Friends; and with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horse, to go into the land of Judah, and to destroy it, according to the word of the 40 king. And they removed with all their host, and came and pitched near unto Emmaus in the plain country.
41 And the merchants of the country heard the fame of them, and took silver and gold exceeding much, with ³ fetters, and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for servants: and there were added unto them the forces of Syria and of the land of the ⁴ Philistines.

- 42 And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an 43 end of them; and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for 44 our people and the holy place. And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and 45 ask for mercy and compassion. And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased.

- 46 And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforetime for 47 Israel. And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon 48 their heads, and rent their clothes, and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of 49 their idols. And they brought the priests' garments, and the firstfruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazirites, who had accomplished their 50 days. And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry 51 them away? And thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought 52 low. And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things 53 they imagine against us. How shall we be able to stand before them, 54 except thou be our help? And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

- 55 And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of 56 tens. And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, 57 according to the law. And the army removed, and encamped upon the 58 south side of Emmaus. And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy 59 place: for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of 60 our nation and the holy place. Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

- 4 And Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, 2 and the army removed by night, that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and the men of the citadel were his guides.

- 3 And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was 4 at Emmaus, while as yet the forces
5 were dispersed from the camp. And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he 6 said, These men flee from us. And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men:

howbeit they had not armour nor 7 swords to their minds. And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in 8 war. And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their 9 onset. Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pha-10 raoh pursued them with a host. And now let us cry unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this 11 army before our face to-day: and all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Is-12 rael. And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over 13 against them: and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas sounded their trum-14 pets, and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into 15 the plain. But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto ¹ Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumæa and Azotus and Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thou-16 sand men. And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, 17 and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as 18 there is a battle before us; and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils 19 with boldness. While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out 20 from the mountain: and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; 21 for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, 22 they fled all of them into the land of 23 the ² Philistines. And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea 24 purple, and great riches. And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise ³ unto heaven; because his mercy is good,
 because his mercy endureth for ever.
 25 And Israel had a great deliverance that day.
 26 But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told Lysias all the 27 things that had happened: but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.
 28 And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that 29 he might subdue them. And they came into Idumæa, and encamped at Bethsura; and Judas met them with 30 ten thousand men. And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the onset of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver the army of the ² Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his 31 armourbearer: shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and 32 their horsemen: give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let 33 them quake at their destruction: cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

34 And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over 35 against them. But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judæa with even a greater company.

36 But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse the holy place, 37 and to dedicate it afresh. And all the army was gathered together, and they 38 went up unto mount Sion. And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' cham-39 bers pulled down; and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, 40 and put ashes upon their heads, and fell on their faces to the ground, and 41 blew with the ⁴ solemn trumpets, and cried toward heaven. Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.
 42 And he chose blameless priests, such 43 as had pleasure in the law: and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an un-44 clean place. And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they 45 should do with it: and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled 46 down the altar, and laid up the stones

in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. And they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; and they hallowed the courts. And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings and of incense, and the table, into the temple. And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

And they rose up early in the morning, on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month Chislew, in the hundred and forty and eighth year, and offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings which they had made. At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, with songs and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and gave praise unto heaven, which had given them good success. And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Chislew, with gladness and joy. And at that season they builded up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as they had done aforetime. And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumæa.

And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay and destroy among the people.

And Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumæa at Akkrabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. And he remembered the wickedness of the children of Baan, who were unto the people a snare and a stumblingblock, lying in wait for them in the ways. And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. And he passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with Timotheus for their leader. And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, and gat possession of Jazer, and the villages thereof, and returned again into Judæa.

And the Gentiles that were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to the stronghold of Dathena, and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. And all our brethren that were in the land of Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, saying, That there were gathered together against them those of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles, to consume them.

Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. And Judas said unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, but I and Jonathan my brother will go into the land of Gilead. And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judæa, for to keep it. And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of 20 And unto Simon were divided three thousand men to go into Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of Gilead.

 21 And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were discomfited
 22 before him. And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there fell of the Gentiles about three thousand men, and he took their spoils.
 23 And they took to them those that were in Galilee, and in Arbatta, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judæa with great gladness.
 24 And Judas Maccabæus and his brother Jonathan passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the 25 wilderness; and they met with the Nabathæans, and these met them in a peaceable manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren
 26 in the land of Gilead: and how that many of them were shut up in Bosora, and Bosor, and Alena, ¹ Casphor, Maked, and ² Carnaim; all these cities
 27 are strong and great: and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that to-morrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these 28 men in one day. And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Bosora; and he took the city, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city
 29 with fire. And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came 30 to the stronghold. And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them.
 31 And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and 32 a great sound, and he said unto the men of his host, Fight this day for 33 your brethren. And he went forth behind them in three companies, and they sounded with their trumpets, and 34 cried out in prayer. And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabæus, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men.
 35 And he turned aside to Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with 36 fire. From thence he removed, and took ³ Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

37 Now after these things Timotheus gathered another army, and encamped over against Raphon beyond the 38 brook. And Judas sent men to espy the army; and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that be round about us are gathered together unto 39 them, an exceeding great host. And they have hired Arabians to help them, and are encamping beyond the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. And Judas went to meet them.
 40 And Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water. If he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he 41 will mightily prevail against us: but if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him,
 42 and prevail against him. Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let 43 all come to the battle. And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him: and all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto 44 the temple at ³ Carnaim. And they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And Carnaim was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.
 45 And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into 46 the land of Judah. And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it.
 47 And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.
 48 And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they 49 would not open unto him. And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was.
 50 And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city
 51 was delivered into his hands; and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were 52 slain. And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Beth-53 shan. And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah.

 54 And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.
 55 And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee be-56 fore Ptolemæis, Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the 57 war, what things they had done; and they said, Let us also get us a name,
 and let us go fight against the Gentiles 58 that are round about us. And they gave charge unto the men of the host that was with them, and went toward 59 Jamnia. And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in 60 battle. And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judea; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel 61 about two thousand men. And there was a great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not unto Judas and his brethren, thinking to do 62 some exploit. But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.
 63 And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, whosoever their name was heard of;
 64 and men gathered together unto them,
 acclaiming them.
 65 And Judas and his brethren went forth, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south;
 and he smote Hebron and the ¹ villages thereof, and pulled down the strongholds thereof, and burned the towers 66 thereof round about. And he removed to go into the land of the ² Philistines, 67 and he went through ³ Samaria. In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when as ⁴ he went out to battle unad-68 visedly. And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the ² Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.
 6 And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in Elymais in Persia
 there was a city renowned for riches, 2 for silver and gold; and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there.

 3 And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to 4 them of the city, and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness,
 to return unto Babylon.
 5 And there came one bringing him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Ju-6 dah, had been put to flight; and that Lysias went first with a strong host,
 and was put to shame before them;
 and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from 7 the armies that they had cut off; and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and 8 Bethsura, his city. And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly: and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he 9 looked for. And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that 10 he should die. And he called for all his ⁵ Friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and 11 my heart faileth for care. And I said in my heart, Unto what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gra-12 cious and beloved in my power. But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause.
 13 I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold,
 I perish through great grief in a 14 strange land. And he called for Philip, one of his ⁵ Friends, and set 15 him over all his kingdom, and gave him his diadem, and his robe, and his signet-ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him
 16 up that he might be king. And king in ¹ the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them certain ungodly men of Israel. And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow his commandments; and for this cause the children of our people besieged ² the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on they slew, and spoiled our inheritances. And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: and the sanctuary and Bethsura have they fortified. And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

And when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his ³ Friends, even the rulers of his host, and them that were over the horse. And there came unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers.

And the number of his forces was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants trained for war.

And they went through Idumæa, and encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp. And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army ⁴ at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. And they shewed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. And Eleazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him an everlasting name; and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judæa, and toward mount Sion. And he made peace with them of Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a sabbath to the land.

And the king took Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it.

And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judæa from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

And Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be

56 king, was returned from Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the govern-57 ment. And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of 58 the kingdom lie upon us: now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and 59 with all their nation, and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all 60 these things. And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they 61 accepted thereof. And the king and the princes swore unto them: thereupon they came forth from the strong-
 62 hold. And the king entered into mount Zion: and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down the wall
 63 round-about. And he removed in haste, and returned unto Antioch, and found Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

7 In¹ the hundred and one and fiftieth year Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army laid hands on Antiochus and 3 Lysias, to bring them unto him. And the thing was known to him, and he said, Shew me not their faces.
 4 And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his 5 kingdom. And there came unto him all the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and Alcimus was their leader,
 6 desiring to be high priest; and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have
 7 scattered us from our own land. Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havock which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that
 8 helped them. And the king chose Bacchides, one of the king's² Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king.
 9 And he sent him, and that ungodly Alcimus, and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

10 And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace 11 deceitfully. And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they 12 were come with a great host. And there were gathered together unto Alcimus and Bacchides a company of 13 scribes, to seek for justice. And the³ Hasidæans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace
 14 of them; for they said, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no
 15 wrong. And he spake with them words of peace, and swore unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither 16 of you nor your friends. And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which the psalmist wrote,

17 'The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,

And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;

And there was no man to bury them.

18 And the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they 19 swore. And Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, 20 and cast them into the great pit. And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with him a force to aid him; and Bacchides went away unto the king.

21 And Alcimus strove for his high
 22 priesthood. And there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they got the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt
 23 in Israel. And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, 24 even above the Gentiles, and he went out into all the coasts of Judæa round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into 25 the country. But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

26 ⁶ And the king sent Nicanor, one of his honourable princes, a man that hated Israel and was their enemy, and commanded him to destroy the people.

27 And Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great host: and he sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with 28 words of peace, saying, Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see 29 your faces in peace. And he came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. And the enemies were ready to take away Judas by violence.

 30 And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more.
 31 And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsa-
 32 lama; and there fell of Nicanor's side about ¹ five hundred men, and they fled into the city of David.
 33 And after these things Nicanor went up to mount Sion: and there came some of the priests out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifice that was being offered for the king.
 34 And he mocked them, and laughed at them, and ² entreated them shamefully, 35 and spake haughtily, and swore in a rage, saying, Unless Judas and his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and 36 he went out in a great rage. And the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple; and they 37 wept, and said, Thou didst choose this house to be called by thy name, to be a house of prayer and supplication 38 for thy people: take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.
 39 And Nicanor went forth from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bethoron, and there met him the host of Syria.
 40 And Judas encamped in Adasa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed and said, When they that came from the king blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote among them a hundred and fourscore and five 42 thousand. Even so discomfit thou this army before us to-day, and let all the rest know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness. And on the thirteenth day of the month Adar the armies joined battle: and Nicanor's army was discomfited, and he himself was the first 44 to fall in the battle. Now when his army saw that Nicanor was fallen, they 45 cast away their arms, and fled. And they pursued after them a day's journey from Adasa until thou comest to ³ Gazara, and they sounded an alarm after them with the ⁴ solemn trumpets.
 46 And they came forth out of all the villages of Judæa round about, and ⁵ closed them in; and these turned them back on those, and they all fell

by the sword, and there was not one 47 of them left. And they took the spoils, and the booty, and they smote off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so haughtily, and brought them, and ⁶ hanged them 48 up beside Jerusalem. And the people was exceeding glad, and they kept that day as a day of great gladness.
 49 And ⁷ they ordained to keep this day year by year, to wit, the thirteenth 50 day of Adar. And the land of Judah had rest ⁸ a little while.
 8 And Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves unto them, and make amity with all such as come unto
 2 them, and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and brought them under tri-
 3 bute; and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver
 4 and gold which were there; and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and smitten them very sore; and how the rest give them tribute year by year:
 5 and Philip, and Perseus, king of Chitim, and them that lifted up themselves against them, did they discomfit in battle, and conquered them:
 6 Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he
 7 was discomfited by them, and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of 8 land, to wit, the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king
 9 Eumenes: and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy
 10 them; and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into 11 bondage unto this day: and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid 13 of them: moreover, whomsoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whomsoever they will, do they depose; and

 14 they are exalted exceedingly: and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be
 15 magnified thereby: and how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting alway for the people, to the end
 16 they might be well ordered: and how they commit their government to one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.
 17 And Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and 18 confederacy with them, and that they should take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage.
 19 And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered
 20 and said, Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.
 21 And the thing was well-pleasing in 22 their sight. And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy:
 23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and 24 the enemy be far from them. But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their 25 heart: and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion
 26 shall prescribe to them: and to them that are confederates with their foes

there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus 29 with the people of the Jews. But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established.
 31 And as touching the evils which king Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the 32 Jews? If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.
 9 And Demetrius heard that Nicanor was fallen with his forces in battle, and he sent Bacchides and Alcimus again into the land of Judah a second time, and the right wing of his army with
 2 them: and they went by the way that leadeth to Gilgal, and encamped against Mesaloth, which is in Arbela, and gat possession of it, and destroyed much people. And the first month
 3 of the hundred and fifty and second year they encamped against Jerusalem: and they removed, and went to Berea, with twenty thousand footmen
 5 and two thousand horse. And Judas was encamped at Elasa, and three 6 thousand chosen men with him: and they saw the multitude of the forces, that they were many, and they feared exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men.
 7 And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed
 8 faint. And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if peradventure we 9 may be able to fight with them. And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are 10 few. And Judas said, Let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the 11 battle. But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew 13 with their trumpets. And the men of Judas' side, even they sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening.

 14 And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all
 15 that were brave in heart, and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount 16 Azotus. And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and 17 of those that were with him: and the battle waxed sore, and many on both 18 parts fell wounded to death. And 19 Judas fell, and the rest fled. And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at Modin. And they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and 21 mourned many days, and said, How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of 22 Israel! And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many.
 23 And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity 24 rose up (in those days was there an exceeding great famine), and the coun-
 25 try went over with them. And Bacchides chose out the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country.
 26 And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them
 27 despitefully. And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the time that no prophet ap-28 peared unto them. And all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, 29 Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among them of our nation that 30 hate us. Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou 31 mayest fight our battles. And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.
 32 And Bacchides knew it, and he 33 sought to slay him. And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness of Tekoah, and encamped by the water of the pool

34 Asphar. And Bacchides knew it on the sabbath day, and came, he and 35 all his army, over Jordan. And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends the Nabathæans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which 36 was much. And the children of Jambri came out of Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.
 37 But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one 38 of the great nobles of Canaan. And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves un-39 der the covert of the mountain: and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and, behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and 40 many weapons. And they rose up against them from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their 41 spoils. And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their 42 minstrels into lamentation. And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to the marsh of Jordan.
 43 And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of 44 Jordan with a great host. And Jonathan said to his company, Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us to-day, as yesterday and 45 the day before. For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside.
 46 Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand 47 of your enemies. And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he 48 turned away back from him. And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not 49 pass over Jordan against them. And there fell of Bacchides' company that 50 day about a thousand men; and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judæa, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Timnath, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high 51 walls and gates and bars. And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel.
 52 And he fortified the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces 53 in them, and store of victuals. And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

54 And in ¹ the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also the works 55 of the prophets; and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give 56 order concerning his house. And Alcimus died at that time with great 57 torment. And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king; and the land of Judah had rest two years.

58 And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security; now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on 59 them all in one night. And they went 60 and consulted with him. And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judæa, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him; and they could not, because their counsel 61 was known unto them. And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness,

62 and he slew them. And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down 63 thereof, and they made it strong. And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judæa.

64 And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many 65 days, and made engines of war. And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the coun- 66 try, and he went with a few men. And he smote Odomera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their 67 tent. And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire

68 the engines of war, and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his in- 69 road. And they were very wroth with the lawless men that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took coun- 70 sel to depart into his own land. And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto 71 them the captives. And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and swore unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days 72 of his life. And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more 73 into their borders. And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

10 And in ² the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of Ptolemais: and they received 2 him, and he reigned there. And king Demetrius heard thereof, and he gathered together exceeding great forces, and went forth to meet him in battle.

3 And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as 4 to magnify him. For he said, Let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alex- 5 ander against us: for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren 6 and unto his nation. And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

7 And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were 8 in the citadel: and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather 9 together a host. And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto 10 their parents. And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and 11 renew the city. And he commanded them that did the work to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with ⁴ square stones for defence; and 12 they did so. And the strangers, that were in the strongholds which Bacchi-

13 des had built, fled away; and each man left his place, and departed into 14 his own land. Only at Bethsura were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

15 And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of 16 the toils which they had endured; and he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our 17 ¹ Friend and confederate. And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying,

18 King Alexander to his brother Jona-19 than, greeting: We have heard of thee, that thou art a mighty man of valour, 20 and meet to be our ¹ Friend. And now we have appointed thee this day to be high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's ¹ Friend (and he sent unto him a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part,
and to keep friendship with us.
21 And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of ² the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of tabernacles, and he gathered together forces, and provided arms in abundance.
22 And Demetrius heard these things, 23 and he was grieved, and said, What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to 24 strengthen himself? I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honour and of gifts, that they 25 may be with me to aid me. And he sent unto them according to these words:
King Demetrius unto the nation of 26 the Jews, greeting: Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and 27 are glad. And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return 28 for your dealings with us, and will grant you many immunities, and give 29 you gifts. And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from 30 the crowns. And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time.
31 And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; the tenths and the 32 tolls also. I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as 33 he shall choose to keep it. And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit 34 the tributes of their cattle also. And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom.

35 And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble 36 them concerning any matter. And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the king's 37 forces. And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath com-38 manded in the land of Judah. And the three governments that have been added to Judæa from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judæa, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other 39 authority than the high priest's. As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanc-40 tuary. And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that 41 are convenient. And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth to-42 ward the works of the house. And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the 43 priests that minister. And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that 44 they have in my kingdom. And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's 45 revenue. And for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judæa.
46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore.
47 And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them,
and they were confederate with him 48 always. And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; yea, I joined battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee.

55 And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of their kingdom. And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in the hundred and threescore and second year: and king Alexander met him, and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

59 And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their ² Friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favour in their sight. And there were gathered together against him certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and clothed him in purple: and thus they did. And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away.

65 And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his ³ Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 And in ⁴ the hundred and threescore and fifth year came Demetrius, son of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: and king Alexander heard thereof, and he was grieved exceedingly, and returned unto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Coelesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains? Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land. And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to help him. And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: and they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and 78 trusted therein. And he pursued after him to Azotus, and the armies joined battle. And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to Azotus, and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of Dagon, and them that fled into it, he burned with fire. And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more; and he sent unto him a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.

11 And the king of Egypt gathered together great forces, as the sand which is by the sea shore, and many ships, and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and to add it to his own kingdom. And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; for king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was his father in law. Now as he entered into the cities of Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city.

4 But when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon burned with fire, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. And Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they saluted one another, and they slept there. And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, and returned to Jerusalem. But king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the sea coast, unto Seleucia which is by the sea, and he devised evil devices concerning Alexander. And he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign over thy father's kingdom; for I have repented that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me. And he cast blame on him, because he coveted his kingdom. And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen. And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on himself the diadem of Asia; and he put two dia-dem upon his head, the diadem of Egypt and that of Asia. But king Alexander was in Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in revolt. And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were in the strongholds. And Demetrius reigned in ¹the hundred and threescore and seventh year.

20 In those days Jonathan gathered together them of Judæa, to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it.

21 And certain that hated their own nation, men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at Ptolemais with all speed. But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, and taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to Ptolemais unto the king. And he found favour in his sight. And certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his ²Friends, and confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his ³Chief Friends.

28 And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judæa free from tribute, and the three ⁴provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it. King Demetrius unto Lasthenes his father, greeting: We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because 34 of their good will toward us. We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judæa, and also the three governments of Apherema and Lydda and Ramathaim (these were added unto Judæa from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforetime from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees.

 35 And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and the salt pits, and the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will 36 bestow upon them. And not one of these things shall be annulled from 37 this time forth and for ever. Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.
 38 And king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except the foreign forces, which he had raised from the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces
 39 of his fathers hated him. Now Tryphon was of those who aforetime had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imaleue the Arabian, who was nourishing up Antiochus the young child
 40 of Alexander, and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred wherewith his forces hated him; and he abode there many days.
 41 And Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem them of the citadel, and them that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; for all 44 my forces are revolted. And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at 45 their coming. And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the 46 king. And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and 47 began to fight. And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number

 48 of a hundred thousand. And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils 49 that day, and saved the king. And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying,
 50 Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us
 51 and the city. And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet 53 before him. And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.
 54 Now after this Tryphon returned, and with him the young child Antiochus; and he reigned, and put on a 55 diadem. And there were gathered unto him all the forces which Demetrius had sent away with disgrace, and they fought against him, and he fled 56 and was put to the rout. And Tryphon took the elephants, and became master of Antioch. And the young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm unto thee the high priesthood, and appoint thee over the four governments, and to be one of the king's 58 Friends. And he sent unto him golden vessels and furniture for the table, and gave him leave to drink in golden vessels, and to be clothed in purple, and to have a golden buckle.
 59 And his brother Simon he made captain from the Ladder of Tyre unto the 60 borders of Egypt. And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to be his confederates. And he came to Ascalon, and they of the city met him honourably.
 61 And he departed thence to Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled
 62 them. And they of Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as Damascus.
 63 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius'

 ii. 18.

princes were come to Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing 64 to remove him from his office; and he went to meet them, but Simon his 65 brother he left in the country. And Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and shut 66 it up: and they made request to him that he would give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and took possession of the city, and set a gar-
67 rison over it. And Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of Genesareth, and early in the morning they gat them to the plain of Hazor.
68 And, behold, an army of strangers met him in the plain, and they laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but 69 themselves met him face to face. But they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle; and all they that were of Jonathan's side 70 fled: not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of 71 the forces. And Jonathan rent his clothes, and put earth upon his head, 72 and prayed. And he turned again unto them in battle, and put them to the 73 rout, and they fled. And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned unto Kedesh unto their camp, and they 74 encamped there. And there fell of the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

12 And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew the friendship that they had 2 with them. And to the Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after 3 the same manner. And they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the 4 friendship and the confederacy, as in former time. And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace.
5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

6 Jonathan the high priest, and the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, unto their brethren the Spartans,
7 greeting: Even before this time were letters sent unto Onias the high priest from¹ Arius, who was reigning among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten
8 sheweth. And Onias entreated honourably the man: that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of confederacy and

9 friendship. Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having for our encouragement the holy books
10 which are in our hands, have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed since ye sent unto 11 us. We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to be mindful of brethren:
12 and moreover are glad for your glory.
13 But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us
14 have fought against us. We were not minded therefore to be troublesome unto you, and to the rest of our confederates and friends, in these wars;
15 for we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our 16 enemies have been brought low. We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former con-17 federacy. We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of 18 friendship and our brotherhood. And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to Onias:

20 Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: It hath been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the 22 stock of Abraham: and now, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your 23² prosperity. And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

24 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him with a greater host than afore,
25 and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath: for he gave them no respite to set foot
26 in his country. And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season.
27 But so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels 28 round about the camp. And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts,

 and they kindled fires in their camp¹.
 29 But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the 30 lights burning. And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river 31 Eleutherus. And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took 32 their spoils. And he set out from thence, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the coun-33 try. And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it.
 And he turned aside to Joppa, and 34 took possession of it; for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.
 35 And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build 36 strongholds in Judæa, and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might 37 buy nor sell. And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha.
 38 And Simon also built Addida in the ² plain country, and made it strong,
 and set up gates and bars.
 39 And Tryphon sought to reign over Asia and to put on himself the diadem, and to stretch forth his hand against 40 Antiochus the king. And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to Bethshan.
 41 And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for 42 battle, and came to Bethshan. And Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch 43 forth his hand against him: and he received him honourably, and commended him unto all his³ Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto 44 himself. And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war 45 betwixt us? And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my 46 coming. And he put trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed in-47 to the land of Judah. But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee,

 but one thousand went with him.
 48 Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they 49 slew with the sword. And Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all 50 Jonathan's men. And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, 51 prepared to fight. And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and 52 turned back again. And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid: and all Israel mourned with 53 a great mourning. And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and take away their memorial from among men.
 13 And Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and 2 destroy it utterly. And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, 3 and gathered the people together; and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen:
 4 by reason hereof all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am 5 left alone. And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; for I am not 6 better than my brethren. Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of very 7 hatred. And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these 8 words. And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy 9 brother. Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, that 10 will we do. And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and 11 he fortified it round about. And he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great host, to Joppa:

 and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it.
 12 And Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a mighty host to enter into the land of Judah, and Jonathan was 13 with him in ward. But Simon encamped at Adida, over against the 14 plain. And Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, and he sent ambassadors 15 unto him, saying, It is for money which Jonathan thy brother owed unto the king's treasure, by reason of the offices which he had, that we hold 16 him fast. And now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty he may not revolt from us.
 17 And we will set him at liberty. And Simon knew that they spake unto him deceitfully; and he sendeth the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred 18 of the people, and they should say, Because I sent him not the money and 19 the children, he perished. And he sent the children and the hundred talents. And he dealt falsely, and did 20 not set Jonathan at liberty. And after this Tryphon came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every 21 place, wheresoever he went. Now they of the citadel sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and 22 to send them victuals. And Tryphon made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. And he removed, and came 23 into the country of Gilead. But when he came near to Bascama, he slew
 Jonathan, and he was buried there.
 24 And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land.
 25 And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried him at Modin, the city of his fathers.
 26 And all Israel made great lamentation over him, and mourned for him many 27 days. And Simon built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with polished stone behind and 28 before. And he set up seven pyramids, one over against another, for his father, and his mother, and his 29 four brethren. And for these he made cunning devices, setting about them great pillars, and upon the pillars he fashioned all manner of arms for a perpetual memory, and beside the

¹ arms ships carved, that they should be seen of all that sail on the sea.
 30 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it is there unto this day.
 31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew 32 him, and reigned in his stead, and put on himself the diadem of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the 33 land. And Simon built the strongholds of Judæa, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars; and he laid up victuals in the strongholds.
 34 And Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the country an immunity, because all that Tryphon did was to plunder.
 35 And king Demetrius sent unto him according to these words, and answered him, and wrote a letter unto him, after this manner:
 36 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest and ² Friend of kings, and unto the elders and nation of the Jews, 37 greeting: The golden crown, and the palm branch, which ye sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a ³ stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to grant im-38 munities unto you. And whatsoever things we confirmed unto you, they are confirmed; and the strongholds, which ye have builded, let them be 39 your own. As for any oversights and faults committed unto this day, we forgive them, and the crown which ye owed us: and if there were any other toll exacted in Jerusalem, let it be 40 exacted no longer. And if there be any among you meet to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.
 41 In ⁴ the hundred and seventieth year was the yoke of the heathen taken 42 away from Israel. And the people began to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the great high priest and captain and leader of the Jews.
 43 In those days he encamped against ⁵ Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took 44 it. And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there 45 was a great uproar in the city: and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to give 46 them ⁶ his right hand. And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy 47 mercy. And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it

48 with singing and giving praise. And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

49 But they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of

50 them perished through famine. And they cried out to Simon, that he should give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he cleansed the citadel

51 from its pollutions. And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in ¹ the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and palm branches, and with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: because a great enemy was destroyed out of

52 Israel. And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he

53 dwelt, himself and his men. And Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and he dwelt in Gazara.

14 And in ² the hundred and seventy and second year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him help, that he

2 might fight against Tryphon. And Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was come into his borders, and he sent one of his

3 princes to take him alive: and he went and smote the army of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces; and he put him in ward.

4 And the land had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days.

5 And amid all his glory he took Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance

6 for the isles of the sea; and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and

7 gat possession of the country: and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the citadel, and he took away from it its uncleannesses; and there was none that re-

8 sisted him. And they tilled their land in peace, and the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains

9 their fruit. The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike ap-

10 parel. He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with ³ all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named unto the end of 11 the earth. He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great 12 joy: and they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was 13 none to make them afraid: and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were 14 discomfited in those days. And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and 15 wicked person he took away. He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

16 And it was heard at Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto Sparta, 17 and they were exceeding sorry. But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the 18 cities therein, they wrote unto him on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with Judas and 19 Jonathan his brethren; and they were read before the congregation at 20 Jerusalem. And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, 21 our brethren, greeting: The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their 22 coming, and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the ⁴ public records after this manner: Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the 23 friendship they had with us. And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their words in the ⁵ public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon the high priest.

24 After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

25 But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall 26 we give to Simon and his sons? for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and 27 confirmed liberty to ⁶ Israel. And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

28 Simon the high priest, ¹ in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, ² was it notified unto us: Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: 30 and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people: and their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their 32 sanctuary: then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave 33 them wages: and he fortified the cities of Judæa, and Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judæa, where the arms of the enemies were aforetime, and set there a garrison of 34 Jews: and he fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt aforetime, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for the reparation 35 thereof: and the people saw the ³ faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring unto his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means 36 to exalt his people: and in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, they that were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt 37 unto its purity: and he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made 38 high the walls of Jerusalem: and king Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, 39 and made him one of his ⁴ Friends, and honoured him with great honour; 40 for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of 41 Simon honourably; and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, until there should 42 arise a faithful prophet; and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, 43 and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, 44 and wear gold; and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a 45 buckle of gold; but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to 46 punishment. All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should 47 do according to these words; and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and ⁵ governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all. 48 And they commanded to put this writing on tables of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; 49 and moreover to put the copies thereof in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them. 15 And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and ⁵ governor of the Jews, and to all the 2 nation; and the contents thereof were after this manner:

King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and ⁵ governor, and to the 3 nation of the Jews, greeting: Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared 4 ships of war; moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: 5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they 6 remitted unto thee: and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country 7 with thine own stamp, but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto 8 thee: and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remit-

9 ted unto thee: moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

10 In ¹the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that there were few men with Tryphon.

11 And king Antiochus pursued him, and ²he came, as he fled, unto Dor,

12 which is by the sea: for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him. And Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him a hundred

13 and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horse. And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land

14 and sea, and suffered no man to go out or in.

15 And Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto

17 king Ptolemy, greeting: The Jews' ambassadors came unto us as our friends and confederates, to renew the old friendship and confederacy, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews:

18 moreover they brought a shield of 19 gold of a thousand pound. It pleased us therefore to write unto the kings and unto the countries, that they should not seek their hurt, nor fight against them, and their cities, and their country, nor be confederates with such as fight against them.

20 Moreover it seemed good to us to 21 receive the shield of them. If therefore any pestilent fellows have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them according to their law.

22 And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and

23 to Arathes, and to Arsaces, and unto all the countries, and to ³Sampsames, and to the Spartans, and unto

24 Delos, and unto Myndos, and unto Sicyon, and unto Caria, and unto 25 Samos, and unto Pamphylia, and unto Lycia, and unto Halicarnassus, and 26 unto Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto Cos, and unto Side, and unto 27 Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and 28 Cyprus, and Cyrene. But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

29 But Antiochus the king encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and

30 making engines of war, and he shut up

31 Tryphon from going in or out. And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in 32 abundance. And he would not receive them, but set at nought all the cove-

33 nants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from 34 him. And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his ⁴Friends, to commune with him, saying,

35 Ye hold possession of Joppa and Gazara, and the citadel that is in 36 Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom.

37 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and

38 got the dominion of many places in

39 my kingdom. Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof

40 ye have gotten dominion without the

41 borders of Judæa: or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other 42 five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

43 And Athenobius the king's ⁴Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the 44 glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great 45 attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words.

46 And Simon answered, and said unto him,

47 We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that

48 which appertaineth to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers; how-

49 beit, it was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time.

50 But we, having opportunity, hold fast

51 the inheritance of our fathers. But as touching Joppa and Gazara, which 52 thou demandest, they did great harm among the people throughout our 53 country, we will give a hundred talents for them.

54 And he answered him not a word,

55 but returned in a rage to the king, and reported unto him these words,

56 and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen: and the king was ex-

57 ceeding wroth. But Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to 58 Orthosia.

59 And the king appointed Cendebeus chief captain of the sea coast, and 60 gave him forces of foot and horse:

61 and he commanded him to encamp before Judæa, and he commanded him to build up Kidron, and to fortify the

62 gates, and that he should fight against the people: but the king pursued Try-

63 phon. And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people,

64 and to invade Judæa, and to take the 65 people captive, and to slay them. And he built Kidron, and set horsemen

66 there, and forces of foot, to the end

- that issuing out they might make out-roads upon the ways of Judæa, according as the king commanded him.
- 16 And John went up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebæus was doing. And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver
- 3 Israel oftentimes. But now I am old, and ye moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help which is from heaven be with you.
- 4 And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against
- 5 Cendebæus, and slept at Modin. And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and there was a brook
- 6 betwixt them. And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men saw
- 7 him, and passed over after him. And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the enemies' horsemen were exceeding many. And they sounded with the trumpets; and Cendebæus and his army were put to the rout, and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled
- 9 to the stronghold: at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came unto Kidron, which Cendebæus had
- 10 built; and they fled unto the towers that are in the fields of Azotus; and he burned it with fire: and there fell of them about two thousand men. And he returned into Judæa in peace.
- 11 And Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed captain for the plain of Jericho, and he had much silver and
- 12 gold; for he was the high priest's son
- 13 in law. And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them.
- 14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in ¹the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month,
- 15 the same is the month Sebat: and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid
- 16 men there. And when Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banquetting place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his
- 17 servants. And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for
- 18 good. And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and
- 19 the cities. And he sent others to Gazara to make away with John: and unto the captains of thousands he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver and gold and
- 20 gifts. And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount
- 21 of the temple. And one ran before to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and
- 22 he hath sent to slay thee also. And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and slew them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.
- 23 And the rest of the acts of John, and of his wars, and of his valiant deeds which he did, and of the building of the walls which he built, and of his

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

1 THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judæa, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good 2 peace: and may God do good unto you, and remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his 3 faithful servants: and give you all a heart to worship him and do his 1 pleasure with a great heart and a 4 willing soul; and open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make 5 peace, and hearken to your supplications, and be reconciled with you, and 6 not forsake you in an evil time. And 7 now we here are praying for you. In the reign of Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy 8 land and the kingdom, and set the 2 gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the 3 shew- 9 bread. And now see that ye keep the days of the feast of tabernacles of 10 the month Chisleu. Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judæa and the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send 11 greeting and health. Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank 12 him greatly. For himself cast forth into Persia them that arrayed themselves 4 against us in the holy city. 13 For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanæa by the teaching of Nanæa's priests. For Antiochus, on the pretence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his 5 Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. 14 And when the priests of Nanæa's temple had set 6 the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when 16 Antiochus was come in: and opening the secret door of the panelled ceiling, they threw stones and 7 struck down the prince, and they hewed 8 him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those 17 that were without. Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety. 18 Whereas we are now about to keep the purification of the temple in the month Chisleu, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that 9 ye also may keep a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the 19 temple and the altar. For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all 20 men. Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they 21 had found no fire, but thick water, he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when 10 the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with the water both the wood 22 and the things laid thereupon. And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvelled. And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. And the prayer was after this manner:

O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone 25 art King and gracious, who alone suppliest every need, who alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and

 31 hymns. And as soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded ¹ to pour on great stones the 32 water that was left. And when this was done, a flame was kindled; ² but when the light from the altar ³ shone over against it, all was consumed.
 33 And when the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians, that, in the place where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared the water, wherewith also Nehemiah and they that were with him purified the sacrifice, then the king, inclosing the place, made it sacred, after he had proved 35 the matter. And when the king would shew favour to any, he would take from them many presents and give 36 them some of this water. And Nehemiah and they that were with him called this thing Nephthar, which is by interpretation, Cleansing; but most men call it Nephthai.

2 It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, as hath been signified above:

2 and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof.

3 And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, ⁴ when he went forth into the mountain where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. And Jeremiah came and found ⁵ a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense;

6 and he made fast the door. And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. But when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown until God ⁶ gather the people

8 again together, and mercy come: and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen, and the ⁷ cloud.

As also it was shewed with Moses: as also Solomon besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now.

10 As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings;

11 (⁸ and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the 12 rest;) and Solomon kept the eight days.

13 And the same things were related ⁹ both in the public archives and in

¹⁰ the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the books of David, and letters of kings about sacred gifts. And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they 15 are still with us. If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

16 Seeing then that we are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye 17 keep the days. Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, and the kingdom, and the 18 priesthood, and the hallowing, even as he promised through the law, — in God have we hope, that he will quickly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of ¹¹ all the earth into the holy place: for he delivered us out of great evils, and purified the place.

recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became ¹gracious unto them with all

23 forbearance: these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge

24 in one work. For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the ²difficulty which awaiteth them that would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, we were careful

25 that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall

26 readers may have profit. And although to us, who have taken upon us the painful labour of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of

27 sweat and watching (even as it is no light thing unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labour, leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again ⁴having no

28 strength to ⁵fill in the outlines of our abridgement. For as the master-builder of a new house must care for the whole ⁶structure, and again he that undertaketh to ⁷decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for the adorning thereof; even so I

30 think it is also with us. To occupy the ground, and to ⁸indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becometh the first author of

31 the history: but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a laboured fulness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a

32 writing into a new form. Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which hath been already ⁹said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

3 WHEN the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred

2 of wickedness, it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and glorify the temple with

3 the noblest presents; insomuch that even Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the ¹⁰ruling of the market in the

5 city. And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of ¹¹Thrasæus, who at that time was governor of Cœlesyria and 6 Phœnicia: and he brought him word how that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power.

7 And when Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal

8 of the aforesaid money. So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest ¹²of the city, he laid before

And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits of widows and orphans, and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, ¹⁴and that the case was not as that impious Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two

11 hundred of gold; and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world.

13 But ¹⁵Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

14 So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city.

15 And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those 16 that had deposited them. And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the distress of his soul. For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to them that looked upon him.

18 And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place

19 was like to come into contempt. And the women, girt with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some to the ¹ gates, others to the walls, and some looked out 20 through the windows. And all, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, 21 made their solemn supplication. Then it would have pitied a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress. 22 While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things intrusted to them ² safe and sure for 23 those that had intrusted them, Heliodorus went on to execute that which 24 had been decreed. But when he was already present there with his guards over against the treasury, the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused a great ³ apparition, so that all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid. 25 For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had 26 complete armour of gold. Two other also appeared unto him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. 27 And when he had fallen suddenly unto the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards caught him 28 up and put him into a litter, and carried him, him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and 30 deliverance, lay prostrate, they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared. 31 But quickly certain of Heliodorus's familiar friends besought Onias to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. 32 And the high priest, secretly fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance 33 of the man. But as the high priest was making the propitiation, the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments;

and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for for his sake the Lord hath granted thee 34 life; and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these 35 words, they vanished out of sight. So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed ⁴ great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. 36 And he testified to all men the works of the ⁴ great God which he had beheld with his eyes. 37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, 38 he said, If thou hast any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about the place a power 39 of God. For he that hath his dwelling in heaven himself hath his eyes upon that place, and helpeth it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroyeth. 40 And such was the history of Heliodorus and the keeping of the treasury. 4 But the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself 2 the author of these evils. And him that was the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow-countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he dared to call a conspirator against 3 the state. But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of ⁵ Simon's trusted followers, Onias, seeing the ⁶ danger of the contention, and that ⁷ Apollonius the son of Menestheus, the governor of Coelesyria and Phenicia, was increasing Simon's malice, betook himself to the king, not to be an accuser of his fellow-citizens, but looking to the good of all the ⁸ people, both public and private; for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace any more, and that Simon would not cease from his madness. 7 But when Seleucus was deceased, and Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias supplanted 8 his brother in the high priesthood, having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another 9 fund eighty talents; and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him

¹ through the king's authority to set him up a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch.

10 And when the king had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion.

11 And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favour to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the embassy to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new

12 customs forbidden by the law: for he eagerly established a Greek place of exercise under the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men

13 to wear the Greek cap. And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high

14 priest: so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to ² enjoy that which was unlawfully

15 provided in the palestra, after the summons ³ of the discus; making of no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the

16 Greeks best of all. By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and 17 to punish them. For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God: but ⁴ these things the time following shall declare.

18 Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at Tyre, and

19 the king was present, the vile Jason sent sacred envoys, ⁵ as being Antiochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to ⁶ expend on another 20 charge. And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of ⁷ present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the ⁸ enthronement of Ptolemy Philometor as king, Antiochus, learning that Ptolemy had shewn himself ill affected toward his state, took thought for the security of his realm; wherefore, going by sea to Joppa, he travelled on to Jerusalem. And being

22 magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shoutings. This done, he afterward led his army down into Phœnicia.

23 Now after a space of three years Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to ⁹ make reports concerning some necessary matters.

24 But he being commended to the king, and ¹⁰ having glorified ¹¹ himself ¹² by the display of his authority, got the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents

25 of silver. And having received the royal mandates he came to Jerusalem, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the passion of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a sav-

26 age beast. And whereas Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into the country of the Am-

27 monites, Menelaus had possession of the office: but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing

¹³ was duly paid, and that though Sostratus the governor of the citadel

28 demanded it (for unto him appertained the gathering of the revenues); for which cause they were both called by

29 the king to his presence. And Menelaus left his own brother Lysimachus for his ¹⁴ deputy in the high priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was over the Cyprians.

30 Now while such was the state of things, it came to pass that they of Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. The king therefore came to 31 Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his ¹⁵ deputy Andronicus,

32 a man of high rank. And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen:

other vessels also he had already sold into Tyre and the cities round about.

33 And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antioch.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him ¹⁶ to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and ¹⁷ being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he

¹⁸ despatched him without regard of justice. For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of

Cilicia, the Jews that were ¹ in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been ³⁷ wrongfully slain. Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him that was ³⁸ dead; and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's purple robe, and ² rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

³⁹ Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the bruit thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, after many vessels of gold had ⁴⁰ been already dispersed. And when the multitudes were rising against him, and were filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in ⁴¹ madness, leading the attack. But when they perceived the assault of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pell-mell upon Lysimachus and them that were ⁴² with him; by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

⁴³ But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. ⁴⁴ And when the king was come to Tyre, the three men that were sent by the senate pleaded the cause before him.

⁴⁵ But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that ⁴⁶ he might win over the king. Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another ⁴⁷ mind: and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but those hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, ⁴⁸ he sentenced to death. Soon then did they that were spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous ⁴⁹ penalty. For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently ⁵⁰ for their burial. But Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power remained still in his office, ³ cleaving to wickedness, ⁴ as a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.

⁵ Now about this time Antiochus made ² his second inroad into Egypt. And it so befell that throughout all the city, for the space of almost forty days, there appeared in the midst of the sky horsemen in swift motion, wearing robes inwrought with gold and carrying spears, equipped in troops for battle; and drawing of swords; ³ and on the other side squadrons of horse in array; and encounters and ⁵ pursuits of both armies; and shaking of shields, and multitudes of lances, and casting of darts, and flashing of golden trappings, and girding on of all sorts of armour. Wherefore all men besought that the ⁶ vision might have been given for good.

⁵ But when a false rumour had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly ⁷ made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well nigh taken, Menelaus took refuge in the citadel. But Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-country-

¹¹ Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judæa was in revolt; whereupon setting out from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by ¹² force of arms, and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay

13 such as went up upon the houses; and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain.

15 But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself a traitor both to the laws and to his country), even taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place.

17 And Antiochus was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that dwelt in the city the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger a little while, and therefore his eye was then turned away from the place. But had it not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by Seleucus the king to view the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, but the place for the nation's sake. Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory.

21 As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antioch, weening in his arrogancy to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because his heart was lifted up. And moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind ¹ toward the Jews ² whom he had made his citizens, he sent that ³ lord of pollutions Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes. But Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on ⁴ such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

6 And not long after this the king sent forth ⁵ an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of ⁶ Jupiter Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in Gerizim by the name of ⁷ Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they ⁸ were that dwelt in the place. But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who ⁹ dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; and ¹⁰ the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor so much as confess himself to be a Jew. And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the ¹¹ feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of ¹² Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. And there went out a decree to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; and that they should slay such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

 13 chastening of our race. For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign 14 of great beneficence. For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord doth with longsuffering forbear, until that he punish them when they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as 15 touching us, that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, ¹ when we be come unto the ² height of our sins.
 16 Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people. Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; but after these few words we must come to the narrative.
 18 Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, a man already well stricken in years, and of a noble countenance, was compelled to open his mouth to eat swine's
 19 flesh. But he, welcoming death with renown rather than life with pollution, advanced of his own accord to the instrument of torture, but first spat 20 forth the flesh, coming forward as men ought to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste.
 21 But they that had the charge of that forbidden sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by
 22 the king; that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them might be
 23 treated kindly. But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and the gray hairs ³ which he had reached with honour, and his excellent
 4 education from a child, ⁵ or rather that became the holy ⁶ laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him
 24 unto Hades. For it becometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone
 25 over unto an alien religion; and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, ⁷ and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine
 26 old age. For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will shew 28 myself worthy of mine old age, and ⁸ leave behind a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to 29 the instrument of torture. ⁹ And when they changed the god will they bare him a little before into ill will, because ¹⁰ these words of his were, as

 30 they thought, sheer madness, and when he was at the point to die with the ¹¹ stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear
 31 of him. So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.
 7 And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of the abominable swine's flesh. But one of them made himself the spokesman and said, What wouldest thou ask and learn of us? for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers. And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and
 4 caldrons; and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. And when he was utterly
 5 maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapour of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus:
 6 The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is ¹² intreated for us, as Moses declared in ¹³ his song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be ¹⁴ intreated for his servants.
 7 And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thy 8 body be punished in every limb? But he answered in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had 9 done. And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou, misereant, dost release us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, unto an eternal renewal of life.

- 10 And after him was the third made a mocking-stock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands countenanceously, and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I condemn these; and from him I hope to receive these back again: 12 inasmuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

- 13 And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. And being come near unto death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

- 15 And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him.

- 16 But he looked toward ¹ the king and said, Because thou hast authority among men, though thou art thyself corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, how it will torture thee and thy seed.

- 18 And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass; but think not thou that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed to fight against God.

- 20 But above all was the mother marvellous and worthy of honourable memory; for when she looked on seven sons perishing within the space of one day, she bare the sight with a good courage for the hopes that she

- 21 had set on the Lord. And she exhorted each one of them in the language of their fathers, filled with a noble temper and stirring up her womanish thought with manly passion, saying

- 22 unto them, I know not how ye came into my womb, neither was it I that bestowed on you your ² spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you. Therefore the Creator of the world, who fashioned the ³ generation of man and devised the ⁴ generation of all things, in mercy giveth back to you again both your ² spirit and your life, as ye now condemn your own selves

- 24 for his laws' sake. But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, whilst the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and ⁴ raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his ⁵ Friend and intrust him with affairs. But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the

- 26 lad to save himself. And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this

- 28 age, and sustained thee. I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being.

- 29 Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

- 30 But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given

- 31 to our fathers through Moses. But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shalt in no

- 32 wise escape the hands of God. For we are suffering because of our own sins; and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered a little while, yet shall he again be re-

- 34 conciled with his own servants. But thou, O unholy man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children;

- 35 for not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God that seeth

- 36 all things. For these our brethren, having endured a ⁶ short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now ⁷ died under God's covenant; but thou, through the judgement of God, shalt receive in just measure the penalties

- 37 of thine arrogance. But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become

- ⁸ gracious to the nation: and that thou amidst trials and plagues mayest confess that he alone is God; and that in me and my brethren ⁹ thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, which hath been justly brought upon our whole race. But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

And last of all after her sons the mother died.

Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.

But Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood that cried unto him; and to remember also the lawless slaughter of the innocent infants, and the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred of wickedness. And when Maccabæus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, he specially took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

But when Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote unto Ptolemy, the governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, that he should support the king's cause. And Ptolemy quickly appointed Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judæa; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of war. And Nicanor undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. And immediately he sent unto the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.

But tidings came to Judas concerning the inroad of Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God ran away and left the country. And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicanor or ever he met them; and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. And Maccabæus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but we trust on the Almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred four score and five thousand perished, and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against the Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that the Macedonians being hard pressed, six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, Simon and Joseph and Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, and moreover Eleazar also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, he joined battle with Nicanor. And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled 25 all to flee; and they took the money of those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some ¹distance, they returned, being constrained by the time 26 of the day; for it was the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far.

27 ²And when they had gathered ³the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them.

28 And after the sabbath, when they had given of the spoils to the ⁴maimed, and to the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children. And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

30 And having had an encounter with the forces of Timotheus and Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the ⁵maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves.

31 ⁶And when they had gathered the arms ⁶of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to 32 Jerusalem. And they killed the ⁷phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had

33 done the Jews much hurt. ⁷And as they kept the feast of victory in the ⁸city of their fathers, they burned those that had set the sacred ⁹gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into ¹⁰an outhouse; and so they received the meet reward of their impiety.

34 And the thrice-cursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand mer-

35 chants to buy the Jews for slaves, being through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, put off his glorious apparel, and passing through the midland, ¹¹shunning all company like a fugitive slave, arrived at Antioch, ¹²having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his host was destroyed.

36 And he that had taken upon him to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that ¹³because this was so the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

9 Now about that time it befell that Antiochus had returned ¹⁴in disorder 2 from the region of Persia. For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob ¹⁵a temple and to hold down the city.

Whereupon there was an onset of the multitudes, and ¹⁶Antiochus and his men turned to make defence with arms; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to flight by the people of the country and broke up his camp 3 with disgrace. And while he was at Ecbatana, news was brought him what had happened unto Nicanor and 4 the forces of Timotheus. And being lifted up ¹⁷by his passion he thought to make the Jews suffer even for the evil-doing of those that had put him to rout. Wherefore, the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews, when I come 5 there. But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a ¹⁸fatal and invisible stroke; and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner 6 parts; and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings.

7 But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of 8 his body. And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, ¹⁹shewing unto all that 9 the power was manifestly God's; so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. And the man that a little afore supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intoler-

11 able stench. Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing 12 every moment. And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject unto God, and that one who is mortal should not ¹be minded arrogantly. 13 And the vile man vowed unto the Sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: that the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to ²make it a common 15 graveyard, he would declare free; and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all 16 equal to citizens of Athens; and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required 17 for the sacrifices; and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect: 19 To the worthy Jews, his fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. ³ May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in 21 heaven, I remembered with affection your honour and good will toward me. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, 22 not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, 25 might not be troubled; and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what 26 is written below. I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will 27 toward me and my son. For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

28 So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange 29 land. And Philip his foster-brother conveyed the body home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

10 And Maccabæus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; 2 and they pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred 3 inclosures. And having cleansed the sanctuary they made another altar of sacrifice; and ⁴striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, and burned incense, and lighted lamps, and set forth the shew- 4 bread. And when they had done these things, they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blasphem- 5 ing and barbarous heathen. Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the 6 same month, which is Chisleu. And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that ⁵not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner 7 of wild beasts. Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, and fair boughs, and palms also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the 8 cleansing of his own place. They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year.

9 And ⁶such was the end of Antiochus, 10 who was called Epiphanes. But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named ⁷Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly the ⁸successive evils of the 11 wars. For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of Coele Syria and Phœnicia. 12 For Ptolemy that was called Macon, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to ¹conduct his dealings with them on peaceful terms. Whereupon being accused by the king's ²Friends before Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned Cyprus which Philometor had intrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself unto Antiochus called Epiphanes, and ³failing to uphold the honour of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

- 14 But Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every 15 turn kept up war with the Jews. And together with him the Idumæans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving unto them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they as-16 sayed to keep up war. But Maccabæus and his men, having made solemn supplication and besought God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strong-17 holds of the Idumæans; and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thou-
18 sand. And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things 19 needed for a siege, Maccabæus, having left Simon and Joseph, and Zachæus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, de-
20 parted himself unto places where he was most needed. But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas 21 let some of them slip away. But when word was brought to Maccabæus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against 22 them. So he slew these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took 23 possession of the two towers. And prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds more than twenty thousand.
24 Now Timotheus, who had been before defeated by the Jews, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes, and having collected the ⁴horsemen which belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judæa
25 by force of arms. But as he drew near, Maccabæus and his men sprinkled earth upon their heads and girded their loins with sackcloth, in suppli-26 cation to God, and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, besought him to become ⁵gracious to them, and ⁶be an enemy to their ene-27 mies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth. And rising from their prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they 28 ⁷halted. And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. But when the battle waxed 29 strong, there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; ⁸and two of them, leading on 30 the Jews, and taking Maccabæus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with be-31 wilderment. And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred,

beside six hundred horsemen.
32 But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, ⁹Chæreus being 33 in command there. But Maccabæus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days.
34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious 35 words. But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabæus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphem-ies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with ¹⁰furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their 36 way. And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied 37 the city. And they slew Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chæreus, and Apollophanes.
38 And when they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel,
and giveth them the victory.
11 Now after a very little time Lysias, lected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a place for Greeks to dwell in, and to levy tribute on the temple, as ¹ on the other sacred places of the nations, and to put up the high priest-hood to sale every year; holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants. And coming into Judæa and drawing near to Bethsaron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about ² five leagues, he pressed it hard. But when Maccabæus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord to send a good angel to save Israel. And Maccabæus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succour their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing ³ weapons of gold. And they all together praised the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to ⁴ assault not men only but the wildest beasts, and walls of iron, they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. And hurling themselves like lions upon the enemy, they slew of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again ⁵ unto them, and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and ⁶ promised that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. And Maccabæus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever requests Maccabæus delivered in writing unto Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. For the letters written unto the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

Lysias unto the ⁶ people of the Jews, greeting. John and Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the ⁷ petition written below, made request concerning the things signified 18 therein. What things soever therefore had need to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavour to contribute to your good. ⁸ And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from me, to confer with you. Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the four and twentieth day of the month ⁹ Dioscorinthius.

22 And the king's letter was in these words:

King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias, greeting. Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom ¹⁰ should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed unto them, — choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from ¹¹ disturbance, we determine that their temple be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. Thou wilt therefore do well to send messengers unto them and give them the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

27 And unto the nation the king's letter was after this manner:

King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. If ye fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our ¹² friendship, with full permission that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

34 And the Romans also sent unto them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, unto the people of the Jews, greeting. In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also

But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after ye have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to Antioch. Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. ¹ Farewell. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

12 So when these covenants had been made, Lysias departed unto the king, and the Jews went about their husbandry.

2 But certain of the governors of districts, Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Gennaëus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them Nicenor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquillity

3 and live in peace. And men of Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill

4 will towards them; and when ² the Jews, ³ relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred.

5 But when Judas heard of the cruelty done unto his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were

6 with him and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire by night, and burned the boats, and put to the sword those

7 that had fled thither. But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men

8 of Joppa. But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that sojourned

9 among them, he fell upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

10 Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against Timotheus, a host of Arabians attacked him, no fewer than five thousand footmen and five hundred horsemen. And when a sore

11 battle had been fought, and Judas and his company by the help of God had good success, the nomads being overcome besought Judas to grant them friendship, promising to give him cattle, and to help ⁴ his people in

12 all other ways. So Judas, thinking that they would indeed be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they departed

13 to their tents. And he also fell upon a certain city ⁵ Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of divers nations; and it was named Caspin.

14 But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speak-

15 ing impious words. But Judas and his company, calling upon the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the 16 wall; and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

17 And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Jews that are called

18 ⁶ Tubieni. And Timotheus they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very strong one, in a certain post.

19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabæus's captains, sallied forth and destroyed those that had been left by Timotheus in the strong-

20 hold, above ten thousand men. And Maccabæus, ranging his own army by bands, set ⁴ these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 But when Timotheus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called

⁷ Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the ap-

22 proaches on all sides. But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because the manifestation of him who beholdeth all things came upon them, they fled again, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and perished with the

23 points of their swords. And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as

24 thirty thousand men. But Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, besought them with much ⁸ crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some: ¹ otherwise, said he, little regard will ² be shewn to these. So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

26 And Judas, marching against ³ Carnion and the temple of Atergatis, slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put these to flight and destroyed them, he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, ⁴ wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed ⁵ on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts

28 there. But calling upon the Sovereign who with might breaketh in pieces the ⁶ strength of ⁷ the enemy, they got the city into their hands, and slew as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within.

29 And setting out from thence they marched in haste against Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem 30 six hundred furlongs. But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shewn toward them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in

31 the times of their misfortune, they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close at hand.

32 But after the feast called Pentecost they marched in haste against Gorgias the governor of Idumæa: and he came out with three thousand footmen

34 and four hundred horsemen. And when they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews

35 fell. And a certain Dositheus, one ⁸ of Baceror's company, who was on horseback and a strong man, pressed hard on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloke drew him along by main force; and while he was minded to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian horsemen bore down upon him and disabled his shoulder, and so Gorgias escaped unto ⁹ Marisa.

36 And when they that were with Esdras had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to shew himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the 37 battle; and then in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

38 And Judas gathering his army came unto the city of ¹⁰ Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the sabbath there.

39 And on the day following, ¹¹ at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen, ¹² and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back unto the sepulchres 40 of their fathers. But under the garments of each one of the dead they found ¹³ consecrated tokens of the idols of Jamnia, which the law forbids the Jews to have aught to do with; and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen.

41 All therefore, blessing the works of the Lord, the righteous Judge, who maketh manifest the things that are 42 hid, betook themselves unto supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forso much as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had 43 fallen. And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent unto Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honourably, in that he took 44 thought for a resurrection. For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead.

45 (And if he did it looking unto an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that ¹⁴ die ¹⁵ in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

13 In the hundred forty and ninth year tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Antiochus Eupator was coming with great multitudes against 2 Judæa, and with him Lysias his guardian and chancellor, ¹⁶ each having a Greek force, a hundred and ten thousand footmen, and five thousand and three hundred horsemen, and two and twenty elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

3 And Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the 4 government. But the King of kings stirred up the ¹⁷ passion of Antiochus against the wicked wretch; and when Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and ¹⁸ to put him to death after the 5 manner of that place. Now there is in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a ¹⁹ gallery ²⁰ descending sheer

By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and 8 that right justly; for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins ²against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

9 Now the king, ³infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his 10 father's time. But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country 11 and the holy temple, and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the 12 hands of those profane heathen. So when they had all done the same thing together, ⁴beseeching the merciful Lord with weeping and fastings and prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him 13 for service. And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judæa and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter in fight by 14 the help of ⁵God. And committing the decision to the ⁶Lord of the world, and exhorting them that were with him to contend nobly even unto death for laws, temple, city, country, ⁷commonwealth, he pitched his camp 15 by Modin. And having given out to his men the watchword, victory is God's, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp by night and penetrated to the king's ⁸tent, and slew ¹of the "army as many as two thousand men, and ¹brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the ¹⁰tower upon 16 him. And at last they filled the ²army with terror and alarm, and 17 departed with good success. And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of the Lord's protection that gave ¹¹Judas help.

18 But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made attempts by stratagem upon 19 their positions, and upon a strong fortress of the Jews at Bethsura: he advanced, was turned back, failed, 20 was defeated. And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto 21 them that were within. But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and 22 taken, and shut up in prison. The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces 23 of Judas, was put to the worse, heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and swore to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honoured the 24 sanctuary and the place, shewed kindness and graciously received Maccabæus, left Hegemonides governor from Ptolemais even unto the ¹²Gerrenians, came to Ptolemais. The men of Ptolemais were displeased at the treaty, for they had exceeding great indignation against the Jews: they desired to annul the articles of the agree- 26 ment. Lysias ¹³came forward to speak, made the best defence that was possible, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, departed unto Antioch. This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king. 14 Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty host and a 2 fleet, had gotten possession of the country, having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.

3 But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more 4 access unto the holy altar, came to king Demetrius in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for 5 that day he held his peace: but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered 6 thereunto, Those of the Jews that be called ¹⁴Hasidæans, whose leader is Judas Maccabæus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the king- 7 dom to find tranquillity. Wherefore, having laid aside mine ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I 8 am now come ¹⁵hither; first for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom

I spake before, our whole race is in no
 9 small misfortune. But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which 1 is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou 10 receivest all. For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the 11 state should find peace. And when he had spoken such words as these, at once 2 the rest of the king's 3 Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed 12 Demetrius yet more. And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judæa, he sent him 13 forth, giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest 14 of the 4 great temple. And 5 those in Judæa that 6 had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.
 15 But when the Jews heard of Nica-nor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who al-way, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are his own por-16 tion. 7 And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway setteth out from thence, and joineth battle with them at a village called Lessau.
 17 But Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, 8 yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.
 18 Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the 19 sword. Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give 20 and receive pledges of friendship. So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the 9 troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the cove-21 nants. And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves.
 And a litter was borne forward from 22 each army; they set chairs of state; Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such 23 conference as was meet. Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered 24 together. And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a 25 hearty affection for the man; he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

 26 But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was betwixt them, 10 and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his 27 successor. And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabæus prisoner unto Antioch in all haste.
 28 And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; 29 but because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by strata-30 gem. But Maccabæus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruder in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.
 31 But the other, 11 when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of 12 Judas, came to the 4 great and holy temple, while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them 32 to deliver up the man. And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom 33 he sought, he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If ye will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this 13 temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple unto 14 Bacchus 34 for all to see. And having said this he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fighteth for 35 our nation, in these words: Thou, 15 O
 Lord of the universe, who in thyself hast need of nothing, wast well pleased that a sanctuary of thy 16 habitation 36 should be set among us; so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep un-defiled for ever this house that hath been lately cleansed.

 canor against one Razis, an elder of Jews for his good will toward them.

38 For in the former times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardied body and life with all earnestness for 39 the religion of the Jews. And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above 40 five hundred soldiers to take him; for he thought by taking him to inflict a 41 calamity upon them. But when the

1 troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, 42 choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy 43 of his own nobleness: but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the 44 crowds. But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on 45 the middle of 2 his side. And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and 46 standing upon a steep rock, when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of 3 the life and the 4 spirit to restore him 5 these again, he thus died.

15 But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest.

2 And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that beholdeth all things hath 6 honoured and hallowed above other days; 3 then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the sab- 4 bath day. And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us ob- 5 serve the seventh day; then saith the other, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, 7 who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his 8 cruel purpose.

6 And Nicanor, 9 bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all 7 them that were with him: but Maccabæus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from 8 the Lord. And he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the 10 inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind the help which of old they had oft-times received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Al- 9 mighty; and comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made

10 them more eager for the battle. And when he had roused their 11 spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their 11 oaths. And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream 12 worthy to be believed, he made them

12 all exceeding glad. And the vision of that dream was this: He saw Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, with outstretched hands in- voking blessings on the whole body of 13 the Jews: thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceed- ing glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him:

14 and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah the prophet of 15 God: and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it 16 addressed him thus, Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

17 And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined 10 not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fight- ing hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the 18 temple were in danger. For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for 19 the consecrated sanctuary. And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled be- cause of the encounter in the open ground.

20 And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the 14 elephants 15 brought back to a con-

PREFACE

THIS edition of the Revised New Testament of 1881 embodies a purpose entertained by many members of the American Revision Committee almost from the publication of the work. The list of passages in which the New Testament Company dissented from the decisions of their English associates, when it was transmitted to them, bore the heading, "The American New Testament Revision Company, having in many cases yielded their preference for certain readings and renderings, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as in their view of sufficient importance to be appended to the revision, in accordance with an understanding between the Companies."

The knowledge of the existence of these suppressed deviations naturally stirred a desire that they should be made accessible to at least the American public. This desire, especially on the part of those whose generous interest in the work from its inception had enabled the American revisers to meet the pecuniary outlay its preparation involved, they were not unwilling to gratify. The obligation they felt, however, to guard as far as they might the purity and integrity of the version, led them to pledge their support for fourteen years to the editions issued by the University Presses of Oxford and Cambridge. But the reiterated suggestion to those Presses to publish an edition especially for American readers not having met with favor, they acceded to the overtures of the Messrs. Nelson and engaged in preparing gratuitously the desired edition, to be issued when the expiration of the period specified should open the way for its honorable publication. The publishers, on their part, agreed to protect the version in its integrity, and to sell the book at a price not exceeding a fair profit on its cost.

In the preparation of this edition no attempt has been made to preserve a full record of the other readings and renderings than those that appeared in the work as published in 1881 which were preferred by the American revisers. The Appendix of that edition, however, was not only hastily compiled under pressure from the University Presses, but its necessarily limited compass compelled, as the original heading intimated, the exclusion of many suggestions that the American Company held to be of interest and importance. These, amounting in the aggregate to a considerable number, have been incorporated in the present edition. The opportunity has been taken also to introduce not a few alterations, individually of slight importance, yet as a body contributing decidedly to the perfection of the work. But the survivors of the New Testament Company have not felt at liberty to make new changes of moment which were not favorably passed upon by their associates at one stage or another of the original preparation of the work.

Respecting details, but little need be added to the ample statements made in the Preface prefixed to the work on its first appearance.

In the delicate matter of rendering the names of the several coins that occur in the New Testament, we have departed somewhat from our English brethren. For the Greek λεπτόν the term "mite" has been retained, and for κοδράντης the rendering "farthing" (see Mk. xii. 42). But ἀσσάριον has been translated "penny" (Matt. x. 29; Lk. xii. 6); while in thirteen out of the sixteen instances where in the edition of 1881 the Greek δηνάριον was represented by this English word, the term "shilling" has been substituted, not only as corresponding more nearly to the coin's relative value, but also because "penny," according to its modern use, is in some cases highly inappropriate (see Matt. xx. 2; Lk. x. 35; Rev. vi. 6). In the three remaining instances (Matt. xxii. 19; Mk. xii. 15; Lk. xx. 24), the Greek name of the coin has been introduced, in order to meet the obvious requirement of the context. Where the English value of coins is given in the margin, we have added the equivalents in our national currency; but in the case of the talent (Matt. xviii. 24) what is believed to be a more accurate valuation has been given.

In formal particulars, this new edition will show but slight and infrequent deviations from its predecessor. The division of the text into paragraphs in that edition has not been often departed from; and then chiefly in cases where the same matter is found in more than one of the Gospels, and hence uniformity of division seemed desirable. Further, in the Epistles and the Revelation the more decided transitions to a new topic have been indicated by leaving a line blank. The somewhat ponderous and peculiar system of punctuation of the original edition has been in the main adhered to; although, pursuant to the principle there followed, a comma has here and there been dropped which seemed likely to obstruct the reader, and the gradations of thought have been occasionally indicated more distinctly by substituting a semicolon for the overworked colon. The titles of the books, which in the former edition were given as printed in 1611, have been somewhat abbreviated, at the dictate of convenience, and agreeably to usage, ancient as well as modern. They have been altered only in the few instances where the former heading was erroneous (as in the case of the Epistle to the Hebrews), or apt to mislead (as in the case of the Book of Acts), or hardly intelligible to the ordinary reader (as the "General" in the heading of some of the shorter Epistles), or founded in a misapprehension (as in the case of "Saint" prefixed to the names of the Evangelists). Moreover, the alternate title of the New Testament, and the mode of printing the headings of the Four Evangelists' narratives, are designed to recall to mind the inherent signification and primitive use of the terms "Testament" (compare Hebrews ix. 15 f.) and "Gospel." In the Book of Revelation, also, the "Glorias," "Trisagia," etc., have been marked typographically.

In dealing with the Language, the American revisers have endeavored to act with becoming deference and reserve. A few archaisms, such as "how that," "for to," "the which," "howbeit," etc., which are becoming uncouth to a modern ear, have been generally although not invariably discarded. Not a few of the instances of the superfluous use of "do" and "did" as auxiliaries, of "that" as equivalent to "that which," and the like, have also been removed; and current usage has been recognized in the case of forms which King James's revision employed indiscriminately, as "beside" and "besides" (see Luke xvi. 26; xxiv. 21). But in making these and other slight changes, the American editors have not forgotten that they were dealing with a venerable monument of English usage, and have been careful not to obliterate the traces of its historic origin and descent.

The two most obvious departures of this edition from that of 1881 consist in the addition of references to parallel and illustrative Biblical passages, and of running headings to indicate the contents of the pages.

The references have been selected in the main from a numerous collection provisionally attached to the text at one stage of the preparation of the original work, but withheld at the time of its publication. In selecting them, however, other similar collections and the better commentaries have not been neglected; but the aim has been to avoid multiplying them to such a degree as to embarrass or discourage a student. Accordingly, references which may be said to be of a hortatory or dogmatic character have been comparatively neglected, as belonging less to the study of Scripture than to its application, whether in the realm of thought or of life. On the other hand, prominence has been given to those which illustrate national customs, characteristic phrases, peculiarities of vocabulary or style, correspondences between different Biblical books, and the like. Some attempt has been made, also, to group references topically; as for example, in the case of Matthew's allusions to the "words" of Christ; of the "we" sections in Acts; of the use of "brethren" in addressing Christians on the one hand, and Jews on the other; of "Jews" as employed in a national and a hierarchical reference; and the like. In order further to lessen the number of "superiors" tending to distract a reader's eye, the different references belonging to a verse have often been consolidated, with the result occasionally that in the given group of passages one may illustrate one part of a verse, another another. References printed in italics designate parallel passages; in such cases the comprehensive reference is generally held to suffice for all details falling within the limits of the parallels, especially in the Gospels. In many cases, however, striking aphorisms, particularly when not found in all of the parallel narratives, have received a notation of their own. As the references constitute an apparatus mainly for Biblical study, and as their selection has been inevitably influenced somewhat by modern exegetical opinion, they have been separated from the citations and express allusions for which the sacred writer is responsible, by printing this latter class with Roman chapter-numerals and setting them at the foot of the page.

Notwithstanding the caution — as wise perhaps as prudent — which led the English Committee wholly to omit the headings of chapters and pages, and in spite of the disfavor which has been the fate of many attempts to furnish them from the days of Dr. Blayney, who, with four assistants, produced a set which speedily fell into neglect, it has been deemed best to equip the present edition with running headlines, which may serve in some sort instead of a detailed Table of Contents, and as landmarks to a reader familiar with the text. In preparing them it has been the constant aim to avoid as far as possible all pre-commitments, whether doctrinal or exegetical; and with this object in view, the forms of statement employed have been drawn in the main from the Biblical text. Often a fragmentary quotation which might serve as a catchword or reminder of a well-known passage has been deemed sufficient. The limitations of space have frequently compelled a partial selection from the contents of a given page, the continuation of a heading from one page to the next, or even the entry of the kernel of a statement on a page adjoining that on which it appears in the text. Slight displacement in such a case seemed preferable to total omission.

It is not superfluous to mention expressly the fact that in this edition the variant readings and renderings are placed at the foot of the pages, but in as close juxtaposition as possible with the passages to which they relate. The reader's attention is thereby drawn to the circumstance that some degree of uncertainty still cleaves, in the judgment of scholars, either to the text of the passage before him, or to its translation, or to both. Accordingly, when he remembers that, by the rule of procedure which the Committee followed, the translation of 1611 held its place in every instance until an alteration commanded the votes of two-thirds of the revisers, it will become evident to him that a rendering given in the margin may have commended itself to a majority, while still falling short of the degree of approval necessary to enable it to supplant the text. It is known that this was the case in a considerable number of instances, of which the established term "Comforter" as the appellation of the Holy Spirit in the fourteenth chapter of the Gospel of John is a notable representative.

The present volume, it is believed, will on the one hand bring a plain reader more closely into contact with the exact thought of the sacred writers than any version now current in Christendom, and on the other hand prove itself especially serviceable to students of the Word. In this belief the editors bid it anew God-speed, and in the realization of this desired result they will find their all-sufficient reward.

13 ^uThen cometh Jesus ^vfrom Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. 14 But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? 15 But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer ^wit now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffereth him. 16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened ^xunto him, and ^yhe saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him; 17 and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, ^zThis is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4 ^aThen was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. 2 And when he had ^bfasted forty days and forty nights, he afterward hungered. 3 And ^cthe tempter came 18 ^a And walking by ^a the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, ^c Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men. 20 And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. 21 And going on from thence he saw two other brethren, ¹ James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 And ² Jesus went about ⁹ in all Galilee, ^b teaching in their synagogues, and ^c preaching the ³ gospel of the kingdom. and ^k healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 And the report of him went forth ⁱ into all Syria: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, ^{4m} possessed with demons, and ⁿ epileptic, and ^o palsied; and he healed them. 25 And there ^p followed him great multitudes from Galilee and ^q Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from ^r beyond the Jordan.

5 ^a And seeing the multitudes, he went up into ^t the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and he ^u opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 ^b Blessed are the poor in spirit: for ^v theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 ^c Blessed are ^w they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are ^x the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

10 Blessed are they that have been ^e persecuted for righteousness' sake: for ^f theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 Blessed are ye when ^g men shall ^h reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. 12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for ⁱ great is your reward in heaven: for ^j so persecuted they the prophets that were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but ^k if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. 14 Ye are ^l the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. 15 ^m Neither do ⁿ men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. 16 Even so let your light shine before men; that they may ^o see your good works, and ^p glorify your Father who is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil. 18 For verily I say unto you, ^q Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished. 19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed ^r the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

thieves ⁵break through and steal: 20 but lay up for yourselves ^atreasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not ^bbreak through nor steal: 21 for ^cwhere thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. 22 ^dThe lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. 23 But if ^ethy eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness! 24 ^fNo man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and ^gmammon. 25 ^hTherefore I say unto you, Be not ⁱanxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 26 ^jBehold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more value than they? 27 And which of you by being ^kanxious can ^ladd one cubit unto ^mthe measure of his life? 28 And why are ye ⁿanxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: 29 yet I say unto you, that even ^oSolomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, ^pO ye of little faith? 31 Be not therefore ^qanxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for ^ryour heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and ^sall these things shall be added unto you. 34 Be not therefore ^tanxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

Of Judging Others. The Golden Rule. The Two Ways. The Two Foundations. The Commended Centurion

7 ^a Judge not, that ye be not judged. ² For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and ^b with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. ³ And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? ⁴ Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? ⁵ Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

⁷ ^c Ask, and ^d it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: ⁸ for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. ⁹ Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone; ¹⁰ or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? ¹¹ If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father who is in heaven give good things to them that ask him? ¹² ^e All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for ^f this is the law and the prophets.

¹⁵ Beware of ^h false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ⁱ ravening wolves. ¹⁶ ^j By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? ¹⁷ Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. ¹⁸ A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. ¹⁹ ^z Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. ²⁰ Therefore ^a by their fruits ye shall know them. ²¹ ^m Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven. ²² ⁿ Many will say to me in ^o that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out demons, and by thy name do many ³ mighty works? ²³ And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: ^p depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

²⁴ ^q Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock: ²⁵ and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock. ²⁶ And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand: ²⁷ and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

²⁸ ^r And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these words, ^s the multitudes were astonished at his teaching: ²⁹ for he taught them as ^t one having authority, and not as their scribes.

S And when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him. ² And behold, ^u there came to him a leper and ^v worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. ³ And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. ⁴ And Jesus saith unto him, ^w See thou tell no man; but ^x go, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

⁵ And ^y when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, ⁶ and saying, Lord, my ^z servant lieth in the house ^a sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. ⁷ And he saith unto him, I will come and heal him. 8 And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not ¹worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof; but only say ²the word, and my ³servant shall be healed. 9 For I also am a man ⁴under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my ⁵servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 10 And when Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, ⁶I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. 11 And I say unto you, that many ^ashall come from the east and the west, and shall ⁷sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12 but ^bthe sons of the kingdom shall be cast forth into ^cthe outer darkness: ^dthere shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; as ^ethou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And the ³servant was healed in that hour.

14 ^fAnd when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother lying sick of a fever. 15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. 16 And when even was come, they brought unto him many ^gpossessed with demons: and he cast out the spirits with a word, and ^hhealed all that were sick: 17 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, ⁱHimself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, ^jhe gave commandment to depart unto the other side. 19 ^kAnd there came ¹⁰a scribe, and said unto him, Teacher, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have ¹¹nests; but ^lthe Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 21 And another of the disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 22 But Jesus saith unto him, ^mFollow me; and leave the dead to bury their own dead.

23 ⁿAnd when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. 25 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Save, Lord; we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, ^oO ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. 27 And the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ^pAnd when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two ^qpossessed with demons, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way. 29 And behold, they cried out, saying, ^rWhat have we to do with thee, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time? 30 Now there was afar off from them a herd of many swine feeding. 31 And the demons besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were ^spossessed with demons. 34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

9 And he entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into ^this own city. 2 ^uAnd behold, they brought to him a man ^vsick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, ^wSon, be of good cheer; ^xthy sins are forgiven. 3 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth. 4 And Jesus ^yknowing their thoughts

said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? ⁵ For which is easier, to say, ^aThy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk? ⁶ But that ye may know that ^bthe Son of man hath authority on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the ^csick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. ⁷ And he arose, and departed to his house. ⁸ But when the multitudes saw it, they were afraid, and ^dglorified God, who had given such authority unto men.

⁹ And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called ^eMatthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, ^fFollow me. And he arose, and followed him.

¹⁰ And it came to pass, as he ¹sat at meat in the house, behold, many ²publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. ¹¹ And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, ^hWhy eateth your Teacher with the ²publicans and sinners? ¹² But when he heard it, he said, ⁱThey that are ³whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. ¹³ But go ye and learn ^kwhat this meaneth, ⁴I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for ^lI came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

¹⁴ Then come to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and ^mthe Pharisees fast ⁵oft, but thy disciples fast not? ¹⁵ And Jesus said unto them, Can the ⁶sons of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they fast. ¹⁶ And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. ¹⁷ Neither do ⁿmen put new wine into old ⁷wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

10 ^gAnd he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to ^hheal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

9 ^cAnd he departed thence, and went into their synagogue: 10 and behold, a man having a withered hand. 13 On that day went Jesus out of ^athe house, and sat ^bby the sea side. 2 And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, so that ^che entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude stood on the beach. 3 And he spake to them many things in ^aparables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sow; 4 and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: 5 and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 and when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. 7 And others fell upon the thorns; and the thorns grew up and choked them: 8 and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some a ^chundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. 9 ^dHe that hath ears¹, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? 11 And he answered and said unto them, ^eUnto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 ^fFor whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because ^gseeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. 14 And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

14 ^aAt that season ^bHerod the tetrarch heard the report concerning Jesus, ² and said unto his servants, ^cThis is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore do these powers work in him. ³ For ^dHerod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him ^ein prison for the sake of ^fHerodias, his brother Philip's wife. ⁴ For John said unto him, ⁵It is not lawful for thee to have her. ⁵ And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as ^ga prophet. ⁶ But when Herod's birthday came, the daughter of ^hHerodias danced in the midst, and pleased ⁱHerod. ⁷ Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she should ask. ⁸ And she, being put forward by her mother, saith, Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist. ⁹ And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given; ¹⁰ and he sent and beheaded John in the prison. ¹¹ And his head was brought on a platter, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. ¹² And his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.

¹³ ^aNow when Jesus heard it, he withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him ¹on foot from the cities. ¹⁴ And he came forth, and ²saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, and ³healed their sick. ¹⁵ And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past; send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food. ¹⁶ But Jesus said unto them, They have no need to go away; give ye them to eat. ¹⁷ And they say unto him, We have here but ⁴five loaves, and two fishes. ¹⁸ And he said, Bring them hither to me. ¹⁹ And he commanded the multitudes to ⁵sit down on the grass; and he took

The Question of Rank. Of Stumbling-blocks. The Lost Sheep. Duty towards Offenders. The Unmerciful Servant

Verily I say unto you, Except ye turn, and ^abecome as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the ¹greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me: 6 ^bbut ^bwhoso shall ^ccause one of these little ones that believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that ²a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe unto the world because of occasions of stumbling! for ^ait must needs be that the occasions come; but woe to that man through whom the occasion cometh! 8 And ^cif thy hand or thy foot ^ccauseth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the eternal fire. 9 And ^cif thine eye ^ccauseth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the ³hell of fire. 10 See that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say unto you, that in heaven ^btheir angels do always behold the face of my Father who is in heaven. ⁴12 How think ye? ^cif any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that which goeth astray? 13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray. 14 Even so it is not ⁵the will of ⁶your Father who is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 And ^aif thy brother sin ⁷against thee, go, show him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. 16 But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitudes said, This is "the prophet, Jesus, from "Nazareth of Galilee.

12 "And Jesus entered into the temple ³of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the ⁴money-changers, and the seats of them that sold "the doves; 13 and he saith unto them, It is written, ⁵My house shall be called a house of prayer: ⁶but ye make it a den of robbers. 14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and "he healed them. 15 But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, Hosanna to the "son of David; they were moved with indignation, 16 and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: did ye never read, ⁷Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? 17 And he left them, and went forth out of the city to "Bethany, and lodged there.

18 "Now in the morning as he returned to the city, he hungered. 19 And seeing "a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away. 20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig tree immediately wither away? 21 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, "If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall be done. 22 And "all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 "And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? 24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one ¹question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. 25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then did ye not believe him? 26 But if we shall say, From men; we fear the multitude; for all hold John as ^aa prophet. 27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. 28 But what think ye? A man had two ²sons; and he came to the first, and said, ³Son, go work to-day in the ^bvineyard. 29 And he answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented himself, and went. 30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir; and went not. 31 Which of the two did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ^cthe ^dpublicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you. 32 For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but ^ethe ^fpublicans and the harlots believed him; and ye, when ye saw it, did not even repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 Hear another parable: ^gThere was a man that was a householder, who ^hplanted a ⁱvineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a ^jwinepress in it, and ^kbuilt a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and ^lwent into another country. 34 And when the season of the fruits drew near, he ^msent his ⁿservants to the husbandmen, to receive ^ohis fruits. 35 And the husbandmen took his ^pservants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. 36 Again, he ^qsent other ^rservants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. 37 But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. 38 But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and take his inheritance. 39 And they took him, and

22 And Jesus ^zanswered and spake again in parables unto them, saying, 2 ^{aa}The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, who made a marriage feast for his son, 3 and ^{ab}sent forth his ^{ac}servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 Again he ^{ad}sent forth other ^{ae}servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. 5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise; 6 and the rest laid hold on his ^{af}servants, and treated them shamefully, and killed them. 7 But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. 8 Then saith he to his ^{ag}servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not worthy. 9 Go ye therefore unto ^{ah}the partings of the high-

15 ^gThen went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk. 16 And they send to him their disciples, with the ^hHerodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one : for thou regardest not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou ? Is it lawful to give ⁱtribute unto ^jCæsar, or not ? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why make ye trial of me, ye hypocrites ? 19 Show me the ^ktribute money. And they brought unto him a ^ldenarius. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription ? 21 They say unto him, Cæsar's. God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. 33 And when the multitudes heard it, ^ethey were astonished at his teaching.

34 ^fBut the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put ^gthe Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together. 35 And one of them, ^ha lawyer, asked him a question, trying him : 36 Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law ? 37 And he said unto him, ⁱThou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. 38 This is the great and first commandment. 39 ^jAnd a second like unto it is this, ^kThou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. 40 ^lOn these two commandments the whole law hangeth, and the prophets.

41 ^mNow while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, 42 saying, What think ye of the Christ ? whose son is he ? They say unto him, ⁿThe son of David. 43 He saith unto them, How then doth David ^oin the Spirit call him Lord, saying,

15 When therefore ye see the ^aabomination of desolation, which was ⁷spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in ^{8b}the holy place (^clet him that readeth understand), 16 then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: 17 let him that is on ^dthe housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: 18 and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloak. 19 But ^ewoe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: 21 for then shall be ^fgreat tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for ^gthe elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 ^hThen if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here; believe ⁱit not. 24 For there shall arise false Christs, and ^jfalse prophets, and shall show great ^ksigns and wonders; so as to lead astray, if possible, even ^lthe elect. 25 Behold, I have told you beforehand. 26 If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe ^mit not. 27 ⁿFor as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the ^{2k}coming of the ^oSon of man. 28 ^pWheresoever the carcase is, there will the ¹¹eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately after the ^qtribulation of those days ^rthe sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and ^sthe stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 and then shall appear the ^tsign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see ^athe Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. 31 And ^bhe shall send forth his angels ¹with ^{2a}a great sound of ^ca trumpet, and they shall gather together his ^delect from ^ethe four winds, ^ffrom one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 33 even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that ³he is nigh, even ^gat the doors. 34 Verily I say unto you, ^hThis generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. 35 ⁱHeaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. 36 But ^jof that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, ^kneither the Son, but the Father only. 37 ^lAnd as were the days of Noah, so shall be the ^{5a}coming of the Son of man. 38 For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, ^mmarrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, 39 and they knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall be the ^{5a}coming of the Son of man. 40 Then shall two men be in the field; one is taken, and one is left: 41 ⁿtwo women shall be grinding at the mill; one is taken, and one is left. 42 ^oWatch therefore: for ye know not on what day your Lord cometh. 43 ^pBut know this, that ^qif the master of the house had known in what ^rwatch the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be ⁷broken through. 44 Therefore ²be ye also ready; for in an hour that ye think not ^rthe Son of man cometh.

45 ^sWho then is the ^tfaithful and ^uwise ^vservant, whom his lord ^whath set over his household, to give them their food in due season? 46 Blessed is that ^xservant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 47 Verily I say unto you, that ^yhe will set him

25 Then shall ^gthe kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, who took their ^hlamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were foolish, and five were ⁱwise. 3 For the foolish, when they took their ^jlamps, took no oil with them: 4 but the ^kwise took oil in their vessels with their ^llamps. 5 Now while the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. 6 But at midnight there is a cry, Behold, the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet him. 7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their ^mlamps. 8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our ⁿlamps are going out. 9 But the ^owise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. 10 And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ^pready went in with him to ^qthe marriage feast; and ^rthe door was shut. 11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, ^sLord, Lord, open to us. 12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not. 13 ^tWatch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour.

69 ^a Now Peter was sitting without in the ^b court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilaean. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus of Nazareth. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. 73 And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art one of them; ^c for thy speech maketh thee known. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, ^d Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 ^e Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: ^f 2 and they bound him, and led him away, and ^g delivered him up to ^h Pilate the governor.

27 ^aThen the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into ^bthe ^cPrætorium, and gathered unto him the whole ^dband. 28 And they ^estripped him, and ^fput on him a scarlet robe. 29 ^gAnd they platted a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, ^hHail, King of the Jews! 30 And ⁱthey spat upon him, and took the reed and smote him on the head. 31 ^jAnd when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and led him away to crucify him.

33 ^oAnd when they were come unto a place called ^pGolgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, 34 they gave him ^qwine to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. 35 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots; 36 and they sat and ^rwatched him there. 37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, ^sTHIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. 38 Then are there crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand and one on the left. 39 And they that passed by railed on him, ^twagging their heads, 40 and saying, ^uThou that destroyest the ^vtemple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: ^wif thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross. 41 In like manner also the chief priests mocking ^xhim, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 ^yHe saved others; ^zhimself he cannot save. ^{aa}He is the King of Israel; ^{ab}let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. 43 ^{ac}He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am the Son of God. 44 ^{ad}And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

14 ^m Now after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, ⁿ preaching the ¹gospel of God, 15 and saying, ^o The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: ^p repent ye, and believe in the ¹gospel.

16 ^q And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net in the sea; for they were fishers. 17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. 18 And straightway they left the nets, and followed him. 19 And going on a little further, he saw ^r James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets. 20 And straightway he called them; and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 ^r And they go into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day ^s he entered into the synagogue and taught. 22 And ^t they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. 23 And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, 24 saying, "What have we to do with thee, Jesus thou ^u Nazarene? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, ^v the Holy One of God. 25 And Jesus rebuked ¹⁰ him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. 26 And the unclean spirit, ^w tearing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. 27 And they were all ^x amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? a new teaching! with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits, pointed twelve,¹ that they might be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, 15 and to have authority to cast out demons: 16 ²and Simon he surnamed Peter; 17 and ³James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of ³James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, Sons of thunder: 18 and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and ³James, the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus and Simon the ⁴Cananean, 19 and Judas Iscariot, who also ⁵betrayed him.

And he cometh ⁶b into a house. 20 And ^othe multitude cometh together again, ^aso that they could not so much as eat bread. 21 And when ^chis friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, ^fHe is beside himself. 22 And the scribes that came down ^gfrom Jerusalem said, He hath ^hBeelzebub, and, ⁱBy the prince of the demons casteth he out the demons. 23 ^kAnd he called them unto him, and said unto them in ^lparables, How can ^mSatan cast out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. 25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. 26 And if ⁿSatan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. 27 ^oBut no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house. 28 ^pVerily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: 29 but whosoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin: 30 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 ^qAnd there come his mother and his brethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling him. 32 And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. 33 And he answereth them, and saith, Who is my mother and my brethren? 34 And looking round on them that sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

4 ^rAnd again he began to teach ^sby the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land. 2 And he taught them many things in ^tparables, and said unto them in his teaching, 3 Harken: Behold, the sower went forth to sow: 4 and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured it. 5 And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no deepness of earth: 6 and when the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. 7 And other fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. 8 And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold. 9 And he said, ^uWho hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parables. 11 And he said unto them, Unto you is given the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto ^vthem that are without, all things are done ^win parables: 12 ^xthat seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they should turn again, and it should be forgiven them. 13 ^yAnd he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables? 14 The sower soweth the word. 15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh ^zSatan, and taketh away the word which hath been sown in them. 16 And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it with joy;

21 And he said unto them, ^bIs the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand? 22 ^cFor there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. 23 ^dIf any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. 24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: ^ewith what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you; and more shall be given unto you. 25 ^fFor he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26 And he said, ^gSo is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; 27 and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how. 28 The earth ^hbeareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. 29 But when the fruit ⁱis ripe, straightway he ^jputteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ^kAnd he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? 31 ^lIt is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, 32 yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

35 ^aAnd on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. 36 And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, even as he was, ^min the boat. And other boats were with him. 37 And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the boat, inasmuch that the boat was now filling. 38 And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, Teacher, carest thou not that we perish? 39 And he awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. 40 And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful? have ye not yet faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

5 ^aAnd they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes. 2 And when he was come out of ^mthe boat, straightway there met him out of the tombs a man ^owith an unclean spirit, 3 who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not with a chain; 4 because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and no man had strength to tame him. 5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. 6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and ^oworshipped him; 7 and crying out with a loud voice, he saith, ^pWhat have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou ^qSon of ^rthe Most High God? I adjure thee by God, torment me not. 8 For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. 9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is ^s'Legion'; for we are many. 10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away

be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, ^athe Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, when he ^bcometh in the glory of his Father with 9 the holy angels. 1 And he said unto them, ^bVerily I say unto you, There are some here of them that stand by, who shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God come with power.

2 ^cAnd after six days Jesus taketh with him ^aPeter, and ¹James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them; 3 and ^chis garments became glistering, exceeding white, so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, ^cRabbi, it is good for us to be here: and ^clet us make three ²tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 6 For he knew not what to answer; for they became sore afraid. 7 And there came a cloud overshadowing them: and there came ^aa voice out of the cloud, ^c'This is my beloved Son: hear ye him. 8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 ^aAnd as they were coming down from the mountain, he ^ccharged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, save when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead. 10 And they kept the saying, questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean. 11 And they asked him, saying, ³*How is it* that the scribes say that ^mElijah must first come? 12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and restoreth all things: and how is it written of ⁿthe Son of man, that ^ohe should suffer many things and be set at nought? 13 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and they have also done unto him whatsoever they would, even as it is written of him.

14 ^pAnd when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, were ^qgreatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them, What question ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude answered him, Teacher, I brought unto thee my son, who hath a dumb spirit; 18 and where-soever it taketh him, it ^rdasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and they were not able. 19 And he answereth them and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit ^stare him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. 22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 And Jesus said unto him, If thou canst! ^rAll things are possible to him that believeth. 24 Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said^o, I believe; help thou mine unbelief. 25 And when Jesus saw that ^aa multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And having cried out, and ^storn him much, he came out: and the boy became as one dead; inasmuch that the more part said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come ^tinto the house, his disciples asked him privately, ⁷*How is it* that we could not cast it out? 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer⁸.

And his disciples heard it.

unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he shall have it. ²⁴ Therefore I say unto you, ^a All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, believe that ye ¹ receive them, and ye shall have them. ²⁵ And whosoever ye ^b stand praying, ^c forgive, if ye have aught against any one; that your Father also who is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.²

²⁷ And they come again to Jerusalem: ^d and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders; ²⁸ and they said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee this authority to do these things? ²⁹ And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one ^e question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. ³⁰ The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? answer me. ³¹ And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? ³² ^f But should we say, From men — they feared the people: ^g for all verily held John to be a prophet. ³³ And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 ^h And he began to speak unto them in parables. ⁱ A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and ^j digged a pit for the winepress, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country. ² And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a ^k servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of the vineyard. ³ And they took him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. ⁴ And again he sent unto them another ^l servant; and him they wounded in the head, and handled shamefully. ⁵ And he sent another; and him they killed:

and many others; beating some, and killing some. ⁶ He had yet one, a beloved son: he sent him last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. ⁷ But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. ⁸ And they took him, and killed him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard. ⁹ What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. ¹⁰ Have ye not read even this scripture:

¹¹ This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes?

¹³ ^k And they sent unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the ^l Herodians, that they might ^m catch him in talk. ¹⁴ And when they were come, they say unto him, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one; for thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? ¹⁵ Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why make ye trial of me? bring me a ⁿ denarius, that I may see it. ¹⁶ And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Caesar's. ¹⁷ And Jesus said unto them, ^o Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

¹⁸ ^p And there come unto him Sadducees, who say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, ¹⁹ Teacher, Moses wrote unto us, ^q If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 20 There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed; 21 and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind him; and the third likewise: 22 and the seven left no seed. Last of all the woman also died. 23 In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife. 24 Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that ye know not the scriptures, nor the power of God? 25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but are as angels in heaven. 26 But as touching the dead, that they are raised; have ye not read in the book of Moses, ^ain the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, ¹I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? 27 ^bHe is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28 ^cAnd one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and ^dknowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? 29 Jesus answered, The first is, ²Hear, O Israel; ³The Lord our God, the Lord is one: 30 and thou shalt love the Lord thy God ⁴with all thy heart, and ⁴with all thy soul, and ⁴with all thy mind, and ⁴with ^eall thy strength. 31 The second is this, ⁵Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, Teacher, thou hast well said that ^ehe is one; and ^fthere is none other but he: 33 and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, ^gis much more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. ^hAnd no man after that durst ask him any question.

Peter's Denial. Jesus before Pilate. Not Jesus, but Barabbas. The Mockery. The Crucifixion

seeing Peter ^awarming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with the ^bNazarene, even Jesus. 68 But he denied, saying, ^cI neither know, nor understand what thou sayest: and he ^dwent out into the ^eporch; ^fand ^gthe cock crew. 69 And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. 70 But ^hhe again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; ⁱfor thou art a Galilaean. 71 But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. 72 And straightway the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before ^jthe cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. ^kAnd when he thought thereon, he wept.

15 ^lAnd straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole ^mcouncil, held a consultation, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him up to Pilate. 2 ⁿAnd Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, Thou sayest. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things. 4 And Pilate again asked him, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. 5 But Jesus ^ono more answered anything; inso-much that Pilate marvelled.

6 ^pNow at ^qthe feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. 7 And there was one called Barabbas, lying bound with them that had made insurrection, men who in the insurrection had committed murder. 8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. 9 And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 10 For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, ^rthat he should rather release Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? 13 And they cried out again, Crucify him. 14 And Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. 15 And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had ^sscourged him, to be crucified.

16 ^tAnd the soldiers led him away within ^uthe court, which is the ^vPrætorium; and they call together the whole ^wband. 17 And they clothe him with purple, and plating a crown of thorns, they put it on him; 18 and they began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews! 19 And they smote his head with a reed, and spat upon him, and bowing their knees ^xworshipped him. 20 And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the purple, and put on him his garments. And they lead him out to crucify him.

21 ^yAnd they ^zcompel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might bear his cross.

22 ^{aa}And they bring him unto the place ^{ab}Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they offered him ^{ac}wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And they crucify him, and part his garments among them, ^{ad}casting lots upon them, what each should take. 25 And it was the ^{ae}third hour, and they crucified him. 26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, ^{af}THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucify two robbers; one on his right hand, and one on his left. ^{ag}29 And they that passed by railed on him, ^{ah}wagging their heads, and saying, Ha! thou that ^{ai}destroyst the ^{aj}temple, and buildst it in three days, 30 save thyself, and come down from the cross. 31 In like manner also the chief priests mocking ^{ak}him among themselves with the scribes said, ^{al}He saved others; ^{am}himself he cannot save. 32 Let

ACCORDING TO LUKE

Preface. Birth of the Baptist foretold

1 Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which ^ahave been ¹fulfilled among us, 2 even as they delivered them unto us, who ^bfrom the beginning were ^ceyewitnesses and ^dministers of ^ethe word, 3 it seemed good to me also, ^fhaving traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee ^gin order, ^hmost excellent ⁱTheophilus; 4 that thou mightest know the certainty concerning the ^jthings ^kwherein thou ^lwast instructed.

5 There was ^min the days of Herod, king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the ⁿcourse of Abijah: and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. 6 And they were both ^orighteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord ^pblameless. 7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were ^qnow ^rwell stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, while ^she executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, 9 according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was ^tto enter into the ^utemple of the Lord and burn incense. 10 And the whole multitude of the people were praying ^vwithout at the hour of incense. 11 And there appeared unto him ^wan angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. 12 And Zacharias was troubled when he saw ^xhim, and fear fell upon him. 13 But the angel said unto him, ^y"Fear not, Zacharias: because thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and ^zthou shalt call his name John. 14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many

shall rejoice at his birth. 15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall ^{aa}drink no wine nor ^{ab}strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. 16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. 17 And he shall ^{ac}go before his face in the spirit and power of ^{ad}Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient ^{ae}to walk in the wisdom of the just; to ^{af}make ready for the Lord a people prepared ^{ag}for him. 18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife ^{ah}well stricken in years. 19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am ^{ai}Gabriel, that ^{aj}stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. 20 And behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. 21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled ^{ak}while he tarried in the ^{al}temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the ^{am}temple: and he ^{an}continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. 23 And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon ^{ao}me, to ^{ap}take away my reproach among men.

Birth of Jesus foretold. The Annunciation. Mary visits Elisabeth. The 'Magnificat.' Naming of the Baptist

26 Now in the sixth month the angel ^aGabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named ^bNazareth, 27 to ^ca virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, ^dof the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art ^ehighly favored, the Lord ^fis with thee². 29 But she ^gwas greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. 30 And the angel said unto her, ^hFear not, Mary: for thou hast found ⁱfavor with God. 31 And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and ^jshalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of ^kthe Most High: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: 33 ^land he shall reign over the house of Jacob ^mfor ever; ⁿand of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, ^oThe Holy Spirit shall come upon thee, and the power of ^pthe Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also ^qthe holy thing which is begotten⁶ shall be called ^rthe Son of God. 36 And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her that ^swas called barren. 37 For ^tno word from God shall be void of power. 38 And Mary said, Behold, the ^uhandmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in these days and went into ^vthe hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was ^wfilled with the Holy Spirit; 42 and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, Blessed ^xart thou among women, and blessed ^yis the fruit of thy womb. 43 And

57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbors and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had ^{an}magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass on ^{ao}the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; but ^{ap}he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy

38 ⁴And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And Simon's wife's mother was ⁵holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her. 39 And he stood over her, and ⁶rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 ⁷And when ⁸the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he ⁹laid his hands on every one of them, and ¹⁰healed them. 41 And demons also came out from many, crying out, and saying, Thou art ¹¹the Son of God. And ¹²rebuking them, ¹³he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

42 ¹⁴And when it was day, he came out and went into a desert place: and the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. 43 But he said unto them, I must preach ¹⁵the good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: ¹⁶for therefore was I sent.

44 And he was preaching in the synagogues ¹⁷of ¹⁸Galilee.

4 And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Put out into the deep, and ^alet down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon answered and said, ^bMaster, we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the nets. 6 And when they had done this, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and their nets were breaking; 7 and they beckoned unto their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. 8 But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; 10 and so were also ¹James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, ^cFear not; from henceforth thou shalt ²catch men. 11 And when they had brought their boats to land, ^dthey left all, and followed him.

And straightway the leprosy departed from him. 14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, ^faccording as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. 15 But so much the more went abroad ^gthe report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. 16 But he withdrew himself in the deserts, and ^hprayed.

And he saith, Teacher, say on. 41 A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred ^{3b}shillings, and the other fifty. 42 When they ^chad not wherewith to pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most? 43 Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. I entered into thy house, thou ^agavest me no water for my feet: but she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. 45 Thou ^egavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to ⁴kiss my feet. 46 ^fMy head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. 48 And he said unto her, ^gThy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that ^hsat at meat with him began to say ⁶within themselves, Who is this that even forgiveth sins? 50 And he said unto the woman, ⁱThy faith hath saved thee; ^jgo in peace.

4 ^oAnd when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: 5 The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it. 6 And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because it had no moisture. 7 And other fell amidst the thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. 8 And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, ^pHe that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 ^qAnd his disciples asked him what this parable might be. 10 And he said, ^rUnto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; ^sthat seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. 11 Now the parable is this: ^tThe seed is the word of God. 12 And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved. 13 And those on the rock are they who, when they have heard, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, who for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away. 14 And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. 15 And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and bring forth fruit with ⁹patience.

19 ^bAnd there came to him his mother and brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. 20 And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. 21 But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these ^cthat hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ^dNow it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of ^ethe lake: and they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on ^fthe lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, ^gMaster, master, we perish. 26 ⁱAnd they arrived at the country of the ^jGerasenes, which is over against Galilee. 27 And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had demons; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, but in the tombs. 28 And when he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, ^kWhat have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of ^lthe Most High God? And he said, ^sLegion; for many demons were entered into him. 31 And they entreated him that he would not command them to depart into ^tthe abyss. 32 Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they entreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them leave. 33 And the demons came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into ^uthe lake, and were drowned. 34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country. 35 And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the demons were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, ^vat the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. 36 And they that saw it told them how he that was ^wpossessed with demons was ^xmade whole. 37 And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. 38 ^yBut the man from whom the demons were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thy house, and declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

40 ^zAnd as Jesus returned, the multitude welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. 41 ^{aa}And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was ^{ab}a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; 42 for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she was dying. Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; ¹for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight. ²² All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. ²³ ^aAnd turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: ²⁴ for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

²⁵ ^bAnd behold, a certain lawyer stood up and made trial of him, saying, Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? ²⁶ And he said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? ²⁷ And he answering said, ²⁸ Thou shalt love the Lord thy God ³with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; ⁴and thy neighbor as thyself. ²⁸ And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: ⁴this do, and thou shalt live. ²⁹ But he, desiring ⁵to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbor? ³⁰ Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was ⁶going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, who both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. ³¹ And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. ³² And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. ³³ But a certain ⁷Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, ³⁴ and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. ³⁵ And on the morrow he took out two ⁸shillings, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him;

14 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that ^l they were watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man that had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus ^m answering spake unto the ⁿ lawyers and Pharisees, saying, ^o Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. 7 And he spake a parable unto those that were bidden, when he marked how ^s they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, 8 When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, ^t sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honorable man than thou be bidden of him, 9 and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt ^u begin with shame to take the lowest place. 10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, ^v go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that ^w sit at meat with thee. 11

15 And when one of them that ¹sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, ^b Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. 16 But he said unto him, ^c A certain man made a great supper; and he bade many: 17 and he sent forth his ²servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. 18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it; I pray thee have me excused. 19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them; I pray thee have me excused. 20 And another said, ^d I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. 21 And the ²servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his ²servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. 22 And the ²servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. 23 And the lord said unto the ²servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say unto you, that none of those men that were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went with him great multitudes; and he turned, and said unto them, 26 ^e If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 Whosoever doth not ^f bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? 29 Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, 30 saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassador, and asketh conditions of peace. 33 So therefore whosoever he be of you that ^g renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 34 Salt therefore is good: but ^h if even the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be seasoned? 35 It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. ⁱ He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

15 Now all the ³ publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him to hear him. 2 And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and ^j eateth with them.

3 And he spake unto them this parable, saying, 4 ^m What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbors, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost. 7 I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, who need no repentance.

8 Or what woman having ten ⁿ pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until she find it? 9 And when she hath found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbors, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. 10 Even so, I say unto you, there is joy ^o in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

16 And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was ⁱwasting his goods. 2 And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy stewardship; for thou canst be no longer steward. 3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred ^jmeasures of oil. a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. 11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous ¹ mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? 12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is ¹ your own? 13 No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and ¹ mammon.

14 And the Pharisees, who were ¹ lovers of money, heard all these things; and they ² scoffed at him. 15 And he said unto them, Ye are they that ³ justify yourselves in the sight of men; but ⁴ God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God. 16 ⁵ The law and the prophets were until John: from that time ⁶ the ³ gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and every man entereth violently into it. 17 ⁷ But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall.

18 ⁸ Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, ⁹ faring sumptuously every day: 20 and a certain beggar named Lazarus ¹⁰ was laid at his gate, full of sores, 21 and desiring to be fed with the ¹¹ crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores. 22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into ¹² Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried. 23 And in ¹³ Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. 24 And he cried and said, ¹⁴ Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in ¹⁵ this flame. 25 But Abraham said, ¹⁶ Son, remember that ¹⁷ thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. 26 And ¹⁸ besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they that would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us. 27 And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; 28 for I have five brethren; that he may ¹⁹ testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. 29 But Abraham saith, They have ²⁰ Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. 30 And he said, Nay, ²¹ father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. 31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

17 And he said unto his disciples, ²² "It is impossible but that occasions of stumbling should come; but woe unto him, through whom they come! 2 ²³ It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. 3 Take heed to yourselves: ²⁴ if thy brother sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. 4 And if he sin against thee ²⁵ seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And ²⁶ the apostles said unto ²⁷ the Lord, Increase our faith. 6 And ²⁸ the Lord said, If ye had faith as ²⁹ a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this ³⁰ sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would obey you. 7 But who is there of you, having a ³¹ servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat; 8 and will not rather say unto him, ³² Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? 9 Doth he thank the ³³ servant because he did the things that were commanded? 10 Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable¹ servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

11 And it came to pass,² as they were³ on the way to Jerusalem, that⁴ he was passing⁵ along the borders of Samaria and Galilee. 12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, who⁶ stood afar off: 13 and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus,⁷ Master, have mercy on us. 14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were cleansed. 15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice glorifying God; 16 and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a⁸ Samaritan. 17 And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleansed? but where are the nine? 18 Were there none found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger? 19 And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath⁹ made thee whole.

20 And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: 21 neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. 23 And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow after them: 24 for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be¹⁰ in his day. 25 But first must he suffer many things and be rejected of this generation. 26 And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. 27 They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. 28 Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; 29 but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: 30 after the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son of man is revealed. 31 In that day, he that shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not return back. 32 Remember Lot's wife. 33 Whosoever shall seek to gain his life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it. 34 I say unto you, In that night there shall be two men on one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. 35 There shall be two women grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. 37 And they answering say unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Where the body is, thither will the eagles also be gathered together.

18 And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought always to pray, and not to faint; 2 saying, There was in a city a judge, who feared not God, and regarded not man: 3 and there was a widow in that city; and she came oft unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary. 4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man; 5 yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she wear me out by her continual coming. 6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unrighteous judge saith. 7 And shall not God avenge his elect, that cry to him day and night, and yet he is longsuffering over them? 8 I say unto you, that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man

The Pharisee and the Publican. Little Children received. The Peril of Riches. Jesus again foretells his Fate. The Blind Man

cometh, ¹ shall he find ¹ faith on the earth?

9 And he spake also this parable unto certain who ^b trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and ^c set ^c all others at nought: 10 Two men ^a went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a ^a publican. 11 The Pharisee ^a stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this ^a publican. 12 I ^f fast twice in the week; I ^g give tithes of all that I get. 13 But the ^a publican, ^a standing afar off, ^h would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but ⁱ smote his breast, saying, God, ^a be thou merciful to me ^a a sinner. 14 I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: ^k for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled: but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 And they were bringing unto him also their babes, that he should touch them: but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. 16 But Jesus called them unto him, saying, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for ^o to such belongeth the kingdom of God. 17 Verily I say unto you, ^m Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? 19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, even God. 20 Thou knowest the commandments, ⁿ Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honor thy father and mother. 21 And he said, All these things have I observed from my youth up. 22 And when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: ^o sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have ^p treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 23 But when he heard these things, he became exceeding sorrowful; for he was very rich.

24 And Jesus seeing him said, ^a How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! 25 For ^a it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they that heard it said, Then who can be saved? 27 But he said, ^a The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. 28 And Peter said, Lo, ^a we have left ^a our own, and followed thee. 29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, ^a There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 who shall not receive manifold more in this time, and in ^a the ^a world to come eternal life.

31 And he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, ^a we go up to Jerusalem, and ^a all the things that are written through the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of man. 32 ^a For he shall be ^o delivered up unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shamefully treated, and spit upon: 33 and they shall scourge and kill him: and the third day he shall rise again. 34 And ^b they understood none of these things; and this saying was hid from them, and they perceived not the things that were said.

35 And it came to pass, ^a as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: 36 and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what this meant. 37 And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. 38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou ^a son of David, have mercy on me. 39 And they that went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou ^a son of David, have mercy on me. 40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? and ^aall the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

19 And he ^bentered and was passing through Jericho. 2 And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican, and he was rich. 3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature. 4 And he ran on before, and climbed up into a ^csycomore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. 5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house. 6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. 7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner. 8 And Zacchæus stood, and said unto ^dthe Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have ^ewrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore ^ffourfold. 9 And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is ^ga son of Abraham. 10 For ^hthe Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because ⁱhe was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they supposed that ^jthe kingdom of God was immediately to appear. 12 He said therefore, ^kA certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. 13 And he called ten ^lservants of his, and gave them ten ^mpounds, and said unto them, Trade ye herewith till I come. 14 But his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us. 15 And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these ⁿservants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. 16 And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound hath made ten pounds more. 17 And he said unto him, Well done, thou good ^oservant:

because thou wast found ^mfaithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities. 18 And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds. 19 And he said unto him also, Be thou also over five cities. 20 And ⁿanother came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I kept laid up in a napkin: 21 for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that which thou layedst not down, and reapest that which thou didst not sow. 22 He saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked ^oservant. Thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up that which I laid not down, and reaping that which I did not sow; 23 then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and ^pI at my coming should have required it with interest? 24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. 25 And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds. 26 ^qI say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him. 27 But ^rthese mine enemies, that would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and ^sslay them before me.

them, I also will ask you a ⁹question; and tell me: 4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? 5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why did ye not believe him? 6 But if we shall say, From men; all the people will stone us: for they are persuaded that John was a ^a'prophet. 7 And they answered, that they knew not whence it was. 8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 ^aAnd he began to speak unto the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country for a long time. 10 And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a ¹⁰servant, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. 11 And he sent yet another ¹⁰servant: and him also they beat, and handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty. 12 And he sent yet a third: and him also they wounded, and cast him forth. 13 And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son; it may be they will ²reverence him. 14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying, This is the heir; let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. 15 And they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? 16 He will come and ⁹destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. And when they heard it, they said, ¹¹'God forbid. 17 But he looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written,

ceived that he spake this parable against them. ²⁰ ^a And they watched him, and sent forth spies, who feigned themselves to be righteous, ^c that they might take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the ¹ rule and to the authority of ^d the governor. ²¹ And they asked him, saying, Teacher, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest the way of God: ²² Is it lawful for us ^e to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? ²³ But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, ²⁴ Show me a ² denarius. Whose image and superscription hath it? And they said, Caesar's. ²⁵ And he said unto them, Then ^f render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. ²⁶ And they were not able to ^g take hold of the saying before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

²⁷ ^g And there came to him certain of the Sadducees, they that say that there is no resurrection; ²⁸ and they asked him, saying, Teacher, ³ Moses wrote unto us, that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. ²⁹ There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless; ³⁰ and the second: ³¹ and the third took her; and likewise the seven also left no children, and died. ³² Afterward the woman also died. ³³ In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be? for the seven had her to wife. ³⁴ And Jesus said unto them, The sons of ^h this ⁴ world marry, and are given in marriage: ³⁵ but they that are accounted worthy to attain to ⁱ that ⁴ world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: ³⁶ for neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are ^j sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. ³⁷ But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed, in ^k the place concerning the Bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. ³⁸ ^l Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for ^m all live unto him. ³⁹ And certain of the scribes answering said, Teacher, thou hast well said. ⁴⁰ For ⁿ they durst not any more ask him any question.

⁴¹ ^o And he said unto them, How say they that the Christ is ^p David's son? ⁴² For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

⁶ The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, ⁴³ Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

⁴⁴ David therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he his son?

21 ^s And he looked up, ^t and saw the rich men that were casting their gifts into the treasury. ² And he saw a certain poor widow casting in thither ^u two mites. ³ And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than they all: ⁴ for all these did of their superfluity cast in unto the gifts; but she of her want did cast in all the ^v living that she had.

⁵ ^w And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and offerings, he said, ⁶ As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in which ^x there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. ⁷ And they asked him, saying, Teacher, when therefore shall these things be? and what ^y shall be the sign when these things are about to come to pass? ⁸ And he said, Take heed that ye be not led astray: for many shall come in my name, saying, ⁹ I am he; and, The time is at hand: ¹⁰ go ye not after them. ⁹ And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not terrified: for these things must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. 59 And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him; ^rfor he is a Galilean. 60 But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. 61 And ^sthe Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, ^tBefore the cock crow this day thou shalt deny me thrice. 62 And he went out, and wept bitterly.

63 ^uAnd the men that held ^vJesus mocked him, and beat him. 64 And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, ^wProphecy: who is he that struck thee? 65 And many other things spake they against him, ^xreviling him.

23 And the whole company of them rose up, and ^fbrought him before Pilate. 2 ^gAnd they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man ^hperverting our nation, and ⁱforbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, and saying that he himself is Christ a king. 3 And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? 8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for ^che was of a long time desirous to see him, because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped to see some ^dmiracle done by him. 9 And he questioned him in many words; but ^ehe answered him nothing. 10 And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. 11 And Herod with his soldiers set him at nought, and mocked him, and ^farraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to Pilate. 12 And ^gHerod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 And Pilate called together the chief priests and the ^hrulers and the people, 14 and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, as one that ⁱperverteth the people: and behold, I, having examined him before you, ^jfound no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: 15 no, nor yet ^kHerod: for ^lhe sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him. 16 I will therefore ^mchastise him, and release him.¹ 18 But they cried out all together, saying, ⁿ'Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:—19 one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison. 20 And Pilate spake unto them again, desiring to release Jesus; 21 but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify him. 22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath this man done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore ^ochastise him and release him. 23 But they were urgent with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. Pilate gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. 25 And he released him that for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for; but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

26 ^aAnd when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of ^bCyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him ^ca great multitude of the people, and of women who ^dbewailed and lamented him. 28 But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. 29 For behold, the days are coming, in which they shall say, ^eBlessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that never gave suck. 30 Then shall they begin to ^fsay to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For if they do these things in the green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 ^gAnd there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 ^hAnd when they came unto the place which is called ⁱThe skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand and the other on the left. 34 ^jAnd Jesus said, ^k'Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And parting his garments among them, they ^lcast lots. 35 And the people stood beholding. And the ^mrulers also scoffed at him, saying, He saved others; ⁿlet him save himself, if this is the Christ of God, his chosen. 36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, ^ooffering him vinegar, 37 and saying, ^p'If thou art the King of the Jews, save thyself. 38 And there was also a superscription over him, ^q'THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ^rAnd one of the malefactors that were hanged railed on him, saying, Art not thou the Christ? ^ssave thyself and us. 40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? 41 And we indeed

12 After this he went down to ^aCapernaum, he, and his ^amother, and his ^abrethren, and his ^adisciples; and there they abode not many days.

13 And ^athe passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus ^awent up to Jerusalem. 14 And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: 15 and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables; 16 and to them that sold ^athe doves he said, Take these things hence; make not ^amy Father's house a house of merchandise. 17 His ^adisciples remembered that it was written, ¹Zeal for thy house shall eat me up. 18 ^mThe Jews therefore answered and said unto him, ⁿWhat sign showest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? 19 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^oDestroy this ²temple, and in three days I will raise it up. 20 ^mThe Jews therefore said, ^pForty and six years was this ²temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? 21 But he spake of ^athe ²temple of his body. 22 When therefore he was raised from the dead, his ^adisciples ^aremembered that he spake this; and they believed ^athe scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at ^athe passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, ^abeholding his signs which he did. 24 But Jesus did not trust himself unto them, for that he knew all men, 25 and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning ^aman; ^afor he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the ^aPharisees, named ^aNicodemus, ^aa ruler of the Jews: 2 the same came unto him by night, and said to him, ^aRabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no one can do these ^asigns that

22 After these things came Jesus and his ^jdisciples into the land of Judæa; and there he tarried with them, and ^kbaptized. 23 And John also was baptizing in Ænon near to Salim, because there ^lwas much water there: and they came, and were baptized. 24 For ^mJohn was not yet cast into prison. 25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about ⁿpurifying. 26 And they came unto John, and said to him, ^oRabbi, he that was with thee ^pbeyond the Jordan, to whom thou ^qhast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. 27 John answered and said, ^rA man can receive nothing, except it have been given him from heaven. 28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, ^sI am not the Christ, but, that I am sent before him. 29 He that hath the bride is ^tthe bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, that standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my ^ujoy therefore is made full. 30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

place. 14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: ^msin no more, ⁿlest a worse thing befall thee. 15 The man went away, and told ^othe Jews that it was Jesus who had made him whole. 16 And for this cause ^pthe Jews persecuted Jesus, because he did these things on the sabbath. 17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. 18 For this cause therefore ^qthe Jews ^rsought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, ^smaking himself equal with God.

19 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^tThe Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son also doeth in like manner. 20 ^uFor the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and ^vgreater works than these will he show him, that ye may marvel. 21 For as the Father raiseth the dead and ^wgiveth them life, even so ^xthe Son also giveth life to whom he will. 22 For neither doth the Father judge any man, but ^yhe hath given all judgment unto the Son; 23 that all may honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. ^zHe that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father that sent him. 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and ^abelieveth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and ^bcometh not into judgment, but hath ^cpassed out of death into life. 25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^dThe hour cometh, and now is, when ^ethe dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that ^fhear shall live. 26 For as the Father hath life in himself, even so ^ggave he to the Son also to have life in himself: 27 and he gave him authority to ^hexecute judgment, because he is a son of man. 28 Marvel not at this: for ⁱthe hour cometh, in which ^jall that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, 29 and shall come forth; ^kthey that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have ^ldone evil, unto the resurrection of judgment.

6 After these things ^aJesus went away to the other side of ^bthe sea of Galilee, which is ^cthe sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the ^dsigns which he did on them that were sick. 3

And Jesus went up into ^ethe mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 Now ^fthe passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. 5 Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto ^gPhilip, Whence are we to buy ^hbread, that these may eat? 6 And this he said to ⁱprove him: for he himself knew what he would do. 7 ^jPhilip answered him, 'Two hundred ^kshillings' worth of ^lbread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. 8 One of his ^mdisciples, 'Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, who hath five barley loaves, and two ⁿfishes: but what are these among so many? 10 Jesus said, Make the people sit down. Now there was ^omuch grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about ^pfive thousand. 11 Jesus therefore took the loaves; and ^qhaving given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; likewise also of the ^rfishes as much as they would. 12 And when they were filled, he saith unto his ^sdisciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that nothing be lost. 13 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve ^tbaskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them that had eaten. 14 When therefore the people saw the ^usign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the ^vprophet that cometh into the world.

15 Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, ^wto make him king, ^xwithdrew again into ^ythe mountain himself alone.

52 ^aThe Jews therefore ^bstrove one with another, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat? 53 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of ^cthe Son of man and drink his blood, ye have not life in yourselves. 54 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life; and I will ^draise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is ^emeat indeed, and my blood is ^fdrink indeed. 56 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood ^gabideth in me, and I in him. 57 As the ^hliving Father ⁱsent me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of me. 58 This is the bread which ^jcame down out of heaven: not as ^kthe fathers ate, and died; he that eateth this bread ^lshall live forever. 59 These things said he ^min ⁿthe synagogue, as he taught ^oin Capernaum.

37 Now on ^athe last day, the great ^bday of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, ^cIf any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, ^das the scripture hath said, ^efrom within him shall flow rivers of ^fliving water. 39 But this spake he ^gof the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: ^hfor ⁱthe Spirit was not yet ^jgiven; because Jesus was not yet ^kglorified. 40 ^lSome of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth ^mthe prophet. 41 Others said, This is the Christ. 53 ²[And they went every man unto his own house: 1 but Jesus went unto ^bthe mount of Olives. 2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and ^che sat down, and taught them. 3 And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, 4 they say unto him, Teacher, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. 5 ³Now in the law Moses commanded us to stone such: what then sayest thou of her? 6 And this they said, "trying him, "that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground.
7 But when they continued asking him, ^fhe lifted up himself, and said unto them, ^gHe that is without sin among you, let him ^hfirst cast a stone at her. 8 And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 9 And they,
when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst. 10 And Jesus ⁱlifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee? 11 And she said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said,
"Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth ^ksin no more.]

12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, ^l"I am the light

me shall not walk in the darkness,
but shall have the light of life.
13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, "Thou bearest witness it is written, ^a"that the witness of

13 They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. 14^d Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. 15^e Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and I see. 16 Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such^f signs? And^g there was a division among them. 17 They say therefore unto the blind man^h again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, He is aⁱ prophet. 18^j The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? 20 His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: 21 but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. 22 These things said his parents, because they^k feared the Jews: for the Jews^l had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. 23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. 24 So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God: we know that^m this man is a sinner. 25 He therefore answered, Whether he is a sinner,

Parable of the Sheep-fold. The Good Shepherd. Opinions again divided. The Feast of the Dedication

by name, and ^aleadeth them out. 4 When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know ^bhis voice. 5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not ^bthe voice of strangers. 6 This ^{1c}parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am ^athe door of the sheep. 8 All that came ²before me are ^cthieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. 9 ^aI am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. 10 The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they ¹may have life, and may ³have it abundantly. 11 ^aI am the good shepherd: the good shepherd ⁴layeth down his life for the sheep. 12 He that is a hireling, and not a ⁵shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and scattereth them: ¹³he fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep. 14 ^kI am the good shepherd; and ¹I know mine own, and mine own know me, 15 even as ^mthe Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and ⁿI lay down my life for the sheep. 16 And ^oother sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must ¹bring, and they shall hear my voice; and ^bthey shall become ²one flock, ^qone shepherd. 17 Therefore doth the Father love me, because I ⁿlay down my life, that I may take it again. 18 ^rNo one ^otaketh it away from me, but I ⁿlay it down of myself. I have ⁷power to lay it down, and I have ⁷power to take it again. ^sThis commandment received I from my Father.

19 ^tThere arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. 20 And many of them said,

40 And he went away ^bagain beyond the Jordan into the place where John was at the first baptizing; and there he abode. 41 And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no ^csign: but ^dall things whatsoever John spake of this man were true. 42 And ^emany believed on him there.

11 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of ^fBethany, of the village of Mary and her sister ^gMartha. 2 And it was that Mary who ^hanointed ⁱthe Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. 3 The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, ^j'Lord, behold, ^khe whom thou lovest is sick. 4 But when Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for ^lthe glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. 5 Now Jesus loved ^mMartha, and her sister, and Lazarus. 6 When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was. 7 Then after this he saith to the disciples, ⁿ'Let us go into Judaea again. 8 The disciples say unto him, ^o'Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking ^pto stone thee; and goest thou thither again? 9 Jesus answered, ^q'Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. 10 But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him. 11 These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our ^r'friend Lazarus ^s'is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. 12 The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will ^trecover. 13 Now ^u'Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. 14 Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. 15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. 16 ^v'Thomas therefore, who is called ^w2* Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. 35 Jesus ^awept. 36 ^bThe Jews therefore said, Behold how he ^cloved him! 37 But some of them said, Could not this man, who ^dopened the eyes of him that was blind, have caused that this man also should not die? 38 Jesus therefore again ^egroaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was ^fa cave, and ^ga stone lay ^hagainst it. 39 Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time ⁱthe body decayeth; for he hath been ^jdead ^kfour days. 40 Jesus saith unto her, ^lSaid I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldst see the glory of God? 41 So they took away the ^mstone. And Jesus ⁿlifted up his eyes, and said, ^oFather, I thank thee that thou hearest me. 42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but ^pbecause of the multitude that standeth around I said it, that they may believe that ^qthou didst send me. 43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. 44 He that was dead came forth, ^rbound hand and foot with ^sgrave-clothes; and ^this face was bound about with a napkin. he said not of himself: but ^abeing high priest that year, he ^bprophe- sied that Jesus should die for the nation; 52 and not for the nation only, but that he might also ^cgather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. 53 So from that day forth they ^dtook counsel that they might put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore ^ewalked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called ^fEphraim; and there he tarried with the disciples. 55 Now ^gthe passover of the Jews was at hand: and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, ^hto purify themselves. 56 They ⁱsought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? 12 ^kJesus therefore six days before ^lthe passover came to ^mBethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. 2 So they made him a supper there: and ⁿMartha served; but Lazarus was one of them that ^osat at meat with him. 3 ^pMary therefore took a pound of ointment of ^qpure nard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odor of the ointment. 4 But ^rJudas Iscariot, one of his disciples, that should ^sbetray him, saith, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred ^tshillings, and given to the poor? 6 Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and ^uhaving the ^vbag ^wtook away ^xwhat was put therein. 7 Jesus therefore said, ^ySuffer her to keep it against ^zthe day of my burying. 8 ^{aa}For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

9 The ^a common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there; and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, ^b whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; ¹¹ because that ^c by reason of him ^d many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 On the morrow ¹² a great multitude that had come to ¹³ the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, ¹³ took the ¹⁴ branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, ¹⁵ Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even the ¹⁶ King of Israel. 14 And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, ¹⁵ ¹⁷ Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. 16 ¹⁸ These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus ¹⁹ was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. 17 ²⁰ The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. 18 ²¹ For this cause also the multitude went and met him, ²² for that they heard that he had done this sign. 19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, ²³ Behold how ye prevail nothing; lo, the world is gone after him.

he that ¹ hateth his ² life in this world shall keep it unto ³ life eternal. 26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and ²⁷ where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will the Father ²⁸ honor. 27 ²⁹ Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? ³⁰ Father, save me from ³¹ this ³² hour. But for this cause came I unto this hour. 28 ³³ Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a ³⁴ voice out of heaven, ³⁵ saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, ³⁶ An angel hath spoken to him. 30 Jesus answered and said, ³⁷ This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. 31 ³⁸ Now is ³⁹ the judgment of this world: now shall ⁴⁰ the prince of this world be cast out. 32 And I, if I ⁴¹ be lifted up ⁴² from the earth, will ⁴³ draw all men unto myself. 33 But this he said, ⁴⁴ signifying by what manner of death he should die. 34 The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of ⁴⁵ the law that ⁴⁶ the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The ⁴⁷ Son of man must be ⁴⁸ lifted up? who is this ⁴⁹ Son of man? 35 Jesus therefore said unto them, ⁵⁰ Yet a little while is ⁵¹ the light ⁵² among you. ⁵³ Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that ⁵⁴ walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have the light, ⁵⁵ believe on the light, that ye may become ⁵⁶ sons of light.

These things spake Jesus, and he departed and ⁵⁷ hid himself from them. 37 But though he had done so many ⁵⁸ signs before them, yet they believed not on him: 38 that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, ⁵⁹ Lord, who hath believed our report?

And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 For this cause they could not believe, for that Isaiah said again,

I say unto you, that ^aone of you shall ¹betray me. ²² The disciples looked one on another, ^adoubting of whom he spake. ²³ There was at the table reclining in ^bJesus' bosom one of his disciples, ^cwhom Jesus loved. ²⁴ Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell us who it is of whom he speaketh. ²⁵ He ^d'leaning back, as he was, on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it? ²⁶ Jesus therefore answereth, ^e'He it is, for whom I shall dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and giveth it to Judas, ^f'the son of Simon Iscariot. ²⁷ And after the sop, then ^g'entered ^h'Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, What thou doest, do quickly. ²⁸ Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. ²⁹ For some thought, because Judas ⁱ'had the ^j'bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of ^k'for the feast; or, that he should ^l'give something to the poor. ³⁰ He then having received the sop went out straightway: and ^m'it was night.

³¹ When therefore he was gone out, Jesus saith, Now ⁿ'is ^o'the Son of man ^p'glorified, and ^q'God ^r'is glorified in him; ³² and ^s'God shall glorify him in himself, and straightway shall he glorify him. ³³ ^t'Little children, ^u'yet a little while I am with you. ^v'Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say unto you. ³⁴ A ^w'new commandment I give unto you, ^x'that ye love one another; ^y'even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. ³⁵ ^z'By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

³⁶ Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered, ^a'Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now: but ^b'thou shalt follow afterwards. ³⁷ Peter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee even now? ^c'I will lay down my life for thee. ³⁸ Jesus answereth, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee,

^b The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

If they persecuted me, ^lthey will also persecute you; if they ^mkept my word, they will keep yours also. 21 But all these things will they do unto you ⁿfor my name's sake, ^obecause they know not him that sent me. 22 ^pIf I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no excuse for their sin. 23 He that hateth me hateth my Father also. 24 ^qIf I had not done among them ^rthe works which none other did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. 25 But ^sthis cometh to pass, that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their ^tlaw, ^uThey hated me without a cause. 26 But when the ^vComforter is come, ^wwhom I will send unto you from the Father, ^xeven the Spirit of truth, which ^yproceedeth from the Father, ^zhe shall bear witness of me: 27 ^{aa}and ^{ab}ye also bear witness, because ye have been with me ^{ac}from the beginning. 16 ^{ad}These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be caused to ^{ae}stumble. 2 They shall ^{af}put you out of the synagogues: yea, ^{ag}the hour cometh, that ^{ah}whosoever killeth you shall think that he offereth service unto God. 3 And these things will they do, ^{ai}because they have not known the Father, nor me. 4 But these things have I spoken unto you, ^{aj}that when their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you ^{ak}from the beginning, because I was with you. 5 But now ^{al}I go unto him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, ^{am}Whither goest thou? 6 But because I have spoken these things unto you, ^{an}sorrow hath filled your heart. 7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the ^{ao}Comforter will not come unto you; but if I go, ^{ap}I will send him unto you. 8 And he, when he is come, will convict the world in respect of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: 9 of sin, ^{aq}because they believe not on me; 10 of ^{ar}righteousness, because ^{as}I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more; 11 of judgment, because the prince of this world hath been judged. 12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. 13 Howbeit when he, ^{at}the Spirit of truth, is come, he shall ^{au}guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but what things soever he shall hear, ^{av}these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things that are to come. 14 He shall ^{aw}glorify me: for he shall take of mine, and shall declare ^{ax}it unto you. 15 ^{ay}All things whatsoever the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall declare ^{az}it unto you. 16 ^{ba}A little while, and ^{bb}ye behold me no more; and again a little while, and ^{bc}ye shall see me. 17 ^{bd}Some of his disciples therefore said one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, ^{be}A little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because ^{bf}I go to the Father? 18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? We know not what he saith. 19 ^{bg}Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall see me? 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ^{bh}ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but ^{bi}your sorrow shall be turned into

joy. 21 ^a A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born into the world. 22 And ^e ye therefore now have sorrow: but ^c I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you. 23 And ^d in that day ^e ye shall ¹ ask me no question. 17 ^{1a} Sanctify them in the truth: thy word is truth. 18 As ^b thou didst send me into the world, ^c even so sent I them into the world. 19 And for their sakes I ^{1d} sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be "sanctified" in truth. 20 Neither for these only do I ² pray, but for them also that believe on me through their word; 21 that they may all be one; ^f even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: ^g that the world may believe that ^b thou didst send me. 22 And the ^h glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; that they may be one, even as we are one; 23 ⁱ I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that ^b thou didst send me, and ^j lovedst them, even as thou lovedst me. 24 Father, ^k I desire that ^l they also whom thou hast given me ^m be with me where I am, that they may behold my ⁿ glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before ^o the foundation of the world. 25 O ^p righteous Father, ^q the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that ^b thou didst send me; 26 and ^r I made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that ^s the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.

To this end have I been born, and to this end am I come into the world, that ^eI should bear witness unto the truth. ^fEvery one that is of the truth heareth my voice. 38 Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?"

Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and ^kscourged him. 2 ^lAnd the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple garment; 3 and they came unto him, and said, ^mHail, King of the Jews! and they ⁿstruck him ^owith their hands. 4 And Pilate ^pwent out again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that ^qI find no crime in him. 5 Jesus therefore came out, ^rwearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. Pilate saith unto them, Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for ^tI find no crime in him. 7 The Jews answered him, ^u"We have a law, and by that law he ought to die, because he ^vmade himself the Son of God. 8 When Pilate therefore heard this saying, he was the more afraid; 9 and he ^wentered into the ^xPrætorium again, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? release thee, and have ¹power to crucify thee? 11 Jesus answered him, "Thou wouldest have no ¹power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore ²he that delivered me unto thee hath greater sin. 12 Upon this Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, 'If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend: every one that maketh himself a king ³speaketh against Cæsar. 13 When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and ⁴sat down on the judgment-seat at a place called The Pavement, but ⁵in Hebrew, Gabbatha. 14 Now it was ⁶the Preparation of the passover: it was about the ⁷sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, Behold, ⁸your King! 15 They therefore cried out, 'Away with him, away with him, crucify him! Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar. 16 Then therefore he ⁹delivered him unto them to be crucified.

17 'They took Jesus therefore: and he went out, ¹⁰bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called ¹¹The place of a skull, which is called ¹²in Hebrew Golgotha: 18 where they crucified him, and with him ¹³two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. 19 And Pilate wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, ¹⁴JESUS OF NAZARETH, ¹⁵THE KING OF THE JEWS. 20 This title therefore read many of the Jews, ¹⁶for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city; and it was written ¹⁷in Hebrew, ¹⁸and in Latin, ¹⁹and in Greek. 21 The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, ²⁰The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am ²¹King of the Jews. 22 Pilate answered, 'What I have written I have written.

23 'The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments and made ²²four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the ²³coat: now the ²⁴coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. 24 They said therefore one to another, ²⁵'Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: ²⁶that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

31 The Jews therefore, because it was ¹⁷the Preparation, that ¹⁸the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was a ¹⁹"high day"), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and ²⁰that they might be taken away. 32 The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other that ²¹was crucified with him: 33 but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: 34 howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there came out ²²blood and water. 35 And he that hath seen hath ²³borne witness, and his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye also may believe. 36 For these things came to pass, ²⁴that the scripture might be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be ²⁵broken. 37 And again another scripture saith, ²⁶'They shall look on him whom they pierced.

of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but ^asecretly for ^bfear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. 39 And there came also ^cNicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, ^abringing a ¹mixture of ^cmyrrh and aloes, about a ¹hundred pounds. 40 So they took the body of Jesus, and ^abound it in ^blinen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury. 41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a ^c'new tomb' wherein was never man yet laid. 42 There then because of the Jews' Preparation (for the tomb was ^mnigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

20 ^aNow on the first day of the week cometh ^cMary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb, and seeth ^athe stone taken away from the tomb. 2 She runneth therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other ^adisciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, ^a"They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they have laid him. 3 ^aPeter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they went toward the tomb. 4 And they ran both together: and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the tomb; 5 and ^c'stooping and looking in, he seeth the ^b'linen cloths lying; yet entered he not in. 6 Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he beholdeth the linen cloths lying, 7 and ^cthe napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the ^b'linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. 8 Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, who ^a'came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed. 9 For as yet ^a'they knew not the scripture, ^a'that he must rise again from the dead. 10 So the disciples went away again ^a'unto their own home.

11 ^bBut Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she ^c'stooped and looked into the tomb; 12 and she beholdeth ^a'two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. 13 And they say unto

"My Lord and my God." The Writer's Object. The Epilogue: — the Appearance at the Sea of Tiberias. "Lovest thou me?"

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, "Peace be unto you. 27 Then saith he to Thomas, "Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. 28 Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. 29 Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, ¹thou hast believed: "blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 ^aMany other "signs therefore did Jesus in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book: 31 but these are written, ²that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, ³the Son of God; and that ⁴believing ye may have life in his name.

21 After these things Jesus ¹manifested himself ²again to the disciples at ³the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself on this wise. 2 There were together Simon Peter, and ⁴Thomas called ⁵Didymus, and ⁶Nathanael of ⁷Cana in Galilee, and ⁸the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. 3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and ⁹that night they took nothing. 4 But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: yet the disciples ¹⁰knew not that it was Jesus. 5 Jesus therefore saith unto them, Children, ¹¹have ye aught to eat? They answered him, No. 6 And he said unto them, ¹²Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. 7 ¹³That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat about him (for he ¹⁴was naked), and cast himself into the sea. 8 But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net full of fishes. 9 So when they got out

THE ACTS

The Introduction. The Ascension. "The Upper Chamber." The Fate of Judas

1 The ¹former treatise I made, O ^aTheophilus, concerning all that Jesus ^bbegan both to do and to teach, 2 until the day in which he ^cwas received up, after that he ^dhad given commandment through the Holy Spirit unto ^ethe apostles whom he had ^fchosen: 3 to whom ^ghe also ^hshowed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking ⁱthe things concerning the kingdom of God: 4 and, ^jbeing assembled together with them, he charged them ^knot to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for ^lthe promise of the Father, which, ^msaid he, ye heard from me: 5 for ⁿJohn indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized ^oin the Holy Spirit ^pnot many days hence.

6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, ^qdost thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel? 7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know times or seasons, which ^rthe Father hath ^sset within his own authority. 8 But ye shall receive power, ^twhen the Holy Spirit is come upon you: and ye shall be ^umy witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and ^vSamaria, and unto ^wthe uttermost part of the earth. 9 And when he had said these things, as they were looking, ^xhe was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. 10 And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold ^ytwo men stood by them in white apparel; 11 who also said, ^zYe men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, who ^{aa}was received up from you into heaven, shall so ^{ab}come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven.

The Choice of Matthias. The Day of Pentecost. Peter's Discourse

¹ Let his habitation be made desolate,
And let no man dwell therein:
and,

² His ³ office let another take.
21 Of the men therefore that have accompanied with us all the time that "the Lord Jesus went in and went out 'among us, ²² ^b beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that he ^c was received up from us, of these must one become a ^d witness with us of his resurrection.
23 And they put forward two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was surnamed Justus, and ^e Matthias.
24 And they ^f prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, ^g who knowest the hearts of all men, show of these two the one whom thou hast chosen, ²⁵ to take the place in ^h this ministry and ⁱ apostleship from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place.
26 And they ^j gave lots ^k for them; and the lot fell upon ^l Matthias; and he was numbered with ^m the eleven apostles.

2 And when ⁿ the day of Pentecost ^o was now come, they were all together in one place. ² And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled ^p all the house where they were sitting. ³ And there appeared unto them tongues ^q parting asunder, like as of fire; and it sat upon each one of them. ⁴ And they were all ^r filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to ^s speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

⁵ Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, ^t devout men, from every nation under heaven. ⁶ And when ^u this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. ⁷ And ^v they were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold, are not all these that speak ^w Galileans? ⁸ And how hear we, every man in our own language wherein we were born? ⁹ Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judæa and ^x Cappadocia, in ^y Pontus and ^z Asia, ¹⁰ in ^{aa} Phrygia and ^{ab} Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about ^{ac} Cyrene, and ^{ad} sojourners from Rome, both Jews and ^{ae} proselytes, ¹¹ Cretans and Arabians, we hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God. ¹² And ^{af} they were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, What meaneth this? ¹³ But others mocking said, ^{ag} They are filled with new wine.

¹⁴ But Peter, standing up with ^{ah} the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, ^{ai} saying, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words. ¹⁵ For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; ^{aj} seeing it is ^{ak} but the third hour of the day; ¹⁶ but this is that which hath been spoken through the prophet Joel: ¹⁷ ^{al} And it shall be in the last days,

saith God,
I will pour forth of my Spirit upon all flesh:

And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams:

¹⁸ Yea and on my ^{am} servants and on my ^{an} handmaidens in those days

Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy.

¹⁹ And I will show wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath;
Blood, and fire, and vapor of smoke:

²⁰ The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the day of the Lord come,

That great and notable day:

²¹ And it shall be, that ^{ao} whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

²² Ye men of Israel, hear these words: ^{ap} Jesus of Nazareth, ^{aq} a man approved of God unto you by ^{ar} his mighty works and ^{as} wonders and ^{at} signs which God did by him in the midst of you, even as

29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of the ⁵patriarch David, that he both ^adied and ^awas buried, and ^ahis tomb is with us unto this day. 30 Being therefore ^aa prophet, and knowing that ^mGod had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins ^ahe would set one upon his throne; 31 he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he left unto "Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. 32 This Jesus did "God raise up, ⁶whereof we all ^aare witnesses. 33 Being therefore ⁷by the right hand of God exalted, and ⁸having received of the Father ^athe promise of the Holy Spirit, he hath ^apoured forth this, which ye see and hear. 34 For David ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,

⁸The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Brethren, ^awhat shall we do? 38 And Peter said unto them, ^aRepent ye, and be ^abaptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. 39 For to you is ^athe promise, and to your children, and to all that are ^bafar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call unto him. 40 And with many other words he ^atestified, and exhorted them, saying, Save yourselves from this ^acrooked generation. 41 They then ¹⁰that received his word were baptized: and there were added unto them in that day about three thousand ^asouls. 42 And they ^ccontinued stedfastly in the apostles' teaching and ¹¹fellowship, in ^athe breaking of bread and ^dthe prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many ^awonders and signs were done through the apostles¹². 44 And all that believed were together, and ^ahad all things common; 45 and they ^asold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, according as any man had need. 46 ^aAnd day by day, continuing stedfastly with one accord in the temple, and ^abreaking bread at home, they took their food with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 praising God, and ^ahaving favor with all the people. Peter's Discourse. Peter and John are arrested; brought before the Sanhedrin;

“fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us. 5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something from them. 6 But Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that give I thee. ^bIn the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk. 7 And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up: and immediately his feet and his ankle-bones received strength. 8 ^cAnd leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. 9 And ^dall the people saw him walking and praising God: 10 and they took knowledge of him, that it was he that ^esat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple; and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as he held ^fPeter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the ^gporch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. 12 And when Peter saw it, he ^hanswered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this ⁱman? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk? 13 ^jThe God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, ^kthe God of our fathers, hath glorified his ^lServant Jesus; whom ^mye delivered up, and denied before the face of ⁿPilate, when he had ^odetermined to release him. 14 But ye denied ^pthe Holy and Righteous One, and ^qasked for a murderer to be granted unto you, 15 and killed the ^rPrince of life; whom ^sGod raised from the dead; ^twhereof we are ^uwitnesses. 16 And ^vby faith ^win his name hath his name made this man strong, whom ^xye behold and know: yea, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. 17 And now, Brethren, I know that ^yin ignorance ye did it, as did also your ^zrulers. ^a18 But the things which ^bGod foreshowed by the mouth of all the prophets, ^cthat his Christ should suffer, he thus fulfilled. 19 ^dRepent ye therefore, and turn again, that your sins may

¹³ Now when they beheld the ⁱ boldness of ^k Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and ^l they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. ¹⁴ And seeing the man that was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. ¹⁵ But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the ^m council, they conferred among themselves, ¹⁶ saying, "What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a ⁿ notable ^o miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem: and we cannot deny it. ¹⁷ But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man ^p in this name. ¹⁸ And they called them, and ^q charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. ¹⁹ But ^r Peter and John answered and said unto them, ^s Whether it is right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: ²⁰ for ^t we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard. ²¹ And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, ^u because of the people; and for men ^v glorified God for that which was done. ²² For the man was more than forty years old, on

13 And at the second time ^qJoseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. 14 And ^rJoseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, ^sthree-score and fifteen ^tsouls. 15 And ^uJacob went down into Egypt; and he died, himself and our fathers;

21 and when he was cast out, ^dPharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. 22 And Moses was instructed in all ^ethe wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was mighty in his words and works. 23 But when he was well-nigh forty years old, ^fit came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel. 24 And seeing one ^gof them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian: 25 and he supposed that his brethren understood that God by his hand was giving them ^hdeliverance; but they understood not. 26 ⁱAnd the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? 27 But he that did his neighbor wrong ^jthrust him away,

And Moses trembled, and durst not behold. 33 And the Lord said unto him, ^dLoose the shoes from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. 34 ^eI have surely seen the affliction of my people that is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning, and I am come down to deliver them: and ^fnow come. 32 And it came to pass, as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to ^athe saints that dwelt at ^bLydda. 33 And there he found a certain man named Æneas, who had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied. 34 And Peter said unto him, Æneas, Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And straightway he arose. 35 And all that dwelt at ^cLydda and in ^dSharon saw him, and they ^eturned to the Lord.

36 Now there was at ^fJoppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called ^gDorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did. 37 And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an ^hupper chamber. 38 And as Lydda was nigh unto ⁱJoppa, ^jthe disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, entreating him, Delay not to come on unto us. 39 And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the ^kupper chamber: and all the ^lwidows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. 40 But Peter ^mput them all forth, and ⁿkneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, he said, ^oTabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up. 41 And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling ^pthe saints and ^qwidows, he presented her alive. 42 And it became known throughout all ^rJoppa: and ^smany believed on the Lord. 43 And it came to pass, that he abode many days in ^tJoppa with ^uone Simon a tanner.

10 Now there was a certain man in ^aCæsarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of ^bthe ^cband called the Italian ^dband, ^ea devout man, and ^fone that feared God with all his house, who ^ggave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always. ^h3 He saw ⁱin a vision openly, as it were about ^jthe ninth

hour of the day, ^aan angel of God coming in unto him, and saying to him, Cornelius. 4 And he, ^bfastening his eyes upon him, and being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms ^care gone up ^dfor a memorial before God. 5 And now send men to ^eJoppa, and fetch one Simon, who is surnamed Peter: 6 he lodgeth with ^fone Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side. 7 And when the angel that spake unto him was departed, he called two of his household-servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; 8 and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to ^gJoppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, ^hPeter went up upon ⁱthe housetop to pray, about ^jthe sixth hour: 10 and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he ^kfell into a trance; 11 and he beholdeth ^lthe heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, lay down by four corners upon the earth: 12 wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and birds of the heaven. 13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 14 But Peter said, Not so, ^mLord; for ⁿI have never eaten anything that is common and unclean. 15 And a voice ^ocame unto him again the second time, ^pWhat God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 16 And this was done thrice: and straightway the vessel was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what ^qthe vision which he had seen might mean, behold, ^rthe men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before the gate, 18 and called and asked whether Simon, who was surnamed Peter, were lodging there. 19 And while Peter thought on ^sthe vision, ^tthe Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 20 But arise, and get thee down, and ^ugo with them, nothing doubting: for I have sent them. 21 And Peter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? 22 And they said, Cornelius a centu-

I ask therefore with what intent ye sent for me. 30 And Cornelius said, ¹⁷Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping ¹⁸the ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, ¹⁹a man stood before me in bright apparel, 31 and saith, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. 32 Send therefore to ²⁰Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, by the sea side. 33 Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. The Hearers receive the Holy Spirit. At Jerusalem Peter justifies his Conduct him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him. 36 ¹The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, ^apreaching ²good tidings of ^bpeace by Jesus Christ (he is ^cLord of all)—37 that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judæa, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; 38 even ^aJesus of Nazareth, how God ^aanointed him with the Holy Spirit and with power: ^fwho went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; ^gfor ^gGod was with him. 39 And we are ^awitnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom also they ^hslew, hanging him on a tree. 40 Him ^aGod raised up the third day, and gave him to be made manifest, 41 ^hnot to all the people, but unto ^awitnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, ^mwho ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. 42 And he ⁿcharged us to preach unto the people, and to ^otestify that this is he who is ^pordained of God to be the ^qJudge of the living and the dead. 43 To him bear ^rall the prophets witness, that through ^shis name every one that believeth on him shall receive remission of sins.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, ^tthe Holy Spirit fell on all them that heard the word. 45 And ^uthey of the circumcision that believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was ^vpoured out the gift of the Holy Spirit. 46 For they heard them ^wspeak with tongues, and magnify God. Then ^xanswered Peter, 47 ^yCan any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, who ^zhave received the Holy Spirit as well as we? 48 And he ^{aa}commanded them to be baptized ^{ab}in the name of Jesus Christ. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

11 Now the apostles and ^athe brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. 2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, ^bthey that were of the circumcision contended with him, him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four ^{ea}quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after ^{eb}the Passover to bring him forth to the people. 5 Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him. 6 And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, ^{ec}bound with two chains: and guards before the door kept the prison. 7 And behold, ^{ed}an angel of the Lord ^{ee}stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And ^{ef}his chains fell off from his hands. 8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. 9 And he went out, and followed; and he knew not that it was true which was done ^{eg}by the angel, but thought he saw ^{eh}a vision. 10 And when they were past the first and the second guard, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which ^{ei}opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. 11 And when Peter ^{ej}was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that ^{ek}the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. 12 And when he had considered ^{el}the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of ^{em}John whose surname was Mark: where many were gathered together and ^{en}were praying. 13 And when he knocked at the door of the gate, ^{eo}a maid came to answer, named Rhoda. 14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate ^{ep}for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. 15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. And they said, It is ^{eq}his angel. 16 But Peter con-

And he said, Tell these things unto ^bJames, and to ^cthe brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. 18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. 19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should ^abe ¹put to death. And he went down from Judæa to ^cCæsarea, and tarried there.

20 Now he was highly displeased with them of ^dTyre and ^eSidon: and they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, they asked for peace, because ^ftheir country was fed from the king's country. 21 And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the ²throne, and made an oration unto them. 22 And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. 23 And immediately ^aan angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he ^bwas eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But ^kthe word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And ¹Barnabas and ¹Saul returned ³from Jerusalem, ^mwhen they had fulfilled their ministration, taking with them ⁿJohn whose surname was Mark.

13 Now there were at ^oAntioch, in the ^pchurch that was there, ^qprophets and ^rteachers, ¹Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of ^sCyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of ^tHerod the tetrarch, and ¹Saul. 2 And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, ^uthe Holy Spirit said, Separate me ^vBarnabas and ^vSaul for ^wthe work whereunto I have called them. 3 Then, when they had fasted and ^xprayed and ^ylaid their hands on them, ^zthey sent them away.

4 So they, being ^asent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to ^bCyprus. 5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in ^cthe synagogues of the Jews: and they had also ^dJohn as their attendant. 6 And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain ^esorcerer, a ^ffalse prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus: 7 who was with the ^gproconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. 8 But Elymas the ^hsorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the ⁱproconsul from ^jthe faith. 9 But Saul, who is also called Paul, ^kfilled with the Holy Spirit, fastened his eyes on him, 10 and said, O full of all guile and all villany, thou ^lson of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert ^mthe right ways of the Lord? 11 And now, behold, ⁿthe hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun ^ofor a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand. 12 Then the ^pproconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at ^qthe teaching of the Lord.

13 Now Paul and his company set sail from ^rPaphos, and came to ^sPerga in ^tPamphylia: and ^uJohn departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. 14 But they, passing through from Perga, came to ^vAntioch of ^wPisidia: and they went into ^xthe synagogue on ^ythe sabbath day, and sat down. 15 And after ^zthe reading of the law and ^athe prophets ^bthe rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on. 16 And Paul stood up, and ^cbeckoning with the hand said,

God, hearken: 17 The God of this people Israel ^achose our fathers, and exalted the people when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm led he them forth out of it. 18 And for about ^bthe time of forty years ^cas a nursing-father bare he them in the wilderness. 19 And ^dwhen he had destroyed ^eseven nations in the land of Canaan, he ^fgave them their land for an inheritance, for ^gabout four hundred and fifty years: 20 and after these things he ^hgave them judges until ⁱSamuel the prophet. 21 And afterward they ^jasked for a king: and God gave unto them ^kSaul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. 22 And when he had ^lremoved him, he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness and said, ^mI have found ⁿDavid the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who shall do all my ^owill. 23 ^pOf this man's seed hath God ^qaccording to promise brought unto Israel ^ra Saviour, Jesus; 24 when ^sJohn had first preached ^tbefore his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. 25 And as John ^uwas fulfilling his course, ^vhe said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not ^whe. But behold, there cometh one after me the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to unloose. 26 Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the word of ^xthis salvation sent forth. 27 For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their ^yrulers, ^zbecause they knew him not, nor the voices of ^{aa}the prophets which are ^{ab}read every sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning ^{ac}him. 28 And though they found no cause of death ^{ad}in him, yet ^{ae}asked they of Pilate that he should be slain. 29 And when they had ^{af}fulfilled all things that were written of him, ^{ag}they took him down from ^{ah}the tree, and laid him in a tomb. 30 But God ^{ai}raised him from the dead: 31 and he was seen for many days of them that came up with him ^{aj}from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now ^{ak}his witnesses unto the people. 32 And we ^{al}bring you good tidings of ^{am}the promise made unto the fathers, 33 that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he ^araised up Jesus; as also it is written in the second psalm, ^bThou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. 34 And as concerning that he ^craised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise, ^dI will give you the holy and sure blessings of David. 35 Because he saith also in another psalm, ^eThou wilt not give thy Holy One to see corruption. 36 For ^fDavid, after he had ^gin his own generation served ^hthe counsel of God, ⁱfell asleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: 37 but he whom God ^jraised up saw no corruption. 38 Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that ^kthrough this man is proclaimed unto you remission of sins: 39 and by him ^levery one that believeth is justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. 40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon ^myou which is spoken ⁿin the prophets:

For I work a work in your days, A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to them the next ^qsabbath. 43 Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the ^rdevout ^sproselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in ^tthe grace of God.

44 And the next ^usabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of ^vGod. 45 But when ^wthe Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and ^xblasphemed. 46 And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word

¹I have set thee for a ^clight of the Gentiles,

That thou shouldest be for salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified ^athe word of ²God: and as many as were ^cordained to eternal life believed. 49 And ^athe word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. 50 But ³the Jews urged on the ^ddevout women ^eof honorable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their borders. 51 But ⁴they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto ^kIconium. 52 And the disciples were ^ffilled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

14 And it came to pass in ¹Iconium that ^mthey entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake ⁿthat a great multitude both of Jews and of ^oGreeks believed. 2 But ^pthe Jews that were ^qdisobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against ^rthe brethren. 3 Long time therefore they tarried ^sthere ^tspeaking boldly in the Lord, who bare witness unto the word of his grace, granting ^usigns and ^vwonders to be done by their hands. 4 ¹But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with ^wthe Jews, and part with ^xthe apostles. 5 And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of ^ythe Jews with their rulers, to treat them shamefully and to ^zstone them, 6 they became aware of it, and fled unto the cities of ¹Lycaonia, ²Lystra and ³Derbe, and the region round about: 7 and there they ^{3a}preached the gospel.

seeing that he had ^afaith to be made whole, 10 said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. ^cAnd he leaped up and walked.

11 And when the multitude saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of ²Lycaonia, ³The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, ⁴Jupiter; and Paul, ⁵Mercury, because he was the chief speaker.

13 And the priest of Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and ^dwould have done sacrifice with the multitudes. 14 But when ^ethe apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they ^frent their garments, and sprang forth among the multitude, crying out 15 and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are ^gmen of like ⁶passions with you, and ^hbring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these ⁱvain things unto a ^jliving God, who ^kmade the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 16 who in the generations gone by ^lsuffered all the ⁷nations to ^mwalk in their own ways. 17 And yet ⁿhe left not himself without witness, in that he did good and ^ogave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness. 18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19 But there came ^pJews thither from ¹Antioch and ²Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, they ^qstoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. 20 But as ^rthe disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to ^sDerbe. 21 And when they had ^{8a}preached the gospel to that city, and had ^tmade many disciples, they returned to ¹Lystra, and to ²Iconium, and to ³Antioch, 22 confirming the souls of ⁹the dis-

Deputation and Letter to Antioch. Its Reception.

Paul and Barnabas disagree about Mark. Paul chooses Timothy him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to ^athe apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to ^bAntioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas called Barsabbas, and ^cSilas, chief men among ^dthe brethren: 23 and they wrote thus by them, ^{1a}The apostles and the elders, brethren, unto ^ethe brethren who are of the Gentiles in ^bAntioch and ^cSyria and ^fCilicia, ^ggreeting: 24 Forasmuch as we have heard that ^hcertain ²who went out from us have ⁱtroubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no commandment; 25 ^kit seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 men that have ^lhazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. 27 We have sent therefore ^mJudas and ⁿSilas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For ^oit seemed good to ^pthe Holy Spirit, and to ^qus, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things: 29 that ye abstain from ^rthings sacrificed to idols, and from ^sblood, and from ^tthings strangled, and from ^ufornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. Fare ye well.

30 So they, when they were dismissed, ^vcame down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle. 31 And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the ^wconsolation. 32 And ^xJudas and ^ySilas, being themselves also ^zprophets, ^{aa}exhorted ^{ab}the brethren with many words, and confirmed them. 33 And after they had spent some time there, they were dismissed ^{ac}in peace from the brethren unto those that had ^{ad}sent them forth.⁵ 35 But ^{ae}Paul and Barnabas tarried in Antioch, teaching and ^{af}preaching ^{ag}the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us return

16 And he came also to ^{at}*Derbe and to ^{au}*Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named ^{av}Timothy, the son of ^{aw}a Jewess that believed; but his father was a Greek. 2 The same was well reported of by ^{ax}the brethren that were at ^{ay}*Lystra and ^{az}*Iconium. 3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he ^{ba}took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was a Greek. 4 And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them ^{bb}the decrees to keep which had been ordained of ^{bc}the apostles and ^{bd}elders that were at Jerusalem. 5 So ^{be}the churches were strengthened ^{bf}in the faith, and ^{bg}increased in number daily.

6 And they went through ^{bh}the region of ^{bi}*Phrygia and ^{bj}*Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Spirit to speak the word in ^{bk}Asia; 7 and when they were come over against ^{bl}Mysia, they assayed to go into ^{bm}Bithynia; and the ^{bn}Spirit of Jesus suffered them not; 8 and passing by ^{bo}Mysia, they came down to ^{bp}Troas. 9 And ^{bq}a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There was a man of ^{br}Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. 10 And when he had seen ^athe vision, straightway ^bwe sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to ^cpreach the gospel unto them.

11 Setting sail therefore from ^aTroas, we made ^aa straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; 12 and from thence to ^dPhilippi, which is a city of ^eMacedonia, the first of the district, ^fa Roman colony: and we were in this city tarrying certain days. 13 And on ^gthe sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, ^hwhere we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down, and spake unto the women that were come together. 14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of ⁱThyatira, ^jone that worshipped God, heard us: ^kwhose heart the Lord opened to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul. 15 And when she was baptized, and ^lher household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we were going to ^othe place of prayer, that a certain maid having ^pa spirit of divination met us, who brought her masters much gain by soothsaying. 17 The same following after Paul and us cried out, saying, These men are ^qservants of ^rthe Most High God, who proclaim unto you ^sthe way of salvation. 18 And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, I charge thee ^tin the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out that very hour.

19 But when her masters saw that the hope of their ^ugain was ^vgone, they laid hold on ^wPaul and Silas, and ^xdragged them into the marketplace before the rulers, 20 and when they had brought them unto the ^ymagistrates, they said, These men, being Jews, do

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to ^fThessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: 2 and Paul, ^gas his custom was, went in unto them, and for three ^{4a}sabbath days reasoned with them from ⁱthe scriptures, 3 opening and alleging that ^kit behooved the Christ to suffer, and ^lto rise again from the dead; and that ^mthis Jesus, whom, said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. 4 ⁿAnd some of them were persuaded, and consorted with ^oPaul and Silas; and of the ²devout ^qGreeks a great multitude, and of the ^rchief women not a few. 5 But ^sthe Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of ^tJason, they sought to bring them forth to the people. 6 And when they found them not, they ^udragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned ^vthe world upside down are come hither also; 7 whom Jason ^whath received: and these all act ^xcontrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus. 8 And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. 9 And when they had taken security from ^yJason and the rest, they let them go.

and observed the ^aobjects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, To AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ^bye worship in ignorance, this I set forth unto you. 24 ^cThe God that made the world and all things therein, he, being ^dLord of heaven and earth, ^edwelleth not in ^ftemples made with hands; 25 neither is he served by men's hands, ^gas though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; 26 and ^hhe made of one every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, having ⁱdetermined ^jtheir appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; 27 that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him and find him, ^kthough he is not far from each one of us: 28 for ^lin him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets ^mhave said,

For we are also his offspring. 29 Being then the offspring of God, we ⁿought not to think that ^othe Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. 30 ^pThe times of ignorance therefore God ^qoverlooked; but ^rnow he ^scommandeth men that they should all everywhere repent: 31 inasmuch as he hath appointed ^ta day in which ^uhe will judge ^vthe world in righteousness ^wby ^xthe man whom he hath ^yordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he ^zhath raised him from the dead.

32 Now when they heard of ^athe resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear thee concerning this yet again.

33 Thus Paul went out from among them. 34 But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius the ^bAreopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things he departed from ^cAthens, and came to ^dCorinth. 2 And he found a certain Jew named ^eAquila, a man of ^fPontus by race, lately come from ^gItaly, with his wife ^hPriscilla, because ⁱClaudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he came unto of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. 17 And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at ^aEphesus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. 18 Many also of them that had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. 19 And not a few of them that practised magical arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand ^bpieces of silver. 20 So mightily ^cgrew ^dthe word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, ^ewhen he had passed through ^fMacedonia and ^gAchaia, to ^hgo to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, ⁱI must also see Rome. 22 And having sent into ^jMacedonia two of ^kthem that ministered unto him, ^lTimothy and ^mErastus, he himself stayed in ⁿAsia for a while.

23 And about that time there arose no small stir concerning ^pthe Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of ^qDiana, ^rbrought no little business unto the craftsmen; 25 whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this business we have our wealth. 26 And ye see and hear, that not alone at ^sEphesus, but almost throughout all ^tAsia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that ^uthey are no gods, that are made with hands: 27 and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess ^vDiana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence whom all ^wAsia and ^xthe world worshippeth. 28 And when they heard this they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, Great ^yis ^zDiana of the ^{aa}Ephesians. 29 And the city was filled with the confusion; and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized ^{ab}Gaius and ^{ac}Aristarchus, men of ^{ad}Macedonia, Paul's ^{ae}companions in travel. 30 And when Paul was minded to

And Alexander ^ebeckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto the people. 34 But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great ^fis ^gDiana of the Ephesians. 35 And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of ^hEphesus, what man is there who knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great ⁱDiana, and of the ^jimage which fell down from ^kJupiter? 36 Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. 37 For ye have brought ^lhither these men, who are neither ^mrobbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. 38 If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, ⁿthe courts are open, and there are ^oproconsuls: let them accuse one another. 39 But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. 40 For indeed we are in danger to be ^paccused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause ^qfor it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. 41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 And after the uproar ceased, Paul having sent for ^athe disciples and exhorted them, took leave of them, and departed ^bto go into ^cMacedonia. 2 And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece. 3 And when he had spent three months ^dthere, and ^ea plot was

7 And upon ^qthe first day of the week, when ^mwe were gathered together to ^rbreak bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight. 8 And there were many ^slights in the ^tupper chamber where we were gathered together. 9 And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. 10 And Paul went down, and ^ufell on him, and embracing him ^vsaid, Make ye no ado; for his life is in him. 11 And when he was gone up, and had ^wbroken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. 12 And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 But ^mwe, going before to the ship, set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go ³by land. 14 And when he met us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. 15 And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chios; and the next day we touched at Samos; and ⁴the day after we came to ⁿMiletus. 16 For Paul had determined to sail past ^yEphesus, that he might not have to spend time in ^cAsia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, ⁵to be at Jerusalem ^athe day of Pentecost.

Ye yourselves know, ^cfrom the first day that I set foot in Asia, after what manner I was with you all the time, 19 serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears, and with trials which befell me by ^athe plots of the Jews; 20 how I ^eshrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly, and from house to house, 21 ^ftestifying both to Jews and to Greeks ^grepentance toward God, and ^hfaith toward our Lord Jesus ⁶Christ. 22 And now, behold, ⁱI go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: 23 save that ^kthe Holy Spirit ^jtestifieth unto me in every city, saying that ^lbonds and afflictions abide me. 24 But ^mI hold not my life of any account as dear unto myself, ⁷so that I may ⁿaccomplish my course, and ^othe ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to ^ptestify the ⁸gospel of ^pthe grace of God. 25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I went about ^qpreaching the kingdom, shall see my face no more. 26 Wherefore I testify unto you this day, that ^rI am pure from the blood of all men. 27 For I ^eshrank not from declaring unto you the whole ^ccounsel of God. 28 Take heed unto yourselves, and to all ^tthe flock, in which the Holy Spirit hath made you ⁹bishops, to feed ^tthe church of ¹⁰the Lord which ²he ¹¹purchased with his own blood. 29 I know that after my departing ^ggrievous wolves shall enter in among you, not sparing ^uthe flock; 30 and from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away ^vthe disciples after them. 31 Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space

36 And when he had thus spoken, he ^kkneeled down and prayed with them all. 37 And they all wept sore, and ^lfell on Paul's neck and kissed him, 38 sorrowing most of all for ^mthe word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they ⁿbrought him on his way unto the ship.

21 And when it came to pass that ^owe were parted from them and had set sail, we came with ^pa straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara: 2 and having found a ship crossing over unto ^qPhœnicia, we went aboard, and set sail. 3 And when we had come in sight of ^rCyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto ^sSyria, and landed at ^tTyre; for ^uthere the ship was to unlade her burden. 4 And having found ^vthe disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul ^wthrough the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. 5 And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, ^xbrought us on our way till we were out of the city: and ^ykneeling down on the beach, we prayed, and bade each other farewell; 6 and we went on board the ship, but they returned ^zhome again.

^{cc}Philip the ^{cd}evangelist, who was ^{ce}one of the seven, we abode with him. 9 Now this man had four virgin daughters, who ^{cf}prophesied. 10 And as we tarried there some days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named ^{cg}Agabus. 11 And coming to us, and ^{ch}taking Paul's girdle, he bound ^{ci}his own feet and hands, and said, Thus ^{cj}saith the Holy Spirit, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem ^{ck}bind the man that owneth this girdle, and ^{cl}shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. 12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him ^{cm}not to go up to Jerusalem. 13 Then Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for ^{cn}I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for ^{co}the name of the Lord Jesus. 14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, ^{cp}The will of the Lord be done.

27 And when ^ethe seven days were almost completed, ^fthe Jews from ^gAsia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, Men of Israel, help: ^hThis is the man that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place; and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath ⁱdefiled this ^hholy place. 29 For they had before seen with him in the city ^kTrophimus the ^lEphesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. 30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together; and they laid hold on Paul, and ^mdragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors were shut. 31 And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the ³chief captain of the ⁴band, that all Jerusalem was in confusion. 32 And forthwith he ^otook soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the ³chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33 Then the ³chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be ^pbound with ^qtwo chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done.

37 And as Paul was about to be brought into ^uthe castle, he saith unto the ^vchief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? 38 Art thou not then ^wthe Egyptian, who before these days stirred up to sedition and led out ^xinto the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? 39 But Paul said, ^yI am a Jew, of Tarsus in ^zCilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people. 40 And when he had given him leave, Paul, standing on ^athe stairs, ^bbeckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the ^bHebrew language, saying,

And he said unto me, I am ^a Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. ⁹ And they that were with me ^b beheld indeed the light, but they ^c heard not the voice of him that spake to me. ¹⁰ And I said, ^d What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. ¹¹ And when I ^e could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me I came into Damascus. ¹² And one ^f Ananias, a devout man according to the law, ^g well reported of by all the Jews that dwelt there, ¹³ came unto me, and standing by me said unto me, ^h Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And ⁱ in that very hour I ^j looked up on him. ¹⁴ And he said, ^k The God of our fathers hath ^l appointed thee to know his will, and to ^m see the ⁿ Righteous One, and to hear a voice from his mouth. ¹⁵ For thou shalt be ^o a witness for him unto all men of ^p what thou hast seen and heard. ¹⁶ And now why tarriest thou? ^q arise, and be baptized, and ^r wash away thy sins, ^s calling on his name. ¹⁷ And it came to pass, that, when I had ^t returned to Jerusalem, and while I prayed in the temple, I ^u fell into a trance, ¹⁸ and saw him saying unto me, ^v Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem; because they will not receive of thee testimony concerning me. ¹⁹ And I said, Lord, they themselves know that ^w I imprisoned and ^x beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: ²⁰ and ^y when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting, and keeping the garments of them that slew him. ²¹ And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth far hence ^z unto the Gentiles.

²² And they gave him audience unto this word: and they lifted up their voice, and said, ^a Away with such a fellow from the earth: for ^b it is not fit that he should live. ²³ And as they cried out, and ^c threw off their garments, and ^d cast dust into the air, ²⁴ the ^e chief captain commanded him to be brought into ^f the castle, bidding that he should be ^g examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they so shouted against him. ²⁵ And when they had tied him up ^h with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge ⁱ a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? ²⁶ And when the centurion heard it, he went to the ^j chief captain and told him, saying, What art thou about to do? for this man is a Roman. ²⁷ And the ^k chief captain came and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And he said, Yea. ²⁸ And the ^l chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizenship. And Paul said, But I am a ^m Roman born. ²⁹ They then that were about to ⁿ examine him straightway departed from him: and the ^o chief captain also ^p was afraid when he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had ^q bound him.

³⁰ But on the morrow, ^r desiring to know the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he ^s loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all ^t the council to come together, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

23 And Paul, looking stedfastly on ^a the council, said, ^b Brethren, ^c I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day. ² And the high priest ^d Ananias commanded them that stood by him ^e to smite him on the mouth. ³ Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, ^f thou whited wall: and ^g sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law? ⁴ And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest? ⁵ And Paul said, I knew not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, ^h Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of thy people. ⁶ But when Paul perceived that the one part were ⁱ Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he cried out in ^j the council, ^k Brethren, ^l I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: touching ^m the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. ⁷ And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees; and the assembly was divided.

11 And^g the night following the Lord stood by him, and said,^h Be of good cheer: forⁱ as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear^j witness also at Rome.

I know that thou believest. 28 And Agrippa ^dsaid unto Paul, ^eWith but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me a ^fChristian. 29 And Paul ^gsaid, I would to God, that ^hwhether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these ⁱbonds.

Paul might have been set at liberty but for his Appeal. Paul sails for Italy. The Voyage Dangerous

30 And ^athe king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: 31 and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, ^bThis man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. 32 And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been ^cset at liberty, if he had not ^dappealed unto Cæsar.

27 And when it was determined that ^ewe ^fshould sail for ^gItaly, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan ^hband. 2 And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of ⁱAsia, we put to sea, ^jAristarchus, a ^kMacedonian of ^lThessalonica, being with us. 3 And the next day we touched at ^mSidon: and Julius ⁿtreated Paul kindly, and ^ogave him leave to go unto his friends and ^prefresh himself. 4 And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of ^qCyprus, because ^rthe winds were contrary. 5 And when we had sailed across the sea which is off ^sCilicia and ^tPamphylia, we came to Myra, ^ua city of Lycia. 6 And there the centurion found a ^vship of Alexandria sailing for ^wItaly; and he put us therein. 7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, ^xthe wind not ^yfurther suffering us, we sailed under the lee of ^zCrete, over against Salmone; 8 and with difficulty ^{aa}coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because ^{ab}the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, 10 and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with ^{ac}injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. 11 But the centurion gave more heed to the ^{ad}master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. 12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the ^{bm}sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country: 28 and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms; and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. 29 And fearing lest haply we should ^abe cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and ^bwished for the day. 30 And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered ^cthe boat into the sea, under color as though they would lay out anchors from the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. 32 Then the soldiers cut away the ^dropes of the boat, and let her fall off. 33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. 34 Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for ^ethere shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you. 35 And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he ^fgave thanks to God in the presence of all: and he brake it, and began to eat. 36 Then were they all ^gof good cheer, and themselves also took food. 37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen ^hsouls. 38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, ⁱthrowing out the wheat into the sea. 39 And when it was day, ^jthey knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they could ^kdrive the ship upon it. 40 And casting off ^lthe anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. 41 But lighting upon a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of ^mthe waves. 42 And the soldiers' counsel was to ⁿkill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. 43 But the centurion, ^odesiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they who could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to the land; 44 and the rest, some on planks, and some on ^pother things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that ^qthey all escaped safe to the land.

28 And when ^rwe were ^sescaped, ^tthen we knew that ^uthe island was called ^vMelita. 2 And ^wthe barbarians showed us no common kindness: for they kindled a fire, and ^xreceived us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. 3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and laid them on the fire, a viper came out ^yby reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. 4 And when ^zthe barbarians saw the ^{aa}venomous creature hanging from his hand, they said one to another, ^{ab}No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, yet ^{ac}Justice hath not suffered to live. 5 Howbeit ^{ad}he shook off the creature into the fire, and took no harm. 6 But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation and beheld nothing amiss come to him, they changed their minds, and ^{ae}said that he was a god.

7 Now in the neighborhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three days courteously. 8 And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and ^{af}prayed, and ^{ag}laying his hands on him healed him. 9 And when this was done, the rest also that had diseases in the island came, and were cured: 10 who also honored us with many honors; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

11 And after three months we set sail in ^{ah}a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the island, whose sign was ^{ai}The Twin Brothers. 12 And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. 13 And from thence we ^{aj}made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium, and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli: 14 where we found ^abrethren, and were entertained to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. 15 And from thence the ^abrethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius and The Three Taverns; whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we entered into Rome, ¹Paul was ^bsuffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days he called together ²those that were ^cthe chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, ^abrethren, ^cthough I had done nothing against the people, or ^dthe customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans: 18 who, when they had examined me, ^edesired to set me at liberty, because there was ^bno cause of death in me. 19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to ^fappeal unto Cæsar; not that I had aught whereof to accuse my nation. 20 For this cause therefore did I ^gentreat you to see and to speak with me: for ^hbecause of the hope of Israel I am bound with ⁱthis chain. 21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judæa concerning thee, nor did any of ^athe brethren come hither and report or speak any harm of thee. 22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this ^msect, it is known to us that everywhere ⁿit is spoken against.

Superiority in Privilege does not diminish Guilt. Jew and Gentile alike under Sin, as the Scriptures testify

19 and art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness, 20¹ a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having in the law^a the form of knowledge and of the truth; 21 thou therefore^b that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? 22 thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou^c rob temples? 23 thou who^d gloriest in the law, through thy transgression of the law dishonorest thou God? 24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles^e because of you,² even as it is written. 25 For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou be a^f doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. 26^h If therefore the uncircumcisionⁱ keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? 27 and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who with the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law? 28 For^j he is not a Jew who is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh: 29 but^k he is a Jew who is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in^l the spirit not in the letter; ^mwhose praise is not of men, but of God.

3 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision? 2 Much every way: first of all, thatⁿ they were intrusted with the^o oracles of God. 3 For what if^p some were without faith? shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? 4^q God forbid: yea, let God be found true, but every man^r a liar; as it is written,

“That thou mightest be justified in thy words,

And mightest prevail when thou comest into judgment.

5 But if our unrighteousness^s commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (¶ I speak after the manner of men.) 6^t God forbid: for then how shall

God judge the world? 7^b But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory,^c why am I also still judged as a sinner? 8 and why not (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say),^d Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.

9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both of Jews and Greeks, that they are^e all under sin; 10 as it is written,

“There is none righteous, no, not one;

11 There is none that understandeth,

There is none that seeketh after God;

12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable;

There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre;

With their tongues they have used deceit:

“The poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood;

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and^f all the world may be brought under the judgment of God: 20 because^g by the works of the law shall no flesh be^h justified in his sight; forⁱ through the law cometh the knowledge of sin.

It is excluded. By ⁶what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith. 28 ⁷We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from ⁸the works of the law. 29 Or ²is he not the God of Jews only? is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles also: 30 if so be that ⁷God is one, and ⁸he shall justify the circumcision ⁹by faith, and the uncircumcision ¹⁰through faith.

31 Do we then make ¹¹the law of none effect ¹⁰through faith? ^cGod forbid: nay, we ¹¹establish the law.

4 ¹²What then shall we say ¹²that Abraham, ¹³our forefather, hath found ²according to the flesh? 2 For if Abraham was justified ⁹by works, he hath whereof to glory; but ²not toward God: 3 For what saith the scripture? ¹⁴And ²Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 4 Now to him that ²worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt. 5 But to him that worketh not, but ^abelieveth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. 6 Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness apart from works, 7 saying,

The Blessedness of the Justified. Adam and Christ contrasted out being weakened in faith he considered his own body ¹now ^aas good as dead (^ahe being about a hundred years old), and ^athe deadness of Sarah's ²womb; 20 yet, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, ^agiving glory to God, 21 and ^abeing fully assured that ^awhat he had promised, he was able also to perform. 22 Wherefore also ^ait was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 23 Now ^ait was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto him; 24 but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, ^awho believe on him that ^araised Jesus our Lord from the dead, 25 who was ^adelivered up for our trespasses, and was ^araised for our justification.

¹¹ but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received ^athe reconciliation.

12 Therefore, as through ^aone man sin entered into the world, and ^adeath through sin; and ^aso death passed unto all men, for that all sinned:—13 for until the law sin was in the world; but ^asin is not imputed when there is no law. 14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned ^aafter the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is a ^afigure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the trespass, so also ^ais the free gift. For if by the trespass of ^athe one ^athe many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by ^athe grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto ^athe many. 16 And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for ^athe judgment ^acame of one unto condemnation, but the free gift ^acame of many trespasses unto ^ajustification. 17 For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned ^athrough the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and ^aof the gift of righteousness ^areign in life through the one, ^aeven Jesus Christ. 18 So then as through ^aone trespass ^athe judgment ^acame unto all men to condemnation; even so through one ^aact of righteousness ^athe free gift ^acame unto all men to ^ajustification of life. 19 For as through the one man's disobedience ^athe many ^awere made sinners, even so through ^athe obedience of the one shall ^athe many be made righteous. 20 And ^athe law came in besides, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, ^agrace did abound more exceedingly: 21 that, as ^asin reigned in death, even so might ^agrace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Believer dead to Sin but alive unto God. Grace and Sin Incompatible. The Believer is dead to the Law and alive unto God came obedient from the heart to that ^hform of teaching whereunto ye were delivered; 18 and being ^kmade free from sin, ye became ^lservants of righteousness. 19 ^mI speak after the manner of your flesh; for ⁿas ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness unto sanctification. 20 For ^owhen ye were ^pservants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. 21 What ^qfruit then had ye at that time in the things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is ^rdeath. 22 But now being ^smade free from sin and become ^tservants to God, ye have your ^ufruit unto sanctification, and ^vthe end eternal life. 23 For the wages of ^wsin is death; but the free gift of God is ^xeternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or are ye ignorant, ^ybrethren (for I speak to men who know ^zthe law), that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? 2 For ^athe woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. 3 So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. 4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also were ^bmade dead ^cto the law ^dthrough the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring forth fruit unto God. 5 For when we were ^ein the flesh, the ^fsinful passions, which were ^gthrough the law, wrought ^hin our members to bring forth fruit unto death. 6 But now we have been ⁱdischarged from the law, having ^jdied to that wherein we were held; so that we serve in ^anewness of ^bthe spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

The Inward Conflict. Christ Jesus brings Deliverance. There is now no Condemnation

7 ^cWhat shall we say then? Is the law sin? ^dGod forbid. Howbeit, ^eI had not known sin, except through ^fthe law: for I had not known ^gcoveting, except the law had said, ^hThou shalt not ⁱcovet: 8 but sin, ^jfinding occasion, wrought in me ^kthrough the commandment all manner of ^lcoveting: for ^mapart from ⁿthe law sin is dead. 9 And I was alive apart from ^othe law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; 10 and the commandment, which ^pwas ^qunto life, this I found ^rto be unto death: 11 for sin, ^sfinding occasion, ^tthrough the commandment ^ubeguiled me, and through it slew me. 12 ^vSo that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. 13 Did then that which is good become death unto me? ^wGod forbid. But sin, that it might be shown to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good; — that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. 14 For we know that the law is ^xspiritual: but I am ^ycarnal, ^zsold ^{aa}under sin. 15 For that which I ^{ab}do ^{ac}I know not: for ^{ad}not what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do. 16 But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto ^{ae}the law that it is good. 17 So now ^{af}it is no more I that ^{ag}do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 18 For I know that in me, that is, in my ^{ah}flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to ^{ai}do that which is good is not. 19 For ^{aj}the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I practise. 20 But if what I would not, that I do, ^{ak}it is no more I that ^{al}do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 21 I find then ^{am}the law, that, to me who would do good, evil is present. 22 For I delight ^{an}in the law of God after ^{ao}the inward man: 23 but I see ^{ap}a different law in my members, warring against the ^{aq}law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity ^{ar}under ^{as}the law of sin which is in my members.

24 Wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me out of ¹the body of this ²death? 25 ³I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I of myself with the mind, indeed, serve the law of God; but with the flesh ⁴the law of sin.

S There is therefore now no ¹condemnation to them that are ²in ³Christ Jesus. 2 For ⁴the law of the Spirit of life in ⁵Christ Jesus ⁶made me free from the law of sin and of death. 3 For ⁷what the law could not do, ⁸in that it ⁹was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in ¹⁰the likeness of ¹¹sinful flesh ¹²and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: 4 that the ¹³ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who ¹⁴walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. 5 For they that are after the flesh mind ¹⁵the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit ¹⁶the things of the Spirit. 6 ¹⁷For the mind of the flesh is ¹⁸death; but the mind of the Spirit is life and peace: 7 because the mind of the flesh is ¹⁹enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can it be: 8 and they that are ²⁰in the flesh cannot please God. 9 But ye are not ²¹in the flesh but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God ²²dwelleth in you. But ²³if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. 10 And ²⁴if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life because of righteousness. 11 But if the Spirit of him that ²⁵raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, ²⁶he that raised up ²⁷Christ Jesus from the dead shall give life also to your mortal bodies ²⁸through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: 13 for ¹if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the Spirit ye ²put to death the ³deeds of the body, ye shall live.

The Spirit of Adoption. Pledge of Complete Redemption. "Who shall separate us from Christ's Love?" The Apostle's

14 For as many as are ^aled by the Spirit of God, these are ^bsons of God. 15 For ye ^creceived not the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye ^dreceived the spirit of adoption, ^ewhereby we cry, ^fAbba, Father. 16 The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are ^gchildren of God: 17 and if children, then ^hheirs, ⁱheirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; ^jif so be that we suffer with ^khim, that we may be also glorified with ^lhim.

18 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time ^mare not worthy to be compared with the ⁿglory which shall be revealed to us-ward. 19 For the ^oearnest expectation of the creation waiteth for ^pthe revealing of the ^qsons of God. 20 For the creation ^rwas subjected to ^svanity, not of its own will, but ^tby reason of him who subjected it, ^uin hope 21 that ^vthe creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. 22 For we know that ^wthe whole creation ^xgroaneth and travaileth in pain ^ytogether until now. 23 ^zAnd not only so, but ourselves also, who have ^{aa}the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves ^{ab}groan within ourselves, ^{ac}waiting for our adoption, ^{ad}to wit, ^{ae}the redemption of our body. 24 For ^{af}in hope were we ^{ag}saved: but ^{ah}hope that is seen is not hope: ^{ai}for who ^{aj}hopeth for that which he seeth? 25 But ^{ak}if we hope for that which we see not, ^{al}then do we with ^{am}patience wait for it.

26 And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for ^{an}we know not how to pray as we ought; but ^{ao}the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; 27 and ^{ap}he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is ^{aq}the mind of the Spirit, ^{ar}because he ^{as}maketh intercession for the saints according to ^{at}the will of God. 28 And we know that to them that love God ^{au}all things work together for good, ^{av}even to them that are ^{aw}called according to ^{ax}his purpose. 29 For whom he ^{ay}fore-

6 But it is not as though ^s the word of God hath come to nought. ^t For they are not all Israel, that are of Israel: 7 neither, ^u because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children: but, ^v In Isaac shall thy seed be called. 8 That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are ^w children of God; but the ^x children of the promise are reckoned for a seed. 9 For this is a word of promise, ^y According to this season will I come, and Sarah shall have a son. 10 ^z And not only so; but ^{aa} Rebecca also having conceived by one, ^{ab} even by our father Isaac — 11 for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that ^{ac} the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth, 12 it was said unto her, ^{ad} The elder shall serve the younger. 13 Even as it is written, ^{ae} Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.

righteousness, did not ^aarrive at that law. 32 Wherefore? ¹Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at ^bthe stone of stumbling; 33 even as it is written,

²Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:

^cAnd he that believeth on ³him ^ashall not be put to shame.

10 Brethren, my heart's ⁴desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. 2 For I bear them witness that they have ^aa zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of ⁷God's righteousness, and ⁹seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For ^hChrist is the end of the law unto righteousness to ⁱevery one that believeth. 5 For Moses writeth that ⁵the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law ^kshall live thereby. 6 But ^lthe righteousness which is of faith saith thus, ⁶Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down:) ⁷or, Who shall descend into the ^mabyss? (that is, to ⁿbring Christ up from the dead.) 8 But what saith it? ⁷The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: ⁹⁸because ^oif thou shalt ⁹confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt ^pbelieve in thy heart that ^qGod raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: 10 for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the scripture saith, ^{10r}Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 12 For ^rthere is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is ^sLord of ^tall, and is rich unto all that call upon him: 13 for, ^{11s}Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him ^xwhom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without ^ya preacher?

15 and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, ¹²How beautiful are the feet of them that ²bring ¹³glad tidings of good things!

16 But they ^adid not all hearken to the ¹⁴glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, ^{15b}Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So belief cometh of ^chearing, and hearing by ^dthe word of Christ. 18 But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

^{16c}Their sound went out into all the earth,

19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith, ¹⁹I will ⁷provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,

With a nation void of understanding will I anger you.

20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,

^{19g}I was found of them that sought me not;

I became manifest unto them that asked not of me.

21 But as to Israel he saith, ²⁰All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

11 I say then, Did God ^hcast off his people? ⁱGod forbid. For ^kI also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 God ^ldid not cast off his people which he ^mforeknew. ⁿOr know ye not what the scripture ²¹saith ²²of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God against Israel: 3 Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life. 4 But what ²³saith the answer of God unto him? I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal. 5 Even so then at this present time also there is ^aa remnant according to the election of grace. 6 But ^pif it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. 7 What then? Israel's Loss the Gentiles' Gain.

Their Partial Apostasy precludes Final Salvation

is written, ^{1a} God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this very day. 9 And David saith,

² Let their table be made a snare, and a trap,

And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,

And bow thou down their back always.

11 ^b I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? ^c God forbid: but by their ³ fall ^a salvation is come unto the Gentiles, to ^d provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their ^e fulness? 13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as ^f I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my ministry; 14 if by any means I may ^g provoke to jealousy them that are ^h my flesh, and may ⁱ save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them is the ^k reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but ^l life from the dead? 16 And if the ^m firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches.

17 But if some of the ⁿ branches were broken off, and ^o thou, being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them ^p of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; 18 glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, ^q it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee.

19 ^r Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20 Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou ^s standest by thy faith. ^t Be not high-minded, but fear: 21 for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he spare thee.

22 Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's ^u goodness, ^v if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also ^w shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, ^x if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them

^c Take thought for things honorable in the sight of all men. ¹⁸ If it be possible, ^das much as in you lieth, ^ebe at peace with all men. ¹⁹ ^fAvenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto ^gthe wrath of God: for it is written, ^hVengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. ²⁰ But ⁱif thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for ^jin so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. ²¹ Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 Let every ^asoul be in ^bsubjection to the higher powers: for ^cthere is no power but of God; and the ^dpowers that be are ordained of God. ² Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgment. ³ For ^erulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise from the same: ⁴ for ^fhe is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for ^ghe beareth not the sword in vain: for ^hhe is a minister of God, an ⁱavenger for wrath to him that doeth evil. ⁵ Wherefore ^jye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also ^kfor conscience' sake. ⁶ For for this cause ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very thing. ⁷ ^lRender to all their dues: ^mtribute to whom tribute is due; ⁿcustom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor.

not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. 10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: ^alove therefore is the fulfilment of the law.

11 And this, knowing the season, that ^aalready it is time for you to ^aawake out of sleep: for now is ^asalvation nearer to us than when we ^afirst believed. 12 ^aThe night is far spent, and ^athe day is at hand: let us therefore cast off ^athe works of darkness, and let us put on ^athe armor of light. 13 Let us ^awalk becomingly, as in the day; ^anot in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and jealousy. 14 But ^aput ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, ^mto fulfil the lusts thereof.

14 But him that is "weak in faith ^areceive ye, yet not ^afor decision of scruples. 2 ^aOne man hath faith to eat all things: but he that is "weak eateth herbs. 3 Let not him that eateth ^aset at nought him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not ^ajudge him that eateth: for God hath ^areceived him. 4 ^aWho art thou that judgest the ^aservant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to make him stand. 5 ^aOne man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let each man be ^afully assured in his own mind. 6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for he ^agiveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks. 7 For none of us ^aliveth to himself, and none dieth to himself. 8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: ^awhether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. 9 For to this end ^aChrist died and lived again, that he might be ^aLord of both the dead and the living. 10 But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou ^aset at nought thy brother? for ^awe shall all stand before the judgment-seat of God.

11 For it is written,

"As I live, saith the Lord, to me ^aevery knee shall bow,

And every tongue shall ^aconfess to God.

12 So then ^aeach one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore ^ajudge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, that ^ano man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling.

14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that ^anothing is unclean of itself: save that to him who ^aaccounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou ^awalkest no longer in love. ^aDestroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died.

16 ^aLet not then your good be evil spoken of: 17 for the kingdom of God ^mis not eating and drinking, but righte-ousness and ^apeace and ^ajoy in the Holy Spirit.

18 For he that herein ^aserveth Christ is ^awell-pleasing to God, and approved of men.

19 So then ^alet us ^afollow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may ^aedify one another.

20 ^aOverthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. ^aAll things indeed are clean; howbeit ^ait is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21 ^aIt is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor ^ato do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.

22 The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. Happy is he that ^ajudgeth not himself in that which he ^aapproveth.

23 But ^ahe that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because ^ahe eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

15 Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the ^aweak, and not to please ourselves. 2 Let each one of us ^bplease his neighbor for that which is good, unto ^cedifying. 3 For ^aChrist also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, ¹The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me. 4 For ^cwhatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through ²patience and through comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. 5 Now the ¹God of ²patience and of comfort grant you ³to be of the same mind one with another according to Christ Jesus: 6 that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify ^{3a}the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. 7 Wherefore ⁱreceive ye one another, even as Christ also received ⁴you, to the glory of God. 8 For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of ^kthe circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm ^lthe promises ^{given}unto the fathers, 9 and that ^mthe Gentiles might ⁿglorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS

Salutation. Thanksgiving. Exhortation to Unity

1 Paul, ^acalled to be an apostle ^bof Jesus Christ ^cthrough the will of God, and ^dSosthenes ^eour brother, ^funto ^gthe church of God which is at ^hCorinth, ⁱeven them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, ^jcalled to be saints, with all that ^kcall upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours: ^lGrace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴ I thank ^mmy God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; ⁿthat in everything ye were ^oenriched in him, in all ^putterance and ^qall knowledge; ^r6 even as ^sthe testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: ^t7 so that ye come behind in no gift; ^uwaiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; ^v8 ^wwho shall also confirm you unto the end, ^xthat ye be unreprouvable in ^ythe day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹ God is faithful, through whom ye were ^zcalled into the ^{aa}fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

¹⁰ Now ^{ab}I beseech you, ^{ac}brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and ^{ad}that there be no ^{ae}divisions among you; but ^{af}that ye be perfected together in ^{ag}the same mind and in the same judgment. ¹¹ For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by ^{ah}them that are of the household of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. ¹² Now this I mean, that ^{ai}each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of ^{aj}Apollos; and I of ^{ak}Cephas; and I of Christ. ¹³ ^{al}Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye ^{am}baptized into the name

¹⁸ For the word of the cross is to ^kthem that ⁸perish ⁷foolishness; but unto us who ⁹are saved it is ^mthe power of God. ¹⁹ For it is written,

"Christ the Power of God and the Wisdom of God." God's Choice the World's Foolishness. True and False Wisdom;

stumblingblock, and unto Gentiles ^afoolishness; 24 but unto ¹them that are ^bcalled, both Jews and Greeks, Christ ^cthe power of God, and ^dthe wisdom of God. 25 Because the ^efoolishness of God is wiser than men; and ^fthe weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ²behold your ³calling, brethren, that ⁴not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are ⁵called: 27 but ⁶God chose the foolish things of ⁷the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and God chose the weak things of ⁸the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong; 28 and the base things of ⁹the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, ¹⁰yea ¹¹and ¹²the things that are not, that he might ¹³bring to nought the things that are: 29 that ¹⁴no flesh should glory before God. 30 But of him are ye in ¹⁵Christ Jesus, who was made unto us ¹⁶wisdom from God, ¹⁷and ¹⁸righteousness and ¹⁹sanctification, and ²⁰redemption: 31 that, according as it is written, ²¹He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

2 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came ²not with excellency of ³speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you ⁴the ⁵testimony of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything among you, save ⁶Jesus Christ, and him crucified. 3 And I ⁷was with you in ⁸weakness, and in ⁹fear, and in much trembling. 4 And my ¹⁰speech and my ¹¹preaching were ¹²not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of ¹³the Spirit and of power: 5 that your faith should not ¹⁴stand in the wisdom of men, but in ¹⁵the power of God.

6 We speak wisdom, however, among them that are ⁷fullgrown: yet a wisdom not of ⁸this ⁹world, nor of the rulers of ¹⁰this ¹¹world, who are ¹²coming to nought: 7 but we speak God's wisdom in a ¹³mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, which God ¹⁴foreordained before the ¹⁵worlds unto our glory: 8 ¹⁶which none of the rulers of ¹⁷this ¹⁸world hath known: for had they known it, they would not have crucified ¹the Lord of glory: 9 but as it is written,

¹⁰ Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,

And ¹¹which entered not into the heart of man,

Whatsoever things God prepared for them that love him.

10 ¹² But unto us God revealed ¹³them ¹⁴through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the ¹⁵deep things of God.

11 For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the ¹⁶spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God. 12 But we ¹⁷received, not the spirit of ¹⁸the ¹⁹world, but the spirit which is from God; that we might know ²⁰the things that were freely given to us of God. 13 Which things also we speak, ²¹not in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; ²²combining spiritual things with spiritual words. 14 Now the ²³natural man ²⁴receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are ²⁵foolishness unto him; and he cannot know them, because they are spiritually ²⁶judged. 15 But he that is ²⁷spiritual ²⁸judgeth all things, and he himself is ²⁹judged of no man. 16 For ³⁰who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or ^blife, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours; 23 and ^cye are Christ's; and ^dChrist is God's.

4 Let a man so account of us, as of ^eministers of Christ, and ^fstewards of ^gthe mysteries of God. 2 Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. 3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be ^hjudged of you, or of man's ⁱjudgment: yea, I ^jjudge not mine own self. 4 For I ^kknow nothing against myself; yet am I not hereby ^ljustified: but he that ^mjudgeth me is the Lord. 5 Wherefore ⁿjudge nothing before the time, ^ountil the Lord come, who will both ^pbring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man ^qhave his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to ^rgo beyond ^sthe things which are written; that no one of you be ^tpuffed up ^ufor the one against the other.

7 For who maketh thee to differ? and ^vwhat hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not received it? 8 ^wAlready are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have come to reign without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. 9 For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, as men ^xdoomed to death: for we are ^ymade a spectacle unto the world, ^zboth to angels and men.

10 We are ^{aa}fools for Christ's sake, but ^{ab}ye are wise in Christ; ^{ac}we are weak, but ye are strong; ^{ad}ye have glory, but we have dishonor. 11 Even unto this present hour we both ^{ae}hunger, and thirst,

14 I write not these things to ^e shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved ^f children. 15 For though ye have ten thousand ^g tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers; for in ^h Christ Jesus I ⁱ begat you through the ^{2k} gospel. 16 I beseech you therefore, be ye ^j imitators of me. 17 For this cause ^m have I sent unto you ⁿ Timothy, who is my ^o beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which are in Christ, ^p even as I teach everywhere in every church. 18 Now some are ^q puffed up, as though I were not ^r coming to you. 19 But I ^s will come to you shortly, ^t if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them that are ^u puffed up, but the power. 20 For the kingdom of God is ^v not in word, but in power. 21 What will ye? ^w shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

5 It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath ^x his father's wife. 2 And ^y ye are ^z puffed up, and ⁴ did not rather ⁵ mourn, that he that had done this deed might be ⁶ taken away from among you. 3 For I verily, being ^a absent in body but present in spirit, have already as though I were present judged him that hath so wrought this thing, 4 ^b in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, ^c with the power of our Lord Jesus, 5 to ^d deliver such a one unto ^e Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in ^f the day of the Lord ^g Jesus. 6 ^h Your glorying is not good. ⁱ Know ye not that ^j a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? 7 Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our ^k passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: 8 wherefore let us ^l keep the feast, ^m not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in my epistle to ⁿ have no company with fornicators; 10 ^o not at all meaning with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with ^p idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world: 11 but ^q as it is, I wrote unto you not to keep company, if any man that is named ^r a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or ^s an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to eat. 12 For what have I to do with judging ^t them that are without? ^u Do not ye judge them that are within? 13 But them that are without God judgeth. ^v Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

6 Dare any of you, having a matter against ^w his neighbor, go to law before the unrighteous, and ^x not before the saints? 2 ^y Or know ye not that ^z the saints shall judge ¹ the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy ¹⁰ to judge the smallest matters? 3 ^a Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? 4 If then ye have ¹¹ to judge things pertaining to this life, ¹² do ye set them to judge who are of no account in the church? 5 ¹³ I say this to move you to shame. 13 What, cannot there be found among you one wise man who shall be able to decide between his ¹⁴ brethren, 6 but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before ¹⁵ unbelievers? 7 Nay, already

Concerning Virgins. Concerning Things sacrificed to Idols

And ^aso ordain I in ^ball the churches. 18 Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become ^cuncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision? ^dlet him not be circumcised. 19 ^eCircumcision is nothing; and uncircumcision is nothing; but ^fthe keeping of the commandments of God. 20 ^gLet each man abide in that calling wherein he was called. 21 Wast thou called being a bond-servant? care not for it: ^hay, even if thou canst become free, use ⁱit rather. 22 For he that was called in the Lord being a bond-servant, is ^jthe Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called being free, is ^kChrist's bond-servant. 23 ^lYe were bought with a price; become not bond-servants of men. 24 Brethren, ^mlet each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins I have ⁿno commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgment, as one that hath ^oobtained mercy of the Lord to be trustworthy. 26 I think therefore that this is good by reason of the ^pdistress that is upon us, namely, that ^qit is good for a man ^rto be as he is. 27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife. 28 But shouldest thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Yet such shall have tribulation in the flesh: and I would spare you. 29 But this I say, brethren, ^sthe time ^tis shortened, that henceforth both those that have wives may be as though they had none; 30 and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, as though they possessed not; 31 and those that use the world, as not ^uusing it to the full: for ^vthe fashion of this world passeth away. 32 But I would have you to be free from cares. He that is ^wunmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord: 33 but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may please his ^xwife, 34 and is divided. So also the woman that is unmarried and the virgin is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I say for your own profit; not that I may cast a ^ysnare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction. 36 But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his ^zvirgin daughter, if she be ^{aa}past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them marry. 37 But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own ^{ab}virgin daughter, shall do well. 38 So then both he that giveth his own ^{ac}virgin daughter in marriage doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do better. 39 ^{ad}A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be ^{ae}dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only ^{af}in the Lord. 40 But she is happier if she abide as she is, ^{ag}after my judgment: and I think that I also have the Spirit of God.

8 Now concerning ^{ah}things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have ^{ai}knowledge. Knowledge ^{aj}puffeth up, but love ^{ak}edifieth. 2 ^{al}If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, he ^{am}knoweth not yet as he ought to know; 3 but if any man loveth God, the same ^{an}is known by him. 4 Concerning therefore the eating of ^{ao}things sacrificed to idols, we know that ^{ap}no idol is anything in the world, and that ^{aq}there is no God but one. 5 For though there be ^{ar}that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there are gods many, and lords many; 6 yet to us ^{as}there is one God, ^{at}the Father, ^{au}of whom are all things, and we unto him; and ^{av}one Lord, Jesus Christ, ^{aw}through whom are all things, and we through him. 7 Howbeit there is not in all men "that knowledge: but ⁶some, being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and their conscience being weak is defiled. 8 But food will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, ²are we the worse; nor, if we eat, ³are we the better. 9 But ⁴take heed lest by any means this ⁵liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to the ⁶weak. 10 For if a man see thee who hast ^aknowledge sitting at meat in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, ^bbe emboldened to eat ^cthings sacrificed to idols? 11 For ^dthrough ^ethy knowledge he that is weak ^fperisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died. 12 ^hAnd thus, sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, ye sin ⁱagainst Christ. 13 Wherefore, ^kif meat causeth my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I cause not my brother to stumble.

Is it for ^bthe oxen that God careth, 10 or saith he it ^cassuredly for our sake? Yea, ^dfor our sake it was written: because ^ehe that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that gain the weak: I am become ^aall things to all men, ^bthat I may by all means ^csave some. 23 And I do all things for the ¹gospel's sake, that I may be a joint partaker thereof. 24 ^dKnow ye not that they that run in a ²race run all, but one receiveth ^ethe prize? Even so ^frun; that ye may attain. 25 And every man that ^gstriveth in the games exerciseth self-control in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible ^hcrown; but we an incorruptible. 26 I therefore so ⁱrun, as not uncertainly; so ^jfight I, as not ^kbeating the air: 27 but I ^lbuffet ^mmy body, and bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I ⁿhave preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

10 For ¹I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, that our fathers were all ^munder the cloud, and all ⁿpassed through the sea; 2 and were all ^obaptized ^punto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; 3 and did all ^qeat the same spiritual food; 4 and did all ^rdrink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was ^sChrist. 5 Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for ^tthey were overthrown in the wilderness. 6 Now ^uthese things were our ^vexamples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as ^wthey also lusted. 7 Neither be ye ^xidolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, ^yThe people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to ^zplay. 8 Neither let us commit fornication, as ^{aa}some of them committed, and fell in one day ^{ab}three and twenty thousand. 9 Neither let us make trial of the ^{ac}Lord, as ^{ad}some of them made trial, and perished by the serpents. 10 Neither murmur ye, ^{ae}as some of them murmured, and ^{af}perished by the ^{ag}destroyer. 11 Now these things happened unto them ^{ah}by way of ^{ai}example; and ^{aj}they were written for our admonition, upon whom ^{ak}the ends of the ages are come. 12 Wherefore let him that

Concerning Spiritual Gifts. Gifts Diverse, but the Spirit the Same. The Body one, the Members many 28 But let a man ^aprove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. 29 For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgment unto himself, if he ¹discern not the body. 30 For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few ^bsleep. 31 But if we ²discerned ourselves, we should not be judged. 32 But ³when we are judged, we are ^cchastened of the Lord, that we may not be condemned with ^dthe world. 33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another. 34 If any man is ^ehungry, let him eat ^fat home; that your coming together be not unto judgment. And the rest will I ^gset in order ^hwhensoever I come.

12 Now concerning ⁱspiritual gifts, brethren, ^kI would not have you ignorant. 2 ^lYe know that when ye were Gentiles ^mye were ⁿled away unto those ^odumb idols, howsoever ye might be led. 3 Wherefore I make known unto you, that no man speaking ^pin the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is ^qanathema; and no man can say, Jesus is ^rLord, but ^sin the Holy Spirit.

4 Now there are ^tdiversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. 5 And there are diversities of ministrations, and the same Lord. 6 And there are diversities of workings, but the same ^uGod, who worketh all things in all. 7 But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit ^vto profit withal. 8 For to one is given through the Spirit the word of ^wwisdom; and to another the word of ^xknowledge, according to the same Spirit: 9 to another ^yfaith, in the same Spirit; and to another ^zgifts of healings, in the one Spirit; 10 and to another workings of ^{aa}miracles; and to another ^{ab}prophecy; and to another ^{ac}discernings of spirits: to another ^{ad}divers ^{ae}kinds of tongues; and to another the ^{af}interpretation of tongues: 11 but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, ^{ag}dividing to each one severally even as he will.

members of the body, being many, are one body; ^{af}so also is Christ. 13 For ^{ag}in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether ^{ah}Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all made to ^{ai}drink of one Spirit. 14 For ^{aj}the body is not one member, but many. 15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling? 18 But now hath God ^{ak}set the members each one of them in the body, ^{al}even as it pleased him. 19 And if they were all one member, where were the body? 20 But now ^{am}they are many members, but one body. 21 And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. 22 Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary: 23 and those ^{an}parts of the body, which we think to be less honorable, upon these we ^{ao}bestow more abundant honor; and our uncomely ^{ap}parts have more abundant comeliness; 24 whereas our comely ^{aq}parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honor to that ^{ar}part which lacked; 25 that there should be no schism in the body; but ^{as}that the members should have the same care one for another. 26 And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or ^{at}one member is ^{au}honored, all the members rejoice with it. 27 Now ye are ^{av}the body of Christ, and ^{aw}severally members thereof. 28 And God hath ^{ax}set some in ^{ay}the church, first ^{az}apostles, secondly ^{ba}prophets, thirdly ^{bb}teachers, then ^{bc}miracles, then ^{bd}gifts of healings, helps, ^{be}governments,

"The Greatest of these is Love." Prophesying is better than Speaking with Tongues divers^a kinds of tongues. 29 Are all apostles¹ are all prophets¹ are all teachers¹ are all *workers of*¹ miracles? 30 have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all ^binterpret? 31 But ^cdesire earnestly the greater gifts. And moreover a most excellent way show I unto you.

13 If I speak with the ^atongues of men and of ^aangels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a ^aclanging cymbal. 2 And if I have the ^agift of ^aprophecy, and know all ^amysteries and ^aall knowledge; and if I have ^aall faith, so as to ^aremove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. 3 And if I ^abestow all my goods to feed the ^apoor, and if I ^agive my body ^ato be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. 4 Love ^asuffereth long, and is kind; love ^aenvieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not ^apuffed up, 5 doth not behave itself unseemly, ^aseeketh not its own, is not provoked, ^ataketh not account of evil; 6 ^arejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but ^arejoiceth with the truth; 7 ^abear-eth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. 8 Love never faileth: but whether there be^a prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be^a tongues, they shall cease; whether there be^a knowledge, it shall be done away. 9 For we ^aknow in part, and we prophesy in part; 10 but when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. 11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things. 12 For now we ^asee in a mirror, ^adarkly; but then ^aface to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know fully even as also I ^awas fully known. 13 But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the ^agreatest of these is ^alove.

14 Follow after love; yet ^adesire earnestly ^aspiritual gifts, but rather that ye may ^aprophesy. 2 For he that ^aspeaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man ^aun-

at thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? 17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not ¹ edified. 18 I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: 19 howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in mind: yet in malice be ye babes, but in mind be men. 21 In the law it is written, By men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. 22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe. 23 If therefore the whole church be assembled together and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, will they not say that ye are mad? 24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is ⁴ reproved by all, he is judged by all; 25 the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so he will fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is among you indeed.

26 What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath a psalm, hath a teaching, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying. 27 If any man speaketh in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that in turn; and let one interpret: 28 but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. 29 And let the prophets speak by two or three, and let the others discern. 30 But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, let the first keep silence. 31 For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be exhorted; 32 and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; 33 for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace.

u saints, 34 let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as also saith the law. 35 And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. 36 What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?

37 If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. 38 But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, my brethren, desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. 40 But let all things be done decently, and in order.

15 Now I make known unto you, brethren, the ¹⁰ gospel which I ¹¹ preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand, 2 by which also ye are saved, ³ if ye hold fast ¹² the word which I ¹¹ preached unto you, except ye believed ¹³ in vain. 3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received: that Christ died ⁴ for our sins according to the scriptures; 4 and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; 5 and that he appeared to Cephas; then to the twelve; 6 then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; 7 then he appeared to James; then to all the apostles; 8 and last of all, as to the church untimely born, he appeared to me also. 9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle,

Christ's Resurrection the Pledge of ours. Baptisms for the Dead. The Resurrection vindicated

because I ^apersecuted the church of God. 10 But by ^bthe grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found ^cvain; but I ^dlabored more abundantly than they all: yet ^enot I, but the grace of God which was with me. 11 Whether then ^fit be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, how say some among you that there ^gis no resurrection of the dead? 13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither hath Christ been raised: 14 and ^hif Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching ⁱvain, ^jyour faith also is ^kvain. 15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we witnessed of God that he ^lraised up ^mChrist: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead are not raised. 16 For if the dead are not raised, neither hath Christ been raised: 17 and if Christ hath not been raised, your faith is vain; ⁿye are yet in your sins. 18 Then they also that ^oare fallen asleep in Christ have perished. 19 ^pIf we have only hoped in Christ in this life, we are ^qof all men most pitiable.

20 But now ^rhath Christ been raised from the dead, the ^sfirstfruits of them that ^tare asleep. 21 For since ^uby man ^vcame death, by man ^wcame also the resurrection of the dead. 22 For ^xas in Adam all die, so also in ^yChrist shall all be made alive. 23 But each in his own order: Christ ^zthe firstfruits; then ^{aa}they that are Christ's, at ^{ab}his ^{ac}coming. 24 Then ^{ad}cometh the end, when he shall deliver up ^{ae}the kingdom to ^{af}God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished ^{ag}all rule and all authority and power. 25 For he must reign, ^{ah}till he hath put all his enemies under his feet. 26 The last enemy that shall be ^{ai}abolished is death. 27 For, He put all things in subjection under his feet. ^{aj}But when he saith, ^{ak}All things are put in subjection, it is evident that he is excepted who

29 Else what shall they do that are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? 30 why do we also stand ^cin jeopardy every hour? 31 I protest by ^dthat glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, ^eI die daily. 32 If after the manner of men I ^ffought with beasts at ^gEphesus, ^hwhat doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, ⁱlet us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die. 33 ^jBe not deceived: Evil companionships corrupt good morals. 34 ^kAwake to soberness righteously, and sin not; for some have ^lno knowledge of God: ^mI speak this to move you to shame.

35 But ⁿsome one will say, How are ^othe dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come? 36 ^pThou foolish one, that which thou thyself ^qsowest is not quickened except it die: 37 and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other kind; 38 but God giveth it a body even as it pleased him, and ^rto each seed a body of its own. 39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fishes. 40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. 41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory. 42 ^sSo also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in ^tcorruption; it is raised in ^uincorruption: 43 it is sown in dishonor; it is raised in ^vglory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:

12 For our glorying is this, the testimony of ^aour conscience, that in holiness and ^bsincerity of God, ^cnot in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. 13 For we write no other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge ^aunto the end: 14 as also ye did acknowledge us in part, that we are your glorying, even as ye also are ours, in ^athe day of our Lord Jesus.

"Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is Liberty." "Seeing we have this Ministry, we faint not"

9 ¹ For if ^a the ministration of condemnation hath glory, much rather doth the ^b ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. 11 For if that which ² passeth away was ³ with glory, much more that which remaineth is in glory.

12 ^c Having therefore such a hope, ^d we use great boldness of speech, 13 and are not as Moses, ^e who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly ^f on the end of that which ⁵ was passing away: 14 but their ⁶ minds were ⁷ hardened: for until this very day at the ⁸ reading of ^h the old covenant the same veil ⁱ remaineth, it not being revealed to them that it is done away in Christ. 15 But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. 16 ^j But whensoever ^k it shall turn to the Lord, the veil is taken away. 17 Now the Lord is the Spirit: and where ^l the Spirit of the Lord is, ^m there is liberty. 18 But we all, with unveiled face ⁿ beholding as in a mirror the ^o glory of the Lord, are ^p transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from ^q the Lord the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ^r ministry, even as we ^s obtained mercy, we ^t faint not: 2 but we have renounced the hidden ^u things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor ^v handling the word of God deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth ^w commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. 3 And even if our ^x gospel is ^y veiled, it is veiled in ^z them that ¹¹ perish: 4 in whom ^a the god of ^b this ¹² world hath ^c blinded the ^d minds of the unbelieving, ¹³ that the ¹⁴ light of the ¹⁰ gospel of the ^e glory of Christ, who is the ^f image of God, should not dawn upon them. 5 For we preach ^g not ourselves, but Christ

Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your ¹⁵ servants ¹⁶ for Jesus' sake. 6 Seeing it is God, that said, ¹⁷ Light shall shine out of darkness, who ^h shined in our hearts, to give the ¹⁴ light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in ⁱ earthen vessels, that the exceeding greatness of ^k the power may be of God, and not from ourselves; ⁸ we are ^l pressed on every side, yet not ^m straitened; ⁿ perplexed, yet not unto despair; ⁹ ^o pursued, yet not ¹² forsaken; ^q smitten down, yet not destroyed; ¹⁰ ^r always bearing about in the body the ¹⁹ dying of Jesus, that ^s the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body.

11 For we who live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh.

12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you. 13 But having the same ^t spirit of faith, according to that which is written, ²⁰ I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and therefore also we speak; 14 knowing that he that ^u raised up ²¹ the Lord Jesus ^v shall raise up us also with Jesus, and shall ^w present us with you. 15 For all things are ^y for your sakes, that the grace, being ^z multiplied through ²⁵ the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound unto the glory of God.

16 Wherefore we ^a faint not; but though our outward man is decaying, yet our ^b inward man is ^c renewed day by day. 17 For our ^d light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; 18 while we ^e look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen:

"Absent from the Body, at Home with the Lord." "In Everything commending ourselves as Ministers of God" for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

5 For we know that if the ¹earthly house of our ^{1b}tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house ¹not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. 2 For verily in this we ¹groan, longing to be ¹clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: 3 if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 4 For indeed we that are in this ¹tabernacle do ¹groan, ²being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be ¹clothed upon, that what is ¹mortal may be swallowed up of life. 5 Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who ¹gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. 6 Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, ¹whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord 7 (for ¹'we walk by faith, not by ³sight); 8 we are of good courage, I say, and are ¹willing rather to be absent from the body, and ¹'to be at home with the Lord. 9 Wherefore also we ¹'make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be ¹well-pleasing unto him. 10 For we must all be made manifest before ¹'the judgment-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things ¹done ⁵in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the ¹'fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are ¹'made manifest also in your consciences. 12 We are not ¹'again commending ourselves unto you, but 1 speak as giving you ¹'occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appearance, and not in heart. 13 For whether we ¹'are ¹'beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober mind, it is unto you. 14 For the love of Christ ¹'constraineth us; because we thus judge, that ¹'one died for all, therefore all died; 15 and he died for all, that they that live should no longer ¹'live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Wherefore we henceforth know no man ¹'after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is ¹'in Christ, ¹'he is ¹'a new creature: ¹'the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. 18 But ¹'all things are of God, ¹'who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us the ¹'ministry of reconciliation; 19 to wit, that ¹'God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, ¹'not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having ¹'committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 We are ¹'ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, ¹'as though God were entreating by us: we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be ye ¹'reconciled to God. 21 Him who ¹'knew no sin he made to be ¹'sin on our behalf; that we might become the ¹'righteousness of God 6 in him. 1 And ¹'working together with him ¹'we entreat also that ye receive not ¹'the grace of God in vain 2 (for he saith,

¹'At an acceptable time I hearkened unto thee,

And in a day of salvation did I succor thee:

behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation): 3 ¹'giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not blamed; 4 but in everything ¹'commending ourselves, as ¹'ministers of God, ¹'in much ¹⁰'patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, 5 in ¹'stripes, in ¹'imprisonments, in ¹'tumults, in labors, in watchings, in ¹'fastings; 6 in pureness, in ¹'knowledge, in ¹'longsuffering, in kindness, in the ¹'Holy Spirit, in ¹'love unfeigned, 7 in ¹'the word of truth, in ¹'the power of God; ¹'by ¹'the armor of

14 Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness and iniquity? or what communion hath light with darkness? 15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what portion hath a believer with an unbeliever? 16 And what agreement hath a temple of God with idols? for we are a temple of the living God; even as God said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 17 Wherefore

2 Open your hearts to us: we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man. 3 I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. 4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying on your behalf: I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even when we were come into Macedonia our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; without were fightings, within were fears. 6 Nevertheless he that comforteth the lowly, even God, comforted us by the coming of Titus; 7 and not by his coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced yet more.

8 For though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it: though I did regret it (for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though but for a season), 9 I now rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing. 10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but the sorrow of the world worketh death. 11 For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea what clearing of yourselves, yea what indignation, yea what fear, yea what longing, yea what zeal, yea what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. 12 So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of God. 13 Therefore we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit hath been refreshed by you all. 14 For if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you in truth, so our glorying also which I made before Titus was found to be truth. 15 And his affection is more abun-

8 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been ^agiven in the churches of ^cMacedonia; 2 how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto ^dthe riches of their ^eliberality. 3 For ^faccording to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, 4 beseeching us with much entreaty in regard of ^hthis grace and the fellowship in the ⁱministering to the saints: 5 and this, not as we had hoped, but first they ^kgave their own selves to the Lord, and to us through ^lthe will of God. 6 Inasmuch that we ^mexhorted ⁿTitus, that as he had ^omade a beginning before, so he would also complete in you ^pthis grace also. 7 But as ye ^qabound ^rin everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in ^syour love to us, see that ye ^tabound in this grace also. 8 I speak ^unot by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. 9 For ye know ^vthe grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, ^wthough he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. 10 And herein I ^xgive my judgment: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning ^ya year ago, not only to do, but also to will. 11 But now complete the doing also; that as there was the ^zreadiness to will, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. 12 For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable ^{aa}according as a man hath, not according as he hath not. 13 For I say not this that others may be eased and ye distressed; 14 but by equality: your abundance being a ^{ab}supply at this present time for ^{ac}their want, that their abundance also may become a ^{ad}supply for ^{ae}your want; that there may be equality: 15 as it

16 But ^athanks be to God, who ^bputteth the same earnest care for you into the heart of ^cTitus. 17 For he accepted indeed our ^dexhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord. 18 And we have sent together with him ^ethe brother whose praise in the ^fgospel is spread through ^gall the churches; 19 ^hand not only so, but who was also ⁱappointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of ^jthis grace, which is ministered by us to the glory of the Lord, and to show our ^kreadiness: 20 avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this bounty which is ministered by us: 21 for we ^ltake thought for things honorable, not only in ^mthe sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. 22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he hath in you. 23 Whether any inquire about ⁿTitus, he is my ^opartner and my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our ^pbrethren, they are the ^qmessengers of the churches, they are ^rthe glory of Christ. 24 ^sShow ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of our ^tglorying on your behalf.

9 For as touching the ^aministering to the saints, ^bit is superfluous for me to write to you: 2 for I know your readiness, of which I ^cglory on your behalf to them of ^dMacedonia, that ^eAchaia hath been prepared for ^fa year past; and ^gyour zeal hath stirred up ^hvery many of them. 3 But I have sent the brethren, that our ⁱglorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect; that, ^jeven as I said, ye may be prepared: 4 lest by any means, if there come with me any of ^kMacedonia and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be put to shame in this confidence. 5 I thought it necessary therefore to

6 But this I say, ^eHe that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth ³bountifully shall reap also ³bountifully. 7 Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart; ^fnot ⁴grudgingly, or of necessity: for ^gGod loveth a cheerful giver. 8 And ^hGod is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto every good work: 9 as it is written,

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE GALATIANS

Salutation. The Galatians' Apostasy surprising. The Gospel I preach came from God; was not learned at Jerusalem;

1 Paul, ^aan apostle (^bnot from men, neither through ¹man, but ^cthrough Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who ^draised him from the dead), ² and all ^ethe brethren that are with me, unto ^fthe churches of Galatia: ³ Grace to you and peace ²from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, ⁴ who ^hgave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of ⁱthis present evil ³world, according to the will of ^{4k}our God and Father: ⁵ ^jto whom be the glory ⁵for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that ye are ^mso quickly removing from ⁿhim that called you in the grace of Christ unto a ^odifferent ⁶gospel; ⁷ ⁷which is not another gospel: only there are some that ^ptrouble you, and would pervert the ⁶gospel of Christ. ⁸ But though we, or ⁹an angel from heaven, should ⁸preach ⁹unto you any gospel ¹⁰other than that which we ⁸preached unto you, let him be ^ranathema. ⁹ As we ⁱhave said before, so say I now again, ⁱIf any man ⁸preacheth unto you any gospel ¹⁰other than that which ye received, let him be ^ranathema. ¹⁰ For am I now ^useeking the favor of men, or of God? or am I striving to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a ^{11v}servant of Christ.

11 For ^zI make known to you, brethren, as touching the ⁶gospel which was ⁸preached by me, that it is ^vnot after man. ¹² For ^zneither did I receive it from ¹man, nor was I taught it, but it came to me through ^arevelation of Jesus Christ. ¹³ For ye have which the Covenant of Faith antedates. The Law preparatory to the Gospel. Under the Law we were Wards and ^aworketh ¹miracles ²among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the ^{3b}hearing of faith? ⁶Even as ^cAbraham ^dbelieved God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. ⁷^eKnow therefore that ^athey that are of faith, the same are ^csons of Abraham. ⁸And the scripture, foreseeing that God ^ewould justify the ⁷Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, saying, ⁸In thee shall all the nations be blessed. ⁹So then ^fthey that are of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham. ¹⁰For as many as are of the works of the law are under a curse: for it is written, ⁹Cursed is every one who continueth not in all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them. ¹¹Now that ^gno man is justified ¹⁰by the law before God, is evident: for, ^{11a}The righteous shall live by faith; ¹²and the law is not of faith; but, ¹²ⁱHe that doeth them shall live in them. ¹³Christ ^kredeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us; for it is written, ¹³Cursed is every one that hangeth on ^la tree: ¹⁴that ^mupon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that we ⁿmight receive ^othe promise of the Spirit through faith.

¹⁵^pBrethren, ^qI speak after the manner of men: ^rThough it be but a man's covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. ¹⁶Now ^sto Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, ¹⁴And to thy seed, which is Christ. ¹⁷Now this I say: A covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came ^tfour hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as to make the promise of none effect. ¹⁸For ^uif the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise: but ^vGod hath granted it to Abraham by promise. ¹⁹^wWhat then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, till ^xthe seed should come to whom the promise hath been made; and it was ^yordained through angels ^zby the hand of a mediator. ²⁰Now ^{aa}a mediator is not ^{ab}a mediator of one; but God is one. ²¹Is the law then against the promises of God? ^{ac}God forbid: for ^{ad}if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. ²²But the scripture ^{ae}shut up all ^{af}things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

²³But before faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, ^{ag}shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. ²⁴So that the law is become our ^{ah}tutor to bring us unto Christ, that ^{ai}we might be justified by faith. ²⁵But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a ^{aj}tutor. ²⁶For ye are all ^{ak}sons of God, through faith, in ^{al}Christ Jesus. ²⁷For as many of you as were ^{am}baptized into Christ did ^{an}put on Christ. ²⁸^{ao}There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female; for ^{ap}ye all are one ^{aq}man in ^{ar}Christ Jesus. ²⁹And if ^{as}ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, heirs according to ^{at}promise.

4 But I say that so long as ^{au}the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant though he is lord of all; ^{av}2 but is under guardians and stewards until the day appointed of the father. ³So we also, when we were children, were held ^{aw}in bondage under the ^{ax}rudiments of the world: ⁴but when ^{ay}the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son, ^{az}born of a woman, born ^{ba}under the law, ⁵that he might redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of ^{bb}sons. ⁶And because ye are sons, ^{bc}God sent forth the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, ^{bd}Abba, Father. ⁷So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and "if a son, then an heir through God.

8 Howbeit at that time, ^anot knowing God, ye were ^cin bondage to ^athem that by nature are no gods: 9 but now that ye have come to know God, or rather to be ^cknown by God, ^fhow turn ye back again to the weak and beggarly ¹⁹rudiments, whereunto ye desire to be ^cin bondage over again? 10 Ye ^aobserve days, and months, and seasons, and years. 11 I am afraid of you, lest by any means I have bestowed labor upon you in vain.

12 I beseech you, ^abrethren, ^kbecome as I am, for I also am become as ye are. Ye did me no wrong: 13 but ye know that because of an infirmity of the flesh I ²preached the gospel unto you the ³first time: 14 and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor ⁴rejected; but ⁱye received me as an angel of God, even as ^mChrist Jesus. 15 Where then is that gratulation ^oof yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. 16 So then am I become your enemy, ⁶ⁿby telling you the truth? 17 They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you out, that ye may seek them. 18 But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and ⁷not only when I am present with you. 19 ^pMy little children, of whom ^qI am again in travail until ^rChrist be formed in you—20 but I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my tone; for ^sI am perplexed about you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not ^thear the law? 22 For it is written, ⁷that Abraham had two sons, one by the handmaid, and one by the free-woman. 23 ⁸Howbeit "the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but ^uthe son by the free-woman is born through promise. 24 Which things ^vcontain an allegory: for these women are two covenants; one from ^wmount Sinai, bearing children unto ^xbondage, which is Hagar. 25 ⁹Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. 26 But ²the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. 27 For it is written,

¹⁰Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her that hath the husband.

28 Now ¹¹we, brethren, ^aas Isaac was, are ^bchildren of promise. 29 But as then ^che that was born after the flesh ^dpersecuted him that was born after the Spirit, ^eso also it is now. 30 Howbeit what saith the scripture? ¹²Cast out the handmaid and her son: for ^fthe son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. 31 Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but of the freewoman.

5 ⁹For freedom did Christ set us free: ^astand fast therefore, and be not entangled again in a ^byoke of bondage.

2 Behold, ^kI Paul say unto you, that, if ye receive ⁱcircumcision, Christ will profit you nothing. 3 Yea, I ^mtestify again to every man that receiveth ⁱcircumcision, that he is a debtor to ⁿdo the whole law. 4 Ye are ¹³severed from Christ, ye who would be justified by the law; ye are ^ofallen away from grace. 5 For we through the Spirit by faith ^pwait for the hope of righteousness. 6 For in ^qChrist Jesus ^rneither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but ^sfaith ¹⁴working through love. 7 Ye were ^trunning well; who hindered you that ye should not obey the truth? 8 This persuasion came not of ^uhim that calleth you. 9 ^vA little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. 10 ^wI have confidence to you-ward in the Lord,

The Spirit and the Flesh contrary the One to the Other. Exhortation to Forbearance and Helpfulness that ye ^awill be none otherwise minded: but he that ^btroubleth you shall bear his judgment, who-soever he be. 11 But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still ^cpersecuted? then hath ^athe stumbling-block of the cross been done away. 12 I would that ^cthey that unsettle you would even ¹go beyond circumcision.

13 For ye, brethren, were called for ^dfreedom; ^honly use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love ⁱbe servants one to another. 14 For ^kthe whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: ²¹Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. 15 But if ye ^mbite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 But I say, ⁿWalk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil ^othe lust of the flesh. 17 For ^pthe flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; ^qthat ye may not do the things that ye would. 18 But if ye are ^rled by the Spirit, ^sye are not under the law. 19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are ^tthese: ^ufornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, 20 idolatry, ^vsorcery, enmities, ^wstrife, jealousies, wraths, ^xfactions, divisions, ^yparties, 21 envyings, ^zdrunkenness, revellings, and such like; of which I ¹forewarn you, even as I did ⁴forewarn you, that they who practise such things shall not ^binherit the kingdom of God. 22 But ^cthe fruit of the Spirit is ^dlove, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, ^efaithfulness, 23 meekness, ^fself-control; against such ^gthere is no law. 24 And they that are of ^hChrist Jesus have ⁱcrucified the flesh with the passions and ^kthe lusts thereof.

25 If we live by the Spirit, ¹by the Spirit let us also walk. 26 Let us not become ^mvainglorious, ⁿprovoking one another, envying one another.

6 Brethren, even if a man be overtaken ⁶in any trespass, ye who are ^ospiritual, ^prestore such a one ^qin a spirit of gentleness; looking to thyself, lest thou also be tempted. 2 ^rBear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil ¹the law of Christ. 3 For ²if a man thinketh himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. 4 But let each man ³prove his own work, and then shall he have his ⁴glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of ⁵his neighbor. 5 For ⁶each man shall bear his own ⁶burden.

Domestic Duties : — Wives and Husbands, Children and Parents, Servants and Masters. "Put on the Armor of God"

Lord is. 18 And ^a be not drunken with wine, wherein is ^b riot, but be ^c filled ¹ with the Spirit; 19 ^a speaking ² one to another in ^e psalms and ^f hymns and spiritual ^g songs, ^h singing and making melody with your heart to the Lord; 20 ⁱ giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to ^k God, even the Father; 21 ⁱ subjecting yourselves one to another in the ^m fear of Christ.

22 ⁿ Wives, ^o be in subjection unto your own husbands, ^p as unto the Lord. 23 For ^q the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ also is the ^r head of the church, ^s being himself ^t the saviour of the body. 24 But as the church is subject to Christ, ^u so let the wives also be to their husbands in everything. 25 ^v Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and ^w gave himself up for it; 26 ^x that he might sanctify it, having ^y cleansed it by the ^z washing of water with ¹ the word, 27 that he might ^a present the church to himself a glorious ^b church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be ^c holy and without blemish. 28 Even so ought husbands also to ^d love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself: 29 for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ also the church; 30 because we are ^e members of his ^f body. 31 ^g For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh. 32 This mystery is great; but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church. 33 Nevertheless do ye also severally ^h love each one his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she ⁱ fear her husband.

6 ^a Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. 2 ^b Honor thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), 3 that it may be live long on the ^c earth. 4 And, ye ^d fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but ^e nurture them

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE PHILIPPIANS

Salutation. Thanksgiving and Supplication on the Readers' Behalf. "To live is Christ, to die is Gain"

1 ^aPaul and ^bTimothy, ^{1c}servants of ^aChrist Jesus, to ^eall the ^fsaints in Christ Jesus that are at ^gPhilippi, with the ^{2h}bishops and ⁱdeacons: 2 ^kGrace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ⁱI thank my God upon all my remembrance of you, 4 always ^min every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, 5 for your ⁿfellowship in furtherance of the ^{3o}gospel ^pfrom the first day until now; 6 being confident of this very thing, that he who began a good work in you will perfect it until ^qthe day of Jesus Christ: 7 even as ^rit is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because ¹I ^shave you in my heart, inasmuch as, both in ^tmy bonds and in the ^udefence and confirmation of the ^{3o}gospel, ye all are partakers with me of grace. 8 For ^vGod is my witness, how I long after you all in the tender mercies of ^wChrist Jesus. 9 And this I pray, that ^xyour love may abound yet more and more in ^yknowledge and all discernment; 10 so that ye may ^zapprove the things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and void of offence unto ^athe day of Christ; 11 being filled with the ^bfruits of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things ^cwhich happened unto me ^dhave fallen out rather unto the progress of the ^{3o}gospel; 13 so that ^emy bonds became manifest in Christ ^fthroughout the whole praetorian guard, and to ^gall the rest; 14 and that most of the brethren in the Lord, ^hbeing

Sundry Exhortations: to Lowliness of Mind -- the Mind of Christ; to Zeal and Blamelessness. Commendation of Jesus in me through my presence with you again. 27 Only ¹let your manner of life be ^aworthy of the ^bgospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, that ye ^cstand fast in ^done spirit, with one soul ^estriving ^ffor the faith of the ^ggospel; 28 and in nothing alighted by the adversaries: which is for them ^han evident token of perdition, but of your salvation, and that from God; 29 because to you ⁱit hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to ^jsuffer in his behalf: 30 having the same ^kconflict which ^lye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

2 If there is therefore any exhortation in Christ, if any ^mconsolation of love, if any ⁿfellowship of the Spirit, if any ^otender mercies and compassions, 2 ^pmake full my joy, that ye ^qbe of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, ^rof one mind; 3 ^sdoing nothing through ^tfaction or through ^uvainglory, but in lowliness of mind ^veach counting other better than himself; 4 ^wnot looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. 5 ^xHave this mind in you, which was also in ^yChrist Jesus: 6 who, ^zexisting in the ^{aa}form of God, ^{ab}counted not the being on an equality with God a thing to be grasped, 7 but ^{ac}emptied himself, taking the form of a ^{ad}servant, ^{ae}being made in the likeness of men; 8 and being found in fashion as a man, ^{af}he humbled himself, becoming ^{ag}obedient ^{ah}even unto death, yea, the ^{ai}death of the cross. 9 ^{aj}Wherefore also God ^{ak}highly exalted him, and gave unto him ^{al}the name which is above every name; 10 that in the name of Jesus ^{am}every knee should bow, of ^{an}things in heaven and ^{ao}things on earth and ^{ap}things under the earth, 11 and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is ^{aq}Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. 29 ^a Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy; and ^b hold such in honor: 30 because ^c for the work of ¹ Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life to ^d supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

3 Finally, my brethren, ^e rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you it is safe. 2 Beware of the ^f dogs, beware of the ^g evil workers, beware of the concision: 3 for ^h we are the circumcision, who ⁱ worship by the Spirit of God, and ^k glory in ¹ Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh: 4 though ^m I myself might have confidence even in the flesh: if any other man ⁿ thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more: 5 ^o circumcised the eighth day, of the ^p stock of Israel, of the ^q tribe of Benjamin, a ^r Hebrew of Hebrews; as touching the law, ^s a Pharisee; 6 as touching zeal, ^t persecuting the church; as touching the ^u righteousness which is in the law, found ^v blameless. 7 Howbeit ^w what things were ^x gain to me, these have I counted loss for Christ. 8 Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the ^y knowledge of ¹ Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but ^z refuse, that I may gain Christ, 9 and be found in him, ⁴ not having ^a a righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, ² the righteousness which is from God ^b by faith: 10 that I may ^c know him, and ^d the power of his resurrection, and the ^e fellowship of his sufferings, becoming ^f conformed unto his death; 11 if by any means I may ^g attain unto the resurrection from the dead. 12 Not that I have already ^h obtained, or am already ⁱ made perfect: but I press on, if so be that I may ^j lay hold on that for which also I ^k was laid hold on by ¹ Christ Jesus. 13 Brethren, I count not myself ² yet to have laid hold: but one thing I do, ³ forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, 14 I ⁴ press on toward the goal unto the prize of the ⁵ high calling of God in ⁶ Christ Jesus. 15 Let us therefore, as many as are ⁷ perfect, be thus minded: and if in anything ye are ⁸ otherwise minded, this also shall ⁹ God reveal unto you: 16 only, whereunto we have attained, ¹⁰ by that same rule let us walk.

17 Brethren, be ye ¹¹ imitators together of me, and mark them that so walk even as ye have us for an ¹² ensample. 18 For ¹³ many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even ¹⁴ weeping, that they are the enemies of ¹⁵ the cross of Christ: 19 whose end is perdition, whose god is ¹⁶ the belly, and whose ¹⁷ glory is in their shame, who ¹⁸ mind earthly things. 20 For ¹⁹ our ²⁰ citizenship is in heaven; whence also we ²¹ wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: 21 who shall ²² fashion anew the body of our humiliation, that it may be ²³ conformed to the ²⁴ body of his glory, ²⁵ according to the working whereby he is able even to ²⁶ subject all things unto himself.

4 Wherefore, my brethren beloved and ²⁷ longed for, my joy and crown, so ²⁸ stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to ²⁹ be of the same mind in the Lord. 3 Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they labored with me in the ³⁰ gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my ³¹ fellow-workers, whose ³² names are in the book of life.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE COLOSSIANS

Salutation. Thanksgiving for their Attainments and Prayer for their Progress. The Preëminence of the Son

1 ^aPaul, ^ban apostle of Christ Jesus ^cthrough the will of God, and ^dTimothy ^eour brother, ² ²to the ^esaints and faithful brethren in Christ that are at Colossæ: ^fGrace to you and peace from God our Father.

3 ³We give thanks to God ^hthe Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, ⁴ ⁴having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the ^klove which ye have toward ^lall the saints, ⁵ because of the ^mhope which is ⁿlaid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye ^oheard before in the word of the truth of the ³gospel, ⁶ which is come unto you; even as it is also ^pin all the world bearing ^qfruit and increasing, as it doth in you also, since the day ye ^rheard and knew the grace of God in truth; ⁷ even as ye learned of ^sEpaphras our ^tbeloved fellow-servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ on ^uour behalf, ⁸ who also declared unto us your ^vlove in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, ^vsince the day we heard it, ^xdo not cease to pray and make request for you, that ye may be filled with the ^yknowledge of his will in all spiritual ^zwisdom and understanding, ¹⁰ to ^{aa}walk worthily of the Lord ^{ab}unto all ^{ac}pleasing, ^{ad}bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing ^{ae}in the knowledge of God; ¹¹ ^{af}strengthened ^{ag}with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto all ^{ah}patience and ^{ai}longsuffering with joy; ¹² giving thanks unto ^{aj}the Father, who made ^{ak}us meet to be partakers of ^{al}the inheritance of the saints in ^{am}light; ¹³ who delivered us out of the power of

^{an}darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of ^{ao}the Son of his love; ¹⁴ ^{ap}in whom we have our redemption, the forgiveness of our sins; ¹⁵ who is the ^{aq}image of the ^{ar}invisible God, the ^{as}firstborn of all creation; ¹⁶ for ^{at}in him were all things created, ^{au}in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether ^{av}thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; ^{aw}all things have been created through him, and unto him; ¹⁷ and he is ^{ax}before all things, and in him all things ^{ay}consist. ¹⁸ And he is the ^{az}head of ^{ba}the body, the church: who is ^{bb}the beginning, ^{bc}the firstborn from the dead; ¹² that in all things he might have the preëminence. ¹⁹ ¹³ For it was ^{bd}the good pleasure of ^{be}the Father that in him should all ^{bf}the fulness dwell; ²⁰ and through him to ^{bg}reconcile all things ¹⁴unto ^{bh}himself, having made ^{bi}peace through ^{bj}the blood of his cross; through him, ^{bk}I say, ^{bl}whether things upon the earth, or things in the heavens. ²¹ And you, ^{bm}being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil works, ²² yet now ^{bn}hath he ^{bo}reconciled in the ^{bp}body of his flesh through death, to ^{bq}present you ^{br}holy and without blemish and unreprouable before him: ²³ if so be that ye continue in the faith, ^{bs}grounded and stedfast, and not moved away from the ^{bt}hope of the ^{bu}gospel

which ye heard, which was preached^a in all creation under heaven; ^bwhereof I Paul was made a ^cminister.

24 ^aNow I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and ^dfill up on my part that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for ^ehis body's sake, which is the church; 25 ^fwhereof I was made a minister, according to the ^hdispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, to fulfil the word of God, 26 ⁱeven ^jthe mystery which hath been hid ^kfor ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, 27 to whom ^lGod was pleased to make known what is ^mthe riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is ⁿChrist in you, the ^ohope of glory; 28 whom we proclaim, ^padmonishing every man and teaching every man in all ^qwisdom, that we may ^rpresent every man ^sperfect in Christ; 29 whereunto I ^tlabor also, ^ustriving ^vaccording to his working, which worketh in me ^wmightily.

2 For I would have you know how greatly I ^xstrive for you, and for them at ^yLaodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; 2 that their ^zhearts may be comforted, they being ^{aa}knit together in love, and unto all ^{ab}riches of the ^{ac}full assurance of understanding, that they ^{ad}may know ^{ae}the mystery of God, ^{af}even Christ, 3 in whom are all ^{ag}the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden. 4 ^bThis I say, that no one may delude you with ^{ah}persuasiveness of speech. 5 For though I am ^{ai}absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your ^{aj}order, and the ^{ak}steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

ye should ^awalk worthily of God, who ^bcalleth you into his own kingdom and ^cglory.

4 ^aFinally then, ^bbrethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye received of us how ye ought to ^cwalk and to ^dplease God, even as ye do walk, — that ye ^eabound more and more. 2 For ye know what ^fcharge we gave you through the Lord Jesus. 3 For this is the will of God, ^geven your sanctification, that ye ^habstain from fornication; 4 that ⁱeach one of you know how to possess himself of his own ^jvessel in sanctification and ^khonor, 5 not in the ^lpassion of lust, even as the Gentiles who ^mknow not God; 6 that no man ⁿtransgress, and ^owrong his brother ^pin the matter: because ^qthe Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we ¹forewarned you and ^atestified. 7 For ^bGod called us not for ^cuncleanness, but in sanctification. 8 Therefore he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, who ^dgiveth his Holy Spirit unto you.

9 But concerning ^elove of the brethren ye ^fhave no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are ^gtaught of God to love one another; 10 for indeed ^hye do it toward all the brethren that are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye ⁱabound more and more; 11 and that ye ^jstudy ^kto be quiet, and to ^ldo your own business, and to ^mwork with your hands, even as we charged you; 12 that ye may ⁿwalk becomingly toward ^othem that are without, and may ^phave need of nothing.

ren, ¹in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye ²withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh ³disorderly, and not after ⁴the tradition which ⁵they received of us. 7 For yourselves know how ye ought to ⁶imitate us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you; 8 neither did we ⁷eat bread for nought at any man's hand, but in ⁸labor and travail, ⁹working night and day, that we might not burden any of you: 9 not because we have not ¹⁰the right, but to make ourselves ¹¹an ensample unto you, that ye should imitate us. 10 For even ¹²when we were with you, this we commanded you, ¹³If any will not work, neither let him eat. 11 For we hear of some that ¹⁴walk among you disorderly, that work not at all, but are ¹⁵busybodies. 12 Now them that are such we command and ¹⁶exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with ¹⁷quietness they work, and eat their own bread. 13 But ye, ¹⁸brethren, ¹⁹be not weary in well-doing. 14 And if any man obeyeth not our word by ²⁰this epistle, note that man, that ye ²¹have no company with him, to the end that he may be ²²ashamed. 15 And yet ²³count him not as an enemy, but ²⁴admonish him as a ²⁵brother.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHY

Salutation. Charge respecting Misuse of the Law. Personal Thanksgiving. The Charge reinforced

1 Paul, ^aan apostle of ^bChrist Jesus ^caccording to the commandment of ^dGod our Saviour, and ^eChrist Jesus our ^fhope; 2 unto ^gTimothy, ^hmy true child in faith: ⁱGrace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and ^jChrist Jesus our Lord.

3 As I exhorted thee to tarry at ^kEphesus, when I was going into ^lMacedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men not to ^mteach a different doctrine, ⁿneither to give heed to ^ofables and endless ^pgenealogies, which minister ^qquestionings, rather than ^ra ^sdispensation of God which is in faith; so do I now. 5 But the end of the ^tcharge is love ^uout of a pure heart and a ^vgood conscience and ^wfaith unfeigned: 6 from which things some having ^xswerved have turned aside unto ^yvain talking; 7 ^zdesiring to be ^{aa}teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor whereof they confidently affirm. 8 But we know that ^{ab}the law is good, if a man use it lawfully, 9 as knowing this, that ^{ac}law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and ^{ad}unruly, for the ^{ae}ungodly and sinners, for ^{af}murderers of fathers and ^{ag}murderers of mothers, for manslayers, 10 ^{ah}for fornicators, for ^{ai}abusers of themselves with men, for ^{aj}men-stealers, for ^{ak}liars, for ^{al}false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to ^{am}the ^{an}sound ^{ao}doctrine; 11 according to ^{ap}the ^{aq}gospel of the glory of ^{ar}the blessed God, which was ^{as}committed to my trust.

12 I thank him that ^{at}enabled me, even ^{au}Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, ^{av}appointing me to ^{aw}his service; 13

though I was before a blasphemer, and ^{ax}a persecutor, and injurious: howbeit I ^{ay}obtained mercy, because ^{az}I did it ignorantly in unbelief; 14 and the ^{ba}grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with ^{bb}faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. 15 ^{bc}Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that ^{bd}Christ Jesus came into the world to ^{be}save sinners; of whom ^{bf}I am chief; 16 howbeit for this cause I ^{bg}obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ ^{bh}show forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them that should thereafter believe on him unto eternal life. 17 Now unto the ^{bi}King ^{bj}eternal, ^{bk}immortal, ^{bl}invisible, the ^{bm}only God, ^{bn}be honor and glory ^{bo}for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This ^{bp}charge I commit unto thee, ^{bq}my child Timothy, according to the ^{br}prophecies which led the way to thee, that by them thou mayest ^{bs}war the good warfare; 19 holding ^{bt}faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust from them made shipwreck concerning ^{bu}the faith: 20 of whom is ^{bv}Hymenæus and ^{bw}Alexander; whom I ^{bx}delivered unto Satan, that they might be ^{by}taught not to blaspheme.

2 I exhort therefore, first of all, ^{ca}that ^{cb}supplications,

Prayer for Rulers. Modest Apparel. Church Officials. "The Pillar and Ground of the Truth." Apostasy foretold prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; 2 ^afor kings and all that are in high place; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and gravity. 3 This is good and acceptable in the sight of ^bGod our Saviour; 4 ^cwho would have all men to be ^dsaved, and ^ecome to the knowledge of the truth. 5 For there is ^fone God, ^gone mediator also between God and men, ^hhimself a man, Christ Jesus, 6 who ⁱgave himself a ransom for all; the ^jtestimony to be borne ^kin its own times; 7 ^lwhereunto I was appointed a ^mpreacher and ⁿan apostle (^oI speak the truth, I lie not), a teacher of ^pthe Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I ^qdesire therefore that the men pray ^rin every place, ^slifting up ^tholy hands, without wrath and ^udisputing. 9 In like manner, that ^vwomen adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly raiment; 10 but (which becometh women professing godliness) through good works. 11 ^wLet a woman learn in quietness with all subjection. 12 ^xBut I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness. 13 ^yFor Adam was first formed, then Eve; 14 and Adam was not beguiled, but ^zthe woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression; 15 but she shall be saved through ^{aa}her child-bearing, if they continue in ^{ab}faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 ^{ac}Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh the ^{ad}office of a ^{ae}bishop, he desireth a good work. 2 ^{af}The ^{ag}bishop therefore must be without reproach, ^{ah}the husband of one wife, ^{ai}temperate, sober-minded, orderly, ^{aj}given to hospitality, ^{ak}apt to teach; 3 ^{al}no brawler, no striker; but gentle, not contentious, ^{am}no lover of money; 4 one that ^{an}ruleth well his own house, having ^{ao}his children in subjection with all gravity; 5 (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of ^{ap}the church of God?) 6 not a novice, lest being ^{ma}puffed up he fall into the ^{mb}condemnation of the devil. 7 Moreover he must ^{mc}have good testimony from ^{md}them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and ^{me}the snare of the devil. 8 ^{mf}Deacons in like manner ^{mg}must be grave, not double-tongued, ^{mh}not given to much wine, ^{mi}not greedy of filthy lucre; 9 ^{mj}holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. 10 And ^{mk}let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons, if they be blameless. 11 Women in like manner ^{ml}must be grave, ^{mn}not slanderers, ^{mo}temperate, faithful in all things. 12 Let ^{mp}deacons be ^{mq}husbands of one wife, ^{mr}ruling ^{ms}their children and their own houses well. 13 For they that have served well as deacons ^{mt}gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; 15 but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know ^{na}how men ought to behave themselves in ^{nb}the house of God, which is the ^{nc}church of ndthe living God, the ^{ne}pillar and ^{nf}ground of the truth. 16 And without controversy great is ^{ng}the mystery of godliness;

Pastoral Directions to Timothy: — respecting Himself; respecting Widows; respecting Elders; giving heed to ^aseducing spirits and ^bdoctrines of demons, 2 through the hypocrisy of men that speak lies, ^{1c}branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; 3 ^aforbidding to marry, and ^acommanding ^ato abstain from meats, which ^aGod created to be ^areceived with thanksgiving by them that believe and know the truth. 4 For ^aevery creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it be ^areceived with thanksgiving: 5 for it is sanctified through ^athe word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put ^athe brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good ^aminister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the ^mgood doctrine which thou ^ahast followed until now: 7 but refuse ^aprofane and old wives' ^afables. And exercise thyself unto ^agodliness: 8 for ^abodily exercise is profitable ^afor a little; but ^agodliness is profitable for all things, ^ahaving promise of the life ^awhich now is, and of that which is to come. 9 ^aFaithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance. 10 For to this end we labor and strive, because we have ^aour hope set on ^athe living God, who is ^athe Saviour of all men, specially of them that believe. 11 ^aThese things command and teach. 12 ^aLet no man despise thy youth; but be thou ^aan ensample to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, ^ain love, in faith, in purity. 13 ^aTill I come, give heed to ^areading, to exhortation, to teaching. 14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee ^aby prophecy, with the ^alaying on of the hands of the ^apresbytery. 15 Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest unto all. 16 ^aTake heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt ^asave both thyself and them that hear thee.

5 ^aRebuke not an ^aelder, but exhort him as a father; ^athe younger men as brethren: 2 the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. 3 Honor widows that are ^awidows indeed. 4 But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, ^alet them learn first to show piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for this is ^aacceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she that is ^aa widow indeed, and desolate, ^ahath her hope set on God, and continueth in ^asupplications and prayers night and day. 6 But she that ^agiveth herself to pleasure is ^adead while she liveth. 7 ^aThese things also command, that they may be without reproach. 8 But if any provideth not for his own, and specially his own household, he hath ^adenied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. 9 Let none be ^aenrolled as a widow under threescore years old, having been ^athe wife of one man, 10 well reported of for ^agood works; if she hath brought up children, if she hath ^aused hospitality to strangers, if she ^ahath washed the saints' feet, if she hath ^arelieved the afflicted, if she hath diligently followed every good work. 11 But younger widows refuse: for when they have ^awaxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; 12 having condemnation, because they have rejected their first ^apledge. 13 And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but ^atattlers also and ^abusybodies, speaking ^athings which they ought not. 14 ^aI desire therefore that the younger ^awidows ^amarry, bear children, ^arule the household, ^agive no occasion to the adversary for reviling; 15 for already some ^aare turned aside after ^aSatan. 16 If any woman that believeth ^ahath widows, let her ^arelieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them that are ^awidows indeed.

respecting Servants; against Disputatuness and Covetousness. Final Admonitions shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, ^aThe laborer is worthy of his hire. 19 Against an ^belder receive not an accusation, except at the mouth of ^ctwo or three witnesses. 20 Them that sin ^dreprove in the sight of all, ^ethat the rest also may be in fear. 21 ^fI charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without ^gprejudice, doing nothing by partiality. 22 ^hLay hands hastily on no man, neither be ⁱpartaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. 23 Be no longer a drinker of water, but ^juse a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. 24 Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgment; and some men also they ^kfollow after. 25 In like manner also ^lthere are good works that are evident; and ^msuch as are otherwise cannot be hid.

6 ⁿLet as many as are ^oservants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, ^pthat the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. 2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are ^qbrethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that ^rpartake of the benefit are believing and beloved. ^sThese things teach and exhort.

3 If any man ^tteacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to ^usound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is ^vaccording to godliness; 4 he is ^wpuffed up, knowing nothing, but ^xdoting about ^yquestionings and ^zdisputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, ^{aa}evil surmising, ^{ab}5 wranglings of ^{ac}men corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, ^{ad}supposing that godliness is a way of gain. 6 ^{ae}But godliness with ^{af}contentment ^{ag}is great gain: 7 for ^{ah}we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; 8 but ^{ai}having food and covering ^{aj}we shall be there-with content. 9 ^{ak}But they that are minded to be rich fall into a temptation and ^{al}a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as drown men in destruction and perdition. 10 For ^{am}the love of money is a ^{an}root of all ^{ao}kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been ^{ap}led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows

11 But thou, O ^{aq}man of God, ^{ar}flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, ^{as}faith, ^{at}love, ^{au}patience, meekness. 12 ^{av}Fight the good fight of ^{aw}the faith, ^{ax}lay hold on the life eternal, ^{ay}whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess the good ^{az}confession in the sight of ^{ba}many witnesses. 13 ^{bb}I charge thee in the sight of God, who ^{bb}giveth life to all things, and of ^{bc}Christ Jesus, who ^{bd}before Pontius Pilate witnessed ^{bd}the good confession; 14 that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until the ^{be}appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: 15 which in ^{bf}its own times he shall show, who is ^{bg}the blessed and ^{bh}only Potentate, ^{bi}the ^{bj}King of ^{bk}12 kings, and ^{bl}Lord of ^{bm}13 lords; 16 ^{bn}who only hath immortality, ^{bo}dwelling in light unapproachable; ^{bp}whom no man hath seen, nor can see: ^{bq}to whom ^{br}be honor and power eternal. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in ^{bs}this present ^{bs}world, that they ^{bt}be not highminded, nor ^{bu}have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, ^{bv}who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; 18 that they do good, that they be rich in ^{bw}good works, ^{bx}that they be ready to distribute, ^{by}15 willing to communicate; 19 ^{bz}laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may ^{ca}lay hold on the life which is ^{ca}life indeed.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHY

Salutation. Timothy charged to stir up the Gift in him, and guard his Trust. Onesiphorus faithful amid Desertions

1 Paul, ^aan apostle of ^bChrist Jesus ^cthrough the will of God, according to the promise of ^dthe life which is in Christ Jesus, ^e2 to ^fTimothy, my beloved ^gchild: ^hGrace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 ⁱI thank God, whom I ^jserve from my forefathers in a ^kpure conscience, ^lhow unceasing is my remembrance of thee in my supplications, night and day ^mlonging to see thee, ⁿremembering thy tears, that I may be filled with ^ojoy; ^p5 having been reminded of the ^qunfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and ^rthy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee also. ^s6 For which cause I put thee in remembrance that thou ^tstir up ^uthe gift of God, which is in thee through the ^vlaying on of my hands. ^w7 For God gave us not ^xa spirit of fearfulness; but of power and love and ^ydiscipline. ^z8 ^{aa}Be not ashamed therefore of ^{ab}the testimony of our Lord, nor of me ^{ac}his prisoner: but ^{ad}suffer hardship with the ^{ae}gospel according to the power of God; ^{af}9 who ^{ag}saved us, and ^{ah}called us with a holy ^{ai}calling, ^{aj}not according to our works, but according to his own ^{ak}purpose and grace, which was given us in ^{al}Christ Jesus ^{am}before ^{an}times eternal, ^{ao}10 but ^{ap}hath now been manifested by the ^{aq}appearing of our Saviour ^{ar}Christ Jesus, who ^{as}abolished death, and brought life and ^{at}immortality to light through the ^{au}gospel, ^{av}11 ^{aw}whereunto I was appointed a ^{ax}preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher. ^{ay}12 For which cause I suffer also these things: yet ^{az}I am not ashamed; for I know him crowned, except he have contended lawfully. 6 ^aThe husbandman that laboreth must be the first to partake of the fruits. 7 Consider what I say; for the Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. 8 Remember Jesus Christ, ^brisen from the dead, of ^cthe seed of David, ^daccording to my ^egospel: 9 wherein I ^fsuffer hardship unto ^gbonds, as a ^hmalefactor; but ⁱthe word of God ^jis not bound. 10 Therefore ^kI endure all things for ^lthe elect's sake, ^mthat they also may obtain the ⁿsalvation which is in ^oChrist Jesus with ^peternal glory. 11 ^qFaithful is the ^rsaying: For ^sif we died with him, we shall also live with him: 12 if we endure, ^twe shall also reign with him: if we shall ^udeny him, he also will deny us: 13 if we are faithless, ^vhe abideth faithful; for ^whe cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, ^xcharging ^ythem in the sight of ^zthe Lord, that they ^{aa}strive not about words, to no profit, to the subverting of them that hear. 15 Give diligence to ^{ab}present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, ^{ac}handling aright ^{ad}the word of truth. 16 But ^{ae}shun ^{af}profane babblings: for they will proceed further in ungodliness, 17 and their word will ^{ag}eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is ^{ah}Hymenæus and Philetus; 18 men who concerning the truth have ^{ai}erred, saying that ^{aj}the resurrection is past already, and overthrow ^{ak}the faith of some. 19 Howbeit the ^{al}firm foundation of God standeth, having this ^{am}seal, ^{an}The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, ^{ao}Let every one that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness. 20 Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and ^{ap}some unto honor, and some unto dishonor. 21 If a man therefore purge himself from ^{aq}these, he shall be a vessel their folly shall be evident unto all men, as theirs also came to be. 10 But thou didst follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, patience, persecutions, sufferings; what things befell me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lys- tra; what persecutions I endured: and out of them all the Lord delivered me. 12 Yea, and all that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. 13 But evil men and impostors shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. 14 But abide thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; 15 and that from a babe thou hast known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. 16 Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness: 17 that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work.

4 I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, who shall judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: 2 preach the word; be urgent in season, out of season; 3 reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching. 3 For the time will come when they will not endure the sound doctrine; but, having itching ears, will heap to themselves teachers after their own lusts; 4 and will turn away their ears from the truth, and turn aside unto fables. 5 But be thou sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thy ministry. 6 For I am already being offered, and the time of my departure is come. 7 I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith: 8 henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give to me at that day; and not to me only,

but also to all them that have loved his appearing.

9 Give diligence to come shortly unto me: 10 for Demas forsook me, having loved this present world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia. 11 Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee; for he is useful to me for ministering. 12 But Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. 13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments. 14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord will render to him according to his works: 15 of whom do thou also beware; for he greatly withstood our words. 16 At my first defence no one took my part, but all forsook me: may it not be laid to their account. 17 But the Lord stood by me, and strengthened me; that through me the message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. 18 The Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

19 Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the house of Onesiphorus. 20 Erastus remained at Corinth: but Trophimus I left at Miletus sick. 21 Give diligence to come before winter. Eubulus saluteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22 The Lord be with thy spirit. Grace be with you.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS

Salutation. Qualifications of an Elder. Disorderly Teachers to be reprov'd. Duties of the Aged, the Young, etc.

1 Paul, ^aa ¹servant of God, and ^ban apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of ^cGod's elect, and ^dthe knowledge of the truth which is ^eaccording to godliness, ^f2 in ^ghope of eternal life, which God, ^hwho cannot lie, ⁱpromised ^jbefore ^ktimes eternal; ^l3 but in ^mhis own seasons manifested his word in ⁿthe ^omessage, ^pwherewith I was intrusted ^qaccording to the commandment of ^rGod our Saviour; ^s4 to ^tTitus, ^umy true child after ^va common faith: ^wGrace and peace from God the Father and ^xChrist Jesus our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in ^yCrete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that were wanting, and ^zappoint ^{aa}elders in every city, as I gave thee charge; ^{ab}6 ^{ac}if any man is blameless, the ^{ad}husband of one wife, having children that believe, who are not accused of ^{ae}riot or ^{af}unruly. ^{ag}7 For ^{ah}the ^{ai}bishop must be blameless, as ^{aj}God's steward; not ^{ak}self-willed, not soon angry, ^{al}no brawler, no striker, ^{am}not greedy of filthy lucre; ^{an}8 but ^{ao}given to hospitality, ^{ap}a lover of good, sober-minded, just, holy, self-controlled; ^{aq}9 ^{ar}holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able both to exhort in ^{as}the ^{at}sound ^{au}doctrine, and to convict the gainsayers.

10 ^{av}For there are many ^{aw}unruly men, ^{ax}vain talkers and deceivers, specially ^{ay}they of the circumcision, ^{az}11 whose mouths must be stopped; men who overthrow whole ^{ba}houses, teaching ^{bb}things which they ought not, ^{bc}for filthy lucre's sake. ^{bd}12 ^{be}One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said, ^{bf}"Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, idle ^{bg}gluttons.

9 Exhort ¹servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing to them in all things; not gainsaying; 10 not purloining, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of ²God our Saviour in all things. 11 For the grace of God ³hath appeared, ⁴bringing salvation to all men, 12 instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and ⁵worldly lusts, ⁶we should live soberly and righteously and godly in ⁷this present world; 13 looking for the blessed hope and ⁸appearing of the glory ⁹of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; 14 who ¹⁰gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and ¹¹purify unto himself a ¹²people for his own possession, ¹³zealous of good works. 15 These things speak and ¹⁴exhort and ¹⁵reprove with all ¹⁶authority. ¹⁷Let no man despise thee.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON

Salutation. Thanksgiving for Philemon's Love and Fellowship. Onesimus no longer a Servant. Benediction

1 ^a Paul, ^b a prisoner of ^c Christ Jesus, and ^d Timothy ^e our brother, to Philemon our beloved and ^f fellow-worker, 2 and to Apphia ^g our sister, and to ^h Archippus our ⁱ fellow-soldier, and to ^j the church in thy house: 3 ^k Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 ^l I thank my God always, ^m making mention of thee in my prayers, 5 ⁿ hearing of ^o thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints; 6 that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the ^p knowledge of every good thing which is in ^q you, unto Christ. 7 For I had much ^r joy and comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints have been ^s refreshed through thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, ^t though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee that which is ^u befitting, 9 yet for love's sake I rather ^v beseech, being such a one as Paul ^w the ^x aged, and now ^y a prisoner also of ^z Christ Jesus: 10 I ^{aa} beseech thee for my ^{ab} child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, ^{ac} Onesimus, 11 who once was unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable to thee and to me: 12 whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart: 13 whom I would fain have kept with me, that in thy behalf he might minister unto me in the ^{ad} bonds of the ^{ae} gospel: 14 but without thy mind I would do nothing;

Only Believers enter into his Promised Rest. A divinely appointed High Priest made perfect through Suffering

12 ^aTake heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from ^bthe living God: 13 but ^cexhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by the ^ddeceitfulness of sin: 14 for we are become partakers ^eof Christ, ^fif we hold fast the beginning of our ^gconfidence firm unto the end: 15 while it is said,

²To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For who, when they heard, did ^aprovoke? nay, ^bdid not all they that came out of Egypt by Moses? 17 And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, ^cwhose ^dbodies fell in the wilderness? 18 And to whom sware he ^ethat they should not enter into his rest, but to them that were ^fdisobedient? 19 And we see that they were not able to enter in because of ^gunbelief.

4 Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have ^acome short of it. 2 For indeed we have had ^bgood tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but ^cthe word of hearing did not profit them, because ^dit was not united by faith with them that heard. 3 ^eFor we who have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

Jesus a High Priest after Melchizedek's Order. Superseding the Levitical Order and Ritual, he liveth to intercede who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before us: 19 which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is within the veil; 20 whither as a fore-runner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him, 2 to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, which is, King of peace; 3 without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief spoils. 5 And they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come out of the loins of Abraham: 6 but he whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed him that hath the promises. 7 But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better. 8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth. 9 And, so to say, through Abraham even Levi, who receiveth tithes, hath paid tithes; 10 for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? 12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law. 13 For he of whom these things are said belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priests. 15 And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, 16 who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life: 17 for it is witnessed of him,

^{3y} Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment because of its weakness and unprofitableness 19 (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through which we draw nigh unto God. 20 And inasmuch as it is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath by him that saith of him,

^{6y} The Lord sware and will not repent himself,

Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become the surety of a better covenant. 23 And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing: 24 but he, because he abideth for ever, hath his priesthood unchangeable. 25 Wherefore also he is able to save to the uttermost them that draw near unto God through him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, holy, guileless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens; 27 who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once for all, when he offered up himself. 28 For the law appointeth men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, perfected for evermore.

8 Now in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a ^ahigh priest, who sat down on ^bthe right hand of the throne of the ^cMajesty in the heavens, and a ^dminister of ¹the sanctuary, 2 of the ^etrue tabernacle, which the Lord ^fpitched, not man. 3 For every ^ahigh priest is appointed ^gto offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to offer. 4 Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who ^hoffer the gifts according to the law; 5 who serve that which is ^ha copy and ⁱshadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is ^kwarned of God when he is about to ²make the tabernacle: for, ³See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was showed thee in the mount. 6 But now hath he obtained a ministry the more excellent, by so much as he is also the ^lmediator of ^ma better covenant, which hath been enacted upon better promises. 7 For ⁿif that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second. 8 For ⁴finding fault with them, he saith,

And ^ron their heart also will I write them:

And I will be to them a God, And they shall be to me a people:

Let us draw near with a True Heart. For Wilful Sin there is no More Sacrifice. Recall Former Constancy

7 Then said I, Lo, I am come written of me)

To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, ^bSacrifices and offerings and ^cwhole burnt offerwouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law), 9 then hath he said, ^eLo, I am come to do thy will. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 ¹By which will we have been ^fsanctified through ^gthe offering of ^hthe body of Jesus Christ ⁱonce for all. 11 And every ²priest indeed standeth day by day ministering and ^koffering oftentimes the same take away sins: 12 but he, when he had offered one sacrifice ^mfor ⁿsins ^ofor ever, ^psat down on the right hand of God; 13 henceforth expecting till ^qhis enemies be made the footstool of his feet. 14 For by one offering he hath ^rperfected ^sfor ever them that are sanctified.

15 And ^tthe Holy Spirit also bear-said,

16 ⁴This is the covenant that ⁵I will make with them

I will put my laws on their
heart,

And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

17 ⁶And their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

11 Now faith is ⁵assurance of things ⁶hoped for, a ⁶conviction of ⁷things not seen. 2 For therein ^athe elders ¹had witness borne to them. 3 By faith we understand that the ^{7k}worlds have been framed ¹by the ^mword of God, so that what is seen hath ⁿnot been made out of things which appear. 4 By faith ^oAbel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he ¹had witness borne to him that he was righteous, ⁸God bearing witness ⁹in respect of his ^pgifts: and through it he ²being dead yet speaketh. 5 By faith ^rEnoch was translated that he should not ^{see} death; and he was not found, because God translated him: ¹⁰for he hath had witness borne to him that before his translation he had been well-pleasing unto God: 6 and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him; for he that ¹cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. 7 By faith ^uNoah, being ¹warned of God concerning ²things not seen as yet, ²moved with godly fear, ³prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of ²the righteousness which is according to faith. 8 By faith ^oAbraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to ^breceive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. 9 By faith he became a sojourner in ¹the land of promise, as in a ^{land}not his own, ^{11d}dwelling in tents, reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto ^athe Father of ¹spirits, and ^blive? 10 For they indeed for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, ^cthat we may be partakers of his holiness. 11 All chastening seemeth ^dfor the present to be not joyous but grievous; yet afterward it yieldeth ^epeaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the fruit of righteousness. 12 Wherefore ^flift up the hands that hang down, and the palsied knees; 13 and ^gmake straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not ^hturned out of the way, but rather ⁱbe healed.

14 ^jFollow after peace with all men, and the ^ksanctification without which no man shall ^lsee the Lord: 15 looking carefully ^mlest there be any man that ⁿfalleth short of the grace of God; lest any ^oroot of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be ^pdefiled; 16 ^qlest there be any ^rfornicator, or ^sprofane person, as Esau, ^twho for one mess of meat sold his own birthright. 17 For ye know that even ^uwhen he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was ^vrejected; for he found no place for a change of mind in his father, though he sought it diligently with tears.

18 ^wFor ye are not come unto ^xa mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, 19 and the ^ysound of a trumpet, and the ^zvoice of words; which voice they that heard ^{aa}entreated that no word more should be spoken unto them; 20 for they could not endure that which was enjoined, ^{ab}If even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned; 21 and so fearful was the appearance, that Moses said, ^{ac}I exceedingly fear and quake: 22 but ^{ad}ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto ^{ae}the city of ^{af}the living God, ^{ag}the heavenly Jerusalem, ^{ah}and to ^{ai}innumerable hosts of angels,

THE EPISTLE OF JAMES

Address and Greeting. Pray in Faith. Rejoice in Lowliness. Temptation not from God. Be Doers of the Word

1 ^{1a} James, a ^{2b} servant of God ¹ and ^c of the Lord Jesus Christ, to ^d the twelve tribes which are of ^e the Dispersion, ^{3f} greeting.

2 ^g Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall into ^h manifold ⁱ temptations; 3 knowing that ^j the proving of your ^k faith worketh ^l patience. 4 And let ^m patience have ⁿ its perfect work, that ye may be ^o perfect and entire, lacking in nothing.

5 But if any of you ^p lacketh wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all liberally and ^q upbraideth not; and ^r it shall be given him. 6 But let him ^s ask in faith, ^t nothing doubting: for he that doubteth is like the surge of the sea ^u driven by the wind and tossed. 7 For let not that man think ^v that he shall receive anything of the Lord; 8 a ^w double-minded man, ^x unstable in all his ways.

9 ^y But let the brother of low degree glory in his high estate: 10 and the rich, in that he is made low: because ^z as the flower of the grass he shall pass away. 11 For the sun ariseth with ^{aa} the scorching wind, and ^{ab} withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his goings.

12 ^{ac} Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he hath been approved, he shall receive ^{ad} the crown of life, which ^{ae} the Lord ^{af} promised to them that ^{ag} love him. 13 Let no man say when he is tempted, ^{ah} I am tempted ^{ai} of God; for God ^{aj} cannot be tempted with ^{ak} evil, and he himself tempteth no man: 14 but each man is ^{al} tempted,

2 ^a My brethren, ² hold not ^b the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ. ^c the Lord of glory, with ^d respect of persons. 2 For if there come into your ^e synagogue a man with a gold ring, in ^f fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in ^g vile clothing; 3 and ye have regard to him that weareth the ^h fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool; 4 ⁱ do ye not make distinctions ^j among yourselves, and become judges ^k with evil thoughts? 5 Harken, ^l my beloved brethren; did not ^m God choose them that are poor as to the world to be ⁿ rich in faith, and ^o heirs of the kingdom which he ^p promised to them that love him? 6 But ye have dishonored the poor man. ^awhen ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is ¹acceptable with God. 21 For ^bhereunto were ye called : ^cbecause Christ also suffered for you, leaving you ^dan example, that ye should follow his steps: 22 who ^edid no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: 23 who, when he was ^freviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; yet committed ^ghimself to him that judgeth righteously: 24 who his own self ^hbare our sins in his body upon ⁱthe tree, that we, ^jhaving died unto sins, might live unto righteousness; ^kby whose ^lstripes ye were ^mhealed. 25 For ye were ⁿgoing astray like sheep; but are now returned unto the ^oShepherd and ^pBishop of your souls.

3 ^qIn like manner, ye wives, ^rbe in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any obey not the word, they may without the word ^sbe gained by the ^tbehavior of their wives; 2 beholding your chaste ^ubehavior coupled with fear. 3 ^vWhose adorning let it not be the outward adorning of braiding the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; 4 but let it be ^wthe hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. 5 For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, ^xwho hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own ^yhusbands: 6 as Sarah obeyed Abraham, ^zcalling him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and are not ^{aa}put in fear by any terror.

7 ^{ab}Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with your wives according to knowledge, giving honor ^{ac}unto the woman, as unto the weaker ^{ad}vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, ^{ae}be ye all likeminded, ^{af}compassionate, ^{ag}loving as brethren, ^{ah}tenderhearted, ^{ai}humble-minded: 9 ^{aj}not rendering evil for evil, or ^{ak}reviling for reviling; but

4 Forasmuch then as ^eChrist suffered in the flesh, ^farm ye yourselves also with the same ^gmind; for ^hhe that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased ⁱfrom sin; 2 ^kthat ^lye no longer should live ^mthe rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God. 3 For ⁿthe time past may suffice to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have ^owalked in lasciviousness, lusts, winebibbings, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries: 4 wherein they think it strange that ye run not with ^pthem into the same ^qexcess of ^rriot, ^sspeaking evil of you: 5 who shall give account to him that is ready to judge ^tthe living and the dead. 6 For unto this end ^uwas ^vthe gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged indeed according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But ^wthe end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore of sound mind, and ^xbe sober unto ^yprayer: 8 above all things being ^zfervent in your love among yourselves; for ^{aa}love covereth a multitude of sins: 9 ^{ab}using hospitality one to another without ^{ac}murmuring: 10 ^{ad}according as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, as good ^{ae}stewards of the manifold grace of God; 11 ^{af}if any man speaketh, ^{ag}speaking as it were ^{ah}oracles of God; if any man ministereth, ^{ai}ministering as of ^{aj}the strength which God supplieth: that ^{ak}in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, ^{al}whose is the glory and the dominion ^{am}for ever and ever. 12 ^{an}Beloved, think it not strange concerning the ^{ao}fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you: 13 but insomuch as ye are ^{ap}partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the ^{aq}revelation of his glory also ^{ar}ye may rejoice with exceeding joy. 14 If ye are reproached ^{as}for ^{at}the name of Christ, ^{au}blessed are ye; ^{av}because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you. 15 For ^{aw}let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as ^{ax}a meddler in other men's matters: 16 but if a man suffer as a ^{ay}Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him ^{az}glorify God in this name. 17 For the time ^{ba}is come for judgment ^{bb}to begin at ^{bc}the house of God: and if it begin ^{bd}first at us, what ^{be}shall be the end of them ^{bf}that obey not the ^{bg}gospel of God? 18 And ^{bh}if the righteous are scarcely saved, where shall the ^{bi}ungodly and sinner appear? 19 Wherefore let them also that suffer according to ^{bj}the will of God commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PETER

Address and Salutation. "Be not idle nor unfruitful." "We were Eyewitnesses of his Majesty"

1 ¹Simon Peter, a ²servant and ³apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained ⁴a ⁵like precious faith with us in ⁶the righteousness of ⁷our God and the Saviour Jesus Christ: 2 ¹Grace to you and peace be multiplied in ²the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord; 3 seeing that his ³divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the ⁴knowledge of him that ⁵called us ⁶by his own glory and virtue; 4 whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great ⁷promises; that through these ye may become ⁸partakers of ⁹the divine nature, having ¹⁰escaped from the ¹¹corruption that is in ¹²the world by lust. 5 Yea, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith ¹³supply ¹⁴virtue; and in ¹⁵your virtue ¹⁶knowledge; 6 and in ¹⁷your knowledge ¹⁸self-control; and in ¹⁹your self-control ²⁰patience; and in ²¹your ²²patience ²³godliness; 7 and in ²⁴your godliness ²⁵brotherly kindness; and in ²⁶your ²⁷brotherly kindness love. 8 For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor ²⁸unfruitful unto ²⁹the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 For he that lacketh these things is ³⁰blind, ³¹seeing only what is near, having forgotten the ³²cleansing from his old sins. 10 Wherefore, brethren, give the more diligence to make your ³³calling and ³⁴election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never ³⁵stumble: 11 for thus shall be ³⁶richly ³⁷supplied unto you the entrance into ³⁸the eternal kingdom of our ³⁹Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Mockers and their Destiny. "The Day of the Lord will come as a Thief." Exhortation to Stedfastness. Doxology

3 This is now, ^abeloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them I ^bstir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; ² that ye should ^cremember the words which were spoken before by ^dthe holy prophets, and ^ethe commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your apostles: ³ ^fknowing this first, that ¹in the last days ^hmockers shall come with mockery, ⁱwalking after their own lusts, ⁴ and saying, ^kWhere is the promise of his ²coming? for, from the day that the fathers ^mfell asleep, all things continue as they were ⁿfrom the beginning of the creation. ⁵ For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth ^ocompactd out of water and ^pamidst water, ²by the word of God; ⁶ by which means ^qthe world that then was, being overflowed with water, ^rperished: ⁷ but ^sthe heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been ^tstored up for ^ufire, being reserved against ^vthe day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

⁸ But forget not this one thing, ^abeloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and ^aa thousand years as one day. ⁹ ²The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness; but ^bis longsuffering to you-ward, ^cnot wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. ¹⁰ But ^dthe day of the Lord ^ewill come as a thief; in the which ^fthe heavens ^gshall pass away with a great noise, and the ^helements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and ⁱthe earth and the works that are therein shall be ^jburned up. ¹¹ Seeing

Introduction. "Walk in the Light . . . even as He walked." The Contrasted Darkness

1 That which was ^afrom the beginning, that which we have ^bheard, that which we have ^cseen with our eyes, that which we ^dbeheld, and our hands ^ehandled, concerning the ^fWord of life ^g2 (and ^hthe life was manifested, and we have ⁱseen, and ^jbear witness, and declare unto you the life, ^kthe eternal life, which was ^lwith the Father, and was ^mmanifested unto us); ⁿ3 that which we have ^oseen and ^pheard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our ^qfellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ: ^r4 and ^sthese things we write, that ^tour ^ujoy may be made full.

5 And ^vthis is the message which we have heard from him and announce unto you, that ^wGod is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ^x6 If we say that we have fellowship with him and walk in the darkness, we ^ylie, and ^zdo not the truth: ^{aa}7 but if we ^{ab}walk in the light, as ^{ac}he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and ^{ad}the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. ^{ae}8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the ^{af}truth is not in us. ^{ag}9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and ^{ah}to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ^{ai}10 If we say that we have not sinned, we ^{aj}make him a liar, and ^{ak}his word is not in us.

2 ^{al}My little children, ^{am}these things write I unto you that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, ^{an}we have an ^{ao}Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: ^{ap}2 and he is ^{aq}the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also ^{ad}for the whole world. ^{ae}3 And ^{af}hereby we know that we ^{ag}know him, if we ^{ah}keep his commandments. ^{ai}4 He that saith, ^{aj}I ^{ak}know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a ^{al}liar, and ^{am}the truth is not in him; ^{an}5 but whoso ^{ao}keepeth his word, in him verily hath the ^{ap}love of God been perfected. ^{aq}Hereby we know that we are in him: ^{ar}6 he that saith he ^{as}abideth in him ^{at}ought himself also to walk even as he walked.

7 ^{au}Beloved, ^{av}no new commandment write I unto you, but an old commandment which ye had ^{aw}from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye heard. ^{ax}8 Again, ^{ay}a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because ^{az}the darkness is passing away, and ^{ba}the true light already shineth. ^{bb}9 He that saith he is in the light and ^{bc}hateth his ^{bd}brother, is in the darkness even until now. ^{be}10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is no occasion of stumbling in him. ^{bf}11 But he that ^{bg}hateth his brother is in the darkness, and ^{bh}walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath ^{bi}blinded his eyes.

cause ye know him ^awho is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ^bye have overcome ^cthe evil one. ¹I have written unto you, little children, because ^dye know the Father. 14 ¹I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know him ^ewho is from the beginning. ¹I have written unto you, young men, because ye are ^fstrong, and the ^gword of God abideth in you, and ^hye have overcome the evil one. 15 Love not ⁱthe world, neither the things that are in the world. ^jIf any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 16 For all that is in the world, ^kthe lust of the flesh and ^lthe lust of the eyes and ^mthe vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. 17 And ⁿthe world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, ^oit is the last hour: and as ye heard that ^pantichrist cometh, ^qeven now have there arisen many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last hour. 19 ^rThey went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but ^sthey went out, ^tthat they might be made manifest ^uthat they all are not of us. 20 And ye have an ^vanointing from ^wthe Holy One, ^xand ^yye know all things. 21 ¹I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but ^zbecause ye know it, and ^{aa}because no lie is ^{ab}of the truth. 22 Who is the liar but ^{ac}he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is ^{ad}the antichrist, ^{ae}even he that denieth the Father and the Son. 23 ^{af}Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father also. 24 As for you, let that abide in you which ye heard ^{ag}from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, ye also ^{ah}shall abide in the Son, and in the Father. 25 And ^{ai}this is the promise which he promised ^{aj}us, ^{ak}even the life eternal. 26 These things have I written unto you concerning them that would ^{al}lead you astray. 27 And as for you, the ^{al}anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing ^{am}teacheth you concerning all things, ^{an}and is ^{ao}true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, ^{ap}ye abide in him. 28 And now, ^{aq}my ^{ar}little children, abide in him; that, if he ^{as}shall be manifested, we may have ^{at}boldness, and ^{au}not be ashamed ^{av}before him at his ^{aw}coming. 29 If ye know that ^{ax}he is righteous, ^{ay}ye know that every one also that doeth righteousness ^{az}is begotten of him.

3 Behold ^{ba}what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called ^{bb}children of God; and ^{bc}such we are. For this cause the world knoweth us not, because ^{bd}it knew him not. 2 ^{be}Beloved, now are we ^{bf}children of God, and ^{bg}it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, if ^{bh}he ^{bi}shall be manifested, we shall be ^{bj}like him; for we shall ^{bk}see him even as he is. 3 And every one that hath this ^{bl}hope set on him ^{bm}purifieth himself, even as he is pure. 4 Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness; and ^{bn}sin is lawlessness. 5 And ye know that he ^{bo}was manifested to ^{bp}take away sins; and ^{bq}in him is no sin. 6 Whosoever abideth in him ^{br}sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither ^{bs}knoweth him. 7 ^{bt}My ^{bu}little children, let no man ^{bv}lead you astray: ^{bw}he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous: 8 he that doeth sin is ^{bx}of the devil, for the devil sinneth from the beginning. abideth in him : and he cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. 10 In this the ^achildren of God are manifest, and the ^bchildren of the devil : whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that ^cloveth not his ^dbrother. 11 ^eFor this is the message ^fwhich ye heard from the beginning, ^gthat we should love one another : 12 not as ^hCain was of ⁱthe evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because ^jhis works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, brethren, if ^kthe world hateth you. 14 We know that we have ^lpassed out of death into life, ^mbecause we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death. 15 Whosoever ⁿhateth his brother is a murderer : and ye know that ^ono murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. 16 Hereby know we love, because ^phe laid down his life for us : and ^qwe ought to lay down our lives for the ^rbrethren. 17 But ^swhoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and ^tshut-teth up his compassion from him, ^uhow doth the love of God abide in him? 18 ^vMy ^wlittle children, let us not love in word, neither with the tongue ; but in deed and ^xtruth. 19 Hereby shall we know that we are ^yof the truth, and shall ^zassure our heart ^{aa}before him : 20 because if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. 21 ^{ab}A Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have ^{ac}boldness toward God ; 22 and ^{ad}whatsoever we ask we receive of him, because we ^{ae}keep his commandments and do ^{af}the things that are pleasing in his sight. 23 And this is his commandment, that we should ^{ag}believe in ^{ah}the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as ^{ai}he gave us commandment. 24 And he that ^{aj}keepeth his commandments ^{ak}abideth in him, and he in him. And ^{al}hereby we know that ^{am}he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

"If we ask anything according to His Will, He heareth us"

"abideth in him, and he in God. 16 And ^bwe know and have believed the love which God hath ¹in us. ^aGod is love; and he that ^cabideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. 17 Herein is ^dlove made perfect with us, that we may have ^eboldness in ^fthe day of judgment; because ^gas he is, even so are we in this world. 18 There is no fear in love: but ^hperfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not ⁱmade perfect in love. 19 ^jWe love, because he first loved us. 20 ^kIf a man say, I love God, and ^lhateth his brother, he is a ^mliar: for ⁿhe that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, ^ocannot love God whom he hath not seen. 21 And ^pthis commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God ^qlove his brother also.

5 ^rWhosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is ^s"begotten of God: and whosoever loveth him that begat ^tloveth him also that is begotten of him. 2 ^uHereby we know that ^vwe love the children of God, when we love God and do his commandments. 3 For ^wthis is the love of God, that we ^xkeep his commandments: and ^yhis commandments are not grievous. 4 For whatsoever is ^z"begotten of God ^{aa}overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, ^{ab}even our faith. 5 And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that ^{ac}believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? 6 This is he that came ^{ad}by water and blood, ^{ae}even Jesus Christ; not ^{af}with the water only, but ^{ag}with the water and ^{ah}with the blood. 7 And it is ^{ai}the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is the truth. 8 For there are ^{aj}three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and the three agree in one. 9 ^{ak}If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, that ^{al}he hath borne witness concerning his Son. 10 He that believeth on the Son of God ^{am}hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God hath ¹made him a liar; because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son. 11 And the witness is this, that God gave unto us ^meternal life, and ⁿthis life is in his Son. 12 ^oHe that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 ^pThese things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have ^meternal life, ^{even} unto you that ^qbelieve on the name of the Son of God. 14 And this is ^rthe boldness which we have toward him, that, ^sif we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: 15 and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, ^twe know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. 16 If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, ^u"he shall ask, and ^vGod will give him life for them that sin not unto death. ^wThere is ^xa sin unto death: ^ynot concerning this do I say that he should make request. 17 ^zAll unrighteousness is sin: and ^{aa}there is ^{ab}a sin not unto death.

THE EPISTLE OF JUDE

General Salutation. "Contend earnestly for the Faith." The Warnings of History to the Ungodly

1 ^{1a} Jude, a ^{2b} servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of ³ James, ⁴ to them that are called, beloved in God the Father, and ⁵ kept for Jesus Christ: 2 ⁶ Mercy unto you and peace and love ⁷ be multiplied.

3 ⁸ Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our ⁹ common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to ¹⁰ contend earnestly for ¹¹ the faith which was once for all ¹² delivered unto ¹³ the saints. 4 For there are certain men ¹⁴ crept in privily, even they who were of old ¹⁵ written of beforehand unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning ¹⁶ the grace of our God into ¹⁷ lasciviousness, and ¹⁸ denying ¹⁹ our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

5 Now I desire to ²⁰ put you in remembrance, though ²¹ ye know all things once for all, that ²² the Lord, ²³ having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, ²⁴ afterward destroyed them that believed not. 6 And ²⁵ angels that kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath ²⁶ kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgment of the great day. 7 Even as ²⁷ Sodom and Gomorrah, and the ²⁸ cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication and ²⁹ gone after strange flesh, are set forth ³⁰ as an ³¹ example, suffering the ³² punishment of eternal fire. 8 Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings ³³ defile the flesh, and ³⁴ set at nought dominion, and ³⁵ rail at ³⁶ dignities. 9 But ³⁷ Michael ³⁸ the archangel, when contending ³⁹ with the devil he disputed about ⁴⁰ the body of the keys of death and of Hades. 19 ^aWrite therefore the things which thou sawest, and the things which are, and the things which shall come to pass ^ahereafter; 20 the ^amystery of the ^aseven stars which thou sawest ¹in my right hand, and the ^aseven golden ²candlesticks. The ^aseven stars are the angels of ^athe seven churches: and the seven ²candlesticks are seven churches.

Message to the Church in Ephesus; to the Church in Smyrna; to the Church in Pergamum; to the Church in Thyatira;

2 ^kTo the angel of the church in ^kEphesus write:

These things saith he that holdeth ¹the seven stars in his right hand, he that walketh ^min the midst of the seven golden ²candlesticks: 2 ⁿI know thy works, and thy toil and ³patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and didst ^atry them that call themselves ^aapostles, and they are not, and didst find them false; 3 and thou hast ³patience and didst bear ^afor my name's sake, and hast not grown weary. 4 But I have this against thee, that thou didst ^aleave thy first love. 5 Remember therefore whence thou art fallen, and ^arepent and ^ado the first works; or else I come to thee, and will move thy ⁴"candlestick out of its place, except thou repent. 6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the ^aNicolaitans, which I also hate. 7 ^aHe that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. ^aTo him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of ^athe tree of life, which is in the ⁵a Paradise of God.

8 And to the angel of the church in ^bSmyrna write:

These things saith ^athe first and the last, who ⁶was dead, and lived again: 9 I know thy ^atribulation, and thy ^apoverty (but thou art ^arich), and the ^ablasphemy of them that ^asay they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of ^aSatan. 10 Fear not the things which thou art about to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, that ye may be ^atried; ^aand ye shall have ^atribulation ^kten days. thou wert cold or hot. 16 So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth. 17 Because thou sayest, ^a I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and poor and blind and naked: 18 I counsel thee to ^b buy of me ^c gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and ^d white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and ^e that ^f the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, that thou mayest see. 19 ^g As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous therefore, and ^h repent. 20 Behold, I stand ⁱ at the door and ^j knock: if any man hear my voice and open the door, ^k I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. 21 ^l He that overcometh, I will give to him ^m to sit down with me in my throne, as ⁿ I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne. 22 ^o He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

4 After ^p these things I saw, and behold, ^q a door opened in heaven, and the first voice that I heard, ^r a voice ^s as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, ^t Come up hither, and I will ^u show thee the things which must ^v come to pass hereafter. 2 Straightway I was ^w in the Spirit: and behold, there was ^x a throne set in heaven, and ^y one sitting upon the throne; 3 and he that sat ^z was to look upon like ^{aa} a jasper stone and ^{ab} a sardius; and ^{ac} there was ^{ad} a rainbow round about the throne, like an ^{ae} emerald to look upon. 4 And ^{af} round about the throne were ^{ag} four and twenty thrones: and upon the thrones ^{ah} I saw ^{ai} four and twenty elders ^{aj} sitting, arrayed in ^{ak} white garments; and on their heads ^{al} crowns of gold. 5 And out of the throne proceed ^{am} lightnings and voices and thunders. And ^{an} there were ^{ao} seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are ^{ap} the seven Spirits of God; 6 and before the throne, as it were ^{aq} a ^{ar} sea of glass like unto crystal; and in the midst ^{as} of the throne,

^{at} and ^{au} round about the throne, ^{av} four living creatures ^{aw} full of eyes before and behind. 7 ^{ax} And the first creature ^{ay} was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature ^{az} was like a flying eagle. 8 And the ^{ba} four living creatures, having each one of them ^{bb} six wings, are ^{bc} full of eyes round about and within: and ^{bd} they have no rest day and night, saying,

^{be} Holy, holy, holy, ^{bf} is the ^{bg} Lord God, the Almighty, ^{bh} who was and who is and ^{bi} who is to come.

9 And when the living creatures shall give glory and honor and thanks to him that ^{bj} sitteth on the throne, to ^{bk} him that liveth ^{bl} for ever and ever, 10 the ^{bm} four and twenty elders shall ^{bn} fall down before him that ^{bo} sitteth on the throne, and shall worship ^{bp} him that liveth ^{bq} for ever and ever, and shall cast their ^{br} crowns before the throne, saying,

5 And I saw ^{bu} in the right hand of him that ^{bv} sat on the throne ^{bw} a book written within and on the back, ^{bx} close sealed with seven seals. 2 And I saw ^{by} a ^{bz} strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? 3 And no one ^{ca} in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to look thereon. 4 And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look thereon: 5 and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not; behold, the ^{cb} Lion that is ^{cc} of the tribe of Judah, the ^{cd} Root of David, hath overcome to open the book and the seven seals thereof. 6 And I saw ^{ce} in the midst of the throne and of the "four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth. 7 And he came, and he taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. 8 And when he had taken the book, the "four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. 9 And they sing a new song, saying,

"Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and didst purchase unto God with thy blood men of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, 10 and madest them to be unto our God a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon the earth.

11 And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; 12 saying with a great voice,

"Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honor, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying,

Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honor, and the glory, and the dominion, for ever and ever.

14 And the four living creatures said, Amen. And the elders fell down and worshipped.

6 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying as with a voice of thunder, Come. 2 And I saw,

^a scarlet-colored beast, ¹ full of ^b names of blasphemy, having ^c seven heads and ten horns. ⁴ And the woman ^d was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and ^e decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand ^f a golden cup full of abominations, ⁵ even the unclean things of her fornication, ⁵ and upon her forehead a name written, ⁴ MYSTERY. ⁶ BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF ^h THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. ⁶ And I saw the woman drunken with the ⁱ blood of the saints, and with the blood of the ^j martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. ⁷ And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? ^a Amen; ^b Hallelujah. 5 And a voice came forth from the throne, saying,

^c Give praise to our God, all ye his ¹servants, ^d ye that fear him, the small and the great.

6 And I heard as it were ^e the voice of a great multitude, and as ^f the voice of many waters, and as the ^g voice of mighty thunders, saying,

^h Hallelujah: for the ⁱ Lord our God, the Almighty, reigneth.

7 Let us rejoice and be exceeding glad, and let us ^j give the glory unto him: for ^k the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his ^l wife hath made herself ready. 8 And it was given unto her that she should array herself in ^m fine linen, bright and pure: for the fine linen is the ⁿ righteous acts of the saints.

9 And ^o he saith unto me, ^p Write, ^q Blessed are they that are bidden to the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, ^r These are true words of God. 10 And ^s I fell down before his feet to ^t worship him. ^u And he saith unto me, See thou do it not: I am a ^v fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren that ^w hold the testimony of Jesus: ^x worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw ^y the heaven opened; and behold, a ^z white horse, and he that sat thereon ^{aa} called ^{ab} Faithful and True; and in ^{ac} righteousness he doth judge and make war. 12 And his ^{ad} eyes are a flame of fire, and upon his head are many ^{ae} diadems; and he hath a ^{af} name written which no one knoweth but he himself. 13 And he ^{ag} is arrayed in a ^{ah} garment ^{ai} sprinkled with blood: and his name is called ^{aj} The Word of God. 14 And the armies which are in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in ^{ak} fine linen, ^{al} white and pure. 15 And ^{am} out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp sword, that ^{an} with it he should smite the nations: and he shall ^{ao} rule them with a rod of iron: and ^{ap} he treadeth the ^{aq} winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of God, the Almighty. 16 And he hath on his garment and on his thigh ^{ar} a name and for the word of God, and such as ^{1a}worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the ²mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they ³lived, and ⁴reigned with Christ a thousand years. 5 The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. ⁵This is the first resurrection. 6 ⁶Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these the ⁷second death hath no ²power; but they shall be ⁸priests of God and of Christ, and shall ⁹reign with him ^{3a}a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be ¹loosed out of his prison, 8 and shall come forth to ²deceive the nations which are in the ³four corners of the earth, ⁴Gog and Magog, to ⁵gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the ⁶sand of the sea. 9 And they ⁷went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed the ⁸camp of the saints about, and the ⁹beloved city: and ¹⁰fire came down ¹¹out of heaven, and devoured them. 10 And ¹²the devil that ¹³deceived them was cast into the ¹⁴lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the ¹⁵beast and the ¹⁶false prophet; and they shall be ¹⁷tortured day and night ¹⁸for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white ¹throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face ²the earth and the heaven fled away; and ³there was found no place for them. 12 And I saw the dead, the ⁴great and the small, standing before the throne; and ⁵books were opened: and another book was opened, which is ⁶the book of life: and the dead ⁷were judged out of the things which were written in the books, ⁸according to their works. 13 And the sea gave up the dead that were in it; and ⁹death and Hades ¹⁰gave up the dead that were in them: and they were judged every man ¹¹according to their works. 14 And ¹²death and Hades were cast into ¹³the lake of fire. This is the ¹⁴second death, ¹⁵even the lake of fire. 15 And if any was not found written in ¹⁶the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.
